A NEW DEPARTURE.

Mr. Editor: I was happy to learn on Friday morning, through the medium of your report of the doings of the board of aldermen, that our city government is to enter upon a course of "retrenchment and reform in the municipal expenditures," under the leadership of his honor the mayor. It is evident that no one can be better informed as to the necessity for such retrenchment and reform than Mayor Sise, who is now well advanced in his fourth year of service in the responsible and honorable position of chief magistrate of the city; and I am much more inclined to rejoice that he has at length awakened to a sense of such necessity, than to complain at his not awakening sooner.

But I cannot help some misgivings on learning of the first step taken in this vital matter,—its reference to a joint committee, "to report." Experience has shown that many important matters referred to committees of the city councils are never heard of again. For instance:

Some weeks ago a petition was presented to the board of aldermen, for the construction of a foot-bridge between Freeman's point and Noble's island; the matter was referred to a committee "to report," and is in committee still.

Some time last year a committee of the board received power to procure, and place in front of the post-office, a fountain and watering trough; it is alleged that a good deal of money was spent to accomplish the desired end, but there is no fountain or trough in front of the post-office, and no "report" has ever been made by the committee in explanation, or asked for by the board.

At the meeting of the board on the 19th of January, the matter of removing the old Wilson house from the new portion of Vaughan street was referred to the committee on streets; but the dangerous and unsightly obstruction still remains, and the committee's report of the reasons for allowing it to remain there, notwithstanding the fact that the city long ago paid $75 as damages on the property, is yet in abeyance.

Hence I fear that if retrenchment and reform are to depend upon the action of a committee, they will not get into active service in time to benefit any of the present generation; and would suggest that, pending a report, the city officials inaugurate retrenchment by spending less money. A start in the right direction might be made by so managing the appropriation for streets that it should last throughout the year, instead of expending the whold of it during the few weeks immediately preceding the municipal election. REFORM.

Mr. Editor: I was extremely well pleased to see by your paper of Friday morning that Mayor Sise has called the attention of the city government to the important subject of retrenchment and reform. I think it high time that some one waked up, for I am informed by those in position to know that the city is now hiring a large amount of money, and that by the first of July next the amount will be nearly or quite $50,000. HOPE.

ODD FELLOWS' SOCIABLE.

It goes without saying that the sociables of Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., are always enjoyable and successful; it needs no repetition here, as upwards of three hundred persons who participated will most cheerfully testify that they thoroughly enjoyed themselves last Thursday evening. The laughable farce, "My turn next," was well performed, the most comical characters, Taraxacum Twitters, Peggy, and Tim Bolus, convulsing the audience with merriment. Miss Ida Jenness, of Rye, gave two piano solos, which were heartily encored. Mrs. C. O. Philbrick, of Rye, is a splendid performer, and the several flute solos with which she favored the large audience were greeted with storms of applause. Much pleasure was given by the singing and piano accompaniment of the Misses Critchley, who were deservedly applauded; while Miss Gracie Varrell electrified the entire audience by singing and acting, as she so well knows how, the "Golden Gates," followed by "Golden Slippers" and "Dancing in the barn" as encores; which with the first appearance of "Oscar Wilde," readings by Miss Morrill, speaking by several gentlemen, and the bountiful supper such as Osgood Lodge always provides on these occasions, rounded out and heaped to the full the measure of the evening's entertainment. A pleasing incident was the presentation of a fine cake to Miss Fannie Peterson as a slight token for the many services rendered in the past. After the announcement that another social dance would be held Thursday evening, Feb. 9th, the large company dispersed, having evidently enjoyed themselves from the commencement to the close of the entertainment. A GUEST.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

Mr. Charles A. Shannon of this city, teacher of the school in district one of Kittery, Me., gave an entertainment to his school on Wednesday afternoon of this week, a large company being present, including a number of visitors from Portsmouth.

The exercises commenced with singing by the school, followed by a reading, "Our Almanac," by Miss McClintock, (a little girl of six summers;) recitation by Miss Florence Paul; song by Misses Paul, Leach and Damon; and reading, "John Burns of Gettysburg," which was finely rendered by Miss Minnie Paul.

Miss Fannie Hoyt, of Newington, then delighted the audience by her beautiful playing on the violin, and was twice recalled. Miss Gracie Varrell of this city followed Miss Hoyt, and fairly captured the school and visitors by her manner and singing of the "Old Arm Chair," "Golden Slippers," "Jack is ever inch a Sailor," etc. It seemed that every boy present had on an extra pair of taps, when Miss Varrell finished singing "Golden Slippers," for the noise resembled that made by a troop of cavalry crossing a pontoon bridge.

The finest readings of the afternoon, and good enough for any stage, were "High Tides in Lincolnshire," by Miss Walker, and "Watch on the Lonely Tower," by Misses Leach and Moore. Miss Lizzie M. Flagg of this city was present and intended to read, but was suffering from hoarseness and was excused.

Mr. Shannon then shew to the visitors some very fine specimens of map-drawing by Master F. D. Marshall, which would attract attention and favorable mention anywhere. Remarks congsatulatory to the school and to Mr. Shannon were made by Messrs. Pettigrew, Paul and Philbrick, after which the exercises—the most enjoyable ever had in the school—were closed. JOSIE.

THE SMELT-FLEET WRECKED.

For a week or two past, while the deep-water fishermen have been meeting with but light luck on the few occasions when they have been able to reach the fishing grounds, the Great bay smelters have been doing well, the fish being numerous and much larger than usual; but on Friday the smelters were fairly hustled off the ice by the wind, and the catch for the day was very small.

A Portsmouth man who caught one hundred pounds of the fish on Thursday, for which he got eight cents a pound, and who went to the bay again on Friday, informs us that the ice was thickly dotted with men and screens, and that for some hours the fishers met with good success, notwithstanding there was a strong gale sweeping across the six-mile plain of ice, when a puff of surpassing vigor came along, and instantly the whole smelt fleet was wrecked.

Screen-poles were snapped off and screens whisked away, fish baskets went rolling swiftly about, scattering their contents as they went, hand-sleds could be seen racing off on their own hook, pursued by their owners, and the smelt fishery was over for that day. A navy yard workman who was on the bay for a day's sport, and was caught in his screen and carried several hundred feet before he could extricate himself, in describing the occurrence said he hadn't moved so fast before for twelve years.

Our informant had his hat smashed down over his eyes by the fall of his screen, and as he attempted to jump up the wind removed the keg on which he was sitting; but he did not plant himself on the ice, as the wind fortunately swung him around just far enough for him to sit down in the smelt hole. A number of men were blown into the holes, or thrown down with such violence as to give them cuts and bruises to remember the occasion by; and not a few screens, hats and other small articles, and many of the fish previously taken, were lost. A southeast snow-storm does not start the Ipswich bay fishing-fleet for a harbor so quickly as Friday's squall started the whole lot of Great bay smelt fishermen for home.

At Mechanics' hall, Sunday afternoon and evening, J. Frank Baxter, speaker, singer and test medium, under the auspices of the Society of Spiritualists.

In Music hall, Sunday evening, the Norfolk Jubilee Singers, colored, will give a sacred concert. These singers have been here before, and are known to give an excellent entertainment.

The handsome monument in Harmony Grove cemetery erected to the memory of James W. Emery of Brooklyn, N. Y., by his widow, was much damaged on Friday, the shaft and surmounting figure being blown over by the wind. The shaft, which is of polished granite, was partly buried in the earth by the fall, but so far as could be seen was not broken or scarred; the marble figure, representing a female with one arm outstretched, was broken beyond repair. The monument was one of the most beautiful in the cemetery.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wjan82

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 30th, 1880.

Prof. Brown: I am happy to say in reply to your enquiry that the spectacles with which you supplied me I have found better adapted to my wants than any I have been able previously to obtain. I regard it of great importance that those of us who are obliged to use "helps to read" should have some competent examiner of the eye to determine what is required, and that proper glasses and none other should be worn even to the most limited extent. Yours truly,

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

Revised Ordinances, Chap. 16.

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 3. The city marshal shall keep a record of all licenses so granted, each license to be numbered, and he shall make a report to the mayor and aldermen on the first day of July annually and every every three months thereafter of all licenses granted, and shall at the same time pay to the city treasurer all moneys received for the use of the city.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed; and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this regulation shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the city marshal to cause all dogs to be killed which shall be found at large or loose within the city without a collar marked as required in Section 4, and to cause all dogs so killed to be buried, and any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

The attention of owners or harborers of unlicensed dogs is called to the above ordinance, the provisions of which will be rigidly enforced.

Stone in the Bladder Expelled by Using Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy."

Mr. S. W. Hicks, of Pleasant Valley, Dutchess Co., N. Y., the son of Mr. E. S. Hicks, whose name may have appeared in this journal in connection with an article similar to this, was, like his father afflicted with Stone in the Bladder, only that his case was more serious than his father's. On the appearance of the disease the father advised the son to write to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who, he said, would tell him what to do. Dr. Kennedy replied, suggesting the use of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which had worked so successfully in the father's case. Mr. Hicks, who had been assured by the local physicians that they could do nothing more for him, tried "Favorite Remedy" as a venture. After two weeks' use of it he passed a stone 3-4 of an inch long and thick as a pipe stem. Since then he has had no symptoms of the return of the trouble. Here is a sick man healed. What better result could have been expected? What greater benefit could medical science confer? The end was gained; that is surely enough. Dr. Kennedy assures the public, by a reputation which he cannot afford to forfeit or imperil, that the "Favorite Remedy" does invigorate the blood, cures liver, kidney and bladder complaints, as well as all those disease and weaknesses peculiar to females. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

The 47th Congress.

Mr. Kasson has introduced a bill in the house directing the secretary of the treasury to pay to Mrs. Mary Bullard of Iowa the sum of $100, the value of a horse ridden to death by her in obtaining aid to rescue captured union soldiers. Mrs. Bullard lived in Missouri, surrounded by rebels, her husband being a union soldier. One day she overheard a party of confederates describing the capture of some unionists, and making plans for capturing others. Mrs. Bullard was ill, but she mounted her horse, leaving her children alone, and without drawing rein, rode thirty miles to the union outposts, and gave information that was the means of releasing the prisoners and capturing their captors. "My horse died next morning," says Mrs. Bullard; "I borrowed one of a soldier, and returned it afterward."

The Small-pox.

Several cases of small-pox are reported in Holland and Derby, Vt.; two deaths have resulted in the former town. The schools are closed. A great many persons have been exposed.

Thirteen cases of small-pox, five of which had been concealed, were discovered in New York on Jan. 26th.

The total number of cases reported in Cincinnati for the week ending Jan. 26th was seventy-two, and the number of deaths twenty.

Naval Affairs.

Secretary Hunt has telegraphed to San Francisco for the gunboat Wachusett to ship a new crew and return to Sitka, Alaska, where she is to remain and protect the interests of the United States until relieved by the gunboat Adams, now off the coast of Peru, which will proceed to the northern seas as soon as it is practicable for her to leave her present duties.

The "Atlantic Monthly" articles entitled "Studies in the South," the first of which appeared in January, and the second in the February issue, are written by the author of the article on "Certain dangerous tendencies in American life," which attracted so much attention at the time of its appearance. The writer visited the south under peculiarly favorable circumstances for the purpose of making a minute examination of southern social and domestic life, industry, and manufactures, as well as the soil and climate of the different sections, and in these papers he aims to report with absolute exactness the facts as he saw them. It is no exaggeration to say that the articles convey a more full and satisfactory statement of all the conditions of the south than has ever been made before, and they are exceedingly picturesque and interesting.

The full text of the recent speech of Jefferson Davis at the confederate reunion at New Orleans shows not only that he did not use the language imputed to him, but he declared that he was ready to unsheath his sword in defence of the union.

It takes over one hundred pairs of gloves to assuage the grief of the Brooklyn officials over the death of an alderman, whose life might have been saved by a single bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

The treasurer of Marquette county, Mich., has resigned, being short $18,000 in the county funds. The fact is attributed to the use of the county money in his private business.

The "Practical" Difference Between Poetry and Philosophy.

It sounds very poetic to say "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," but why not apply the principle to the more practical side of the subject, and render the quotation thus:—"Swayne's Ointment on account of stopping the itching caused by the piles, has made countless thousands well and happy." There would be sound logic in this but poets are never cheerful; are they?

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

A BRAVE LADY.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking sketon. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 4t23

POSITIVELY CURED

BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

News and Notes.

A case exciting much local interest, decided in the supreme court in Auburn, Me., closed last Friday. Miss Fannie Dickey, in mailing a letter on a Sunday, was struck by ice falling from the roof of the city building. She sued for $10,000. The jury rendered a verdict of $3,250.

In the justice court at Providence, R. I., Friday, Francis Diggs was adjudged probably guilty of the murder of a child adopted from the poor house, by neglect and abuse, and was held for trial.

The New York legislature on Friday adjourned to Monday, the deadlock still continuing.

Miss High, a teacher in the public school of West Jefferson, Ohio, on Thursday afternoon called in John Butler, one of the directors, to assist her in quelling a disturbance among the pupils, instituted by a boy named George Scott, nineteen years of age. Mr. Butler so enraged Scott that the latter struck him on the head with a piece of coal, crushing his skull, and inflicting injuries from which he cannot recover. The young ruffian escaped.

At Bloomington, Ill., Rev. H. O. Hoffman, pastor of the First Methodist church, has been on trial before the church committee. The charges were seduction and bastardy with a former servant girl named Zelia Robinson, of a decent family, and on Jan. 27th a unanimous verdict was found declaring him guilty. Hoffman is one of the most prominent and talented Methodist ministers in the west, and is aged forty-seven years. About six years ago he was acquitted of a similar charge by a church court at Quincy, Ill.

An elopement, horse stealing, and a general running of the moral and legal gauntlet is what Charles R. Farren, of Somerville, Me., is now regaling the public with. He ran away from Somerville with a girl seventeen years old, named Anna M. Hallowell, stole teams to travel with, sold them to pay hotel bills, and was arrested, when he and the girl both jumped twenty-five feet to the ground, ran for the woods, got lost and chilled in the snow, and were recaptured. The girl is enciente, and her antics may result fatally.

Rev. Mr. Stover, formerly of Colby university, has been ordained pastor of the Baptist church in East Limington.

Over forty lasters in the shoe factory of D. Cummings & Co., at South Berwick, struck on Friday for an advance of thirty cents per case of shoes.

Six Mormon elders endeavored to hold an open-air meeting at Kings Cross, London, Jan. 26th. They were accompanied by a procession of Mormon men and women, singing hymns. One of the elders delivered an address, and urged upon his hearers the advantages of emigration to Utah. The meeting was broken up by a large crowd, who attacked the Mormons. Several persons were hurt.

For the past four years I have sold a large amount of Adamson's Botanic Balsam, and it has given such universal satisfaction that I always recommend it before anything else for coughs and colds.

E. C. POWERS,
Druggist, Danvers, Mass.

Some children who were playing on a dump-ground in New York, Friday, and had built a fire of some of the rubbish, found a small can that appeared to have a lot of grease on the inside, and threw it into the fire. A terrific explosion instantly took place, killing one boy, aged fourteen years, and badly injuring nine other children.

A reporter of the Norfolk (Va.) Virginian, recently referred in that paper to a conversation with Prof. Cromwell, the world-renowned art exhibitor, wherein he states that he had some years or so before suffered excruciating torments from rheumatism, and that he had tried all kinds of medicines and so-called cures—all without effect. He heard however, of St. Jacobs Oil, and resolved to give it a trial, which he did, and he stated that its effect on him was almost magical. A complete cure was effected, and since then he had never suffered from rheumatism. But in order that he might be at all times prepared for the enemy, he never traveled without carrying in his trunk a bottle or so of St. Jacobs Oil.

On Saturday, Jan. 28th, Mr. Scoville filed his motion for a new trial for Guiteau, the convicted assassin; he also filed his bill of exceptions. The motion for a new trial gives twelve reasons why a new trial should be granted, and the bill of exceptions contains eleven counts.

The Highest Rank.

Made from harmless materials, and adapted to the needs of fading and falling hair, Parker's Hair Balsam has taken the highest rank as an elegant and reliable hair restorative.

In New York city, Jan. 27th, Mrs. Ellen Bergen, charged with killing her ten-months-old child by sleeping on it while she was intoxicated on December 9th last, was convicted of manslaughter in the second degree. The district attorney stated that she had killed two other of her children in a similar manner.

Quick and Sure.

Many miserable people drag themselves about with failing strength, feeling that they are steadily sinking into their graves, when by using Parker's Ginger Tonic they would find a cure commencing with the first dose, and vitality and strength quickly and surely coming back to them.

At Laurel Springs, N. C., Jan. 28th, Mr. Woodie, a young man recently married, came in from a hunting expedition and asked his bride to pull his boots off. She declined. He then picked up a gun and shot himself dead.

I Have Always Paid Rent!

For a house to live in. This year I have half paid for a cottage, with money which, before I used Sulphur Bitters in my family, was paid to the doctor and the druggist. They cured my wife of female weakness.—Mechanic, Salem.

On Saturday afternoon, as a funeral procession was crossing the Boston & Providence railroad near the Highland station in Boston, one of the hacks was struck by a train, and demolished. The hack driver, John Concreed, was instantly killed; and two men, a woman and a boy in the hack were badly hurt.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Widow Graff and two sons, a very poor family living in Greensburg, Pa., have received notice of having been left a fortune of $500,000 by the death of a brother in Sweden.

An invaluable strengthener for the nerves, muscles, and digestive organs, producing strength and appetite, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

The community at Lafayette, Ind., is excited over a report that a dancing bear has killed its keepers, two Italians, who are missing. The bear was killed by a family it had attacked, and bits of clothing of the Italians were found.

"Let Him who wins it bear the Palm."

"He who cures the ills of flesh," quoth the sage, "is even greater than he who conquers in war." Certain it is then, that Dr. Swayne has earned the laurel of greatness. His Ointment for skin diseases has been the means of releasing thousands from the indescribable horrors of that complaint. The best evidence of an article is obtained by a practical test, and the unsolicited indorsement of those who profit by its use.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried all the remedies known, discovered a simple self cure, which he will send free to his fellow-sufferers, address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

A GOOD APPOINTMENT.

President Arthur seems to go slow in the matter of appointments, and consequently is sure as to the character of the men he selects. The nomination of Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson to be chief constructor of the navy is one which all who knew this gentleman's capabilities will at once concede is eminently fit and proper to be made. As will be seen by the sketch of Mr. Wilson's career which we give in another column, he has had large experience from the commencement of a practical knowledge acquired under a most competent constructor, who several years since was stationed at this navy yard and resided in this city; and with the energy, industry and capacity constantly heretofore displayed by him, we have no doubt of the new chief constructor's ability to aid in building up our navy, so far as the construction of war ships is concerned, if Congress will only appropriate the needed sum for that purpose. There is need of just such men as Constructor Wilson in charge of this important bureau of the navy department, if the vessels of our navy are in the future to show such a degree of advancement in many respects as the wants of the service demand.

Murdered By Parsimony.

By the explosion of a boiler in the Kennebec Framing Co.'s factory at Fairfield, Me., Jan. 28th, three men were instantly killed, two so badly injured that they will probably die, and several others severely hurt. One of the killed was a son of W. W. Rice, ex-warden of the state prison, who is a director in the company. The disaster appears to have been directly due to the continued use, by a wealthy corporation, of a boiler which had notoriously been in a dangerous condition for a long time, engineer after engineer having refused to run it during a year or more past.

AROUND HOME.

On Friday evening the engine of the Pullman train due here at nine o'clock broke down at the "know-nothing station," but a little distance from the station, and was detained for an hour to make the necessary repairs.

Mr. Alexander Robinson has resigned his position as brewer for the Eldredge Brewing Co. Mr. Robinson is a really practical brewer, having been connected with the business for twenty years, entering into it in 1859, at the age of fifteen years, and working himself up gradually in the various departments until he assumed the duties of his late position. He has been employed as brewer with the Messrs. Eldredge for the last eleven years, and won the respect and confidence of those who have been connected with him in his business relations. He is a share holder in the company, and his motive for resigning is to take some rest and recreation after several years of arduous labor. His resignation takes effect to-day, and it is reported that his successor comes from New York.

The schooner John W. Smart, which sailed from this port last week for Boston with 75,000 frozen herring, sold her cargo at that place and arrived back in the lower harbor on Saturday, on her way east for another lot.

Miss Alice Steele, of Somerville, Mass., has quite satisfactorily sung as alto in the Unitarian choir during three Sabbaths, in place of Mrs. Neatley of Dover, who has been kept at home by illness. Miss Steele is a pupil of Mr. W. W. Packer of Boston, and she seems to have become wonderfully proficient as a singer, for one who has taken lessons in vocal culture for so comparatively brief a period.

Mr. William Hennessey will leave this city to-day for Boston, having been engaged for service on board the tug Charles H. Hersey, owned by the T Wharf Co.

Fares of fish were brought in on Saturday as follows: Schooners Walter Spirit, 3000 lbs.; Mary F. Smith, 2800 lbs.; Rover's Bride and Comet, 800 lbs. each; Addie & Hattie, 2900 lbs.; Nettie Adams, 2700 lbs.; Albert Woodbury and Daniel C. Baker, 2500 lbs. each. The schooner Storm King came in on Saturday, light, from Rockport, Mass., having sold there 2500 lbs. of fish at four and a half cents a pound; the schooner W. B. Keen, Becker master, arrived in the lower harbor on the same day from St. Andrews, N. B., with 100,000 frozen herring.

The Portsmouth Brewing Co. have sold a large number of the beer barrels which were used before the size was enlarged, to parties in Paterson, N. J., who will use them for sending beer to South America.

A small fishing schooner was driven on Hicks' rocks, at the mouth of Spruce creek, Kittery, by the gale on Friday, and was high and dry at low water; but she came off, apparently unharmed, on the next flood tide.

The Times says that "Two horses, belonging to the city, died recently at the city farm, of pinkeye, or old age."

Rev. E. M. Grant, late pastor of the Universalist church in this city, was last week installed over the Universalist church in Stamford, Conn.

Mr. Editor: If the many influential citizens who have so strongly protested against the placing of telegraph poles along Market street, in the belief that such a proceeding would effect a serious detriment to the city's interest, would turn their attention to a real nuisance—that of the condition of the north millpond, which is sure to breed a pestilence before many months—and abate it, they would receive the thanks of an afflicted community which regards the telegraph matter as a blessing when compared with the pond.

The Eastern railroad station in Salem, Mass., is now illuminated by three electric lights, which appear to be admirably adapted for the purpose. There is talk of placing similar lights in the station here.

During the year 1881 there were issued 134 marriage licenses in this city, as follows: January, twelve; February, nine; March, twelve; April, ten; May, eight; June, twelve; July, ten; August, twelve; September, fourteen; October, seven; November, fifteen; December, thirteen. The oldest groom was sixty-six years of age, and the youngest eighteen years. The oldest bride was sixty years old, and the youngest thirteen years.

Sawyer, Hollis & Co., one of the large beef trading firms in Dover, will establish a branch of their business in this city if they can get a convenient location near the Eastern railroad station.

An occurrence thrilling enough for yellow covers and a place in the Dime Novel Library, took place in York village on a recent Sunday. Just after the close of the afternoon service in the village church, there was a grand chase after a wild-cat, in which about twenty men and boys, and a number of the fair sex, took part, the armament of the party consisting of guns, pistols and brooms, and a tea-kettle of hot water, one of the female warriors carrying the latter. After a two hours' chase, during which the cat entered several barns and vainly sought to elude its pursuers by crawling under a number of piazzas, the creature was shot by Mr. William Ramsdell with a revolver. The cat weighed about thirty pounds.

A genuine Canada lynx (loup cervier, or "wild-cat") was killed in Kittery on Friday. The creature was over three feet in length, exclusive of the tail, which measured less than three inches, and if fat it would have weighed forty pounds or more; but it was as thin as a shadow, having evidently been half-famished for a long time. The cat invaded the hen-coop of Mr. James Brown, and made short work of a ten-pound rooster, tearing the fowl open and swallowing the blood and a portion of the flesh; it then seized a hen, and would no doubt have cleaned out the coop in a short time, had it not been killed. Mr. Simon Fernald stopped the raid by blowing the invader's head to pieces with a shotgun.

Albert Moulton's barn at York corner was badly wrecked by the big wind of Friday last. Mr. Moulton went away in the morning, leaving one of the doors unfastened, and it blew open; Mr. Moulton saw the condition of things, and attempted to close the door, but was unable to, and while she was engaged in the attempt a gust of extra power came along, and away went half of the roof and a portion of one end of the building. The barn is one of the largest in York, and nearly new; a large number of cattle were in it at the time of the crash, but none of them were hurt, and on Saturday a number of men were at work repairing the damage. Many trees and fences in York were blown down by the gale, and chimneys that were in any degree shaky were levelled with the roofs; the bath houses along the beach were nearly all blown over, and the bowling alley of the Marshall house, at the harbor, was moved from its foundation. It was the heaviest gale experienced in York for years. It is reported that in addition to the damage mentioned above, a cottage near York harbor belonging to Hartley W. Mason was unroofed.

Melvin, the man who was taken from his bed in a hotel at Fort Fairfield, Me., one night a few weeks since, by a party of armed invaders from New Brunswick, and carried across the line and lodged in jail at Andover, N. B., from which place he escaped on the night of Jan. 18th, is reported to be now in Williamsport, Pa. Melvin is a much married man, and the charge on which he was kidnapped was bigamy. He was charged with having five wives; but the number has since been enlarged, the postmaster at Andover, N. B., having "received a letter from a woman in South Eliot, Me., saying that she was married to Melvin years ago, and lived happily with him until he disappeared. She has consoled herself with another husband."

Immense quantities of fire-wood and a large amount of saw-logs are being gotten out of the woods in York this winter. Hon. Edw. C. Moody has hauled over two hundred logs to Cape Neddick, to be converted into lumber. George Todd of Cape Neddick is hauling out a hundred cords of fire-wood, to be shipped to Boston in the spring.

Mrs. E. Manson, who about ten years ago built the St. Cloud hotel at Old Orchard beach, and very successfully conducted it until its destruction by the great fire at that place a few months ago, has decided not to rebuild at Old Orchard, having purchased the Augusta house at Augusta, Me.

Growing Musk Melons for Seed.

In his new catalogue for 1882, Mr. Joseph Harris, Moreton Farm, Rochester, N. Y., says he grew six acres of Christina musk melons last year for seed, in a field adjoining the highway, and that "hundreds of people for miles around, can testify to the superior excellence of this variety." He adds: "The Prolific nutmeg is also a great favorite on my farm and was extensively grown, but being farther from the road is not so well known in this neighborhood." When well grown the Christina is one of the sweetest and best varieties, and particularly attractive on the table—and judging from the above, equally attractive in the field.

—A prudent theatrical company telegraphed to Springfield to learn if they would be safe from the small pox in that city. The city physician replied: "Our patients are all safely lodged in the hospital, and none of them care to attend your performance."

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. For further particulars enquire of

RUNAWAY BOYS.

On Sunday morning, at about 7:30 o'clock, Asst. Marshall Cole found on Market street two small boys, who were cold, hungry and wretched in the extreme. They gave the names of Arthur and Edward Goddard, aged respectively ten and seven years, and said they ran away from their home in Dover on Friday. On Friday night they stopped at John Dwyer's place on Market street, and passed Saturday night in the old Bell boarding house (now unoccupied, and with the windows all stove in) near the ruins of the Kearsarge mill; lucky for them that Saturday night was much milder than the previous Sunday and Monday nights, or they would have frozen to death. They were taken to the station house and kindly cared for, and will be sent to Dover today by the city marshal.

WE LEARN SOMETHING.

But he got no further, for Ald. Martin suddenly loomed up, observing, "Mr. Mayor, I desire to change my vote to 'no' "—and the tie was untied, without his honor's assistance, the motion being negatived by a vote of five to three. This quick-witted move of the portly alderman leaves him in a position to move a reconsideration of the vote.—Chronicle.

But the CHRONICLE did not think of the fact that Alderman Martin was without a supporter who had the power to second his motion to reconsider his vote. Times.

True; we did not think of it. In fact, this is the first intimation we ever had that more than one supporter of a majority vote was required to secure a reconsideration.

FISH RECEIPTS.

The receipt of fresh fish at this port for the week ending January 28th shows increased supplies, the total amount landed, notwithstanding the continued storms and high winds, being larger than at any time since the early part of December, eight vessels having brought in 55,630 pounds of cod and haddock, against eleven arrivals the week previous with 22,300 pounds. Prices have ruled high, especially during the first part of the week, when one firm in order to meet their orders paid $5.50 per hundred pounds. Herring have been plenty, consequently there is no lack of bait. There were no receipts of halibut; but smelts, for which there is a steady demand, have been unusually plenty, some 900 pounds of superior size having been brought in, mostly from Great bay and York, for which eleven cents per lb. at wholesale was realized on the average. Bass fishing at the bay is also proving a source of profit, as high as 2000 pounds having been taken in three days by amateur fishers, good prices being realized. The summary of receipts of cod and haddock at this port for the month now closed amounts to 145,760 pounds.

CHIEF NAVAL CONSTRUCTOR WILSON.

Theodore D. Wilson was born in Brooklyn, New York, May 11th, 1840, and served his apprenticeship as a shipwright at the navy yard in Brooklyn, under Naval Constructor B. F. Delano, U. S. N., now on the retired list of the navy. Mr. Wilson served for three months at the outbreak of the late war, in Co. B, 13th Regt. N. Y. Vols., as a non-commissioned officer, and on the return of the regiment was appointed a carpenter in the navy; served about two years afloat, and was in the fight with the Merrimack on the first day, in Hampton Roads. He was ordered to special duty with Rear Adm. Francis H. Gregory in 1863, as inspector of the repairing, alteration and building of vessels for the navy in private establishments in and around New York, and while on this duty he was entrusted with the supervision of the building, refitting and alterations of many vessels.

He was examined for, passed and appointed an assistant naval constructor May 17th, 1866, the same date on which Constructor John W. Easby, late chief of the bureau, and Naval Constructors George W. Much and Samuel H. Pook were appointed. [Mr. Much will retire in 1887, and Mr. Pook in 1889.]

On being appointed assistant constructor, Mr. Wilson was ordered in charge of the construction department of the navy yard at Pensacola, Fla. In 1868 he was ordered to the navy yard at Philadelphia, Pa., as assistant to Naval Constructor S. M. Pook, now deceased; while here he had the supervision of the building of the "Omaha," and the launching of her; the rebuilding of the "Juniata" and "Brooklyn," and the repairing of the monitors "Sangamon" and "Dictator."

Detached from the navy yard at Philadelphia in 1869, he was ordered to the United States naval academy as instructor in naval architecture and naval construction, where he remained for four years.

During the vacation at the naval academy, in the summer of 1870, Mr. Wilson was ordered to England and France on special service, with a view to obtaining all the information possible relative to the building of iron vessels of war. While in England he visited and inspected a majority of the vessels composing England's iron-clad fleet, the "Devastation" and "Thunderer" being then in course of construction, and the "Glatton" ready for service; and he inspected the ill-fated "Captain" off Spithead, the week previous to her being lost. He visited every government dockyard in England, all the ship-yards on the Mersey, Thames, Clyde, Tyne and Wear rivers, and the heavy armor-plate mills at Sheffield and Derbyshire.

He remained at the naval academy until 1873, when he was ordered to the navy yard at Washington, D. C., where he put the new "Nipsic" in frame, and refitted the "Shawmut" for sea.

He was promoted to the grade of naval constructor on July 1st, 1873, and in June, 1874, he was ordered to the navy yard at Portsmouth, where he has remained until promoted to his present position, a period of nearly eight years. During this time he has refitted the "Plymouth" and several other vessels for sea; rebuilt the "Ticonderoga" and "Lancaster;" fitted the "Marion" and "Enterprise" for sea; launched the "Essex," and extensively repaired the "Kearsarge" and refitted her for service.

He is the author of "Ship Building, Practical and Theoretical," used as a text book at the naval school, and was the first naval architect in this country to be made a member of the Institution of Naval Architects of England, he having been recommended for membership by Sir E. J. Reed, at that time Chief Naval Constructor of the British navy.

COUNTY TEMPERANCE ASSO'N.

The Rockingham County Temperance Association held its annual meeting in the Freewill Baptist church at Candia on Thursday of last week, Rev. J. H. Stearns of Epping, president of the association, in the chair. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Rev. J. H. Stearns of Epping; vice presidents, B. F. Thorndike of Portsmouth, Rev. F. E. White of East Kingston, Charles H. Harvey of Newmarket, Rev. Lyman White of Deerfield, Rev. J. M. Harris of Derry; secretary, Charles T. Wiggin of Portsmouth; treasurer, Rev. A. B. Carter of Raymond; committee of arrangements for future meetings Rev. Messrs. A. B. Carter, W. H. Stewart and J. N. Rich.

It was voted to hold the next convention in Greenland, on Thursday, February 24th.

White & Parson's Speciality & Comedy Co., with the Tableaux of Erin, was presented at Portland theatre last evening to a very appreciative audience, and gave one of the finest entertainments of the kind on the road to-day. Brian O'Lynn was an excellent comedian, and kept the people in a roar of laughter, while Frank Duffy, the Dutchman, was amusing, and Miss Annie F. Irish was, as always, very fine in her selections.—Portland Press.

At Music hall to-morrow evening; see advertisement.

Joseph H. Keane's "Rip Van Winkle Combination" is booked to appear in this city on Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th.

Marah, who comes highly recommended by the western press as an accomplished actress, under the management of Mr. Edwin F. Gray will appear in the great drama of "Camille" in Franklin theatre, on Friday evening next, supported by a full cast of characters. Tickets for sale at Alfred Stavers', at popular prices. See advertisement.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Engagement for one night only of the young and accomplished actress,

MARAH,

Supported by her own company of acknowledged artists, under the management of

Mr. Edwin C. Gray,

In ALEXANDRE DUMAS' Great Drama of

CAMILLE,

As played by her over two hundred times through the South and West, with its handsome Scenery and Superb Costumes, and everywhere greeted with crowded houses, and pronounced by the Press and Public as an Unqualified Success.

"Marah as Camille, at the Academy, last night, was a pronounced success, and well merited the generous applause she received, being called before the curtain four times, which in this city was quite a compliment. She is supported by an efficient company, who did some very fine work. We hope she will soon appear here again when we can assure her an overflowing house.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

Revised Ordinances, Chap. 16.

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 3. The city marshall shall keep a record of all licenses so granted, each license to be numbered, and he shall make a report to the mayor and aldermen on the first day of July annually and every every three months thereafter of all licenses granted, and shall at the same time pay to the city treasurer all moneys received for the use of the city.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the city marshal to cause all dogs to be killed which shall be found at large or loose within the city without a collar marked as required in Section 4, and to cause all dogs so killed to be buried, and any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

The attention of owners or harborers of unlicensed dogs is called to the above ordinance, the provisions of which will be rigidly enforced.

Stone in the Bladder Expelled by Using Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy."

Mr. S. W. Hicks, of Pleasant Valley, Dutchess Co., N. Y., the son of Mr. E. S. Hicks, whose name may have appeared in this journal in connection with an article similar to this, was, like his father afflicted with Stone in the Bladder, only that his case was more serious than his father's. On the appearance of the disease the father advised the son to write to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who, he said, would tell him what to do. Dr. Kennedy replied, suggesting the use of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which had worked so successfully in the father's case. Mr. Hicks, who had been assured by the local physicians that they could do nothing more for him, tried "Favorite Remedy" at a venture. After two weeks' use of it he passed a stone 3-4 of an inch long and thick as a pipe stem. Since then he has had no symptoms of the return of the trouble. Here is a sick man healed. What better result could have been expected? What greater benefit could medical science confer? The end was gained; that is surely enough. Dr. Kennedy assures the public, by a reputation which he cannot afford to forfeit or imperil, that the "Favorite Remedy" does invigorate the blood, cures liver, kidney and bladder complaints, as well as all those disease and weaknesses peculiar to females. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

Naval Affairs.

President Arthur on Friday sent to the senate the nomination of Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson to be chief of the bureau of construction and repairs.

The flagship Brooklyn arrived at Montevideo Jan. 26th, from New York.

Commodore S. R. Franklin has been detached from special duty, and ordered as a member of the examining board.

Lieut. Robert E. Carmody and Master George T. Emmons have been ordered to the receiving ship Colorado.

Rear-Admiral Nicholson, commanding the European station, informs the navy department, under date of Ville Franche, France, January 11th, that the Quinnebaug arrived at that port on January 7th from a cruise to Algiers and Tunis, and that he proposed leaving the port in the flag ship Lancaster on Janurday 16th, for a visit to the ports on the coasts of Italy, Turkey, Greece and Egypt.

The Powhatan arrived at Portsmouth, Va., Jan. 28th, from Boston.

New Hampshire Items.

A. N. Gilbert's furniture factory at Gorham was burned Jan. 27th. Loss $1,500; insured.

During the great gale of Friday the four-story manufactory of Moody, Estabrook & Anderson, at Nashua, was canted two feet from the perpendicular, causing a stampede among the two hundred workmen. Julian Clark was fatally hurt by jumping from a second-story window.

Obadiah Jackson of Manchester, aged seventy-six years, indicted for cruelty to animals in docking his horse's tail, was acquitted by the jury on Friday.

At Rochester, Friday, the high wind overturned the large exhibition building of the Rochester Fair association. The building was filled with carriages placed there for storage. Nearly all of them were more or less injured, several being completely crushed.

According to the statement of one of the New England senators, Mr. Frye of Maine, the fishery clause of the treaty of Washington continues to work very unsatisfactorily to the American fishermen. Mr. Frye says that during the past year American fishermen have not caught in Canadian waters one thousand dollars worth of fish, while Canadian fishermen have brought into the United States fish, the duty upon which, but for the right accorded them under the treaty of Washington to sell their fish in the American markets, would amount to not less than three hundred thousand dollars. The earliest period when the fishery clause can be abrogated is 1885. This was to run for a period of ten years from 1873, and to require two years notice to terminate the same after the ten years expired. The ten years will expire on the 1st of July, 1882, and if notice is then given to terminate the fishery clause, it will take effect July 1, 1885.

Never interrupt any conversation with a hacking cough; it creates a bad impression. Better invest a quarter of a dollar in a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and cure it.

There were but six known cases of small-pox in Boston on Saturday, and five of those were in the hospital.

Grateful to Invalids.

Floreston Cologne is grateful to invalids, because it is refreshing without the sickening effect of most perfumes.

A case of small-pox was discovered at St. Albans, Vt., Jan. 27th; the patient had been sick a week, and visited by many persons.

A Foolish Mistake.

Don't make the mistake of confounding a remedy of merit with quack medicines. We speak from experience when we say that Parker's Ginger Tonic is a sterling health restorative which will do all that is claimed for it. We have used it ourselves with the happiest results for rheumatism and when worn out by overwork. —Times.

I don't want a Doctor!

I have tried them, and they have only swindled me. I have figured up what they cost me for the last four years, it was just $624.31. If I had it now it would be a fortune to me. This year my bill for medicine was only five dollars, for which I purchased six bottles of Sulphur Bitters. They cured me of scrofula after suffering four years.—Workingman.

The "Practical" Difference Between Poetry and Philosophy.

It sounds very poetic to say "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," but why not apply the principle to the more practical side of the subject, and render the quotation thus:—"Swayne's Ointment on account of stopping the itching caused by the piles, has made countless thousands well and happy." There would be sound logic in this but poets are never cheerful, are they?

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains, Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recourse was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

A BRAVE LADY.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skelton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women, and family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 1y23

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 6000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

The New York Tribune's Washington correspondent says that friends of the President state that the name of William E. Chandler will probably be sent to the senate for secretary of the navy this week. Col. A. H. Young, who has just returned from Washington, is also of the same opinion.

Michael J. Noonan, for a year or more past prominently connected with the Dover reform club, and an active agent of legal suasion in the line of swearing out search-and-seizure complaints against liquor dealers, was set upon on Saturday last by Henry Carroll (or Carl) and another man, knocked down, and brutally kicked and beaten. The cowardly ruffians will hardly benefit the cause they espouse by such proceedings as this.

All the churches of Dover were open as usual on Sunday last, the small-pox scare having subsided about as quickly as it arose.

The chimney of Meserve's steam mill in Rochester, seventy feet high, and one of the chimneys of the Methodist church in that town, were blown down on Friday. The chimney of the town hall in Farmington, and several house chimneys, were also blown over on the same day.

A despatch from New York says: "Edward Howe of Dover, N. H., went to Boston, Mass., on a spree a short time ago, with a companion, whom he left there, and came on to this city alone. He went into a Bowery saloon, where he was drugged and robbed of his money, jewelry and clothes. When he recovered his senses he found himself in a station house, with all his property gone. He was furnished with another suit of clothes, and the police are searching for the thieves."

In Durham, on a recent Sunday, there came very near being a didn't-know-it-was-loaded job for the coroner. A son of Mr. David Stevens had borrowed a gun, and placed it, unloaded, in the front entry; but his brother used it in his absence, and left it loaded. On the Sunday night referred to the former son playfully pointed the gun at a favorite dog, of course supposing it empty, when the weapon was discharged, the contents completely blowing the dog's head off, and passing through a door into a room where several people were sitting, some of the shot narrowly missing them, and entering an old-fashioned clock on the opposite side of the room.

Seabrook has a new business enterprise, Mr. Jeremiah Chase, grocer, at the depot, having opened a wholesale grain and corn store in the building nearly opposite his grocery store—a great accommodation to the townspeople, as since the death of Nathan Robbins, the veteran miller, the tide mill has been but little used. Frank Locke has opened a meat market in the store of Abbott Locke, at the depot, and also runs a cart.

Hon. John F. Cloutman of Farmington recently lost his watch by a confidence game into which he was inveigled while on board the cars. A few days ago he recovered it in a pawn shop in Boston, after paying $60 for his experience.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

An autograph letter of George Washington, taking strong ground against slavery in this country, and expressing a fervent hope that it would soon be blotted out, is said to have been found among the papers of the late E. W. Stoughton. With it were other unpublished letters of Washington.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

Rev. Henry W. Bellows, D. D., one of the leaders in the Unitarian denomination, and one of the most distinguished among American clergymen, died Monday forenoon, Jan. 30th, at his residence in New York.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

The financial panic in France and England is increasing. The Union Generale bank in Paris has suspended payments. The Bank of Belgium has raised its rate of discount to nine per cent. The Bank of England on Monday advanced the rate of discount one per cent.

How to Get Well.—Which is answered in three words—Take Hop Bitters.

In New York, Jan. 28th, a notorious thief named Molly Hoey was arrested. In 1872 a man was drugged and robbed of $40,000 in cash at a house in Chicago kept by this woman, who was then know as Molly Holbrook. She fled, but was arrested in New York; but while being taken to Chicago she escaped from the officer while passing through southern Canada. She then successfully evaded arrest until her recent capture.

The associate editor of the Delaware Co. Republican, Horace B. Dick, Esq., Chester, Pa., was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of very severe injuries resulting from a fall. His arm appeared to be paralyzed, but the Oil cured him.

In Washington, D. C., on the night of Jan. 28th, Mrs. John L. Connors was shot dead through the window of her house. A car driver named Miles, who was drunk in front of the house at the time of the murder, has been arrested.

One village in New York state, called Richburg, in which oil was struck last July, and is now producing 10,000 barrels a day, has run up to 5,000 inhabitants from 250. It has 25,000,000 barrels of oil in its tanks.

An invaluable strengthener for the nerves, muscles, and digestive organs, producing strength and appetite, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

In addition to the three persons whose death from trichinae at Minneola, Ill., has been previously mentioned, five more of the seventeen who were stricken are so dangerously ill that their lives are despaired of.

"Let Him who wins it bear the Palm."

"He who cures the ills of flesh," quoth the sage, "is even greater than he who conquers in war." Certain it is then, that Dr. Swayne has earned the laurel of greatness. His Ointment for skin diseases has been the means of releasing thousands from the indescribable horrors of that complaint. The best evidence of an article is obtained by a practical test, and the unsolicited indorsement of those who profit by its use.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED!

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Impotence, Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple method of cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers, address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Elocution at Manchester.

In the year 1879, Col. John B. Clarke offered a sum of money, in prizes, for the promotion of the study of elocution in the public schools of Manchester. The school board accepted the liberal proposition, which provided for a perpetual annual reward to be known as the "Clarke Prizes for Superiority in Elocution." The conditions were as follows:

The competitors to be selected from the high school and from such of the grammar schools as have a first-division grade; to be of either sex; four from each school, two to be selected by the principal, and the other two by the pupils, of each school. The exercise by which competitors shall be tested may be either reading, recitation, or declamation; and the examination and awards by the committee shall be made in the month of January in each year. The prizes are $16, $12, $8, and $4, and are awarded by a committee of five gentlemen, selected by the mayor of the city, the superintendent of schools, and the clerk of the school board.

The exercises are held in a public hall, to which tickets are sold; the proceeds are invested by the school board, and the interest forever devoted to promote excellence in elocution in the schools. The method of determining the distribution is left to the committee of award each year.

The committee for the present year have been previously announced in our columns.

The exercises were held last week in Smyth's opera house, the use of which was kindly given for the occasion. There were present nearly eighteen hundred persons. The excellent acoustic properties of the hall permitted every one to hear the declamation. The hall has been pronounced by prominent public speakers to be the easiest hall in which to speak in the county. Its construction is admirable, both as regards the stage and the auditorium. Its means of egress are abundant, and although many lingered to exchange comments upon the declamation and the awards, the entire number made the exit in just five minutes and a quarter.

Hon. Daniel Clark presided, and presented the prizes to the contestants, who did admirably; and the efforts were listened to with the closest attention, and followed by generous applause. The thoughtful projector of the evening's pleasure to so many of his towns-people was ensconced in a stage box, and doubtless enjoyed the affair to the utmost.

The committee had no little difficulty in at once canvassing the various merits of the sixteen contestants, so generally acceptable,—nay, so excellent was the result of the efforts (or as the Union would have us believe, "coaching") to excel on the occasion. At any rate, the occasion shew that Manchester not only has excellent public schools, but that her best citizens are interested in them. When gentlemen like Judge Daniel Clark, and other well known residents serve on the school board, and lend their efforts on occasions like that of last week, and when the editor and proprietor of the "Mirror" has seen the effect of his prizes at Dartmouth college, (of which he is a graduate,) and seeks to have the scholars in the public schools of his adopted city incited by a noble emulation to excel in this important branch of education, it is gratifying to note that the people of old Derryfield are so fully awake to an appreciation of, not only the advantage, but the necessity of maintaining a high standard of public education.

A local paper undertook to maintain that these exhibitions were not democratic; that they made a wall around the successful contestant,—a sort of aristocracy of success; but in the storm of applause that followed the announcement by Col. Tappan that the first prize had been taken by a colored boy, who had shown great powers in declamation as well as a clear conception of the meaning of language, and this, too, gained only in the public schools, without the advantage of an early New England home training, whatever objections may be suggested that time is lost in the study of education and preparation for the contest, seemed to entirely disappear, in the satisfactory results to the friends of the pupils and of the public schools.

"Sullivan's raid," rendered by Master Chas. H. Sprague, one of the successful contestant, was written by Mrs. B. F. Dame. It describes the surprise upon Capt. Cochrane at Fort William and Mary (now Fort Constitution) at Newcastle, in December 1774, and the abstraction of the gunpowder and arms which were taken up the Piscataqua, and subsequently served to aid in turning the tide of battle at Bunker hill, when under Stark and Reed our New Hampshire troops, from behind a fence, used the British powder to gall the troops of King George, and which, in fact, with all due reverence for Massachusetts claims to the honor of the result of that battle, did the business for the royal troops on that memorable occasion.

Naval Orders.

The propriety of the enforcement of Secretary Hunt's order relative to the assignment of choice station for officers of the navy, (by which those who have been "up the straits" for three years would be entitled to a similar term in the South Atlantic squadron, and those who have been three years on the latter station would be entitled to orders for the Mediterranean, for instance,) cannot be questioned. The comical side of the affair, however, does not escape any one familiar with "the way they have in the navy." To suppose that any secretary of the navy could or would carry out such an order is simply ridiculous, when every one knows how "orders to the Mediterranean" originate. In the meantime, this haven of delight for the tempest-tossed defenders of the flag is referred to by one of the officers of the Lancaster, the flagship of the European squadron, who writes that the first reception given on board of that vessel in the harbor of Nice, on January 7th, was an exceptionally brilliant affair. The ship was profusely decorated with flowers, the guns, spars and every object about the decks being literally covered with the most artistically arranged floral decorations. The writer says: "Everybody came, among those present being a Russian prince, barons and counts without end." Previous to beginning the dancing the guests paid their respects to Admiral Nicholson and wife, who gracefully received them in the charming saloons. On the Monday following (Jan. 9th,) a ball was given in honor of Admiral Nicholson and wife at the Hotel des Palmiers, at Nice.

AROUND HOME.

The selectmen of Newmarket have arranged for the vaccination of all residents of the town who may desire it, with virus direct from the cow, at the expense of the town.

The report of A. W. Locke, who since March 31st, 1881, has been manager of the Troy & Greenfield railroad and Hoosac Tunnel, made to the state authorities of Massachusetts, shows that the business of the road in 1881 largely increased over that of the previous year. An increase of twenty-one per cent in the number of freight cars through the tunnel shows this fact, while the number of passenger trains increased forty-two per cent, and the number of freight trains through the tunnel increased nineteen per cent. Mr. Locke is well known to many of our readers in Rye as a native of that town, and one of the many capable men whom New Hampshire has sent into Massachusetts to aid in the development of the industrial and commercial prosperity of the time-honored commonwealth.

John May of Newmarket left his home on Jan. 9th, since which time he has not been heard from. As he was known to have a sum of money about him his family naturally feel anxious concerning him, fearing that he has met with foul play.

The thermometer stood at eighteen degrees below zero at York beach, and twenty-three below at York corner, on Tuesday morning of last week.

The friends of Mr. John H. Staples, of Eliot, claim for him the distinction of being the best harmonican player to be found.

Mr. Albion Goodwin, of Cape Neddick, started for Salamanca, N. S., Jan. 23d, to take a position on the Rochester & Pittsburg railroad.

Mr. C. E. Sargent, of Alfred, has been chosen elocutionist of the sophomore class of Bowdoin college. Mr. Sargent is a native of York.

The Pepperell Manufacturing Co., at Biddeford, pays a dividend of $35 a share, and the Laconia Co. a dividend of $16 a share, Feb. 1st.

Thomas J. Melvin, the Maine bigamist, took up his residence in South Eliot in 1864 under an assumed name, according to the statement of the woman of that place whom he subsequently married and deserted. He employed himself principally in preaching and praying, soon began to make love to the woman referred to, and in the fall of 1864 married her, having first divulged his real name, assuring her that he only took an alias to avoid complications with his relatives. The couple lived happily together until the following April, when Melvin one day departed, remarking that he was going to Bangor to purchase a farm, and would soon return; but from that day the South Eliot bride neither saw nor heard from her husband until the account of his further rascalities was published in the papers.

Mr. Stephen E. Grant, who was proprietor of the Cape Neddick house at the time of its destruction by fire, and who last season was landlord of the Moody house at York beach, has bought the Limerick house at Limerick, and will remove to that town in a short time.

It is said that the Eastern railroad will soon build a new freight depot, about a hundred feet long, at South Berwick. A new freight house is badly needed at that point, the present structure being far too small to accommodate the business of the place, which is constantly increasing.

A Big Cur Cowed.

At the Pillsbury school-house in Parsonsfield, there were rumors of war, which culminated in a pitched battle between Mrs. Orestes Kenerson, the teacher, and Ralph Treworthy, called a six-footer. Threats were given out before the school commenced, that Mrs. Kenerson would be carried out of the school. He had been trying the mettle of the teacher until at last he threw cayenne pepper on the stove, almost suffocating teacher and scholars, whereupon the teacher asked him if he put it on the stove, and he answered in the affirmative; she asked why he did it, he said because he had a mind to; she then asked him if he did not intend to obey the orders of the school; he said he should if he had a mind to, using saucy language. Whereupon Mrs. Kenerson snatched from her pocket her husband's ruler, and applied it to his knowledge box. He grabbed her and made for the door; she caught her foot against the seat and whirled him, breaking his hold; then he made a dash at her with his fists, and she seized a poker and went for him. After a few applications to his upper story he left for the door, and returned to renew the attack and met the poker in the stomach, taking the wind out of him, so he found it was not so safe to advance as to retreat, turned his back upon the schoolmarm, and sought protection under his own vine and fig tree. The committee was called in, and sustained the teacher. Male teachers have failed to keep order in this district. Mrs. Kenerson is not a large woman, but pinchy.—Biddeford Times.

Edward Miller and his wife Hannah, of Bordentown, N. J., have been sentenced to the state prison for burglary, the former for three years and the latter for two years.

Office of Clerk of U. S. Circuit Court, District of New Hampshire, William H. Hackett, Clerk.

PORTSMOUTH, N H., Jan. 30th, 1880.

Prof. Bro—I am happy to say in reply to your enquiry that the spectacles with which you supplied me I have found better adapted to my wants than any I have been able previously to obtain. I regard it of great importance that those of us who are obliged to use "helps to read" should have some competent examiner of the eye to determine what is required, and that proper glasses and none other should be worn even to the most limited extent. Yours truly,

WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON. President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policyholders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. FIRE IN YORK.

The house, ell, shed and stable belonging to George F. Plaisted, at York Corner, Me., were burned on Monday afternoon, Jan. 30th. The fire was first seen in a hay-mow in the barn, at about two o'clock, and is supposed to have been caused by two little boys; the contents of the barn were consumed with the structure, but all the furniture and household goods in the dwelling were saved. Loss about $3000; insured in the Kittery & Eliot mutual company to the amount of $1200. The fire was discovered by Mr. Joseph L. Grant, while passing the place.

If the CHRONICLE will look between the covers of Cushing's Manual of Parliamentary Practice, it will find that in order to reconsider a vote, a motion to reconsider must be made by one member of an assembly, and that motion seconded by another member, before the question can be voted upon.—Times.

We do not need to "look between the covers of Cushing's Manual of Parliamentary Practice," nor anywhere else, to learn that "a motion to reconsider must" not only "be made by one member of an assembly," but that that member must have voted with the majority on the question which he moves to reconsider; and also that the motion, when made by a member thus duly qualified, can be seconded by any other member, no matter how he voted on the question at issue, or whether he voted on it at all or not.

The Pullman train from Boston due in this city at nine o'clock was headed with two locomotives on Saturday evening, and again on Sunday, and found considerable difficulty in making the time-table even then, the wind blowing the snow into deep drifts in exposed places along the line.

The brig J. L. Bowen, of Boston, bound east, after lying in the lower harbor for two weeks, and making several unsuccessful attempts to proceed on her voyage, being each time obliged to return by unfavorable weather, made another start on Monday, and had not arrived back up to evening, so it was supposed she had "gone for good" this time.

The roads leading into the city were on Monday reported as being in a very bad condition, owing to the drifted snow. The milkmen—who must be classed with the winter fishermen as to hardihood in facing all sorts of weather—generally provided themselves with shovels, which in several instances were found to be absolutely indispensable to progress. The roads from Newington and York were the worst, the drifts on those highways being in some places six feet high.

Capt. Garland and Mr. George T. Vaughan have sold their respective interests in the schooner Hattie Lewis, to Asahel Goodwin of Cape Neddick, York, and George Scott of this city. Capt. Garland will take charge of the schooner D. K. Ham the coming season; and Capt. Brewster, who for some years past has sailed as mate in the latter vessel, will command the Hattie Lewis. Capt. Freeman, late master of the D. K. Ham, will take charge of the schooner Triton.

The schooner Water Lily came in on Monday with 3000 lbs. of fish, for which she got $4.25 per hundred pounds. The schooner Charles P. Barrett also arrived on Monday, with a fare of 2000 lbs. of haddock.

Twenty-five hundred pounds of bass were caught through the ice on the Exeter river last week, the catch bringing on an average twenty cents a pound.

The present is the ninth season of the Tableaux of Erin and Comedy Company, which has been performing to crowded houses throughout New England under the management of Mr. Harry F. Hall. Miss Annie F. Irish is a member of the company. The entertainment given by the company is a very interesting one, representing a journey through Ireland. The panorama is a beautiful one, and the familiar pictures of Irish life in city and country are faithfully portrayed.—Boston Pilot.

At Music hall to-night.

The three-masted schooner J. F. Baker is loading with apples for Baltimore, shipped by C. Hiram Hayes.

The ladies of the Methodist society at South Eliot, to the number of thirty, will give an old-folks' concert in the church this evening. After the concert, a farmers' supper will be served at the parsonage. The proceeds of the evening are for the benefit of the pastor.

See notice in another column of postponement of Sheriff's sale of stock of hats, caps, furs, etc., in store No. 13 Congress street.

During the heavy blow of Sunday last a number of vessels in the lower harbor broke adrift, among them being the brig J. L. Bowen, a craft of over five hundred tons register, and the schooner Eldorado, of about fifty tons, both of which were brought up without damage. The schooner Baltic, of Frankfort, Me., eighty-seven tons register, got away from her crew owing to some trouble with the windlass, and drifted alongside the U. S. Plymouth, where she was secured by the watchmen on board the ship; the schooner laid there until next morning, when she proceeded, having sustained no material harm.

Mr. U. D. Tenney, the artist, has returned to this city after an absence of about a year, a large part of which has been spent in Concord, where he has filled a number of orders for portraits of eminent men. Mr. Tenney has taken the studio on Congress street, opposite the Kearsarge house, occupied recently by his former pupil, Miss Mary E. B. Miller, whose professional engagements in Massachusetts now occupy nearly all her time, she having two classes in painting at Lowell and one in Boston. Though Miss Miller has given up her room in this city it is possible that she is not "clean gone" to the neighboring state, as many of her former pupils here are unwilling to part with her, and a number of others are desirous of taking lessons.

There is a general shifting of engines on some of the trains of the Eastern railroad, owing to the extras being required to run the trains, and others being hauled up for repairs.

On Saturday last, in Boston, at auction, $1000 of New Hampshire 6s of 1895 sold at 120 1-2; $500 in 6s of 1904 brought 125; $900 in registered 6s of 1894 brought 117 3-4, and $1000 in 6s of 1890 brought 104 1-2. Two hundred and fifty-five shares in the Eastern railroad were sold at the brokers' board, at $34.50 and $35; and ten shares in the Portsmouth & Dover railroad brought 107 1-4, at auction.

The Newburyport Herald of Jan. 30th says: "Smelts at Portsmouth sold for eight cents a pound, last week. In this city they are scarce at twenty."

A Florida paper thus refers to one of our Portsmouth boys: "Capt. John L. Amazeen, who has for several years past commanded the steamer Geo. M. Bird, has been transferred from that boat to the fine steamer Rosa, a promotion he richly deserved." A gentleman of this city who was travelling in Florida for some weeks recently, assures us that Capt Amazeen's popularity is a very positive quantity in the district where he has for some years been employed, as we should suppose it would be, for he is a thorough seaman, cautious yet resolute, attentive to his duties, and courteous and obliging to all with whom he is brought in contact—that is, unless he has changed greatly within a few years past. Mr. George R. Raitt, also from this city, is mate with Capt. Amazeen.

The ladies of the First Methodist church at Spruce creek, Kittery, will give an old-fashioned supper in the vestry of the church on Wednesday evening, Feb. 1st, the receipts to go toward the pastor's salary.

Some weeks since we copied from the Biddeford Union and Journal an item concerning a fight between a bull-dog and a cat, it being alleged that the animals were shut into a room in the marine barracks at the navy yard, and the dog allowed to tear the cat in pieces. The Journal is informed by responsible parties that the story was entirely false, it appearing that some wretched sneak, even more contemptible than the fellow who writes anonymous letters, used the forged (and misspelled) name of a respectable navy yard employe to ensure the publication of the story.

Mr. Thomas Langley, of Eliot, on the 23d of January butchered a hog which weighed 550 lbs., dressed.

Mrs. Milliken, wife of Seth T. Milliken, a wealthy merchant of New York, died very suddenly in Paris, France, Jan. 20th. Mrs. Milliken last season occupied the Lord house (now enlarged into the "Hotel Bartlett") at York beach.

CHAS. B. DOBSON.....Business Agent.

Franklin Theatre.

Friday Evening, Feb. 3d.

Engagement for one night only of the young and accomplished actress,

MARAH.

Supported by her own company of acknowledged artists, under the management of

Mr. Edwin C. Gray,

In ALEXANDRE DUMAS' Great Drama of

CAMILLE,

As played by her over two hundred times through the South and West, with its handsome Scenery and Superb Costumes, and everywhere greeted with crowded houses, and pronounced by the Press and Public as an Unqualified Success.

"Marah as Camille, at the Academy, last night, was a pronounced success, and well merited the generous applause she received, being called before the curtain four times, which in this city was quite a compliment. She is supported by an efficient company, who did some very fine work. We hope she will soon appear here again when we can assure her an overflowing house.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Admission, Popular Prices. Tickets for sale at Alfred Staves' Furnishing Goods Store.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH.

Revised Ordinances, Chap. 16.

SECTION 1. No dog shall be permitted to go at large or loose in this city until the owner or keeper of such dog, or the head of the family, or the keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall have procured from the city marshal a license for such dog.

SEC. 2. The city marshal shall grant a license to any citizen for his dog on the payment of one dollar for a male dog, and two dollars for a female dog, which license shall expire on the first day of July annually.

SEC. 3. The city marshal shall keep a record of all licenses so granted, each license to be numbered, and he shall make a report to the mayor and aldermen on the first day of July annually and every every three months thereafter of all licenses granted, and shall at the same time pay to the city treasurer all moneys received for the use of the city.

SEC. 4. The person named in each license so granted shall cause his name and the number of the license to be distinctly marked on a collar which shall be constantly kept about the neck of the dog so licensed, and no dog shall be considered as licensed unless this requisition shall be complied with.

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the city marshal to cause all dogs to be killed which shall be found at large or loose within the city without a collar marked as required in Section 4, and to cause all dogs so killed to be buried, and any person may lawfully kill any dog found within the limits of this city going at large contrary to the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 6. In case any dog shall be found loose or going at large contrary to any of the foregoing provisions, or in case any dog not licensed shall be provided with a collar marked as required in this ordinance, the owner or keeper thereof or the head of the family or keeper of the house or place where such dog is kept or harbored, shall upon conviction thereof be fined five dollars.

The attention of owners or harborers of unlicensed dogs is called to the above ordinance, the provisions of which will be rigidly enforced.

Stone in the Bladder Expelled by Using Dr. Kennedy's "Favorite Remedy."

Mr. S. W. Hicks, of Pleasant Valley, Dutchess Co., N. Y., the son of Mr. E. S. Hicks, whose name may have appeared in this journal in connection with an article similar to this, was, like his father afflicted with Stone in the Bladder, only that his case was more serious than his father's. On the appearance of the disease the father advised the son to write to Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who, he said, would tell him what to do. Dr. Kennedy replied, suggesting the use of "Kennedy's Favorite Remedy," which had worked so successfully in the father's case. Mr. Hicks, who had been assured by the local physicians that they could do nothing more for him, tried "Favorite Remedy" at a venture. After two weeks' use of it he passed a stone 3-4 of an inch long and thick as a pipe stem. Since then he has had no symptoms of the return of the trouble. Here is a sick man healed. What better result could have been expected? What greater benefit could medical science confer? The end was gained; that is surely enough. Dr. Kennedy assures the public, by a reputation which he cannot afford to forfeit or imperil, that the "Favorite Remedy" does invigorate the blood, cures liver, kidney and bladder complaints, as well as, all those disease and weaknesses peculiar to females. "Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy" for sale by all druggists.

A Cruelty Case.

The S. P. C. A. had a case tried in the supreme court at Manchester last week. A Manchester man was indicted for cruelty in cutting off a horse's tail, to prevent the horse from throwing that appendage over the reins while being driven. It was cut, as defendant contended, with a drawing knife, the tail being laid on a block. The prosecution had a Lowell veterinary surgeon as witness, who maintained that a modern invention would have obviated the tail difficulty, and the mode of cutting tails had changed to a more scientific and less painful method; while a veteran horse man from Manchester testified that the manner adopted by the defendant was the common, and as he regarded it, the best mode of operation. The county attorney (C. H. Burns) contended, and the judge (L. W. Clark) instructed the jury that animals have feelings which the owners are bound to consider; and that mere ownership of a horse does not allow cruelty to be practiced by such owner upon his beast. The contradictory evidence saved the accused, as he was (as was anticipated during the trial) acquitted; but the S. P. C. A. got before the county a first-rate notice as to the rights of dumb animals at the hands of their masters.

Naval Affairs.

The Yantic was at Kingston, Jamaica, Jan. 20th, to sail next day for Aspinwall.

Secretary Hunt has awarded a medal of honor to Corporal Francis Moore, U. S. M. C., for gallant and meritorous conduct.

Civil Engineer C. C. Wolcott has been detached from duty in the bureau of yards and docks, and ordered to duty at the Mare Island navy yard.

The naval court martial which recently tried Passed Asst. Surgeon W. G. G. Wilson, Passed Asst. Engineer N. H. Lamdin and Lieut. Commander George R. Durand for insubordination and disobedience of orders, found those officers guilty, and recommended that the be dismissed from the service. The president has decided to mitigate the sentence in each case to suspension from rank and pay for one year, with a reprimand from the secretary of the navy.

There is an old man at West Cheshire, Conn., who, when he married his second wife, made over to her all his property, only stipulating that he should receive from her every day enough money to purchase half a pint of rum. He has drawn and invested his stipend ever since with perfect regularity, occasionally, however, allowing his pay to accumulate for several days previous to a holiday, "for obvious reasons," he says.

When others are suffering, drop a word of kindness and sympathy. If they are suffering from a cold, give them Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup; a few doses of this valuable remedy will afford instant relief, and a twenty-five cent bottle will cure the worst cough.

The latest news from Irkutsk, Russia, states that Engineer Melville, of the lost steamer Jeannette, has proceeded to the mouth of the river Lena to resume the search for Lieutenant Commander De Long with the greatest energy, aided by natives. Provisions are plentiful, so that the search can be prolonged. The captain of the steamer Lena accompanies Engineer Melville.

"Is it possible that Mr. Godfrey is up and at work, and cured by so simple a remedy?"

"I assure you it is true that he is entirely cured, and with nothing but Hop Bitters; and only ten days ago his doctors gave him up and said he must die!"

"Well-a-day! That's remarkable! I will go this day and get some for my poor George—I know hops are good."

Harry Maxwell, a sporting character, was struck on the head in a saloon at Fort Wayne, Ind., Saturday, by Jeff. Morris, a gambler, and his skull crushed. He will die. The friends of Maxwell tried to shoot Morris on his way to jail.

The "Practical" Difference Between Poetry and Philosophy.

It sounds very poetic to say "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," but why not apply the principle to the more practical side of the subject, and render the quotation thus:—"Swayne's Ointment on account of stopping the itching caused by the piles, has made countless thousands well and happy." There would be sound logic in this but poets are never cheerful, are they?

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains, Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
Never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

A BRAVE LADY.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or sir!" The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 6p3

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.
Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881.
Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of consumptive persons in advanced stages of the Disease. For Sale by all Druggists.—Price, 25 cents.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, depend on SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rub on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULPHUR BITTERS will build you up and make you strong and healthy.

Col. Tom Buford's Escape.

The escape of Col. Tom Buford from the gallows, after his deliberate murder of Judge Elliott, has been condemned in the Kentucky legislature, and a formal expression of dissent with the verdict was all but secured. A resolution to erect a monument to Elliott was introduced, and the preamble asserted that he had been "shot down and murdered in the sight of the capitol, by the ruthless hand of an assassin, who escaped just punishment under the guise of the recently popular plea of insanity." In the spirited debate which followed, the jury and their verdict found no defender, and it was conceded that the murderer had been saved by the wealth and popularity of his family; but it was supposed that the clause would be a reflection on Judge Jackson, who had presided at the trial, and it was stricken out.

The one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birthday of George Washington occurs on the 22d of February, this year. We understand that the State Historical society are arranging a programme suitable to the day and occasion. The programme will vary somewhat from the Webster meeting, but will not be less interesting.

The cotton mill of the Rockland Manufacturing Co., at North Weare, was burned Jan. 30th; cause, a defective chimney. Loss $10,000.

A Female Knight of Pythias.

Says the Milwaukee Sun: "A woman of Bay City, Michigan, disguised herself as a man, and clerked in a store for a year, and then applied for membership in the Knights of Pythias, and was initiated. During the work of the third degree her sex was discovered. It seems that in the third degree they have an India-rubber rat and a celluloid snake, which run by clockwork inside, and which are very natural indeed. The idea is to let them run at the candidate to see if he will flinch. When the snake ran at the girl she kept her nerve all right, but when the rat tried to run up her trousers leg she grabbed her imaginary skirts in both hands and jumped upon a refrigerator that was standing near (which is used in the work of the fourth degree,) and screamed bloody murder. The girl is a member of the order, however, and there is no help for it. This affair may open the eyes of members of secret societies, and cause them to investigate."

Decline of Men.

Impotence of mind, limb, or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, etc., cured by Wells' Health Renewer. $1. At druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

At St. Louis, Mo., last Saturday night, an old lady of seventy years, named Davis, was found dead in a room commonly occupied by a dissolute grandson named Russell Brown. The latter has been arrested, and confesses that he and a bar-keeper named Patrick McGlew decoyed the old lady into the room and robbed her of diamond rings, gold watch, money, etc., choking her at the time to prevent her crying out.

Meeting Mr. H. G. Keffer, treasurer of the Cleveland Herald, recently, a representative of the Cleveland (O.) Penny Press, inquired of that gentleman, after stating his mission, if he personally knew anything about the great German remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. A smile played across Mr. Keffer's expressive face and his eyes twinkled merrily as he replied in the affirmative; I will not refuse to state my experience with it, and you may use it as you think best. Four years ago I sprained one of my ankles, an accident which, as you are aware, entails much suffering and sometimes leaves the limb in a condition to remind one frequently of the old hurt. Unfortunately this result ensued. Whenever the weather became damp or my system absorbed the slightest cold my ankles pained me. This went on at intervals for over three years, and I could not obtain relief. Last winter I applied the St. Jacobs Oil and it completely cured me. I have not since felt a return of the pain.

In Troy, N. Y., Jan. 30th, Lawrence Ager and his wife died in a garret of cold and privation. Over $600 in gold was found sewed up in the man's pantaloons, and shoved away in odd nooks. He had carried the gold on his person for twenty years. He also had $1,500 in bills, which, with the other money, just before his death, he willed to two Catholic institutions at Troy. The couple had for years denied themselves every comfort, and had thus accumulated the money.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

Hon. Albert H. Cox, one of the ablest young men in Georgia, has written a letter to the Douglasville Star, in which he announces himself in favor of a new party in Georgia, and says he will go with the independents. Mr. Cox was a candidate for the democratic nomination for congressman in his district in 1880.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

It is reported that Mr. Willard Eddy of the Hartford, Conn., bar has invented an improvement of the telephone system, by which only the box of the person called will be heard on the line. Telephone users will appreciate the value of such an improvement as this.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Wm. Seitz, twenty-three years of age, was fatally poisoned at Bridgeport, Conn., Jan. 29th, by taking two teaspoons of oxalic acid in mistake for German salts. He died in a few minutes in terrible agony. A nephew of deceased was sent to F. S. Stevens & Co.'s drug store for German salts, and was given acid instead, by Wm. Halpin, clerk. A coroner's jury found Halpin guilty of criminal negligence.

He Suffered for 35 Years.

GUILFORD, CT., May 15th, 1868.

For thirty-five years I have been the victim of that terrible disease, dyspepsia; have consulted eminent physicians, and tried almost every remedy. My family physician finally told me I could not be cured. The first dose of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure helped me, and, to-day, I consider myself cured, and am ready to affirm that it is the most valuable medicine ever placed before the public.

G. H. RICHARDSON.

PADUCAH, KY., May 10th, 1867.

During a confinement of eleven months in Libby prison, I was attacked with dyspepsia in its worst form. For two years I have suffered with it. I tried doctors a great many times without relief. This spring I became so debilitated as to be unable to walk one square. After taking two doses of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure I ate of everything on the table, felt no distress afterward, and have an excellent appetite.

F. T. GILLILAND, Late Lieut. U. S. A.

Freeman L. Loster of Goodman, Miss., was shot and instantly killed Sunday night by Dr. I. B. Clayton. Cause of difficulty not known.

"Let Him who wins it bear the Palm."

"He who cures the ills of flesh," quoth the sage, "is even greater than he who conquers in war." Certain it is then, that Dr. Swayne has earned the laurel of greatness. His Ointment for skin diseases has been the means of releasing thousands from the indescribable horrors of that complaint. The best evidence of at article is obtained by a practical test, and the unsolicited indorsement of those who profit by its use.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 15, 1878.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send free to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Another Fiery Horror.

The building in New York formerly occupied by the New York World was destroyed by fire on Tuesday. It was occupied by the New York Belting & Packing Co.; S. M. Pettingill, advertising agent; Munn & Co., patent solicitors; numerous lawyers and insurance agents; the New York Observer, the Scientific American and other weekly papers, and many other tenants. The fire caught in the engine room and rushed up the elevator, cutting off escape by the stairways, and many of the occupants were burned to death, or killed by jumping from the windows. The building has long been regarded as a death-trap by firemen, and their worst fears have been realized; how many lives were lost cannot be told, but on Tuesday evening the number was given as "at least thirty, and probably more." The Times office and the post-office were somewhat injured, but were saved by great exertions. The pecuniary loss by the burning of this tinder-box will exceed $1,000,000. The building was owned by O. B. Potter, president of the Singer Sewing Machine Co., and was heavily insured.

The Geneva-Award Contest.

In the United States senate, Jan. 30th, Mr. Edmunds, from the judiciary committee, reported favorably, with an amendment, the senate bill re-establishing the court of commissioners of Alabama claims, providing for the distribution of the unappropriated monies of the Geneva award. He remarked that the committee was not unanimous as to any of the recommendations of the bill, but as to some things it did not recommend, it was unanimous.

Mr. Hoar asked for a statement of the substance of what the committee did recommend.

Mr. Edmunds replied that the committee recommended the payment, out of the moneies received from Great Britain, of the losses by what are known as the "exculpated cruisers," and nothing else. The committee, he thought, was unanimous against the refunding of the war premiums, and a majority were of the opinion that the insurance companies were not entitled to any relief.

Mr. Hoar gave notice of an amendment to the bill, and the chair suggested that the bill and amendment should be printed together.

Mr. Edmunds objected to this, claiming that the amendment had no present connection with the bill.

Mr. Hoar, in reply to an inquiry by Mr. Hale, explained that his amendment covered the precise ground of the bill that passed the house in the forty-fifth Congress; he understood the measure now reported provided for the payment of the actual losses of ships and other property by the exculpated cruisers; his amendment provided for that class, and also for the compensation of persons who paid what are called the war premiums. Those who kept the United States flag afloat, but to whom, for public reasons, the United States declined to extend the ordinary protection which it was the duty of a government to extend to its subjects, and who went on with their business of carrying merchandise in competition with the English, whose ships and property were free from molestation and capture.

Mr. Hale gave notice of an amendment, which, he said, was substantially similar in principle, if not terms, to Mr. Hoar's amendment, and was, he believed, the same proposition which is contained in the bill reported in the present Congress by the judiciary committee of the house. He had provided, in addition to that, for the two per cent extra interest claims.

Mr. Edmunds, commenting upon some suggestions by Mr. Hoar to Mr. Hale, looking to action upon both amendments jointly, said the senate was being informed thus early that the grand circus combination was being made up. We had the extra-interest men, the war-premium men, and the exculpated-cruisers class, and it was proposed to try them all together. He then criticised Mr. Hale's reference to the purport of the report of the house judiciary committee as involving an infraction of the usage according to which statements of the doings of one house were not in order in the other house, when made for the purpose of influencing action by either body.

Mr. Hale replied that the extent of his offence consisted in his attempt to identify the amendment he presented by a reference to the house bill. He was not aware that he had trespassed upon the rules. As to what the senator (Mr. Edmunds) had said about a combination or a joining of forces between senators, he denied any knowledge of a movement to that end.

Mr. Edmunds explained that what he meant was that, in the form in which it was sought to be presented, the proposition itself was a combination.

Mr. Garland gave notice of an amendment to strike out the provision in behalf of the sufferers by the exculpated cruisers, and to provide for the insurance companies.

The subject was then disposed of by an order directing the printing of the bill and the proposed amendments separately.

A Very "Thin" Story.

One of the reasons adduced by Mr. Scoville in support of his application for a new trial for the convicted assassin Guiteau, is that a newspaper containing editorial comments on the trial was found in the jury room, after the trial was over, by a detective named Snyder; and that this paper had evidently been read by the jurymen, as it had written on the margin the names of several of the jurymen! In order to believe this remarkable story, it is necessary to consider the jurymen to be not only of stupid and blundering asses, but very anxious to "write themselves down" as such. On the other hand, the jurors flatly deny that they read or had any newspapers during the trial, or wrote any signatures on any paper. It is further known that Snyder, the "detective," was around Washington with John W. Guiteau after the trial, soliciting the signatures of the jurymen in an autograph album of the latter's; and it is more than intimated that Snyder, who is not of unblemished reputation, forged all the names on the newspaper.

Scoville appeared in court on the morning of Jan. 30th, and asked that a commission be granted to examine the names of the jurors alleged to be on the newspaper presented by him as one of the reasons for a new trial. He said that he had not the least doubt of the genuineness of the signatures, and asked that experts be appointed to compare the signatures presented. The court said it would set Friday, Feb. 3d, for hearing the motion for a new trial, at which time he would have the jurors in court, when they would be heard under oath as to the signatures upon the newspaper. Mr. Scoville assenting, Friday was agreed upon.

It is said that, while there has been an apparent attempt to imitate the signatures of the jurymen, it is very clear that each of the names was written by the same hand. One of the names is spelled incorrectly. Evidence will be submitted by the district attorney to show that Snyder was on one occasion bound over to the grand jury by the police court for obtaining $300 on a forged despatch. He was also charged at the same time with stealing letters. He has been engaged in furnishing testimony to both sides in the Christiancy case, and altogether his affidavit is held to be utterly worthless.

Mr. Scoville, Guiteau's counsel, furnishes for publication an address "To the American people," in which he appeals for contributions of money to aid him in continuing the defence. He says at least $2,000 will be necessary to properly conduct the appeal to the general term of court; that he is unable longer to work without compensation; that he must engage counsel to assist him, as Mr. Reed cannot continue in the case unpaid; and that the conduct of the case has already cost him $2,300, only $250 of which was contributed by friends.

Mr. Scoville on Jan. 30th received a letter from a firm in Philadelphia, who have a process of arresting decay in meats, fruits or vegetables by subjecting them to a certain continuous even temperature in a refrigerating chest. They propose to take Guiteau's body as soon as he is hung, subject it to this process in a chest with glass sides, exposing it to view, and then exhibit it in this country and in Europe, giving the relatives of the refrigerated corpse one-half of the net proceeds. Referring to this proposition Mr. Scoville is reported to have said: "I don't know but that is a better offer than the one I have just received from St. Louis of $5,000 outright for the body."

News and Notes.

"Perley" says that "Senator Edmunds' anti-polygamy bill is highly complimented by the lawyers in the senate, who say that it will hold water, and secure the extinction of this great crime."

Lewis Francis, a brakeman on the Old Colony railroad, got his foot caught between the rails at a switch in Fall River, Mass., Monday morning, and was run over by an approaching engine. Both legs and one arm were crushed, and he died in a few hours. He was twenty-two years of age, belonged in Taunton, and was unmarried.

The British ship Cochin arrived at San Francisco on Jan. 30th, from Dundee, having on board seven men picked up at sea on the 15th of January in a starving condition. The men belonged to the British ship Milton, from Shields for San Francisco with a cargo of coal. The Milton caught fire on the 22d of December, and was abandoned. The first boat contained Capt. McArthur, his wife, two children and five men. The second boat, the first officer and seven men. The third boat, the second officer and five men. Twenty-three days after, the men in the third boat were picked up. Nothing has been heard of the other two boats, and it is thought all are lost. The boats separated the day following the abandonment of the Milton.

At Calais, France, Jan. 30th, a reservoir suddenly burst. The torrent destroyed a school house and two other buildings, which were occupied at the time. Few of the inmates escaped. The number lost is unknown, but up to the evening of the 30th twenty-seven bodies had been recovered from the ruins.

Oscar L. Baldwin, the thieving cashier of the Merchants' bank of Newark, N. J., has been sentenced to state prison for fifteen years.

Henry Bowers, suspected of robbing the mail car at Montpelier, was delivered up to the officers on Jan. 30th at Plainfield, Vt., by one Joseph Bover, in whose barn he had been hiding since the previous Thursday. Both of Bowers' feet and hands were frozen.

How to Keep Warm.

"Yes, sir," said a New York John the other day, "it takes an old stage driver to stand this sort of weather, and they do it because they are used to it, and partly because they know more than to try to keep warm on liquor. A good dish of oatmeal porridge and plenty of coffee before getting on the box, and then plenty of good victuals during the day, and the cold weather only makes a man have a better appetite, while a horn don't last till you get on the box again, and then you are worse off than ever." "Yes," said another driver to his interrogator, "it is only a green driver or them horse car fellows as tries to keep warm on rum."

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessable. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. For further particulars enquire of

AROUND HOME.

We clip the following from the Newburyport Herald of Jan. 31st, as it may possibly have some local interest: "The pole-setters of the new telegraph company, the Mutual Union, were in town yesterday, placing poles on Merrimac street. They are fine looking ones, but a great deal of cheek seemed to have been displayed by the man in charge, in regard to the location, the holes being dug almost in the middle of the sidewalk. These were ordered to be filled up again by the authorities."

The Times appears to have given up the job of enlightening the CHRONICLE as to "Parliamentary Practice."

Seven young men of this city went to Great bay on Sunday last, to catch smelts. "It blew and it snew," and they were utterly miserable; and the entire fare taken by the party was just eighteen fish. Several of the fishermen, in order to save their credit, purchased of other persons enough smelts for breakfast next morning, and palmed them off at home as being their own take. The high line of the party had six smelts to his credit.

The eleventh anniversary of Damon Lodge, No. 9, Knights of Pythias, was observed by a dance in Congress hall, and a supper in Pythian hall, on Tuesday evening.

Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, United Order of the Golden Cross, has a special meeting on Thursday evening of this week to consider matters of importance to its members. There should be a large attendance.

The Dover Democrat of Monday says: "Rev. Mr. DeNormandie, pastor of the Unitarian society, Portsmouth, occupied the pulpit of the Unitarian church in this city, yesterday. His subject was 'The Moral Rectitude of Men.' Mr. DeNormandie made a great impression upon his hearers. He was very eloquent, and handled his subject in a masterly manner."

Among the late transfers of real estate in this vicinity, as left for record in the office of the register of deeds, are the following: Portsmouth—Frank E. Dearborn, executor of the will of Jonathan Dearborn, to David Kimball, land, $462.-50; Mary S. Burleigh, of Lewiston, Me., to James Barton, land, $25; David Kimball to William A. Willie, of Kittery, Me., land, $1; Walter C. Harriman, of Exeter, to William H. Lovell, land and buildings, $1. Hampton—Samuel D. Lane to George W. Lane, woodland, $492.50; Joshua A. Lane to George W. Lane, land, $500; E. Warren Lane to George W. Lane, woodland, $182.50; Sarah B. Towle to Methodist Episcopal society, land, $200. Newcastle—Benjaman Yeaton to Ezekiel Twombly, land and house, $150; M. Eliza Cheever of Portsmouth to Marcy G. Campbell, land, $15; Nathan W. Lear of Portsmouth to Mary J. Lear, land and buildings, $250. North Hampton—Mary A. Berry to Julia M. Hunt, of Newtonville, Mass., land and buildings, $3500.

Rumors of a case of a small-pox on Hunking street were prevalent on Monday evening, and considerable excitement prevailed at the south end in consequence; but the city physician, who promptly examined the case, pronounced the illness (which had existed for about two weeks) to be due to a very severe cold, there not being the slightest indication of any contagious disorder.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet has not been heard from for three weeks.

The new masts for the schooner E. A. Creed were received in this city on Tuesday from Rollinsford; they were transported by oxen, and engineered through the heavy show-drifts by Mr. Charles Paillips.

The schooner Comet arrived on Tuesday evening with two hundred pounds of fish,—the only arrival for that day.

Foxes are reported as being plenty in the vicinity of Hampton; fresh tracks on the snow are discovered every morning. The men cutting ice on Rye pond say that on Tuesday a fox came on the pond three times, each time within easy shooting distance of the men.

J. H. Frisbee has shipped from the Eastern depot, Greenland, to Daniel F. Littlefield of Saco, Me., during the fall and winter months, 9850 bushels of loose apples, and has bought for the same parties 2200 bushels of potatoes. Eight hundred barrels of apples have been sent from Greenland by Mr. Littlefield to England.—Times.

Mr. E. C. Spinney recently felled on the Rice lot, so-called, at Kittery, purchased by him some months ago, a tree from which was cut a log twenty feet long, and three feet in diameter at the smaller end.

Messrs. Cottle & Co., of Kittery, a few days ago received a car-load of horses from Canada. This firm has brought horses from Canada for a number of years past, but they have started a month earlier this year than ever before.

Miss Lizzie Haley, of Tuftonborough, N. H., a revivalist, is holding a series of meetings in the Baptist church at Kittery Foreside, the first one having been held on Sunday last; and much interest is reported as having already been aroused. Miss Haley conducted quite an extensive revival at Kittery about two years ago, when many persons were converted.

The democrats of the Iowa legislature cast their votes for Hon. M. M. Ham, the editor of the Dubuque Herald and member of the national democratic committee, as their candidate for United States senator in the recent contest. Mr. Ham is a native of Newfield, Me., and son of Dr. Levi J. Ham, for several years a member of the Maine state senate, and a prominent and influential democratic politician of York county.

He Was Lost.

Some years ago there lived in a certain city a merry set of Scotchmen whose mirth was not always regulated on the cold-water principle. John B— was a prominent member. One particular night the "malt had got abune the meal," and toward the sma' hours two of his friends found him sitting disconsolate on the curbstone not far from his bachelor quarters. As they were passing he asked, "Do ye ken whaur Johnny B— lives?" "You are Johnny B— yourself," was the reply. "I ken that, man," said Johnny, "but whaur does Johnny B— live?"

Documentary Proof.

Webster was notoriously careless about money. After continued provocation, he once wrote a letter to the editor of a newspaper which referred to his private affairs and especially to his not paying his debts: "It is true that I have not always paid my debts punctually, and that I owe money. One cause of this is, that I have not pressed those who owe me, for payment. As an instance of this, I enclose your father's note, made to me thirty years ago, for money lent to him to educate his boys."

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but thought I would go as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer! My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day; after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

For particulars and other testimonials see small circulars.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 30th, 1880.

Prof. Bro :—I am happy to say in reply to your enquiry that the spectacles with which you supplied me I have found better adapted to my wants than any I have been able previously to obtain. I regard it of great importance that those of us who are obliged to use "helps to read" should have some competent examiner of the eye to determine what is required, and that proper glasses and none other should be worn even to the most limited extent. Yours truly,

WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

Engagement for one night only of the young and accomplished across,

MARAH.

Supported by her own company of acknowledged artists, under the management of

Mr. Edwin C. Cray,

In ALEXANDRE DUMAS' Great Drama of

CAMILLE,

As played by her over two hundred times through the South and West, with its handsome Scenery and superb Costumes, and everywhere greeted with crowded houses, and pronounced by the Press and Public as an Unqualified Success.

"Marah as Camille, at the Academy, last night, was a pronounced success, and well merited the generous applause she received, being called before the curtain four times, which in this city was quite a compliment. She is supported by an efficient company, who did some very fine work. We hope she will soon appear here again when we can assure her an overflowing house.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault--Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Fort Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toledo Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—Le Sun Lancet.

The Gold and Jewellery Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sent by mail, securely sealed and post paid, to all parts of the World, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address

"Moods:" a novel, by Louisa M. Alcott, author of "Little Women." etc. Boston; Roberts Brothers: price $1.50.

"Moods" is a reproduction of the work first brought out from the pen of Miss Alcott several years since. In appears now, with several chapters omitted, others restored, and with a pruning and touching-up all through the volume—a sort of re-touching by the hand of experience, of the work of a young hand. The author re-introduces her first-born story to the world of readers, and now come a new set of admirers since the first publication of Moods, which like Miss Alcott's other works, has the power of a continued interest and is always fresh and lively in all its parts. For sale by W. G. Myers.

The Boston Post has not only greatly increased and improved its business departments within the past year, but it has also added to its news, miscellaneous and social features, until it is as welcome in the home as it is valuable in the counting room. It now stands in the front rank of family newspapers, high-toned and dignified, but genial, bright, interesting and instructive.

"Aspects of Poetry," being lectures delivered at Oxford by John Campbell Shairp, LL. D., Professor of poetry at Oxford, etc. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price $1.50.

This book is a publication of twelve lectures taken from Dr. Sharp's course delivered from the Chair of Poetry at Oxford, within the past four years. They treat of the province of poetry, criticism, the spiritual side of poetry, modern English poetry, Virgil as a religious poet, Scottish songs and Burns, Shelly as a lyric poet, the poetry of the Scottish highlanders, and kindred subjects.

The average edition of the numbers of the last two volumes of "Scribner's Monthly" was 120,000; the average edition of the first four numbers of "The Century" is nearly 133,000. In England, 20,500 copies of the November number were sold, against an average of 16,230 for the twelve months preceding, and the sale of that number still continues there. "St. Nicholas" has grown in England, from a circulation of 3000 copies a year ago, to a regular circulation of 8000 to 10,000 a year. It is not often that the London Times goes out of its way to compliment children's magazines, and American ones at that, but its issue of Dec. 20th, 1881, contained a handsome compliment to the last bound volumes of St. Nicholas.

Several gentlemen are about to start from Massachusetts for Denver, to make an effort to save from the gallows Charles W. Stickney, a young man and a graduate of Harvard college, who is soon to be tried in Denver, Col., for purposely killing M. F. Campeau, who had seduced Mrs. Stickney, and accidentally killing a Mrs. Devereaux, who was hit by a bullet from Stickney's pistol.

Thousands of families have had occasion to try the never failing qualities of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, and they all unite in the praise of this wonderful prescription.

—Three years ago an Indiana girl, while on a trip to New York, lost her watch in a Pullman car. A day or two since the company sent her the watch by express. It had been found wedged in behind the berth, by some workmen who were rebuilding the car.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

—A reporter, in describing a railway disaster says, "This unlooked for accident came upon the community unawares."

Have you Ever

Known any person to be seriously ill, without a weak stomach or inactive liver or kidneys? And when these organs are in good condition do you not find their possessor enjoying good health? Parker's Ginger Tonic regulates these important organs, makes the blood rich and pure, and strengthens every part of the system. See other column

—In view of the way the gallows is so often cheated nowadays, the proverb should be altered to "Murderers will out."

Permit no Substitution.

Insist upon obtaining Floreston Cologne. It is pre-eminently superior in permanence and rich delicacy of fragrance.

—The man who stays at home is never found out.

"He who talks sows, he who listens reaps," and he who takes Adamson's Botanic Balsam, the great remedy for coughs, colds, etc., is wise, because he takes the best remedy on earth. Trial bottles, 10 cents.

—"Is your father a Christian?" said a gentleman to a little boy on one occasion. "Yes, sir," said the little boy; "but I believe he has not worked much at it lately."

The "Practical" Difference Between Poetry and Philosophy.

It sounds very poetic to say "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," but why not apply the principle to the more practical side of the subject, and render the quotation thus:—"Swayne's Ointment on account of stopping the itching caused by the piles, has made countless thousands well and happy." There would be sound logic in this but poets are never cheerful, are they?

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, it can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable family medicine.—REV. T. FRANTZ, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—G. O. FORCH, Lowndes, Md.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LEWIS, Waynesburg, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it on trains, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DYER, Dryden, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WATSON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN H. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

A BRAVE LADY.

She Endures the Pain of a Severe Surgical Operation Without Taking Chloroform.

[From the Courier.]

Mrs. Schoonmaker, of Creek Locks, Ulster Co., N. Y., had the misfortune to entirely lose the sight of one of her eyes, through an accident, and endured painful inflammatory action therein for two long years; the other eye finally becoming sympathetically affected, her general health generously suffering; indeed she was a mere wreck, a walking skeleton. In this terrible strait she consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who told her at once that the injured eye must be removed. She quietly but firmly said, "All right, Doctor, but don't give me chloroform. Let my husband sit by my side during the operation, and I will neither cry out or stir." The work was done, and the poor woman kept her word. Talk of soldierly courage! This showed greater pluck than it takes to face a hundred guns. To restore her general health and give tone and strength to the system, Dr. Kennedy then gave the "Favorite Remedy," which cleansed the blood and imparted new life to the long suffering woman. She rapidly gained health and strength, and is now well. The "Favorite Remedy" is a priceless blessing to women. No family should be without it. Your druggist has it. If not send to Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, New York. 1y23

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor; and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881.
Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

Keep a Bottle of Lime Water.

If good milk disagrees with a child or grown person, lime water at the rate of three or four tablespoonfuls to the pint, mixed with the milk or taken after it, will usually help digestion and prevent flatulence. Lime water is a simple antiacid, and is a little tonic. It often counteracts pain from acid fruits, from "wind in the stomach," and from acids produced by eating candies and other sweets; also "stomach-ache" (indigestion) from overeating of any kind. A tablespoonful for a child of two years old, to a gill or more for an adult, is an ordinary dose, while considerable more will produce no serious injury. A pint of cold water dissolves less than ten grains of lime, and warm water still less. Pure lime water, even though pretty closely corked, soon deteriorates by carbonic acid in the air, which unites with the lime and settles as an insoluble carbonate. To have it always ready and good, and at no cost, put into a tall pint or quart glass bottle, of any kind, a gill or so of good lime just slaked with water. Then fill the bottle nearly full of rain or other pure water, and let it stand quietly, corking well. The lime will settle, leaving clear lime water at the top. Pour off gently as wanted, adding more water as needed. Some carbonic acid will enter, but the carbonate will settle, often upon the sides of the bottle, and freshly saturated water remain. The lime should be removed and a new supply put in once a year or so, unless kept very tightly corked.—American Agriculturist.

The Electric Light in the Theatres.

The frightful calamity in Vienna—a combination of carelessness, misfortune, and an unprecedented absence of mind—renders every step toward making a theatre more or less secure against danger of fire particularly interesting. Mr. D'Oyly Carte gave one day last week the first performance of Patience with the whole stage lit up by electricity. It will, perhaps, less interest the reader to know that two separate engines provide 800 lights for the stage and dressing rooms, and 129 lights for the auditorium, than to know that the incandescent lamp gives an agreeable, soft, not glaring light, advantageous for the colors, and—mind!—for the complexion; gives no heat, flickers not, smokes not, causes no dirt, and last, not least, cannot set fire to anything it comes in contact with, simply because the incandescent wire, heated white, is enclosed in a glass globe from which the air has been exhausted, this vacuum being one of the conditions of the burning. If, therefore, by any accident the globe should be broken and the flame exposed, the mere rushing in of the air would destroy its vital conditions and extinguish it. An argumentum ad hominem was furnished, under a clear and intelligent speech to that effect, made between the first and second act by Mr. D'Oyly Carte, who, to illustrate his words, wrapped one of the globes in the most inflammable material, tulle gauze, and broke the glass; instantly, instead of burning the gauze, the flame was extinguished.—London World.

Shoplifters.

"Few persons know," said Detective McPhillips of New York, "how much the big stores are robbed. Yesterday I saw an aged and very respectable-looking woman robbing a counter. I saw her taking handkerchiefs and hose. I arrested her, searched her, and found several articles that she had taken. She was so respectable in appearance that the firm let her go. Half an hour later I was sent for by one of the saleswomen, who pointed out a quiet, lady-like woman, who, the saleswoman said, was robbing the counters. I followed this woman, and saw her steal three remnants of silk, valued at $21. I arrested her, and upon her were found three pairs of hose, four pairs of shoes, six pairs of stockings, one umbrella, a pair of slippers, and a silk cloak. She had large pockets made purposely for secreting articles. She was held for trial. Her husband, who holds an honorable position, gave bail for her."

—An honest man is the noblest pursuit of women.

—"Why do girls kiss each other, while boys do not?" Because girls have nothing better to kiss, and the boys have.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

—A Missouri woman has collected 17,000 spools. Being an industrious woman, she was only eight years making the collection, but unfortunately by the time her task was accomplished, spools had gone out of fashion in the bric-a-brac line, and the Missouri woman sold out for fifteen cents a barrel.

—At a New York reception to Oscar Wilde, a lady remarked: "I suppose you have come over to amuse us, Mr. Wilde." "Rather to instruct," was the reply of the æsthete. "If that is your purpose, Mr. Wilde," replied the lady, "I think I can suggest how you can strengthen your influence, if you would like to know." "I should, madam." "Then let me recommend, Mr. Wilde, that you wear your hair shorter and your trousers longer."

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—A singular incident in connection with a marriage happened recently at a village near Atherstone, England. A couple were married, but after they left for the honeymoon the officiating minister discovered that the square edifice was not licensed for the solemnization of marriages. The bishop being communicated with, declared the wedding illegal; consequently, on the parties returning from the honeymoon trip they had to be reunited.

—Women are not cruel by nature. We never heard of one thoughtless enough to step on a mouse.

People of advanced ideas are never slow to recognize that which will result in the greatest benefit to their wealth, health and happiness; such people never fail to perceive the great benefit resulting from the use of St. Jacobs Oil, when afflicted by rheumatism. Wm. H. Wareing, Esq., asst. general superintendent third division mailing and distributing department, New York post office, in writing concerning St. Jacobs Oil says: The reports from the several superintendents and clerks who have used the oil agree in praising it highly. It has been found efficacious in cuts, burns, soreness and stiffness of the joints and muscles, and affords a ready relief for rheumatic complaints. Hon. T. L. James, late postmaster-general of the United States, concurring in the foregoing.

—George Washington never told a lie; but it must be remembered that he entered politics when the country was very new.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Our New York Fashion Letter.

THE REDS OF THE DAY.

One must have color. Pink—that is, a genuine, bright pink, having years since been banished, red immediately took its place. This reign of red has been a long one, and at present we have a whole royal family of reds. There is flame and cardinal red; damask and dull æsthetic red; cinnamon and Indian red; while in close kinship come the varieties of garnet. Chiefly in evening assemblies do these reds show forth their supremacy, when women of fashion delight in parading one red dress after another. Diversities of fabric give a change, and lookers-on can draw comparison among rich plushes, velvets, satins, or brocades of huge design.

These materials are mixed and intertwined in every conceivable way, while at times the best possible results accrue from overshadings of lace, either black or white. Fancy, if you will, the charming effects brought about by softly falling cascades of fine white lace upon velvet, or plush, or satin. At times it is set in flounces, or peeps as a poetic bordering to brocade. Then too, how extended are the possibilities where black lace is introduced. How skilfully may not the middle-aged belle make all things proper, and lighten up her wasted complexion by a red costume, provided she tones it down by admixtures of black lace. Otherwise it might be too glaring, "too too too," as our friend Oscar Wilde might say.

FORTUNATE AND UNFORTUNATE COMBINATIONS.

Do you not see, furthermore, the practical use of lace? You can change your costumes almost ad infinitum. It comes in anywhere; fills up; takes away; does anything you want it to do. You can twist it and turn it; catch it up or let it fall, and having served its purpose on one dress is equally good for another. The combinations are well nigh invariably fortunate; but woe betide when reds are unfortunately brought together. The worst of such uses is when a red complexioned woman selects a red costume. I cannot describe it; you can imagine it for yourself. And yet such errors are committed—not by the inexperienced—the thoughtless—but by ladies who have made the science of dress a study. The only solution is that when looking in the glass they wear the wrong spectacles.

Put on the right spectacles, too, I pray you, when choosing between an offset of face or artificial flowers. If you are of uncertain age, hesitate before selecting the latter. In nine cases out of ten the face will soften the traces of time, and make you really look younger than a floral adornment which par excellence betits the spring time of life.

JEWELRY, COIFFURES.

The favorite necklace is a string of beads, pearl or gold, in several strands drawn tightly around the throat. Earrings, solitaires of diamonds or pearls, or perhaps some one of the semi-precious stones, Alexandrite, pink or yellow topaz, etc., that are so fashionable combined with diamonds, pearls, sapphires, rubies or emeralds. But the design is always short and close to the ear. Bracelets, however, are the distinguishing mark of a fashionable lady, and in jingling collection of from two to four or five, all very narrow, they are allowed to rattle over the long glove, which also is a matter of peculiar pride, and really of more importance than the arm it covers. People who understand the right and wrong of things, like especially the Foster kid glove, because of its adaptability to any arm, since from the peculiar mode of fastening it can be drawn closely or allowed to be loose, according to option. Then again it is of elegant make and fit, carefully sown by hand, while none but the best quality French kid is employed, in consequence of which it is very lasting.

As Wildeism progresses, in such proportion do æsthetic coiffures grow more æsthetic. If you ask what these may be, I answer—a fluffy front-piece extending from ear to ear, giving the wearer a decidedly poodle-dog appearance. They are worn chiefly by young ladies, yet seemingly would be of advantage to such mature sirens as might wish to conceal the coming gray on either side of the temple. The word "fluffy" must be understood in its broadest significance, for there is no moderation in these front pieces. They flare to every point of the compass, and every day grow fluffier and more fluffy. LUCY CARTER.

The Æsthetic Young Man.

The high priest of æstheticism lectured in Boston on the evening of Jan. 31st, and the Globe of the next day said: "Oscar Wilde has been seen and heard in Boston. His plea for the beautiful in art and nature was made in Music hall last night, before perhaps the largest audience ever assembled in that building. Judging of the discourse by its merits and manner of delivery, we should say it was a decided failure. Mr. Wilde has talents as a writer, and ideas on the subject he has chosen for the enlightenment of the American public, but he is no orator. His voice is not good, and his style anything but pleasant. He speaks in one key from the beginning to the end of his lecture, and the monotony is dreary and dispiriting. He administered a dose of æsthetic taffy to Boston culture, and got in a neat rap at the crowd of Harvard boys who occupied conspicuous places and wore conspicuous costumes. 'This movement,' he said to them, 'is not confined to knee-breeches and love of sunflowers.' As he eschewed the knee-breeches himself, the point was well taken and keenly appreciated by the audience. Whatever may be said of the literary and declamatory features of the lecture, there can be no doubt of its financial success."

SCHOONER ASHORE.

The fishing schooner Water Spirit, of Gloucester, Mass., registering sixty tons and commanded by Capt. Henry Marden of Kittery, on Tuesday evening of this week hit Pulpit rock, off the Dow farm at Rye, (on which the schooner Charles S. Tappan struck a few weeks ago,) and afterward brought up on the beach, not more than half a length from the berth finally selected by the Charles S. Tappan.

The schooner went on at about 8:30 o'clock, in a thick snow-storm; she was going at a good jog, the wind being east-northeast and the schooner steering north, and carrying a double-reefed mainsail, and jib with the bonnet off; when she struck, the forecastle stove, which was well cleated down, was torn from its fastenings and thrown forward of the foremast, and the cook, the only man below at the time, was so astonished that he ran on deck with all possible speed. The rote of White island ledge was distinctly heard when the schooner passed the Shoals, and from that point she steered a course due north, which if made good would have taken her far to the eastward of where she struck; and as in the case of the Charles S. Tappan, she must have met a heavy westerly current between White island and Rye beach.

On Wednesday morning at six o'clock the schooner was broadside on to the beach, and had lost her forefoot, but was making no water.

At the time she went ashore the schooner had on board a fare of 5000 lbs. of fish, the whole of which was saved on Wednesday.

AROUND HOME.

This morning at eleven o'clock, Col. J. Horace Kent is to address the citizens who may assemble in the building at the corner of North and Dennet streets, upon the grocery question. Though a consistent cold water man, Col. Kent in his capacity of sheriff will ask the audience how much they are prepared to give for the stock of goods, including spirits, and for aught we know water, which he holds under the process of the law. The sheriff's remarks will be brief and to the point, and the result will probably be satisfactory to all save the creditors who bring up the rear.

The trains arriving in this city from the westward were one and a half hours late on Wednesday morning of this week, owing to the heavy fall of snow; there was no delay of the eastern trains.

The fishing arrivals on the 1st inst. were as follows: Schooners Flying Eagle, 2500 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 1200 lbs.; Breeze, 3200 lbs.; Lizzie D. Saunders, 5000 lbs.; Grace Choate, 300 lbs.; Nettie Adams, 1500 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 1000 lbs.; Mary E. Smith, 1000 lbs.; Storm King, 2300 lbs.; Nelson, 700 lbs.; Christie Campbell, 700 lbs.; Northern Star, 650 lbs.; E. A. Williams, 700 lbs.

A gentleman called at the city marshal's office a few days ago and wished to procure a license for his dog, stating that he did not care so much for the dog, but he was informed that the city treasury was empty and he did not like to have the city's credit impaired; and so he replenished it by paying the amount of the license, which he thinks places the city in funds.

The younger of the two Goddard boys who ran away from their home in Dover on Thursday, Jan. 26th, and were found on Market street in this city on the following Sunday morning by Asst. Marshal Cole, is now suffering much from the freezing of one of his feet, the result of sleeping in an unoccupied house in this city on the night of Jan. 28th. All the romance has been eliminated from the notion of running away, so far as the Goddard boys are concerned, by the rough experiences of their first trip.

The committee on street lights are removing the naphtha burners from some of the lanterns, and will have them fitted with kerosene burners.

Mr. Charles Bartlett of Kittery is filling his ice house with ice cut from the pond on Seavey's island.

John Downes, the Boston & Maine railroad employe who was so severely injured in the bridge accident at Wells, and who at first was supposed to be beyond hope, has so far recovered that on Jan. 30th he was removed from Kennebunk to his home in Great Falls, N. H., on a special train, being carried from the station in Great Falls to his house in a chair. It is said the physicians anticipate his permanent and entire recovery.

Yes, Sir, I'd Shoot Him.

Six or eight congenial spirits sat around a stove in a Grand River, Mich., grocery the other night, and after several other subjects had been exhausted, some one introduced that of panics in churches, theatres and halls. This gave Mr. Hopewell a chance to remark:

"Gentlemen, I just long to be there."

"Where?"

"Why, in one of those panics. Yes, sir, I'd give a new twenty dollar bill to be in the theatre one night when there was an occasion for a panic."

"Why?"

"Why, because one cool, level headed man could stop the thing as easily as you could end up that barrel of flour."

"Well, I dunno about that," observed one of the sitters. "There is something awful in the cry of fire, and hear it where and when you may it startles and frightens. What would you do in a theatre in case there was a cry of fire and a rush?"

"I'd stand upon my seat, pull a revolver from my pocket, and shout out that I'd shoot the first man who attempted to crowd or rush. One cool man would check the panic in ten seconds."

While the subject was being continued, the grocer withdrew to the rear end of the store, poured a little powder on a board, and gave three or four men the wink. Directly there was a bright flash, yells of "fire!" and "powder!" and every man sprang up and rushed. Hopewell didn't spring up and talk of shooting. On the contrary, he fell over a lot of baskets piled between him and the door, got up to plow his way back of browers, and when he reached the sidewalk he was on all-fours, white as a ghost, and so frightened that he never locked back until he reached the opposite side of the street.

—Man wants but little here below, and he gets it.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dinnerpail of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 13th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone! hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cure). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policyholders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet crossed eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent,—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—so—assessable. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. THE CAVALRY BANQUET.

The American ensign proudly waved from the flagstaff on the old arsenal on South street, Wednesday of this week, in honor of the festivities which were to take place in the evening, when the Portsmouth Cavalry dedicated their new armory.

The cavalry will occupy the second story of the building. The room has been plastered, and cases for accoutrements, racks for saddles, and other conveniences, have been fitted therein.

The committee to arrange for the dedicatory services was as follows: Capt. E. D. Coffin, 1st Lieut. R. Hamilton Perkins, 2d Lieut. John S. Perry, Sergeant Freeman H. Marden, Corporal D. M. Lenigan, and privates H. F. Clark and H. W. Nowell. Mr. James W. Goodwin, of the Kearsarge house, was the caterer, and admirably performed his duties.

In the evening the members of the company, with ladies and invited guests, sat down to the dedicatory supper, three long tables being filled. Capt. Coffin presided; Lieut. R. H. Perkins served in the most acceptable manner as toast-master, and after the proper discussion of the edibles proceeded to read the regular toasts and call for responses from the gentlemen present, as follows:

Our National Guard." In ancient Sparta, the pride of the nation was her soldiery; cruel, resolute, rude and narrow-minded warriors though they were. In these days of higher civilization New Hampshire may well take pride in her soldiery, her part of the National Guard, representing as it does, a capacity for the appreciation and adoption of wise and noble policies in the interests of the state and country.

Letter from Adjt. Gen. A. D. Ayling read.

"The President of the United States." A man who has shown himself wise in council, eloquent in speech and brave upon the field of battle. May he, in the trying circumstances of his position, be so imbued with the divine principles of justice, as to make the good of his country his supreme and only law of action.

Response by Hon. Emmons B. Philbrick.

"The State of New Hampshire." Throned among the hills, adorned with sparkling waterfalls and crystal lakes, she is the very "Switzerland of America." Her educational institutions are among the first in the land, her statesmen are among the wisest and most distinguished that have graced our legislative halls, and her soldiers have fought generously and won laurels on every battlefield from Monterey to Quebec.

Response by Hon. John S. Treat.

"The city of Portsmouth." The place where civilization began in New Hampshire; the place where it still exists in highest development; the spot near and dear to many of us by ties of birth and association; the foster-mother of our nativity and adoption,—we cherish her interests, social, educational, civil and military.

Response by Col. Wm. H. Sise, mayor of the city.

"To the memory of our martyred Soldier President." Wreathed around with national gems, which his own energy procured, and which only a labor-loving life could yield, stands firm and encircled 'mid the hearts of a loving, loyal people, the name of James A. Garfield. With the names of Washington and Lincoln let it stand, as the greatest and most honored in our land.

Response by Chas. W. Gardner.

"The Regular Army." The bulwark of our free institutions and popular government. It advances the prosperity and general welfare of our country, by insuring domestic security and maintaining friendly and honorable relations with the nations of the earth.

Letter from Ins. Gen. Elbert Wheeler read.

"Our War Veterans." They fought for equal rights and liberty for all; to make government by and for the people possible. To the glory of their achievements we stand indebted; and no mean ambition or envy shall ever tempt us to sully the nobleness of their characters. We honor, and revere them.

Response by Lieut. Col. Geo. E. Hodgdon.

"The Roxbury Horse Guard." One of the finest organizations of our sister city; its officers and rank and file, composed of gentlemen of social standing, and true soldierly culture. Massachusetts, and its gallant commander, may well be proud of its efficiency.

Letter from Capt. Charles A. Young read.

"The Press." "The lever that moves the world," wielding a more potent influence than that exerted by the pulpit or the rostrum, its power for good or evil is unlimited. On all sides of human life it molds opinions like plastic wax, and shapes, with subtle touches, convictions which ought to spring only from the dicta of an inflexible logic.

Response by Col. William H. Hackett.

"The Old Flag." The stars and stripes,—the national emblem, to which the loyal heart most joyfully responds,—the pride and ornament of the nation. Its appeals ever call forth the prompt and full echo of a people's devotion, who guard its folds from treason's rent and murder's stain.

Response by Ex-Sergt. W. A. Payson, of the Heavy Artillery.

"The Fallen Heroes." They sleep on the hillsides and in the valleys; many of them in unknown graves, scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf; but a grateful people will keep ever fragrant their memories, for by their devotion and sacrifice they preserved to us our glorious "constellation of states with not a single star erased."

Response by Col. D. J. Vaughan.

"Storer Post, G. A. R." Response by Commander M. M. Collis.

"The Ladies." Response by Walter H. Page, Esq., of the Times.

"Marine Improvements." Response by Maj. David Urch.

"Our Invited Guests." Response by Willis I. Dodge, Esq., of the Manchester Union.

"Portsmouth Cavalry, Co. B, N. H. N. G." May it live long, be prosperous and harmonious, ever meeting the requirements of the militia law and the demands of the commander-in-chief, and take by merit a not unimportant rank among the military organizations of our state.

Response by Capt. Edw. D. Coffin.

"Our Honorary Members." The veterans of our organization; incapacitated for the active duties of the field, but ever ready for gastronomic contests and post-prandial exercises, may they long continue to cheer us by their presence.

Letter from Col. J. Horace Kent read.

"The school of the Soldier." Response by Capt. Frank Williams.

"The City Guards." Response by Capt. James E. Ford, commanding Co. C, N. H. N. G.

"The early history of the Portsmouth Cavalry." Response by Capt. E. G. Peirce, Jr., late commanding the cavalry, was expected, but Capt. Peirce was not able to be present.

"Our Caterer." He has no unimportant duty to perform on an occasion like this; for it is often to the gratified sensations of a tickled palate that we are indebted for the brightest, keenest sallies of wit and intellect.

Response by Private H. W. Nowell, of the cavalry.

Harlow's orchestra furnished appropriate selections of music during the evening, and the exercises were kept up until a late hour.

THE MILL-POND NUISANCE.

Mr. Editor: As it appears that the city authorities have no definite theory for the abatement of the nuisance at the north mill-pond, I take the liberty of proposing a plan suggested by a gentleman long residing near the Creek, which it would seem might be effectual in removing in great part at least the offensive matter accumulated in the pond. He suggests that during or after heavy rains in the spring or fall, when a large supply of water overflows the dam above the Eldredge Brewing company's works, the tide gates should be opened, and when the tide is out, the water from above the dam be let into the pond. This large quantity of water washing through the basin of the pond would cut for itself a channel, and carry beyond the gates much of the foul matter in the pond. Probably an arrangement for the purpose could be made with the owners of the dam, who also own much of the property most exposed to the nuisance. It would seem that a number of such applications might result in considerable good. The plan has the merit of cheapness, which is a very important one in this community at the present time, when the taxes are already very onerous, especially to a large class of middle-interest people. Oftentimes simple measures are as effectual as large and costly schemes. I recommend the plan to the consideration of the city fathers. H.

THE B. & M. R. R. DISASTER.

The jury of inquest into the cause of the bridge accident at Wells, on the Boston & Maine railroad, Jan. 2d, find that the iron of which the bridge was composed was of a quality too inferior for a structure of that style. They express no opinion as to whether the crystallization discovered by the tests was present in the iron when the bridge was built, or was caused by subsequent usage. They further find that the breaking of the bridge was either by the weight of the engine attached to the wrecked train and the concussion produced by the speed of the same, or by the shock caused by the baggage car being possibly derailed and running on the sleepers, but the latter is questioned by part of the jury. They think, however, that the bridge should have been sufficiently strong to have withstood either or both causes. As the corporation have used all usual deligence in the inspection and care of the bridge, the jury find no occasion for censure in that respect. They are of the opinion that an "askew" bridge, such as this one was, is weaker than and cannot last as long as a bridge built at right angles; and they finally suggest that the right to deflect such a roadway might the more fitly be determined by the railroad commissioners than by county or municipal officers, and that a change in the laws to this effect is desirable.

The widow of Rev. Dr. Elbridge G. Brooks, the eminent Universalist preacher and author, late of Philadelphia and a native of this city, died in Dover Jan. 31st. Rev. Dr. A. J. Patterson, of Boston Highlands, will attend the funeral at Dover to-day.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

New Hampshire Items.

The postmaster at Exeter tells the postmaster at Dover: "Don't allow any more letters to come from the house of the late T. L. Tibbetts. I am positive that letters have been sent from that house to parties in this town." Mr. Tibbetts was the man who recently died with what has since been pronounced small-pox.

The Nashua Iron & Steel Co. are building a steam hammer to weigh four tons, to be used in their own works. This company sent recently to San Francisco a steel shaft weighing eight tons.

A sick child at the house of William Tibbetts, of Dover, was on the 31st ult. supposed to have varioloid.

Gen. S. C. Griffin, of Keene, has gone to Texas to have charge of the construction of the Austin & Southeastern railroad.

Mrs. Ruth Hartford, who has been very ill at Rochester with varioloid, is recovering. Her son, Frank Hartford, who is employed in Cloutman's shoe factory at Farmington, visited his mother when she was first taken sick, and the Farmington town authorities have sent him and his family out of town, to a point where they will be taken care of until all danger is past.

Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote a letter from her winter home in Mandarin, Fla., to the meeting of the Humane Society in Hartford, Conn., recently. In it she says: "With all my heart I sympathize with the object for which your annual meeting is held, and were it possible I should not fail to be present. To my mind the care of the defenceless animal creation is to be an evidence of the complete triumph of Christianity. The Bible says in the first part of Genesis that the Creator gave to man dominion over the animal kingdom, but Jesus Christ declared the truth that dominion implies the obligation of service, care and protection. This truth is being now felt in modern society in relation to the obligations of kings and rulers among men, but the spirit of it extends equally to the supremacy of man over the animals."

The Baltimore city council have accepted Mr. Enoch Pratt's gift of $1,058,000 to the city for a free library, according to the terms proposed by him, and the work will now go right on.

Thomas Gamble, an inmate of the naval asylum at Philadelphia, has been committed on a charge of defrauding the government by presenting bogus claims for a pension on account of services in the Mexican war. About $15,000 of such claims have been paid by the department. Joseph Ward, one of Gamble's confederates, has been held as a witness.

By contracting a severe cough and cold, I was compelled to give up my daily work and keep to the house. A neighbor recommended me to try a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; it was procured and used; to my astonishment relief was instantaneous. EDW. W. CLAYTON.
Waverly, Md.

—"Boy, I'll teach you to tear your pants," said an irate parent, swinging a strap; "I'll teach you." "Don't bit me, pa; I know how already. Just look at 'em."

MESSRS. H. O. RYERSON & CO., Druggists, Newton, N. J.: I am satisfied after a thorough trial of Ely's Cream Balm, for catarrh, hay fever, etc., that it does all that is claimed for it. By its use I have overcome a disagreeable discharge from my nostrils and am free from pain in my eyes and head. JOHN W. LANE, Hardware Merchant, Newton, N. J. Oct. 18th, 1880.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.: For the past three winters I have been afflicted with catarrh and cold in the head. I applied several remedies without good results. Last winter I used your Cream Balm and found it to accomplish all you represented. T. F. MCCORMICK (Judge Common Pleas,) Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 25th, 1880. See Adv't.
Price fifty cents.

—It takes but thirteen minutes to load an elephant on a railroad train, while it takes twice as long for any sort of a woman to kiss her friends good bye and lose the check for her trunk.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

—An Illinois deacon, while visiting in Philadelphia, was asked if he had purchased any Christmas cards, and replied with some surprise: "Why should I? My old pack is good enough."

One voice all over the land goes up from mothers, that says, "My daughters are so feeble and sad, with no strength, all out of bre th and life at the least exertion. What can we do for them?" The answer is simple and full of hope. One to four weeks use of Hop Bitters will make them healthy, rosy, sprightly, and cheerful.

—What is wanted in these days is not so much the elevation of the stage, as the enlargement of the means of exit from the auditorium.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in affecting a cure.—E. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. E. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—J. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it everything, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTS, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALDON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881.
Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of consumptive persons in advanced stages of the Disease. For Sale by all Druggists.—Price, 25 cents.

German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells, do not send for SULPHUR BITTERS, it will cure you.

Ladies in delicate health, who are all run down, should use SULPHUR BITTERS.

The Giant Dyspepsia is cured by using SULPHUR BITTERS.

$1,000 will be paid for a case where SULPHUR BITTERS will not assist or cure. It never fails.

Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops; Clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not then be weak and sickly.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities burst, forcing through the skin in Pimples, Blotches, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.

General Debility needs a gentle tonic. Use SULPHUR BITTERS, and you will not be troubled.

SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint. Don't be discouraged; it will cure you.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

SULLIVAN'S RAID.

'Twas a century ago or more,
When British scorn and hate
Had kindled a fire in colonist hearts
Lasting and strong as fate,
That a patriot band from Durham town,
John Sullivan at their head,
Stilled down the river one wintry night,
On a daring errand led.

But they heeded not the night or cold,
Their leader was bold and brave,
And only that day had the rumor come
That, sailing over the wave,
Were British troops two thousand strong
To reinforce the Fort—
Fort William and Mary, just below
The only shipping port

In New Hampshire Province—old Portsmouth town,
Where Piscataqua flows free,
Where the Royal Governor Wentworth
Built his mansion by the sea.
It was Paul Revere who brought the news,
Who four months later on
Bore a midnight message to waiting hearts
At Concord and Lexington.

From Boston town he had ridden fast
To New Hampshire towns and farms,
Warning the people that regulars
Were seizing powder and arms—
For the King in Council had declared
That no supplies of war,
Henceforth, should be sent the colonies
Under penalty of law.

John Sullivan was a patriot true—
A lawyer at Durham town,
And his brave heart throbbed with burning ire
At the insults of the crown.
At the Continental Congress too,
Assembled months before,
He had urged the people with voice and pen,
To throw off the yoke they bore,

While for months he had drilled a company
Of sturdy minute men,
For he felt that a struggle fierce and long
Was approaching even then.
So when Paul Revere with his weighty news
Came riding into town,
John Sullivan said within himself,
"This night I will go down

To the harbor fort with a trusty few,
And take them by surprise,
For we have arms and powder too,
In spite of their leaders wise."
And round the old church on Durham hill
Were gathered that bitter night
A band of men as brave and true
As e'er battled for the right.

For Adams and Thompson—honored names—
Appear on that ancient roll,
With Davis, Demerritt and others there,
Noble, and great of soul,
Brave Alex. Scamell, who grandly fought
Till the war was almost past,
When he crimsoned with heroic blood
Old Yorktown's soil at last.

To the river just beneath the hill
They quietly took their way,
Where safely anchored upon the stream,
Their heavy gondola lay:
They had strong, lithe hands and willing hearts,
And soon they were away,
Down Oyster River they sailed along, and
Out upon the Bay.

'Tis a moonlight night but bleak and cold,
As over the waters wide
Past Dover Point, by Newington shore,
Down Piscataqua they glide,
Till soon the banks of old Eliot
And York are plainly seen,
So cold and drear in the wintry blast,
In summer with verdure green.

Now they are nearing old Strawberry Bank;
In the moonlight white and clear
The chimneys and quaint old gambrel roofs,
Of the ancient port appear.
'Tis here that John Langdon joins the band—
A patriot of renown—
And down the harbor their bark is turned,
Behind them the quiet town.

And now shall be seen, if patriot hearts
Are formed of metal true,
For the fort looms up before their eyes,
And there's stirring work to do.
They cannot bring their boat to the shore,
So shallow the water there,
So in they wade, while the waters freeze
To the garments that they wear.

From the fortress not a sound is heard,
The men have gained the shore,
They will safely reach and scale the walls
In but a moment more,
When lo! one deafening, thundering roar
Bellows from overhead:
'Tis too late to save the garrison,
Not a man is harmed nor dead.

But on, and up, and against the walls
They rush with frantic might,
They have bound the guards, they're in the fort,
Like maddened beasts they fight!
A moment more and the brave assault
With victory is crowned,
For Capt. Cochran and all his men
Are overpowered and bound.

Then from eager throats three loud huzzas
Out on the crisp air ring,
As down from its lofty heights they haul
The colors of the King!
"Now men, to your work," their leader cries,
And in an hour or more
A hundred casks of powder lay
In their goodoin by the shore.

With fifteen cannon, and small arms too,
For a royal prize they won—
Those patriot men, who fought so well
In the war that night begun.
Then back to Durham the dauntless crew
Their heavy vessel rowed,
And under the pulpit of the church
Their precious cargo stowed.

'Twas a valiant deed, the first strong blow
Toward the war that raged next year,
With its watch word "Liberty or Death,"
To every patriot dear;
And the powder taken from that fort
By Sullivan and his band,
When the first sharp conflicts of the war
Were stirring all the land

Was carried seventy miles or more
To our troops at Bunker Hill—
And just in time, for by its aid
They fought with such stern will
That New Hampshire shall ever thrill with pride
At the record of that day,
Of her gallant sons with "Stark's Brigade"
In the thickest of the fray.

And the troops of "old England" saw that day
How a loyal people fight,
Who with hearts and hands units as one,
For Liberty and right,
Tho' it might have been defeat and rout
For the patriot forces then
Had it not been for the midnight raid
Of Sullivan and his men.

"The Fortunate Island" and other stories; by Max Adeler, author of "Out of the Hurly Burly" and other books. Boston; Lee & Shepard.

These five stories are full of wit and keen sarcasm. They expose shams and humbugs. Especially noticeable in this respect is "The City of Burlesque," which shows up some of the prevailing traits of New York justice; while Major Dunwoody's Leg expoes the wicked jobbery of Congressional stealing at Washington. If, as the author suggests, these stories are not so amusing as others from his pen, they will be found quite as entertaining, and we agree with him that they are decidedly instructive. Sold by M. Goodrich; price $1.00.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

Henry Wright, freight conductor on the Province & Worcester railroad, has been arrested on a charge of robbing freight cars. He denies the charge.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

State Senator R. C. Fishburne was arrested and placed in jail at Columbia, S. C., Tuesday night, Jan. 31st, for threatening to shoot Senator A. T. Smyth for words spoken in debate.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Near Danville, Va., on the evening of Jan. 31st, during an affray between the King and Slate families, "Old Mother Slate" and Mrs. King, and George Slate and Thomas King, sons of the women, were all fatally wounded. Pistols and knives were freely used.

For aged men, women, weak and sickly children, without a rival. Will not cause headache. Brown's Iron Bitters.

Mrs. Catharine Branch died in Boston on the 1st inst., at the age of 111 years.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self-cure, which he will send free to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

book & wly.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

In Boston, Feb. 1st, Mrs. Sophie Thompson, aged sixty-two years, was arrested for causing the death of Georgianna Bixby of Salem, by an illegal operation performed or the 14th of January, the girl dying on the 23d. Mrs Thompson was released on $10,000 bail.

He Suffered for 35 Years.

GUILFORD, CT., May 15th, 1868.

For thirty-five years I have been the victim of that terrible disease, dyspepsia; have consulted eminent physicians, and tried almost every remedy. My family physician finally told me I could not be cured. The first dose of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure helped me, and, to-day, I consider myself cured, and am ready to affirm that it is the most valuable medicine ever placed before the public.

G. H. RICHARDSON.

PADUCAH, KY., May 10th, 1867.

During a confinement of eleven months in Libby prison, I was attacked with dyspepsia in its worst form. For two years I have suffered with it. I tried doctors a great many times without relief. This spring I became so debilitated as to be unable to walk one square. After taking two doses of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure I ate of everything on the table, felt no distress afterward, and have an excellent appetite.

When undertaking a long journey, we advise you to take along a good supply of St. Jacobs Oil in case of an attack of acute rheumatism or other painful ailments. In this connection the St. Louis Post-Dispatch relates the following: Under the title of "old probabilities" one of the most useful and valuable officers of the United States government is most widely known. But quite as well known is Prof. J. H. Tice, the meteorologist of the Mississippi valley, whose contributions to his favorite study have given him an almost national reputation. On a recent lecture tour through the northwest, the professor had a narrow escape from the serious consequences of a sudden and very dangerous illness, the particulars of which he thus refers to: "The day after concluding my course of lectures at Burlington, Iowa, on the 21st of December last, was seized with a sudden attack of neuralgia in the chest, giving me excruciating pain and almost prevented breathing. My pulse, usually 80, fell to 35; intense nausea of the stomach succeeded, and a cold, clammy sweat covered my entire body. The attending physician could do nothing to relieve me. After suffering for three hours I thought—as I been using St. Jacobs Oil with good effect for rheumatic pains—I would try it. I saturated a piece of flannel large enough to cover my chest, with the Oil, and applied it. The relief was almost instantaneous. In one hour I was entirely free from pain, and would have taken the train to fill an appointment in a neighboring town had my friends not dissuaded me. As it was, I took the night train for my home, in St. Louis, and have not been troubled since."

Guiteau's Post Mortem Travels.

Mrs. Scoville denies emphatically that she has given her consent to arrangement looking to the exhibition of Guiteau's body after death. She characterizes the proposition as monstrous.

If Mr. Scoville received such a proposition as is alleged from a Philadelphia firm of meat-freezers, and did not return an answer expressing the scorn and indignation such a proposition would arouse in the breast of a decent man, then Scoville is only less contemptible than his precious brother-in-law, and is about on a par with the persons who attended Guiteau's "reception" on New Year's day, or who would countenance the exhibition of the assassin's carcass by visiting the disgusting show.

Mr. Reed, associate counsel with Scoville for the defense, says in reference to this matter: "The proposition is indecent inhuman, outrageous, monstrous, and any such attempt to exhibit the dead body of Guiteau would be pronounced by a grand jury anywhere as contrary to good morals, and a public nuisance." Mr. Reed's indignation was so great that he could scarcely control himself to speak, and he did not hesitate to denounce Scoville in most unmeasured terms. Mr. Reed seems to be of the opinion, however, upon examination of the law, that the court would be compelled to surrender the body to the relatives. He is also of the opinion that the body could never be exhibited in an American city, for if the courts did not prevent it, other means undoubtedly would be found to protect the community from such an assault upon its sensibility.

A despatch of the 2d inst., from Washington, says: "John W. Guiteau condemns the proposed exhibition of his brother's body after death, and says he would rather assume the debts of his brother than use the proceeds of so repulsive and pernicious an exhibition."

Æsthetic Students.

On Tuesday evening of this week, when Oscar Wilde lectured in Music hall, Boston, to an immense audience, sixty Harvard students, who had secured the front two rows of seats, created a sensation by arriving just as the lecture was about to commence, and filing down the aisle in pairs, arrayed in all the "æsthetics" that ingenuity could devise, and presenting a most comical picture. There were blonde wigs and black wigs, wide-floating neck-ties of every hue and fashion, vestures of susceptible youths and of strong-minded females, beards and moustaches of startling dyes, knee-breeches and black stockings of "ye olden times," and in every hand the "precious loveliness" of the lily or the "gaudy leonine" glare of the sunflower. As the gracious youths entered they assumed all sorts of poses, and held aloft or looked languishingly down on the circling yellow petals of the flower that "turns on her god when he sets." Peal after peal of laughter and applause shook the floor and galleries. The scene at this time was stimulating in a rare degree, as every man, woman and child of the throng arose to catch a glimpse of Oscar Wilde's remarkable disciples. They behaved, however, throughout the evening as gentlemen.

Mr. Wilde turned the tables on his good-humored satirists, by appearing in ordinary evening dress, instead of his usual knee breeches and velvet coat. The fact is, as is alleged, that he was just about to step on the stage in his usual stage rig, when the Harvard boys entered; and he delayed commencing his lecture long enough to enable him to change his attire.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles Bell of West Swansey, while digging around a cherry tree in his yard a short time since, brought to light a badly rusted hatchet, which bore on one side the initial letters "G. W.," and on the other side the figures 1741. No doubt the original hatchet with which the father of his country pruned the historic cherry tree.

The fact that the widow of Ezekiel Webster, brother of the "God-like Daniel," is still living at Concord, at an advanced age, appears to have been lost sight of during the recent centennial observances. Ezekiel was almost an exact counterpart of his illustrious brother, and was regarded as the abler young man of the two. He fell dead while arguing a case before a jury in court at Concord in 1828.

The will of the late Edwin W. Stoughton, the well known lawyer and late United States minister to Russia, has been offered for probate. He leaves the bulk of his estate to his wife and makes a few bequests to relatives. He leaves to the trustees of the medical school connected with Dartmouth college, $2,000 to complete a collection in the pathological museum founded by him.

The Universalist society of Marlborough cleared at a recent levee and ball nearly $240.

The White Mountain Freezer Company of Nashua on Jan. 24th shipped 200 dozen freezers to Denver, Colorado.

P. J. Noyes of Lancaster has a machine that can turn out 50,000 pills in a day as easily as an old machine could make 5000.

The musical convention at Littleton was a financial success, $228.18 being realized; the association had previously $745.56 in the bank.

Mrs. Judith Twombly died in Lowell, Mass., Jan. 25th, at the age of 102 years, 10 months, and 20 days. She was the daughter of Nicholas Brown, and was born in Strafford, N. H., March 5th, 1779. At the age of twenty-two she married Anthony Twombly, who was a wheelwright and farmer. They had four sons and four daughters. Two of the latter still survive. One son was lost at sea; the oldest died in 1875, aged seventy-five years. Her husband died about thirty-seven years ago. Forty-six years ago she removed from her side with a razor a cancer that weighed two pounds and nine ounces. The wound extended to the bone, which has been bare ever since. This is one of the most surprising surgical operations on record. Since leaving Strafford, Mrs. Twombly has lived with Mrs. James Stackpole, a married daughter, at Manchester and Dover, N. H., and Salisbury, Chelmsford and Lowell, Mass. Her descendants are quite numerous. Her centennial birthday in 1879 was celebrated with considerable demonstration. Until very recently she has retained most of her faculties in good condition. The body was taken to Strafford for interment.

The damage by wind to the fair grounds building, at Rochester, foots up $1,500 to $2,000.

The Washington Republican has been sold to New York politicians, with George P. Bliss at their head, and it will hereafter be an administration organ.

Hiram Miller, father of United States Senator Warner Miller, of New York, was killed on a street crossing at his home in Herkimer, N. Y., by a train on the Central railroad, Jan. 31st.

A Curious Consultation.

When the railroad was opened for travel between Baltimore and Washington, I saw Mr. Webster frequently; but it was not until we were both employed in the important case of Wilson vs. Rousseau, in the Supreme court, that I was again brought into professional relations with him. Our client, Mr. James G. Wilson, had seven counsel—Mr. Webster, William H. Seward, Mr. Reverdy Johnson, Mr. Phelps, of Vermont, Mr. Henderson, of Louisiana, Mr. Hall, of Washington, and myself. The court had consented to our dividing the points—two speaking to each. But the difficulty was to get us all together for consultation. At last, in despair of succeeding otherwise, Mr. Wilson invited us to a supper at the National hotel, at nine o'clock, with the understanding that a consultation would take place at eight. It was not until half-past eight, however, that Mr. Webster called us to order, stated the object of the meeting, and complimented our host for his excellent judgment as displayed in the means adopted for securing the attendance of his professional advisers. Turning then to Mr. Seward, he said, "And now, Brother Seward, you will begin with reading the record." Records in those days were not printed, as now, but were engrossed on folio cap paper, and in this particular case the record was a very heavy pile of manuscript, which Mr. Seward rested on his lap, and which would have taken several hours to read, while there remained not more than twenty minutes before supper would be ready. Mr. Seward, however, began with the formal reading, and going on was interrupted by a burst of laughter, which was not quieted by the grave judicial manner in which Mr. Wilson called for order, and requested "Brother Seward" to proceed. By this time Mr. Seward, who had as yet preserved his countenance, joined in the mirth; when Mr. Webster, shrugging his shoulders and turning to our client, said, "You see how it is, Mr. Wilson; there seems to be no alternative but begin with supper. Do you think it is ready? Perhaps we may get on better with the record afterward;" and to supper in an adjoining room Mr. Wilson and his counsel marched, with Mr. Webster at the head of the procession.

There was more than one good talker at the table, and for a while the conversation was general. It was not long, however, before we were all listening to Mr. Webster.

"Conticere omnes, intentique ora tenebant."

He was "i' the vein," and the hours flew by unheeded as there streamed from him, in rapid succession, anecdotes, quotations, and reminiscences of his boyhood, incidents in his early practice, descriptions of the men who then figured upon the scene, graphic accounts of old familiar places. He was sometimes grave, solemn even; sometimes pathetic; sometimes, and by no means unfrequently, quaint, droll, and humorous; sometimes setting the table in a roar; and then moving his hearers almost to tears. Sure of his company, he was under no restraint, and seemed disposed to let his animal spirits run away with him, to forget the eminent lawyer and the great statesman, to roll off the sixty-five years that then weighed upon him, and be a boy again. I believe I am the sole survivor of that merry party thirty-three years ago; and many as have been the social gatherings at which in my own and other lands I have been present, I have no such experience as that afforded by the attempt at a consultation in the case of Wilson vs. Rousseau, in the year 1846.

I ought to add that, somehow or other, when the argument came on, we fell into our proper places, and that Mr. Wilson gained his case.—Harper's Magazine for February.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a mass of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. My friends pitiously prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2500 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 2000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00.—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Feb. 2; Batchelder J.

Michael Owen, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90.

The dedicatory supper of the Portsmouth Cavalry on Wednesday evening was an entertainment that reflected much credit upon the members of that company both for the elegant manner in which every detail was carried out and for the excellent taste displayed in the sentiments prepared for the occasion. Had the speeches been equal to the toasts given, the literary quality of the feast would have been greatly enhanced. Nevertheless, the evening was pleasantly passed, and the gentlemenly members of the Cavalry have reason to feel proud of their hospitality, and their fine appearance on this as well as upon numerous former occasions.

There was a ball in the south ward-room on Wednesday evening, the 1st inst., given by a number of our colored citizens, under the management of Mr. James Adams, late of Washington, D. C., to commemorate the emancipation proclamation of President Lincoln. Turner's quadrille band furnished the music, and the attendance was large, there being numerous white visitors. Miss Eliza Giles was by many regarded as the belle of the ball.

A score or more of teams of all descriptions are busy hauling ice from the pond on the Banfield road to Jones' ice houses at the brewery. Many hundreds of tons of ice are required to supply the demand of this brewing establishment. After the brewery ice houses are filled, the pond, which will have been nearly all cut over, must be re-frozen, and a supply obtained for the summer business of Mr. George Perkins, the lessee of the pond.

A variety entertainment in Franklin theatre, by local talent, is reported as likely to be given in a short time.

There will be gospel meetings at Bow Mission hall on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings, commencing at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

William Brennan and Daniel Clark have commenced buying fish, using the wharf in the rear of Howard Russell's store on Water street.

The schooner Water Spirit, ashore on the rocks at Rye, was on Thursday reported to have a hole stove in her port side, and some of her planking knocked off. She had been stripped of everything movable. No attempt could be made to float her that day.

Mark H. Wentworth, Esq., who owns one of the finest farms in the state, advertises in the GAZETTE for a tenant to take charge April 1st. As the farm is but two miles from the business centre of Portsmouth, and has an excellent milk route easily reached, there seems to be a good opportunity for the right kind of a man to obtain a remunerative situation, and one where there will be far better results than can be obtained by "going west."

The "A B C Pathfinder Railway Guide" for February is promptly issued on time. Everyone who travels to any considerable extent, can be reliably certain as to all the time upon railway trains, and means of connection, by consulting the latest number of this indespensible monthly pamphlet. Price twenty-five cents; published by the New England Publishing Co., of Boston.

The centre-board sloop yacht "Magic," owned by Commodore E. C. Neal, of the Lynn yacht club, is in winter quarters at Kennebunk, and is being largely rebuilt, by having the sides hipped out six inches each, giving her one foot more beam. The rudder post will be carried aft fourteen inches, and a long overhanging stern will take the place of the present "V" stern. She will have an entire new suit of racing sails, much larger than the present ones. It is the owner's intention to challenge the Scotch cutter Madge, at an early day. The Magic has already won an envible reputation for speed.

Fire broke out in Methodist church at Alfred on the morning of the 1st inst., at eight o'clock. It took from the furnace, and was burning all night. It burned through both floors, and was only put out after great effort. Damage about $1,200; fully insured.

What Coffee Will Do.

According to Dr. Bock, of Leipsic, coffee and tea are the chief causes of the nervousness and peevishness of our time.

Dr. Henry Segur takes the opposite ground, and enumerates the blessings which the infusion can produce.

It is a mental and bodily aid, assisting to convert the blood into nervous tissue and thus recruit the nervous moving and thinking faculties.

It lessens the waste of tissue, and thus lessens the amount of food necessary to support the system.

It will often cut short and cure attacks of intermittent fever.

In typhus fever it increases the excretion of urea, and so far purifies the blood without increasing tissue metamorphosis.

It tends to lessen coma and low delirium. It is Dr. Segur's chief reliance in yellow fever.

It is useful in spasmodic asthma, whooping-cough, and hysteric dropsy. In opium-poisoning its efficacy is well-known.

After a heavy meal it relieves the sense of oppression and helps digestion.

It is a disinfectant and deodorizer.

Habitual coffee-drinkers generally enjoy good health, and live to a good old age.—Boston Medical and Surgical Journal.

Esquimaux Music.

The phonograph is going to be utilized; there is comfort in that fact. It has long been known that the Esquimaux have a peculiar music of their own, but as no musician has ever formed one of an arctic exploring expedition its beauties and possibilities remain a mystery. But now an ingenious official has sent for a phonograph to St. Michael's, the northernmost British settlement in America, and intends to circulate it among the natives of the icy region and induce them to sing their sweetest songs. Then the instrument will be removed to the warmer clime of musical culture, that it may entertain the lovers of melody.

—We always enjoy greenback meetings, when the meeting happens to occur between a greenback and ourself.

—There are about one thousand secret liquor saloons in Maine, but it is said that they do not sell an average of two dollars' worth of liquor annually, to an inhabitant. A friend who has travelled in the Dirigo state, thinks that two dollars' worth of such liquor as they sell in Maine ought to be sufficient to keep an entire township intoxicated for a month.

—The promoter of the lottery in Montreal is a Rev. Mr. Lavelle. This lottery has a capital of $1,000,000, and has received the approval of the local government, which is to be congratulated upon its selection of a clergyman to run its lottery. After many years' experience in engineering church fairs, the Rev. Mr. Lavelle cannot fail of achieving a distinguished success in the administration of this less complicated government lottery.

—"The simple utterance of joy is poetry," says Oscar Wilde. Indeed! Then the man who yells: "Whoopee! Good enough!" spouts poetry.

—A woman caused a commotion at Wadena, Minn., by wildly chasing a big dog and crying "Stop him! he has swallowed a $20 bill." An obliging butcher promptly caught the beast after a hard struggle, and killed him, and then the woman discovered that she had made a mistake. The money was in her pocket. But it didn't do the dog any good. He might just as well have been guilty of swallowing it.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. cod&wtjan82

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault--Dr, David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

Candlemas.

Candlemas, observed on February 2d, is chiefly known by the people of New England by the proverb "Candlemas day takes half your wood and half your hay." The spring comes so late, and there is so little of it, that the proverb is not far out of the way in its application, though it is rather late to place the midwinter. The Scotch have another proverb, which is more superstitious. They say "If Candlemas is bright and clear, there'll be two winters in the year," which is just as reliable as that "a green Christmas makes a fat graveyard." The festival was adopted by Pope Surgius as the feast of the Purification of the Virgin Mary, transferring an ancient pagan custom of the Romans, as the church often did. The pagans had the habit of burning candles on this day to the goddess Februa, the mother of Mars, as the new faith could not do away with the old custom, a similar offering of candles was made to the Virgin. It is one of many instances of customs and laws which have come down from Rome to modern Europe, and crossed the Atlantic to modify the civilization of America.

It is stated that Capt. Jarvis Patten, of Bath, Me., has received the consular appointment to Antwerp. The Bath Times says Capt. Patten can speak and write French fluently, and his acquaintance with maritime affairs would enable him to render efficient service to our government and gain him a prestige with the Belgians.

John Thomas, aged seventy years, of Remsen, N. Y., and Burtie Jones, aged twelve, were run over and killed near Remsen by a locomotive, on the 1st inst. Mrs. Jones, the mother of Burtie, was seriously hurt.

Tuesday night, Jan. 31st, was a hard one for vessels in Boston bay, the wind blowing a gale and the snow falling thickly. The brig Grace Lothrop went ashore outside of Point Allerton; the schooner Fannie A. Pike struck on Shag rock, and went to pieces, the crew being rescued by a boat from Boston light; the schooner Nettie Walker went ashore on Toddy rocks, her crew also being saved by the lighthouse men; the schooner Charles M. Lawrence, with 926 tons of coal on board, went on Green island ledge, near the Brewster; and several minor disasters occurred.

At 8:45 o'clock in the evening of the 1st inst., the gasometer of the Citizens' Gas company, at Newark, N. J., exploded, tearing the top of the gasometer and scattering debris about the street. The flames leaped 200 feet into the air, and in an instant the whole city was lit up by the blaze. In a second more the whole northern part of the city was in darkness. No one was injured. Loss $20,000. The explosion left a large portion of the city in the dark.

It is rumored that the Russian government is contemplating the annexation of the Corea.

The restrictions upon the importation of breeding cattle into Canada have been removed.

The coming holidays will be more generally observed than any for many years, and we would remind our readers that a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup will prove a most acceptable holiday present.

B. F Tilton, a prominent odd fellow of Raymond, died Jan. 31st.

Experience taught Me!
And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

The Hudson river railroad company will pay about $140,000 on account of the Spuyten Duyvil disaster.

Have you Ever
Known any person to be seriously ill, without a weak stomach or inactive liver or kidneys? And when these organs are in good condition do you not find their possessor enjoying good health? Parker's Ginger Tonic regulates these important organs, makes the blood rich and pure, and strengthens every part of the system. See other column.

The reduction of the public debt in January amounted to nearly thirteen millions of dollars.

Permit no Substitution.
Insist upon obtaining Floreston Cologne. It is pre-eminently superior in permanence and rich delicacy of fragrance.

Five men and two women are known to have lost their lives by the recent great fire in New York, and seven other persons are missing.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

A telegram from Beloit, Wis., Feb. 2d, reported the serious illness in that city of John B. Gough.

The Nation's Characteristics.
Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—REV. B. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FOSTER, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—ELISHA LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I became using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. GEORGE, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow my food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Cushetoe: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails. Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

No Whiskey!

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whiskey, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaranteed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whiskey and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters:

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881.
Gents:—The foolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and vicious indulgence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

MESSRS. H. O. RYERSON & Co., Druggists, Newton, N. J.: I am satisfied after a thorough trial of Ely's Cream Balm, for catarrh, hay fever, etc., that it does all that is claimed for it. By its use I have overcome a disagreeable discharge from my nostrils and am free from pain in my eyes and head. JOHN W. LANE, Hardware Merchant, Newton, N. J. Oct. 18th, 1880.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.: For the past three winters I have been afflicted with catarrh and cold in the head. I applied several remedies without good results. Last winter I used your Cream Balm and found it to accomplish all you represented. T. F. MCCORMICK (Judge Common Pleas,) Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 25th, 1880. See Adv't. Price fifty cents.

An examination of the body of John Nelson, found dead at Rockport, Mass., on the railroad track, Jan. 31st, proves that he was killed by the train. His left side was stove in, his ribs crushed, a deep wound on his left hip, crushing the hip bone, besides scalp wounds. He must have been killed instantly. He was seen intoxicated at five o'clock, walking on the track. An inquest will be held.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Mrs. Annie Howard was found a few days ago suffering from starvation in a room in the rear of No. 139 Chambers street, Boston, and died Feb. 1st at the Massachusetts general hospital. A relative of hers called at police station three next day, and stated that she must have some property, and asked permission to visit her room. In company with Officer Jones of division three he visited the room, and after a search discovered four bank books showing deposits amounting to $4669. They also found $40 in cash, and a gold watch.

In reply to certain questions by our representative E. L. Loweree, Esq., cashier of the Cincinnati Southern railway, observed: "I was suffering from a severe attack of rheumatism in my right foot; it was in a terrible condition; the pain was almost intolerable; our family physician waited on me without success; I sent for another well-known M. D., but ever the twain could do nothing for me: I could not get down here to the office to attend to my duties; in fact I could not put my foot under me at all, and after nine weeks suffering I began to grow desperate. My friend (whom, of course you know, for he is known by everybody), Mr. Stacey Hill, of the Mount Auburn Inclined Plane Railroad Co., called to see me; he spoke very highly of St. Jacobs Oil, and recommended the remedy to me in glowing terms. I laughed at the idea of using a proprietary medicine, and yet the party recommending it, (Mr. Stacey Hill, remember) being a man of sound judement, set me to thinking the matter over. The next day, when the physicians called, I dismissed them, and said to myself that I would let nature take its course. This resolution lasted just a day. On the following morning I, in a fit of desperation, sent a servant for a bottle of St. Jacobs Oil. I applied that wonderful remedy, and it penetrated me so that I thought my foot was about to fall off, but it did not; in fact it did just the opposite. The next morning the pain had entirely left my foot, the swelling was reduced, and really the appearance was so different altogether from the day before, that it actually surprised me. I applied more of the St. Jacobs Oil, and that afternoon I walked down here to the office, and was able to attend to my duties and get around as well as any one. Let me say for St. Jacobs Oil that it beats railroad time, and is always sure to win.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The schooner Nicola, of Portland, Me., was found bottom up on the beach at Provincetown, Mass., on the morning of the 2d inst. All hands are supposed to have perished.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, &c., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send free to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

One voice all over the land goes up from mothers, that says, "My daughters are so feeble and sad, with no strength, all out of bre th and life at the least exertion. What can we do for them?" The answer is simple and full of hope. One to four weeks use of Hop Bitters will make them healthy, rosy, sprightly, and cheerful.

For aged men, women, weak and sickly children, without a rival. Will not cause headache. Brown's Iron Bitters.

The New Apportionment.

The house committee on congressional apportionment have made a report. They have decided in favor of 320 as the number of representatives in Congress, based on the census of 1880, and have adopted a new plan, known as the Seaton plan. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal says this result was accomplished by the vote of all the republican members of the census committee, aided by that of Fulkerson, Virginia readjuster. It is known also that Wise of Virginia, democratic member of the committee, will support 320 in preference to any smaller number, and the majority of the committee doubt very much whether Mr. Cox will seriously oppose 230, inasmuch as it gives New York state thirty-four members, which is one more than his pet number of 307 allows that state. The committee had two questions to determine: The method by which the ratio should be ascertained, and the number. The method adopted is the plan devised by Mr. Seaton, who succeeded General Walker as superintendent of the census. It is an old idea elaborated by Mr. Seaton, whose theory is that of exact mathematical justice between the states, and he thinks that this can be secured by giving the fractional representatives to those states which have the highest average population in the Congressional district on an even division.

Mr. Cox announces his intention to oppose the bill, and is to be permitted by the committee to offer an amendment, which fixes the number of representatives at 307, on the basis of one representative to every 160,819 inhabitants. The present number of representatives, 293, gives, according to the last census, one to every 168,505. It is not expected that Mr. Cox will have much support from New York, however, as the delegation from his state will hardly agree with him in voting against giving the Empire State an additional member.

Famine in "Egypt."

Gov. Cullom of Illinois is constantly receiving appeals for aid from the inhabitants of the southern part of the state, known as "Egypt." The prospects of a famine this winter in that part of the state were vividly portrayed last fall by State Senator Tanner of Clay county, but were branded at the time as sensational and overdrawn. They are fully realized. The counties suffering most are Crawford, Franklin, Gallatin, Perry, Saline, Union, Wabash and Wayne—all in the southern part of the state. Their condition, as described by the petitions sent to the governor, is terrible. They are almost entirely without food for themselves and stock, which is starving to death. The famine is caused by a total failure of the spring crops.

The Small-pox.

Notwithstanding the fact that every measure has been taken by the city authorities to prevent the spread of small-pox, the disease continues to increase at Waukegan, Ill. Ten cases were reported Thursday and two deaths.

The report from Cincinnati is a bad one, a despatch of the 2d saying: "There were 116 new cases of smallpox, and fourteen deaths, during the past week. There are now 188 cases under treatment."

At Oakley village, near Cincinnati, an old colored woman died of small-pox. The citizens burned her cabin, consuming the property and the dead woman's remains.

At Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 2d, the board of health found two new cases of small-pox, and ordered them to be taken to the pest house. The board fear there will be many more cases. The selectmen have ordered a general vaccination, and all that can be done is being done.

A despatch from North Troy, Vt., dated on the 2d inst., says: "Smallpox is still raging in Holland. Seven death have resulted. Twenty-seven cases are reported. Precautionary measures have been taken to confine it to its present limits."

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Moody Currier, whose generous and judicious gifts made from time to time to the city library at Manchester have done no little towards advancing the character of the books read by the visitors to that library, has recently made another present of valuable books, consisting in part of Neander's Church History, six volumes, and Ante-Nicene Christian Library, twenty-four volumes, etc. The collection contains rare works, and the Manchester people will be able to have for their convenient use a set of books which otherwise would not be found in their city. Mr. Currier combines elements which make him a valuable patron of the library, namely, wealth with liberal discrimination in its use, and a knowledge of books acquired through many years constant companionship with the best works published. It is rare that we see a man of large means with at the same time generous impulses and a sufficient taste in literary concerns to enable him to be himself the judge of the best mode of donations like the Currier presents to the library of Manchester. Such men are of inestimable value to a community.

The net profits of the late French Band fair, at Manchester, were $1,250.

The ice harvest at Jefferson is excellent. The blocks average twenty inches thick.

A new company for the manufacture of gloves and mittens will soon begin operations in Littleton.

Mrs. Sally Tilton of Bristol, one of New Hampshire's centenarians, is reported to be very ill, and it is thought to be doubtful if she will reach her 101st birthday, on the 5th of May next.

Henry E. Parker, formerly engrossing clerk of the New Hampshire legislature, has bought a newspaper at Bradford, Vt.

John Howarth, who was recently attacked with acute mania in the Dover printery, was taken to the asylum for the insane in Concord, where he refused all forms of nourishment until death ensued. He left life insurance to the aggregate of $8,200.

In a wrestling match at Manchester, Feb. 1st, between William W. Montgomery of Fairfield, Vt., and John H. Taylor of Fisherville, N. H., for a purse of $200 and the light-weight championship of America, Taylor won in two straight falls.

Naval Affairs.

The court martial appointed to try Passed Assistant Paymaster S. D. Hurlburt, on a charge of intoxication, has concluded its labors, and the record of the case is now in the hands of the judge advocate general of the navy. The charges were proven, but there is a question as to the responsibility of Paymaster Hurlbut, by reason of his mental weakness.

Lieut. Giles B. Harbor and Master W. H. Scheutze have been detailed by the secretary of the navy to proceed at once to Russia to assist in the search after Lieut. De Long and his party, sailing on the steamship Germanic, Feb. 4th.

A Game of Draw Poker.

A certain man went down from Chicago to Ohio, taking with him a return ticket, lest he fall against a Cincinnati wheat speculator and be robbed of that wherewith he would fain buy flour and gum shoes for his family in the season of cold which cometh upon those who live in Chicago from the tenth to fourth month, and find himself amid sinners and publicans, whose mercy is strained even so fine that it would bother you some to discover it.

And when he had reached Cincinnati he went to an inn and gave to the landlord thereof three pieces of silver; saying: "No monkey business with me, Charlie; I am from Bitter Creek." And he who kept the inn marveled greatly and said unto himself, "These be strange men that come from Chicago; never are they to be bilked by a hote bill, and he who endeavoreth to outwit them is invariably headed off." But nevertheless he bethought himself of a poker game which was that night in the inn, and laughed to himself with exceeding great joy. Then arose the landlord and went unto the place called Bar, where of a certainty he should find the man from Chicago, and approaching him, said:

"There be in this inn, even in the third story thereof, a small party of prominent citizens which do play at the game called poker. Perchance thou night, after much prevail, secure a seat among them."

And when the host of the inn had spake these words a witching smile played around the lips of the Chicago man, and he answered, saying: "I am yet young, and of a certainty far from mine home and family, and fearful lest I should fall among thieves."

But the landlord rebuked him, saying: "In this party whereof I speak are only business men, two colonels and one a judge. Would you not deem it an honor to play with these?" And the Chicago man was overcome, and said softly: "I should twitter," which being interpreted, means that he should blush to giggle.

So they went up in that which is called Elevator, until three stories were below them, and the landlord knocked softly on the door of a room in which a light gleamed brightly.

And the door opened.

And when the Chicago man had seated himself and bought of chips a hundred shekels' worth, he spake not, but drank heartily. And it came to pass that after many deals one of the colonels did bet seven shekels; whereupon bet also the Chicago man a like amount, and did vanquish the colonel, who had that which is called two pair. And when this had occurred thrice the colonel said unto the judge: "He is playing them close unto his stomach."

And it was so.

But presently there came to the colonel a hand of exceeding beauty and strength, being four aces. And he who held them was filled with glee and knew not fear, placing in the centre of the table great quantities of shekels. And when it came to that which is called the draw the Chicago man took not of the cards, saying that he was content. But the colonel drew one with great boasting, telling, with intent to deceive the others, of how he would bet if perchance he made a full, which is a hand of great strength, and capable of over-coming threes or even a flush, but which cannot prevail against fours. And having said these words he wagered heavily of silver and gold, all of which the Chicago man did cover, and even betted more, whereupon put the colonel also his watch and diamond on the table, and wagered them freely. And when all had been betted the Chicago man said: "Straight flush," even as he spoke gathering unto himself all the treasures which the table held. And when he had placed in his pocket all the shekels, and in his shirt front the diamond, and had adorned himself with the watch, he became suddenly sleepy and said: "I am too full to play well tonight. I will go to my bed."

And he went.

But those who were left did beat their breasts and cry out, saying: "How are we knocked around and paralyzed by this stranger who cometh from Chicago and dresseth not in fine raiment, but who has of money a great store and will wager it lavishly on a hand which cannot be overcome. It were better we had remained this night with our wives and children. To-morrow night, however, we will again play with him at the game called poker, and compass him about with a cold deck, so that he shall be overthrown and cast down in spirit."

But they wist not what they said.

For in the morning the stranger departed from out their gates and came back to his wife, who fell upon his neck and kissed him. And he did kiss her on the cheek, saying: "Mary, you can order that scalskin."

And she made answer, and said: "Charlie, your're a darling; kiss me again."—Chicago Tribune.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 15th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up, said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the worst go. Then immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2500 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 1000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More reliable than bonds. The great year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessmbt. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise, every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

The annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New Hampshire, takes place at Franklin hall in this city next Tuesday. The attendance will in all probability be large, and the proceedings cannot but be of interest, as the order has grown considerably in the past three years, and gathered in the greater part of the veteran soldiers residing within the limits of the state. Portsmouth has the honor of being the seat of the first Grand Army Post instituted in this department, and it seems proper, now that the order has grown powerful, that a visit for business and pleasure combined should be made to the birth-place of the organization in this state.

We are requested to state that any articles for the tables,—poultry, meats, pies, cakes, etc.,—which citizens may be willing to contribute, will be thankfully accepted and properly cared for by the veterans, and that such contributions may be left at Franklin hall as early in the day on Tuesday as is convenient.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Feb. 3; Batchelder, J.

William Devine, for drunkenness, was sentenced to sixty days at Brentwood, and to pay $6.90 costs.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

On Thursday evening last there was a collision on the Eastern railroad at Lynn, the passenger train which left Boston for Gloucester at five o'clock running into a freight train from Portland, causing quite a smash-up, and blockading the road for several hours. The passenger train consisted of the engine, baggage car, two smoking and four passenger cars. The freight train was about two hours late, and was switching when the collision occurred. The locomotive of the passenger train struck the third car from the rear of the freight train and threw it into an adjoining yard, overturning the second car upon its side, and carried the last, a hay car, along twenty-five or thirty feet. The hay car was not much damaged, but the other two were smashed. A fourth car was derailed, out not much injured. The headlight of the passenger locomotive was demolished, and the steam chest partially crushed; the baggage car was badly scraped, and the steps broken off; the forward end of the first smoker was forced upward, and rested at an angle of forty-five degrees; the first passenger car was badly scraped from contact with a freight car. All the cars were well filled with passengers, but although the shock was strongly felt and some of the passengers thrown from their seats, no one was injured in the least. The blame is said to rest on those in charge of the freight train, as the passenger train had the right of way, and nobody was sent from the freight train to flag the approaching train. The wrecking train arrived at the scene of the accident about an hour after it occurred, and the tracks were cleared in time for the eastward bound Pullman train to pass about two hours late.

It was reported on Friday that a stock company is likely to be soon formed in this city, with a large capital, to carry on the brewing business on an extensive scale, on the site of the former Kearsarge mills.

All hope of getting the schooner Water Spirit off the rocks at Rye was given up on Friday, her port side being stove in and her deck torn up, and she apparently worth little except for firewood.

The Journal says: "A dory containing John Gaskell, belonging to the schooner Emma S. Osier, of Gloucester, became separated from other boats near the Isles of Shoals during a squall on Friday morning, and was probably swamped. Gaskell may have been picked up by a vessel."

Two travelling agents for carpet manufactories, one from Philadelphia and the other from New York, were in this city a few days ago, with samples aggregating nearly 3400 lbs. in weight.

Mr. Henry Bean, of Newington, is busily engaged in hauling lumber from Mason's mill in this city, for the purpose of putting an addition of twenty-eight feet to his barn; he will commence work on the extension in April.

The teacher and scholars of the Newington school hold a lyceum one evening each week; they have a very pleasant time, and allow any one join who can secure a two-thirds vote of the school. No spectators are allowed.

The Mechanics & Traders' bank has moved into its new quarters on Market street, formerly occupied by the Trust & Guarantee Co.

Mr. Curtis De Lancey of Hampton has made contracts to fill fifteen ice houses. He recently put in and packed fifty tons for L. Thomas Sanborn, Esq., of Rye, in about five hours, with the help of four men.

At the annual musical convention lately held in Littleton, the following artists advertised to appear at the convention in this city took the solo parts in the oratorio: Mrs. H. F. Knowles, Mrs. Ella C. Fenderson, George W. Want and D. M. Babcock. The criticisms in the papers of that date speak in a highly flattering manner of their merits.

Mr. Edwin H. Darling, the well-known bail commissioner of Boston, was married at Newmarket on Thursday, the 2d inst., to Miss Georgia A. Smith of that town. The wedding occurred at the residence of the bride's mother, Rev. Mr. White of the Congregational church officiating.

Rev. C. L. Palmer, of Kittery Point, besides attending to his regular church duties is teaching in the grammar school in district five, and conducting a series of protracted meetings.

At Richmond, Va., on the night of Jan. 31st, it was found that the bars of the window in the cell in which "Col." Thomas A. Marvin, the man who married fifteen or more wives, were sawn in twain. The champion married man was suspected, but as there are two other convicts in the cell with him, it could not be fixed upon him. He is engaged in the shoe shop of the prison. He has hard work to do, without a moment's cessation, for the contractors run this department, and if one man goes slow he throws back every other workman. Marvin, with an old skull cap on his head, a darkey convict on each side of him, and his face to the wall, labors on without ever raising his eyes. He looks ten years older than he did when he was convicted a few months ago.

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Feb. 1.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 1861; Sheep and Lambs 5800; Swine 19,615; Veals 57; number of western cattle 1481; eastern cattle 380; milch cows and northern cattle 19.

Prices of Beef Cattle per 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $6 62 1-2 to $7 25; first quality $6 00 to $6 62 1-2; second quality $5 37 1-2 to $5 87 1-2; third quality $4 50 to $5 12 1-2; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3 00 to $4 37 1-2.

Brighton Hides 8c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 8c per lb.
Country Hides 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 5c per lb.
Calf Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Sheep and Lamb Skins $1 to $1 50 each.

The trade for beef cattle has not been quite so active as it was one week ago. The quality of those from the west was not of so good a grades declined 1-8 to 1-4c per lb from those obtained one week ago. There were but a few extra lots of cattle in market, and we did not hear of any sales being made at our highest quotations, sales ranging in most instances from 6 1-2 to 6 3-4c per lb live weight. At the present time the call for cattle for the English markets is very light, as but few are being sent per steamers this winter in comparison to one year ago.

Working Oxen—We note sales of 1 pr girth 7 ft, live weight 3000 lbs at $147; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3000 lbs at $138; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 6 in, live weight 2600 lbs at $116; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 3 in, live weight 2600 lbs at $98; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 7 in, live weight 2500 lbs at $110.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $10 to $15; two year olds $15 to $27; three year olds $20 to $45. Prices of small cattle depend much upon their value for beef.

Milch Cows—We quote sales 2 springers at $50 each; 1 do at $32 50; 1 do at $42 50; 2 milch cows at $60 each; 12 do at $20 to $50 each; 2 do at $35 each; 6 do at $40 to $45 per head. The demand is better for good nice milch cows than those of ordinary grade.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were all owned by butchers and taken direct to the slaughter houses from the cars—Lambs ending from 6 1-2 to 7c, Sheep 5 1-2 to 7c per lb live weight.

Veal Calves in fair demand at 3 1-2 to 7c per lb live weight.

Swine—Store Pigs—Only a few in market, selling at 7 to 10c per lb live weight or from $1 to 6 00 per head. Fat Hogs cost higher than they did one week ago, all owned by butchers, costing from 6 3-4 to 7 1-2c per lb live weight.

—A fair trial will convince the most skeptical.—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions. Allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a pack age. Send for circular with full information.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault--Dr, David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the blooom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

"Nuna Roumertan:" by Alphonse Daudet; translated from the French by Miss Virginia Champlin; 16-mo, with illustrations; price $1.00. Boston; published by Lee & Shepard.

This novel, which has made such a stir in Paris, tells us of Nuna Roumertan as a distinguished statesman, whom the Parisians insist is M. Gambetta. The book has had a wonderful sale in Paris, where its first edition numbered 45,000 copies. The career of the hero is sketched by Daudet with that wonderful power which has made him famous in both hemispheres. M. Daudet's books have been read by a large number of Americans, and as this is claimed his "masterpiece," it will doubtless have a large sale in this country. For sale by Willis G. Myers, Congress street.

"Hawthorne: an analytical index to the work of Nathaniel Hawthorne, with a sketch of his life." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price $1.25.

The sketch of the genial writer's life gives us certain information as to the dates and circumstances attending the production of certain works of Hawthorne.

The index of persons, places, subjects, etc., shows us the books and in some instances the dates whereof he writes. For example, "Mr. Hatch," found in the American Note Books, No. 2, Sept. 5, 1852, refers to Hon. Albert R. Hatch of this city, who on the above day was at Appledore, where were Franklin Pierce, Judge Upham and others, and the author was entertained by the Portsmouth lawyers, who gave an account of his being consulted by a man who had been digging for buried treasures at Dover Point, up the Piscataqua river, and while at work the owner of the land came upon the seeker after gold and compelled him to give a note for the damage. He consulted the lawyer to know if the note was obligatory. The author was told that there "were a hundred people then resident in Portsmouth who at one time or another have dug for treasure," and he put this in his "notes," and published it. But this was just after Hawthorne had written the life of his friend Pierce, and he was of course inclined to romancing.

The lovers of Hawthore's books—and those who read Hawthorne are for the most part enthusiastic in their admiration—will find, if their memories do not obviate any necessity for such an index, a good classification, but no references to pages, making it rather a reference to volumes than pointing specially just where an especial reference is to be found. Sold by W. G. Myers, Congress street.

At Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 2d, Mary White, a colored married woman, while walking in the evening with a man named George Talbert, was shot dead by some person unknown, who was secreted in an alley. The bullet passed through the right hand of Talbert, and then struck the woman.

Miss Celia Beilman, of Chicago, on Jan. 31st cowhided Morris Simon, Jr., for circulating a scandal concerning her. She will also sue for $10,000.

Take little annoyances out of the way. If you are suffering with a cough or cold, use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at once. This old and reliable remedy will never disappoint you. All druggists sell it for 25 cents a bottle.

Policeman Jerry Smith of Allegheny, Pa., was shot and probably fatally wounded Thursday morning, the 2d inst., while attempting to arrest three chicken thieves.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Gov. Jerome of Michigan has called an extra session of the legislature, to meet on Feb. 23d, and consider congressional apportionment and relief for fire sufferers.

LONE JACK, MO., Sept. 14, 1879.

I have been using Hop Bitters, and have received great benefit from them for liver complaint and malarial fever. They are superior to all other medicines.

P. M. BARNES.

Wednesday evening, Feb. 1st, Nelson Decker, while crossing Crooked lake, in Michigan, in a cutter with his wife and two-years-old boy, broke through the ice, and all were drowned.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the sage and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way: This world is full of reverses.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this household remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. R. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. H. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have not recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—G. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Co.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LAWRA, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DYER, Dunguin, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. ROUTE, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has it been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.

Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.
My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties. I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. Mrs. MARY E. BRANNRAK, 173 Prestman st.

Kidney Disease Cured.

Chambersburg, Va., 1881.
Suffering from kidney disease, from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.
J. KYLE MONTAGUE.

Heart Disease.

Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa. Dec. 2, 1881.
After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised to try Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that gave me so much relief.
Mrs. JENNIE HESS.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

Be sure and get the Genuine.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

Cigar Tips.

The tip or "head" of the cigar, which by the American smoker is bitten off and tossed away, is in some parts of Europe carefully preserved and made the basis of vast organized charity. The history of its use, which only dates back some fifteen or twenty years, is a fair illustration of the results that may be accomplished by economy in small things. Some German philosopher of a practical turn calculated that much valuable tobacco was wasted by cigar smokers by the rejection of the tip, and that if a general collection of the tips could be made and the material put to use, a handsome revenue would be the result.

The project was laughed at, but was put to the test half seriously by a number of smokers. For want of an organized effort the first results were not enormous, but the thing was talked of and created attention. Smokers' clubs were organized in all parts of Germany, called "spitzelvereine," (tip societies,) and a regular system of collections was devised. The members of the clubs made it their business to collect cigar tips among their friends, and boxes were put in tobacco stores and saloons for the same purpose. Every month a member of the club made his collections. As charity was understood to be the object of the collections, sums of money were frequently found in the public boxes among the tips. At the end of the year the tobacco was sold to snuff manufacturers for smoking tobacco. With the money the clubs bought clothes and Christmas presents for orphan children, or the inmates of charitable institutions.

The system, as it spread grew to extraordinary proportions. Hundreds of poor children are to-day clothed and fed in Germany through this simple means, despite the fact that Germany is rather a pipe-smoking than a cigar-smoking country. In Berlin alone there are more than twenty collection offices, and the annual contribution of the "spitzelvereine" forms a considerable item in the support of the State Orphan asylum, the patroness of which is the empress. In Baden an effort is being made to build an orphan asylum by means of contributions, of which cigar collections are an important item. The traveller will observe in tobacco stores throughout the country, and in fact, throughout Europe, a cigar cutters that bear the inscription, "For charity—save the tip." In Germany or Austria a dealer, in presenting to a buyer purchased cigars, will often cut off the tip of each one, partly as a compliment to the customer and partly as a help to his collection.

The plan has been adopted with success in England, where the proceeds are given to hospitals. In Denmark the collection of cigar tips furnishes material support for a charitable hospital in Copenhagen, and pays for the education and support of a number of poor girls up to the time of their confirmation, when they are able to take care of themselves. In France the system does not appear to have taken root as yet. The Parisian tobacconist sells his cigar tips to florists, who fumigate their greenhouses with them to kill insects.

In this country, where more cigars are smoked than in all Europe together, the tip is contemptuously rejected. Of late years cigar cutters have come into use in tobacco stores, but without the "saving" clause that accompanies them in Europe. A few beggars collect the tips at several stores and smoke them, but most dealers throw them in the ash barrels. In the German districts an occasional collector will be met with, and in a German club an effort was made not long since to introduce the system, but the departure for Europe of the promoter of the scheme put an end to the effort. Tobacco dealers in New York city generally declare themselves ready to support and share in the movement, should an attempt be made to rouse public interest for charity's sake.

He Suffered for 35 Years.

GUILFORD, CT., May 15th, 1868.

For thirty-five years I have been the victim of that terrible disease, dyspepsia; have consulted eminent physicians, and tried almost every remedy. My family physician finally told me I could not be cured. The first dose of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure helped me, and, to-day, I consider myself cured, and am ready to affirm that it is the most valuable medicine ever placed before the public.

G. H. RICHARDSON.

PADUCAH, KY., May 10th, 1867.

During a confinement of eleven months in Libby prison, I was attacked with dyspepsia in its worst form. For two years I have suffered with it. I tried doctors a great many times without relief. This spring I became so debilitated as to be unable to walk one square. After taking two doses of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure I ate of everything on the table, felt no distress afterward, and have an excellent appetite.

A mighty hard-working set of men are Uncle Sam's letter-carriers, who are liable to contract rheumatism because of the constant exposure to which they are subjected. Calling at the post-office the reporter had a pleasant conversation with Mr. J. H. Mattern, one of the most popular and clever letter-carriers in Indianapolis. Mr. Mattern said that, while in the army during the civil war, he sprained one of his ankles, which was always worse in the spring during the period of the rapid changes in the weather. He did not find much relief from the several remedies he applied. But two year ago he hit upon St. Jacobs Oil, and experienced wonderful relief from its use. Several applications of the great German remedy relieved him entirely. The reporter talked with others among the letter-carriers and found that the great German remedy was popular in the post-office. They use it for sore feet, rheumatism, etc., and praise it highly.—Indianapolis (Ind.) News

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers, address J. H. REEVES, 23 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Guiteau Doomed.

The motion for a new trial for Guiteau was heard on Friday, Feb. 3d, by Judge Cox, Scoville appearing in support of the motion, and Mr. Corkhill opposing it. The jury in the case were in the seats occupied by them during the long trial.

Scoville's application was based on the statement that a copy of the Critic, with the names of several of the jurymen on its margin, was found in one of the rooms occupied by the jury at the National hotel, while the trial was in progress; and another man had been found who would swear that he saw Guiteau in Central park before the murder, and thought he looked like an insane man.

Col. Corkhill then read the affidavits of each member of the jury, in which they positively denied having seen or read a copy of the Critic or any other paper during the time they served as jurors upon the trial of Guiteau. Following these was read the affidavit of Norman Wiard, to the effect that he had known Snyder for fifteen years, and to his knowledge said Snyder is a thief, a forger and a blackmailer, and that he (Wiard) would not believe him under oath. Col. Corkhill also read the affidavits of John Sargent, formerly a detective in Washington, and Detective McElfresh, who arrested Snyder several years since on the charge of grand larceny; also the affidavit of George C. Curtis, the bailiff in charge of the room from which Snyder alleges to have taken the copy of the Critic with the jurors' names upon it; affiant did not purchase a Critic during the trial, or have one in his room; and the only persons that attracted the suspicion of the bailiffs or jurors were F. T. Snyder, Mr. Scoville and J. H. Hayden. These parties passed the rooms on several occasions without having any ostensible business, and were objects of suspicion to both bailiffs and jurymen. The government also submitted an affidavit from Mr. Scoville's new witness, one Bragdon, to the effect that he never to his knowledge saw Guiteau until the trial began, and then only saw his back.

Scoville argued the motion for Guiteau, having no associate counsel; Mr. Davidge spoke for the government, and after hearing the arguments, the court adjourned to ten o'clock Saturday forenoon.

On Saturday the court came in at ten o'clock. Guiteau was in the prisoner's dock, and did not ask to be allowed a seat at the counsel's table, as on the previous day. Mr. Scoville made some statements; but the case ended by Judge Cox overruling the exceptions and denying the motion for a new trial, and sentencing Guiteau to be hung on Friday, June 30th, between the hours of twelve and two o'clock, in the jail at Washington.

Few Die, and None Resign.

One of the most beautiful illustrations of the character of Washington was his resignation of the office of commander-in-chief, and his proposed return to the peaceful pursuits of private life. It is true that Washington might have outlined the prospective presidency, but we are patriotic enough to suppose that G. W. was above all selfish considerations throughout his life.

In modern times resignations are few; and the Exeter News-Letter, published in a town in whose lexicon there is no such word as resignation, commends our friend in the government building across the street, Col. Young, because he has placed his resignation in the hands of the President, and volunteered to step down.

We do not understand it to come quite to this. The colonel called on the President, in view of the fact that four-fifths of our congressional delegation were in favor of a new man for collector, shew himself, told the President who and what he was, and after making the executive see it in a proper light, added that if the President at any time desired his resignation it would be forthcoming.

Of course the President cares nothing for this, but Mr. Putney, supposing the newspaper accounts were true, summons as his aids Cols. Huse of Manchester and French of Moultonborough (every New Hampshire man who goes to Washington in these days being a colonel) and at once starts for the seat of war, to ask the President through Messrs. Briggs and others, to take the Dover Colonel at his word! This is all well enough, and we presume will result in the speedy appointment of the vivacious "Put."

The News-Letter undertakes to discuss Massachusetts appointments, and advocates the retirement of Collector Beard and Surveyor Underwood. But not a word against the retention of a veteran office-holder in the Boston custom house, who resides in Exeter, and who for a long time was the predecessor of Col. Young as collector, and since his retirement from that office has snugly stowed himself in the Boston custom house. Let the News-Letter reserve its opinions as to the fitness of the retention or retirement of Massachusetts men, from offices in that state, until the incumbent in its own political circle also "proposes to retire from office and give some other zealous and working Republican a chance at the public crib." It is a rule that will apply with equal force to the little band of patriots on the Swampscott who parcel out the county offices, as well as to men in the Mas-achusetts commonwealth, but perhaps some of these are the very fellows the News-Letter man has in mind.

The New Hampshire Club on its Travels.

The committee of this club selected to ascertain the cost of and make arrangements for a proposed excursion to Washington, and Richmond, Va., make report to President Cheney that the club can go to and from Richmond in palace cars, sojourn at the best hotels, visit Mount Auburn and Arlington, and drive around the Federal city and to the Soldier's Home. The members will be especially welcomed by our congressional delegation, be received by President Arthur at the executive mansion, invited to attend the theatre by Hon. Stilson Hutchins of the Washington Post, and receive other attentions from different personages.

Advancing on Richmond, the club will stay at Ford's hotel, thence visiting Holywood cemetery, the graves of President Munroe and Tyler, the state house, where the legislature will be in session, the Libby prison, the Clay, Washington, Stonewall Jackson and other monuments, Gen. Lee's residence, the Jeff Davis mansion, the battlefields around Richmond, and other noted places of interest in that celebrated city. A reception will be given by the mayor, and by the governor of the state.

Railway tickets are good for fifteen days, for those who care to remain so long. The price of tickets ($50.00) for the round trip, includes all expenses from Boston, and return; carriage hire, three days' stay at the Washington hotels, one day at Richmond, and Pullman car service. Especial cars will be provided for the comfort of the ladies of the party.

The committee are Messrs. Hoyt, the efficient secretary of the club, with Hon. A. W. Sulloway of Franklin, and Col. J. Horace Kent. The club will start on the tour with large numbers, and much enjoyment is expected by all who are to participate in the affair.

The Small-pox.

Information was received at the navy department, Washington, Wednesday of last week, that the small-pox had broken out on board the United States steamer Tennessee, at New York. Two virulent cases appeared among the crew. The Tennessee will drop down to Stapleton, Long Island, and go into quarantine to see if any further cases are developed. When the two cases broke out the men were immediately sent to the hospital. At Stapleton the Tennessee will wait for a time, and then proceed to Norfolk, Va., where she will have better weather. If no other cases break out she will go to sea from Norfolk.

Shocking Mining Disaster.

By an explosion of gas in a shaft of the Mid Lothian coal mine at Coalfield, Va., Feb. 3d, thirty-two men were imprisoned, and no hope was left that any of them would be saved, as if not killed by the explosion they would be suffocated by black damp and smoke, the pit having taken fire. A similar disaster occurred in the same shaft in 1876, in which nine persons lost their lives.

RUSSELL ALLEY.

PORTSMOUTH, Feb. 3d.

Mr. Editor: I find that in the laying out of the streets, etc., of the city, that Russell alley extended from Russell street to Green street; and before the Eastern railroad passed through, it was used by teams. After it was cut by the railroad, as there were no provisions made to guard against the danger of passing trains the alley was abandoned by teams, and has since been a convenience only for foot travel. During recent repairs made on the track, the dirt was so dumped up as to make the alley impassable for any travel; and the railroad has this week built across the end of the alley a heavy stone wall, effectually abolishing the alley as a public way. There are several questions which I would like to have answered concerning this matter, viz: Has the city government granted to the railroad the right to block up a public avenue of the city, or has the railroad blocked it up without asking permission? Further, if the city government has granted the railroad permission to discontinue a public highway, has not the government in so doing exceeded its powers? And if the railroad or the city government, or the two in collusion, can without consulting the citizens abolish Russell alley as a public highway, what is to prevent them—or either of them—from in like manner abolishing Russell street or Elm street whenever they please, in a similar manner, that is, by coolly building a stone wall across the end of the obnoxious thoroughfare?

SPECTATOR.

[Note. Our correspondent asks us some conundrums which we shall not attempt to answer. We do not know what the law is in the premises; but we know that after the railroad had finished building the wall across the end of the street, the mayor called a meeting of the board of aldermen to see if the wall would be allowed to be built! Whether the municipal authorities have a right to summarily discontinue a highway, or whether Russell alley was ever a public highway or not, we cannot say; but we feel safe in assuring "Spectator" that Russell alley is not now and never again will be a highway, in any event.—Ed.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2500 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 ft own silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $5.00.—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. AN OLD-FASHIONED SNOW-STORM.

Sunday saw the region around about us visited by one of the snow storms which satisfied the chronic critic denominated "the oldest inhabitant," who constantly asserts that "we don't have such snows as we had when I was a boy." The snow began to fall Saturday at sunset, the gentle process being enlivened by a smart gale of wind in the night. The performance had as accompaniment the horn at Whalesback, and the blasts of Boreas were loud and strong. Sunday morning dawned (as is alleged by those who claim personal knowledge of such an unusual fact) with storm and wind from the northeast.

Few persons went out to early mass. The brown bread brigade were relieved by an occasional visit from the "Eureka" and like good Samaritan conveyances. Milkmen came in from the milk farms shrouded in snow, and equipped with shovels which were needed en route to effect a passage through the drifts. Domestic devotions seemed to supercede the custom of Sunday morning worship in temples. The altar at home had more devotees than the shrine in the church. Clergymen concluded it would be better to save up the last-prepared discussion for some more auspicious occasion, and those who went to church were noted for their much stamping in the vestibule. Indeed it was one of those quiet New England Sabbaths when inmates at home forage around for entertaining literature, when discoveries are made of ancient and forgotten novels, of old letters and discarded scrap books, of stamp collections, and even reminiscences of childhood's fancies and follies. It was a day at home, when the husband, if permitted, smoked his calumet of peace within his own walls; when families renewed their acquaintance with each other; when the stable boys spoke of the equerry as being "all in;" when perambulators in the street were few, and calls rare; when doctors concluded to do less Sunday visiting than common, and owners of clipped horses, instead of exercising their steeds, bespoke an extra blanket for their comfort.

In fact, it was a quiet, stormy, snowy Sabbath, when news items were scarce down town: when the church bells rang out with a mild protest, as though it was really too bad to heat the edifices below for the few gentlemen who wanted to go to the post-office and dropped into church just as if they had come down town from a sense of duty; when the men who commonly make a cloak of religion, were compelled to attend divine service clad in ulsters; and when the town far and wide, whether inclined or otherwise, took a day of rest.

HEARD FROM.

Letters were received Saturday from members of the crew of the schooner Mary S. Hontvet of this port, previously reported as not having been heard from for three weeks, which set at rest all uneasiness regarding her. The letters are dated Shelburne, N. S., Jan. 28th, and state that the vessel had one day's fishing on La Have banks, catching 15,000 lbs. of fish, and then went into Shelburne for coal, and had been delayed there by heavy northwest winds. She was waiting for a chance to get two more days' fishing, and then would shape her course for Boston.

SOME FISH.

The storm of Saturday evening brought in a larger number of fishing vessels than had previously arrived in any day since the season of winter fishing opened. The following were the arrivals, and their fares; Schooner Grace Choate, 2500 lbs.; Comet, 600 lbs.; Nettie Adams, 800 lbs.; Rover's Bride, 1400 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 200 lbs.; Breeze, 2000 lbs.; Christie Campbell, 2600 lbs.; Water Lily, 1500 lbs.; Flora Temple, 2000 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 1400 lbs.; Northern Eagle, 2000 lbs.; Sylph, 1000 lbs.; small boats, 1200 lbs. The prices realized ranged from five cents to six and a quarter cents per pound.

The receipts of fish at this port for the week ending February 4th, despite the tempestuous weather at sea, were the heaviest since early in December, twenty-nine vessels from off shore grounds bringing cod and haddock fares amounting to a total of 83,768 pounds, against eight arrivals the week previous with 55,630 pounds. Halibut, which continued scarce and high, was in constant demand, and like smelts brought fancy prices. Receipts of bass were fair, about fifteen hundred pounds having come in, catchers realizing eighteen to twenty cents per pound. Pickerel also appeared, finding a ready market. Only one fare of frozen herring arrived, the schooner W. B. Keen coming in with a hundred thousand.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, special meeting, Friday evening, Feb. 3d, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The mayor said the reason for calling the meeting was the action of the Eastern railroad in obstructing Russell alley. The board voted to view the premises on Saturday afternoon.

An invitation from Storer Post, G. A. R., to be present at the reception of the Grand Encampment of New Hampshire, Feb. 7th, was accepted.

A communication from Timothy Gay & Son, oil dealers of Boston, in regard to the method of inspecting oil in this city, was received, and it was voted that the city clerk be instructed to notify the complaining parties that they must send better oil.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Feb. 4; Batchelder J.

William Tetherly, William Powell, Watson Elwell and Daniel Wedleigh, for having been found with more liquor concealed about their persons than any of them could successfully manage, were invited to contribute $9.90 each to the public funds, and Elwell and Wadleigh did so, Tetherly and Powell going to Brentwood instead.

Joseph Bolter, another man who miscalculated his liquor-carrying capacity, was conferred with relative to his ability to raise $8.76, but the conference ended by his taking a trip to the county farm.

THE WENTWORTH OCHESTRA.

Mr. Henry L. Harlow is to have full charge of the music at the Hotel Wentworth, Newcastle, the coming season, and proposes to organize an orchestra fully equal to any that has yet appeared there. He has already engaged Eastman's orchestra of Manchester, seven pieces—"the most capable orchestral organization Manchester has ever had," according to the Mirror—which will be favorably remembered as having taken a prominent part in the very successful concert recently given by Mr. Harlow in Music hall. The Wentworth orchestra, when completed, will number sixteen musicians, nearly every one a solo performer upon his especial instrument.

The snow drifts on some of the streets were so high, Sunday morning, that the milkmen's and bakers' pungs had in many places to take to the sidewalks.

The sale of evening tickets to the concerts of the musical convention this week commences at Preston's drug store to-day. An early selection is advisable.

The Pullman train from Boston for Bangor over the Eastern railroad, Saturday evening, was but little behind time in arriving at this city; it was headed by two engines. The Sunday morning train from Boston was delayed between Salem and this city, and did not arrive here until about two o'clock; the Portland freight train was passed at Hampton, out of coal.

Rev. James DeNormandie's Sunday morning discourse was an affectionate tribute to the memory of the late Dr. H. W. Bellows. It was highly appreciated by those who braved the storm and attended church on the occasion.

The city teams were engaged in breaking out the streets, Sunday afternoon. The drifts in some of the thoroughfares were very heavy.

The schooner Flying Eagle shared $29.95 per man among her crew of five, as the result of her fishing last week.

At the Court street Christian church, Sunday forenoon, the entire attendance consisted of the pastor, the sexton and one "congregation;" no service was held. At the Episcopal church there were four worshippers, and the communion service was held. At the Unitarian church there was a crowd of twenty-seven persons.

The schooner Marysville, which went on the rocks at Fort Point, Newcastle, some weeks ago, and was hauled off by the U. S. S. Leyden, came off the ways at Kittery on Saturday last, having there received a new shoe, forefoot and rudder and a piece of new keel, and been recalked. She was towed down to Newcastle by the steamer Mystic, to take on board her sails and other gear, which were taken on shore at the time she was on the rocks.

The new telegraph company are trying to secure the services of Miss E. B. Thornton, lately the popular operator in the Western Union office in this city, to be manager of the new office soon to be opened in Portsmouth. This is a shrewd move, and no doubt, if successful, would be appreciated by our telegraphing public.

As the fishing schooner Breeze was entering the dock between Railway and Long wharves on Saturday evening, one of the crew, who was forward fixing some of the rigging, slipped and fell overboard. There was some difficulty in getting the man, but he was finally rescued, everybody interested being badly frightened.

We again remind all who may be willing to contribute meats, pastry, etc., for the collation which Storer Post, G. A. R., of this city, will set before the Grand Encampment of the Department of New Hampshire, which holds its annual session in this city to-morrow, that such articles may be left at Franklin upper hall any time during the day, Tuesday.

Capt. Thomas O. Hoyt has cut from the Deering pond at Kittery Point three hundred and fifty tons of fine clear ice, twelve inches thick, which fills two ice houses. He has had twelve men at work, and four teams hauling. This ice is for supplying the fishing vessels which during the summer drop into the lower harbor, their calls being answered at any hour of the day or night.

Rear Admiral John C. Beaumont, recently in command of this navy yard, was on the 3d inst. placed on the retired list of the navy, at his own request.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. cod&wtjan82

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon!

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

John Bull's Twaddle.

The London Times, in an article on the Guiteau trial, declares that the American people are satisfied with the conduct of the trial, which was a broad farce enacted in a court, without one symptom of popular disapprobation. It doubts whether the nation which has turned the sufferings of Garfield into food for a sensation, the crime into a jest, and the trial into a prolonged farce, has the right to hang Guiteau. It insists that the English sympathies expressed at the time of the president's death, are now proved to have been unnecessary, and it affirms that all Americans, educated people excepted, sat by Garfield's bedside, not as sympathizing friends but as dabblers in the mysteries of physiology, and speculators upon the chance of life for a man threatened with pyæmia. The whole article is a series of studied insults.

The London Saturday Review follows suit to the Times, remarking that Guiteau is a typical American, urging that not merely the peculiar offensiveness of the criminal, but the peculiarity of the crime itself, is directly traceable to democracy. The scandals of the trial, it says, are directly connected with democratic politics and society. It points to the shooting of the president as the result of a hundred years of unbridled democracy, and concludes that the democratic belot may at least be thanked for an instructive lesson.

The time was, when the people of the United States were extremely sensitive as to what the British newspapers might say; but that time is past. Now, when the British press proclaims that the assassination of the president is the legitimate outgrowth of democratic institutions, the free and independent American citizen sneeringly asks what kind of institutions were responsible for the half-dozen attempts to assassinate the queen; and when the Guiteau trial is held up as an awful warning against our system of government, the aforesaid free and independent gentleman remarks that even the Guiteau trial is hardly so much of a national dishonor as is the present state of Ireland, where fifty thousand soldiers and armed police are engaged in endeavoring to prevent a few millions of starved and down-trodden people from rising above the condition of suffering and want to which they have been reduced by centuries of British monarchical rule. When the London Times desires a striking illustration of misgovernment and national dishonor, it has only to look at Ireland, and need not strain its eyes peering across the Atlantic.

—There are no pumps where cocoanut grows, which perhaps accounts for the milk in it.

Never try to raise a family without a good newspaper, provided it contains the advertisement of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; for this valuable medicine is necessary to keep your children in good health.

Sergeant D. C. Murphy, of the United States signal service station on Mount Washington, has been ordered from that station to Portland, Me.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

The following officers have been chosen by the Dover Association of War Veterans: Commander, A. J. Hough; vice-commander, C. C. Bunce; adjutant, J. T. S. Libbey; quartermaster, J. B. Sanders; janitor, J. A. Goodwin; executive committee, John H. Otis, William Harring, Ira S. Place.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

Lieut. Charles C. Cornwell has been detached from the coast survey steamer Bache, and ordered to the Powhatan.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Passed Assistant Surgeon Ernest Norfleet has been detached from the Wachusett on the reporting of his relief, and placed on waiting orders.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

This is the time when the far-seeing young person selects the valentine. Geo. E. Lane & Co.'s bookstore at Exeter has an immense stock, and the Phillips' students are daily occupied in their examination.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured, but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. THOMAS, Williamsburg, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. H. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—G. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—BANSOM LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DEXE, Dryden, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. I would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for cold and chapped hands, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Cohoton: "Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in Iowa sites whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.
Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.
My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties. I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. MRS. MARY E. BRASHEAR, 173 Prestman st.

Kidney Disease Cured.
Christiansburg, Va., 1881.
Suffering from kidney disease, from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.
J. KYLE MONTAGUE.

Heart Disease.
Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa. Dec. 2, 1881.
After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised to try Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that gave me so much relief.
MRS. JENNIE HESS.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

Be sure and get the Genuine.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second class matter.]

A Very "Small" Governor.

Gov. Plaisted of Maine did a cheap thing to show his spite against Judge Libbey, who was appointed one of the judges of the supreme court of Maine as a representative democrat, but who had the courage and honesty to stand up for law when Garcelon and his gang attempted the "state steal" in 1879-80. Judge Libby's term does not expire until April 23d, but Plaisted last week appointed Hon. Wm. L. Putnam of Portland, a democrat with whig antecedents, to the position, as a hint to Libbey. Mr. Putnam enjoys the most lucrative practice of any lawyer in Maine, estimated at from ten to fifteen thousand dollars per year; and of course Plaisted, who did not intimate his intention to Putnam and his friends, knew the office would not be accepted. It is said that the governor intends to go the rounds of the ablest lawyers in Maine who are not likely to accept the office, in order to prevent the reappointment of Judge Libbey to a position which, under the circumstances, it will be difficult to find any other high-minded lawyer who would be regarded fit for the place, willing to accept.

President Taylor of the Mormon church recently married his twenty-eighth wife, a buxom Massachusetts widow. Four days after the wedding she raised a terrible rumpus in the presidential mansion, and clubbed three or four of her associate wives with a broomstick. Her husband interfered, and got a taste of her temper himself. She has proven to be unsuscceptible to discipline, and President Taylor has sent her to San Francisco.

"FISHERMAN'S LUCK."

We have already mentioned the loss from the schooner Emma S. Osier, off the Shoals, of one of her crew named Gaskell. The following, from the Cape Ann Advertiser of Feb. 3d, narrates the hardships endured by the missing man, and his subsequent rescue; and is specially interesting as an illustration of the perils which constantly face the fisherman when engaged in his venturesome avocation:

On Friday morning last, the schooner Emma S. Osier, of this port, was about four miles southwest of the Isles of Shoals, when her crew left in their dories to haul their nets. Soon after it came up squally, with a strong wind and heavy sea running, and she picked up her dories, all but one, which was manned by John W. Gaskell, who was holding on to his lee buoy, watching the movements of the Osier, which was about a mile and a half to the leeward. It was easy for him to see her, but not so for those on board to see him, as he pitched up and down on the heavy seas. Capt. Osier did everything in his power to find the missing man, by sending men into the rigging, and sailing about; but all efforts to get the buoy marks in the heavy squalls were unavailing. Gaskell watched the movements with the deepest anxiety, and saw the vessel put in trim for rough weather. Concluding that his best chance for getting on board was to row, he let go the buoy and cast off his anchor, having a spare one in the dory, and started. When he had got about half way to the schooner she kept off, and he supposed then that they had given him up for lost, and he made up his mind that there was a hard pull for him ere he could reach the land or be picked up by some vessel. It was now about eleven o'clock, when a heavy sea struck the dory, breaking the forward thwart, nearly filling her with the icy cold water. The oars were washed overboard, and there he was in a rough, heavy sea, with no oars to help himself with. But fishermen are used to danger—their lives are passed in battling with the elements, and Gaskell at once made a drogue of his nets, adding a dozen bricks, and he lay quite comfortably to it, forming as it did a breakwater, until three o'clock P. M., when it moderated. A steamer passed, but was too far off to see him. Then he commenced paddling with the damaged thwart, making very good progress and keeping himself comfortably warm with the exercise, although it was pretty hard work. At seven o'clock Friday evening the wind canted off the land, and being entirely exhausted, he came to an anchor abreast of Halibut point. Here he passed the night, which was cold and uncomfortable, and the hours seemed long and dreary. At sunrise, Saturday morning, he was glad to see the first fishing boat come out of Rockport harbor. It proved to be the Pinafore, and paddling toward her he was cordially received, and after partaking of a good breakfast, which went to the right spot, he proceeded with them to the fishing grounds, arriving back in season to take the afternoon train home. Gaskell's hands were badly blistered, and his fingers frozen; but he is now fully recovered from the effects of the exposure. His arrival home caused great rejoicing, as it was feared that he was drowned.

AROUND HOME.

Monday was another hard day for the fishermen, a strong southwest wind blowing, and preventing either the setting or hauling of trawls, except in a few cases among the early arrivals in "the bay;" the off-shore fishermen could accomplish nothing. The high prices ruling induce the fishermen to attempt fishing in weather during which under ordinary circumstances they would not stir out from a snug place in port, but with all their venturesome enterprise they often draw blanks. The arrivals on Monday afternoon were as follows, the fares in some cases being the result of three days' fishing: Schooner Ev. Nichols, with 900 lbs.; Breeze, 500 lbs.; Water Lily, 1600 lbs.; E. A. Williams, 1100 lbs.; Charles P. Barrett, 500 lbs.; Daniel C. Baker, 300 pounds.

The schooner Mary S. Hontvet, of this port, arrived at Boston on Monday, from a fishing trip to the eastward. The schooner Gov. Goodwin, from New York, arrived at Baltimore on the 3d inst.; and on the same day the schooner Cochseco, formerly of this port, and now commanded by Capt. "Dick" Seaward of Kittery Point, arrived at Baltimore from Charleston, S. C., after a seven days' passage, she having landed at Charleston a cargo of stone from New York for the government jetties.

On Thursday, Feb. 2d, the widow of the late Frank W. Hilton received from the Provident Mutual Relief Association the sum of $2000—the first death benefit paid by any company in which Captain Hilton was insured, the association evidently believing that promptness is a virtue. This is the second death benefit the organization has paid in this city, the first being to the widow of the late Hon. Frank W. Miller, on the occasion of whose death the Provident was also the first insurance company to respond. Capt. Hilton became a member on April 24th, 1877, and had paid sixteen assessments of $1 each. Sub-association No. 9, of this city, now numbers 110 members, among whom are many of our most cautious and successful business and professional men.

The Eastern railroad is surveying a route for a proposed branch, to start from the main line on the Salisbury side of the Merrimac river, and run along through Hampton and Rye to this city, and perhaps to Newcastle. Reports from Newburyport say the survey is being pushed forward in the hope of completing the road in time for the pleasure travel the coming season.

Major Urch says there was not a person passed over the Newcastle bridges from Saturday evening to Monday morning.

Capt. Jonathan Talpey, late master of the schooner Clara E. Simpson, and a very energetic and successful commander, lies dangerously ill at his home in Cape Neddick, York.

Several of the Eastern railroad employes, who on the face of the case appear to be in some degree responsible for the collision of trains in the freight yard at Lynn, Mass., last week, have been suspended pending the investigation into the case by the Massachusetts railroad commissioners. The board of commissioners is already on record as having recommended a system of interlocking signals at the Lynn freight yard, which if in use would have prevented the accident.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1000 feet, crosses the head as by eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent,—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no more! This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. PORTSMOUTH FREE LIBRARY.

The public library has just received from Mrs. Albert L. Jones a valuable set of the Waverly Novels, complete in twenty-seven volumes. Now if some one will give a set of Prescott's or Motley's histories, or both, the donor will contribute to a particular need of the library.

On Saturday afternoon and evening last, in spite of the storm, 223 books were given out.

Hereafter the doors will be open an hour earlier on Saturday afternoon; the hours will be from three o'clock to six, and from seven to nine o'clock in the evening.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Medical Association, held on Feb. 3d, the following officers were elected:

President, Dr. Whittier;
Secretary, Dr. Sherburne;
Treasurer, Dr. Folsom;
Business Committee, Drs. Parsons, Hall and Jones.

The Association holds regular monthly meetings which are well attended, and among its members are several physicians from adjoining towns. At each meeting an original paper is read by some member previously appointed. Two other members are each required to furnish reports of cases which have occurred in their practice. These are followed by criticism and discussion from each member present, and a most lively and profitable interest is taken in the meetings.

UNFOUNDED JOY.

And now the sleeping beauty has been attacked by the small pox. Portsmouth has one case, so it is reported, and we do not pretend to say how many more yet undiscovered.—Dover Republican.

Portsmouth has not one case of small-pox, nor has it had one, nor anything which could be mistaken for one; so the rejoicing of our Dover brother is premature. Judging from his past expressions of good will toward Portsmouth, we do not question that he would be delighted to report a hundred cases of the disease in this city; but he cannot have that pleasure yet, without exhibiting a more reckless disregard for truth than is common even with him.

Referring to the evident glee of the Republican over the report of the existence of small pox in this city, the Dover Democrat says:

When the first case of small-pox or varioloid was reported in Dover, the Portsmouth papers and the one at Great Falls published some unsavory comments exaggerating the matter considerably and unjustifiably, and in a sort of mystified way, advised everybody to keep clear of Dover.

Whatever the Great Falls paper, or the other papers published here, may have said, we do not know; but if the Democrat's charge of unjustifiable exaggeration includes the CHRONICLE, it is simply untrue. We refrained from mentioning the exciting rumors current in this city, based on statements of people from Dover, and backed by a circumstantial despatch from that city, for over twenty-four hours after receiving the information, and until after the Boston and New York papers had published it; and when we did publish the item it was condensed from the Dover papers, and much less alarming than the originals. But whether the scare in Dover was well or ill founded, we are glad that it is so far over that the local board of health feels justified in removing the restrictions from public gatherings, as we learn from the following item in the Democrat of the 4th inst.:

The grand masquerade and fancy dress ball of the Printers' Association, which was to have taken place in the city hall on the evening of Jan. 27th, but was postponed by the order of the board of health, is to take place on Friday evening next, Feb. 10th.

PRESENTATION.

The members of the Portsmouth Cavalry company met together at their new hall on Monday evening between seven and eight o'clock, and after donning their uniforms, marched quietly to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Perkins on Court street and rang for admittance. The call was responded to by Mrs. Perkins, who, after inviting them in, told them her husband was attending a meeting of the teachers at the City Rooms. She was told that the nature of their errand was such that his presence would not only be desirable but decidedly essential to the consummation of their purpose. With as much composure as she could assume under such embarrassing circumstances, Mrs Perkins sent a messenger to tell her husband to come home at once. When he reached his house and found it nearly filled with his comrades-in-arms, his nervousness somewhat left him, although his curious surprise at the unheralded gathering of so many of his cavalry boys could not be wholly concealed. Still he proceeded to entertain them in his accustomed hospitable and social manner until Corp. D. M. Lenigan asked the privilege of explaining the object of the apparent intrusion. After a few pertinent preliminary remarks he brought forth a large package containing an elegant silver tea service, which he stated was intended to express the esteem and high regard in which he (Lieut. Perkins) and his estimable lady were held by the members of the Portsmouth Cavalry. Of course the recipients were surprised, and it was some moments ere Mr. Perkins could control his feelings sufficiently to enable him to respond to this pleasant compliment, and for once he failed to find a ready utterance for the feelings of his heart. He, however, assured his kind hearted guests that he fully appreciated this generous expression of their good will, and trusted that he might be ever worthy of the sympathy thus touchingly manifested.

The formal part of the affair being concluded, the company were about to withdraw, when they received from their lieutenant a command to "halt;" obeying with their accustomed promptness, they again seated themselves, and after a few minutes of pleasant social chat they in turn were surprised by a nice lunch "fit to set before a king," proving to them that although their executive officer and his bride were new in the experimental part of housekeeping, a well-stocked larder disclosed the fact that they had already mastered one of the most difficult problems of this domestic art—to produce as if by magic, a bountiful and hospitable table for a houseful of guests.

It was the intention of those who had the matter in charge to have made this presentation a part of the exercises at the dedicatory services last Wednesday evening, but the otherwise lengthy programme, together with the belief that it would be more in accordance with the wishes of Mr. Perkins and his wife to receive it in a less public manner, induced the donors to defer it until a later date.

See notice in auction column, of sheriff's sale (postponed from Tuesday, Jan. 31st.) of stock of hats, caps, trunks, furs, men's furnishing goods, etc., in store No. 13 Congress street.

If you wish to contribute eatables for the banquet of the Grand Army veterans, send the articles to Franklin upper hall to-day.

A law case sent from the law term of Strafford county, being an appeal from the decree of the Probate court relative to the guardian of minors resident in Great Falls, was heard in this city on Monday before S. C. Eastman, referee appointed to find the facts. Mr. Hatch appeared for the minors; Copeland & Edgerly for the guardian.

Mr. Orren M. Lamprey, second assistant lightkeeper at Boon island, arrived in on Saturday, on his way to pay a brief visit to his home in Hampton. Mr. Lamprey reports the gale of Monday, Jan. 23d, as the heaviest since he has been at the island, and some of the blows since have been more than ordinarily severe. Mr. Lamprey came in on the inspector's steamer, the inspector on that day making his regular quarterly visit to Boon island, Whalesback, Fort Point light, and White island, Isles of Shoals. Mr. Lamprey reports the thermometer as standing at fourteen degrees above zero at Boon island, Saturday morning, and two degrees below at Kittery Point. A Georgesman passed the island Saturday morning, apparently bound for Gloucester, heavily loaded with fish, and weighted down with ice; her sails were double reefed.

At the annual meeting of the corporation of the Piscataqua savings bank, held on Monday, the trustees chosen last year were re-elected, with the addition of Henry A. Yeaton, Esq., who retired when he removed to Detroit, Mich., and who now again serves as trustee.

A milkman who left the March farm in Greenland on Sunday morning at six o'clock, en route for this city with his usual supply of milk and a shovel, arrived at the foot of Powder-house hill at half-past nine o'clock; and after making his rounds through the city and delivering the milk, reached his home at four o'clock in the afternoon, not having made a stop anywhere he was not obliged to.

The board of mayor and aldermen on Saturday afternoon visited Russell alley, formerly a highway but recently discontinued by the railroad, and afterward walked through the new portion of Vaughan street, viewing with especial interest the dangerous obstruction offered by the Wilson house, which still sticks out into the street about ten feet, although the city long ago paid $75 as damages on account of this property. One corner of the old house shows evidence of having been run into by a team, and there can be no question that the city government is at fault in allowing the obstruction to remain. Why don't the city clear it away? the bill of costs has already been paid.

The committee of arrangements of Storer Post, G. A. R., fear there may be a shortage of cake and pastry for the banquet this evening; hence it is requested that those who propose contributing will be kind enough to notify the caterer as early in the day as convenient, of what they propose to furnish. The caterer may be found at Franklin upper hall at any time during the day. We hope contributions will be liberal, for the veterans are surely worthy of recognition, and a large number of men who took active parts in the war for the preservation of the Union will be present to-night.

The fishing schooner Flying Eagle was much strained by the heavy sea on Saturday, causing her to leak badly; she will go on the marine railway at Kittery to make the required repairs.

One of the most admirable things in nature is the mathematical exactness with which the man who is shovelling the snow off his sidewalk can line out the exact boundary of his premises, and the scrupulous care with which he avoids trespassing upon the domain of his neighbor at either end.

A Lucky Clerk.

Ever since the announcement was made, about Jan. 15th, that ticket No. 50,309 in the Louisiana State Lottery had at the January monthly drawing, drawn $5,000, and that the ticket had been sold in this city, a great deal of curiosity has been manifested to find out the name of the fortunate holder of this lucky number. Whoever he was, he kept his identity entirely to himself, and all the efforts of news gatherers and sharp-eyed and quick-eared reporters failed to discover him. He evidently did not wish to build too high hopes for fear there might be some errors about it and he be made the subject of ridicule. But now that all doubt has been cleared up and he has received the $5,000 in good, clean money, right in his hands it can be no longer reason for withholding his name, which is True A. Heath. He is employed as a clerk in the well-known crockery and carpet store of J. M. Stewart & Sons, No. 126 North Main street. Mr. Heath is a light-complexioned, modest and gentlemanly appearing young man, and is highly spoken of by his employers and acquaintances, and all agree that such a man could not have fallen to a more worthy young man, who, they declare, will be quite sure to place it to good use. Of course, Mr. Heath is naturally much elated at his good luck, as he has not been in the habit of making such ventures, but, being of a retiring disposition, he is not disposed to boast much over the good fortune that has overtaken him. When approached by a reporter of the People and Patriot, he modestly admitted that he held the lucky number, and that on sending his ticket to New Orleans the company promptly sent him the cash, which has been safely invested by him.—(Concord, N. H.,) People and Patriot, Feb. 2d.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfect y safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the ol test and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. cod&wtjan28

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific, Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and rendered to him the power some months enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The Amoskeag Veterans will hold their annual levee and ball in Smyth's hall, Manchester, on Tuesday evening, Feb. 21st, with music by the Germania band. This being the 150th anniversary of the birth of George Washington, there will doubtless be even more than the usual eclat to the celebration.

The late Hon. Edmund Burke, of Newport, left an estate worth over $200,000. He willed the above mentioned amount to his daughter, Mrs. Geo. H. Dana. Mrs. Burke, a second wife of the deceased, is preparing to contest the will.

The funeral services of the late Henry W. Bellows, D. D., were held at the Unitarian church in Walpole on Friday last. The remains were interred in the family lot in the cemetery north of the village which was the home of his ancestors.

The Laconia Car company's dry house, filled with lumber, was burned Friday morning; loss on lumber $1000.

The following officers of Star in the East Lodge, No. 59, F. & A. M., of Exeter, were installed by R. W. Charles G. Conner on Thursday evening of last week: W. M., George E. Lane; S. W., Frank P. Cram; J. W., William F. Rundlett; treasurer, John J. Bell; secretary, Joseph E. Lang, S. D., Andrew Whyte; J. D., William H. Fellows; chaplain, Thomas R. Davis; marshal, Edward K. Walker; stewards, John H. Shaw, George G. M. Remick; tyler, Irvin M. Watson.

In Newmarket, at about one o'clock on Wednesday morning of last week, Mr. Valentine Smith, an aged gentleman who lives alone in the suburbs of the town, was awakened by a rapping at his window. On enquiring what was wanted and receiving no answer, he arose and lifted the window curtain, when a blow from a club in the hands of one of two persons outside smashed the glass and the window sash, at the same time striking Smith a violent blow in the stomach. Smith drew a revolver and fired several shots in the direction of the miscreants, with what effect is not known. The motive for the outrage was probably robbery, as Mr. Smith, who is wealthy, frequently has considerable money about him. His injuries were not serious.

Henry Viall of West Brookfield, Mass., aged twenty-eight years, who had been missing since Jan. 31st, was found hanging in the woods a mile from that village. Friday afternoon. He had lived there only a few months, was a painter by trade, and belonged in Southbridge. Doubtless suicide.

Nathan Otis of West Springfield, Mass., a Boston & Albany brakeman, was run over by an engine at that place on Thursday, and badly hurt about the head, chest, left arm and leg. The two limbs have been amputated, and his recovery is doubtful.

A druggist in New Richmond, Ohio, Mr. E. J. Donham, writes us the following: "I consider Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup one of the very best things made. I use it altogether in my own family, and can therefore recommend it."

It is reported that thirty cows, infected with pleuro-pneumonia, were killed in two days on one milk farm in Long Island, and their carcasses sold to butchers in New York city.

Mr. Tim Gleeson, ex-member of the council from the fourth ward, Cincinnati, says he suffered terribly with rheumatism all last winter and spring. He tried all kinds of liniments and medicines without any benefit until he used St. Jacobs Oil, the first application of which insured a full night's repose, and its subsequent use entirely cured him. It is a great remedy, and the sufferer's hope.

Joseph Malham playfully hung a powder horn around the neck of his three-year-old boy at Cleveland, Ohio, and it exploded, fatally injuring the lad and a six-year-old brother. The horn was probably an infernal machine. It was left at Malham's door by some enemy.

LONE JACK, MO., Sept. 14, 1879.

I have been using Hop Bitters, and have received great benefit from them for liver complaint and malarial fever. They are superior to all other medicines.

P. M. BARNES.

A span of Mayo's bridge, between Manchester and Richmond, Va., gave way Saturday afternoon, and a coach containing nine passengers was precipitated into the river thirty feet below. Miraculously enough, every passenger escaped, and clung to the ruins of the bridge span until taken ashore. All were more or less injured.

A true assistant to nature in restoring the system to perfect health, thus enabling it to resist disease, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Mr. Blaine has written an open letter to the President relative to the Congress of Nations which it will puzzle Mr. Frelinghuysen to satisfactorily answer.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. D. EVERETT, Dickerson, N. J.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. JONES, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—BARNOM Lewis, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTS, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever discovered.—Jno. HOOVER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILLINGHAM.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

—THE—

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.

Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.
My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties. I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. MRS. MARY E. BRASHEARS.
173 Prestman st.

Kidney Disease Cured.

Christiansburg, Va., 1881.
Suffering from kidney disease, from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.
J. KYLE MONTAGUE.

Heart Disease.

Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa.
Dec. 19, 1881.
After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised to try Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that gave me so much relief.
MRS. JENNIE HESS.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

"You're Another."

Large indignation meetings have recently been held in London, Manchester and other cities in England, to remonstrate against the oppression of the Jews in Russia, and to protest against the brutal outrages perpetrated upon the down-trodden Hebrews in the latter-named country. In commenting upon these indignation meetings, the leading paper of Russia (the Journal of St. Petersburg) makes some stinging retorts. It remarks that England would be surprised if meetings were held in continental cities to denounce English legislation in Ireland, and to call for the indignation of the world to reprobate the tyranny which has filled the jails of that country with men who are guilty of no other crime than that of expressing their dislike to the policy of the English government. The Journal goes on to say that it believes the whole pro-Jewish agitation in England is intended to revive the Russophobia feeling, and it expresses its regret that in a state so friendly as England has been, these attempts to inflame the public mind against her should be encouraged. The remarks of the Russian paper are much after the "You're another" pattern, but they must cut deeply, nevertheless.

Charles F. Thompson of Milford, Mass., fell dead at the residence of his brother, Deacon John E. Thompson, at Durham, Sunday night, probably of heart disease. Deceased's wife died at the same place four weeks ago, aged about fifty years.

T. DeWitt Talmage says in his third sermon on "Night Side of City Life," that every day in christendom $80,000,000 change hands through gambling, but he does not mention the important fact that thousands upon thousands of people die annually from coughs and colds, that might be saved to earth by the timely use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

E. D. Clough & Co., of Concord, recently shipped 3000 barrels of apples to New York, the largest shipment ever made from that city.

Among others referred to in a recent issue of the Norristown (Pa.) Herald, were the following cases of special interest. They are their own commentary. Mr. Samuel C. Nyce resides at 308 Marshall street, and holds the responsible position of journal clerk in the Pennsylvania legislature, at Harrisburg. While Mr. Nyce and family were in the country recently, his boy, aged three years, fell and broke the limb. He recovered, but a very troublesome stiffness set in and he could scarcely use the leg. The injured limb was rubbed several times with St. Jacobs Oil, and the stiffness was so much reduced that the boy was able to use his leg freely. Dr. Knipe said it was the use of St. Jacobs Oil that cured the stiffness. Mr. Nyce himself used the great German remedy for toothache with good effect, and also for a sprain and pains of rheumatic nature, and always with good effect. Mrs. Nyce also says she thinks the Oil is a splendid thing, and she always keeps it on hand.

John Hall and Geo. Dennis, charged with burning a school house in Orford, have been placed under $1000 bonds for appearance at the March term of court.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

The A. L. & W. G. Brown Lumber company of Whitefield are working sixty men, fifty oxen and thirty horses in their lumber business in Dorchester. They are running their mill day and night, and cutting out nearly 30,000 feet every twenty-four hours, about 20,000 feet of which is drawn to West Rumney daily.

Have you Ever

Known any person to be seriously ill, without a weak stomach or inactive liver or kidneys? And when these organs are in good condition do you not find their possessor enjoying good health? A Boston ice firm has purchased the right to cut and store ice at Massabesic lake, near Manchester.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

The annual meeting of the New Hampshire National Guard Association for the election of officers, and the transaction of other important business, is to be held at the city hall in Manchester on the afternoon of Feb. 21st.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

News and Notes.

At Rock Island, Warren county, Tenn., four men attacked Jacob Gribble, ferryman, Sunday night, because he refused to ferry them across the river, which was high and dangerous, and cut him severely. While retreating, Billy McCarpenter pursued him, snapping a pistol in his face, when Gribble shot and instantly killed him.

Guiteau is to be allowed hereafter to see no one but his relatives, and the guard who is to be with him constantly. His meals are to be prepared under the closest official scrutiny, and every precaution is to be taken to prevent his "removal" of himself.

At Tunnelton, Ind., on the night of Feb. 6th, three burglars, named Zach Whitten, Virgil Wilson and Nicholas Vaughan, were killed while attempting to break into the saloon of Thomas Clark. A confederate had betrayed them, giving Clark time to prepare for their coming.

The trustees of Rutland village, Vt., are in a snarl. They have spent more money during the year than the taxes amounted to, and have not money enough to run the village to May 1st. At a recent village meeting they made plenty of excuses for this state of things, but the meeting refused to grant them more money in any form, and so they have no money to run the fire department, light the streets, or pay other expenses for the next three months.

Joseph Gamoule of South Hadley, Mass., a wood chopper, was frozen to death last Saturday night, while walking home from Holyoke.

John Donovan of South Abington, Mass., a young man only three months married, was found dead dead in a snow drift on the 6th inst., having died from exposure.

Oscar Beckwith, the murderer of S. A. Vandercook, whose body was found cut into pieces near Austerlitz, Columbia county, New York, Jan. 10th, was caught on the afternoon of Feb. 6th in the woods in the township of Gallatin, about twenty miles from the scene of the tragedy, by two young men named Lown and Weaver, and lodged in jail. A reward of $500 had been offered by the state government, to which the county authorities added $250, for the arrest of the assassin.

John L. Sullivan of Boston, Mass., and Paddy Ryan of Troy, N. Y., had a prize fight in Louisiana on Tuesday, for a large stake in money and the championship of America. Sullivan won, in sixteen rounds. It is feared that neither of the brutal scoundrels will die.

At Catlettsburg, Ky., Feb. 6th, Wm. Neal was sentenced to be hanged on April 14th for the murder of Fannie Gibbons at Ashland, Ky. Neal made a speech protesting his innocence. Ellis Craft, who was convicted on the 4th inst., will be executed on the same day as Neal. This completes the doom of three ruffians who broke into a house containing two girls and a boy, murdered them all after outraging the girls, and then set fire to the house.

In Baltimore, Md., Monday night, while John Cevish, John Mashka and Joseph Pachka were engaged in pushing a carload of coal on a trestle work at Locust Point, the trestle work gave way, and the men and car were thrown to the pier beneath, a distance of twenty feet. Cevish was instantly killed, Mashka died in half an hour, and Pachka was taken to the hospital in a dying condition.

The Springfield Reporter says: "There is a young woman at Chicopee Falls, Mass., Miss Ida Ferry, who can boast a head of hair which probably excels in abundance and length anything which has ever been on public exhibition. In these cases the hair rarely more than touches the ground; but a full length photograph of Miss Ferry just taken shows her hair trailing half a yard along the floor, though she is of full average height. But so much hair is after all a burden, and soon the photograph will be the only evidence of it."

The report concerning the arrest and imprisonment of Father Gavazzi for immoral conduct is pronounced to be absolutely without foundation.

A Berlin despatch of Feb. 6th says another attempt to murder the czar of Russia is reported.

Mrs. Commodore Vanderbilt is probably the richest unmarried woman in the United States. Her age is thirty-six, and she has $1,000,000 every year, in addition to marked personal attractions.

The Piscataquis (Me.) Observer tells of a servant girl who, being tired of taking care of a baby, threw it in a snow bank and showered it with icy water. The poor child was nearly dead when a little boy rescued it. No punishment was inflicted on the brutal woman.

The Independent asserts that Oscar Wilde is "humbugging our silly people" with his knee breeches, and that when he goes to parties and receptions in England he wears trousers like ordinary people.

A man who was converted in New Carlisle, Ind., confessed to the minister after the meeting that he was a safe burglar from Chicago, and gave up his tools. The parson told the sheriff, and the sheriff told the constable, and the upshot was that the converted burglar was taken to Whiteley county to answer to the charge of burglarizing a safe there. That burglar's present opinion on religious matters would be interesting.

The mayor of Philadelphia declines relicensing theatres where liquor is sold.

The boiler in Cole's mill, near Falkville, Ala., recently exploded, killing Mark Hutchins, a sawyer, and fatally injuring Wm. Bell.

The pulley on the elevator at Wrigley's factory at Newark, N. J., broke last Monday, and four men fell forty feet. Two of them are probably fatally hurt.

Mr. Lappinton, his sister and little daughter, while going to church in Union county, Miss., Sunday, drove into a swollen stream, and all three were drowned.

John Walsh, a saloon keeper of Little Falls, N. Y., kicked his wife to death in the presence of his four children, Sunday afternoon. He is supposed to be an ex-convict from Australia, and to have drowned his first wife.

The bill for the relief of the owners of the brig Armstrong, destroyed by the British fleet in the war of 1812, has been before the committee on foreign affairs, and Mr. Rice has been ordered to report it favorably to the house. The brig Armstrong is the American privateer which was destroyed by the British in the harbor of Fayal, Azores islands, after acts of extraordinary bravery on the part of the crew. The effect of their heroism was to delay the British fleet for four days, so that it could not get to the relief of New Orleans. The victories of the Union forces in that city have been indirectly attributed to the brave acts of this privateer. The owner and captain of the ship are dead, and Reid, the son of the owner, is the only survivor. The amount of the claim is $78,000. Daniel Webster made an eloquent speech in support of the claim. The demand was first made upon Portugal for payment, as Fayal was a neutral port, and the matter was referred to Napoleon for arbitration. But the United States neglected the case, and the award went against the United States. Mr. Rice, in his report, favors the payment as an act of long-delayed justice.

The annual meeting of the Union Five Cents saving bank of Exeter was held on Monday, January 31st. The following officers were elected: President, George E. Lane; vice presidents, Charles Burley, John A. Blake; secretary and treasurer, Frank P. Cram; trustees, William B. Morrill, Charles G. Conner, Winthrop N. Dow, John G. Gilman, Frank P. Cram, Thomas Conner, Charles Burley, George E. Lane, John A. Blake, J. Warren Sanborn, John N. Thompson; investing committee, George E. Lane, William B. Morrill, Charles Burley, Winthrop N. Dow, Frank P. Cram; committee to make semi-annual examinations, George E. Lane, Charles Burley, Thomas Conner. The report of the treasurer shows an increase of deposits for the year 1881 amounting to $70,514.88; increase in number of depositors, 246; assets over liabilities after charging off the January dividend, $8233.45; surplus fund, $4,670,-81; due depositors, $407,598.67.

AROUND HOME.

Mrs. Paul, wife of Stephen W. Paul, who resides in Newton, Mass., and is head salesman in a wholesale woollen-goods establishment in New York city, was taken sick week before last, and in a short time ceased to recognize her own children, becoming so violent that several strong men were required to hold her. During one of her paroxysms she snatched her youngest child, a daughter six years old, from the bed where she was sleeping, and threw her across the room, fortunately without injuring her. The unfortunate lady, who is highly esteemed by all who know her, has since been taken to a hospital, where it is hoped she will soon recover. Her children, two girls and a boy, are now with Mr. Paul's father in Newington. It is supposed that grief over the death of a child recently lost was largely the cause of Mrs. Paul's aberration.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my arms, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (our great skin cures); I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York.

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 600 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—one dollar each. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. THE GRAND ARMY MEETING.

The fifteenth annual session of the Grand Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New Hampshire, was held in this city on Tuesday, the veterans assembling in Franklin hall at two o'clock in the afternoon. The room was finely decorated with flags, streamers and bunting, and when filled with the boys in blue presented a handsome scene.

The Encampment was opened in due form by Department Commander Martin A. Haynes, who was assisted in his duties by Senior Vice Commander Daniel M. White, Junior Vice Commander Thomas S. Ellis and other grand officers. To the roll-call of officers all but two answered "present," and all but one of the council of administration.

The committee on credentials, consisting of Assistant Adjutant General Shackford, Post Commander Clark of Post Four, and Post Commander Horne of Post Twenty-one, reported through the chairman that forty-three posts were represented by eleven department officers, three past department commanders, twenty-one post commanders and twenty past commanders, and fifty-nine post representatives.

The roll of the Encampment was then called, to which 103 members responded. Upon the conclusion of the roll-call it was voted that all comrades present for whom post commanders could vouch, be invited to take seats as guests of the Encampment. After some further preliminary work Commander Haynes presented his annual address. It was quite interesting and lengthy, and from it we condense as follows:

The speaker reported the Grand Army in New Hampshire stronger in numbers than ever before, efficient in discipline, and healthy in spirit and zeal; referred in scathing terms to the gross abuses which have grown up in connection with our pension system, and warned the boys in blue to beware of a certain class of pension claim agents which thrive in various parts of the country, especially in Washington, adding, "We who would strike down the robber who might wrest from a comrade his purse, should open our eyes to the fact that thousands of our veterans have been, and are being, systematically plucked by this brood of pension buzzards." The address went on to urge the importance of regular inspections of posts by competent officers; stated that three new posts had been established during the year, No. 60 at Salem Depot, No. 61 at Wolfeborough, and No. 62 at Tilton; mentioned in strong commendatory words the Women's State Relief Corps, Department of New Hampshire, and after briefly referring to the reports of the various department officials, closed with earnest expressions of thanks for the able support tendered the department commander during his term of office. The remarks of the speaker were frequently applauded.

At the conclusion of the address, Assistant Adjutant General Natt Shackford presented his annual report, showing the gain in membership by recruits in new and old posts since last session to be 461, and the number of deaths twenty-six.

Assistant Quartermaster General Badger then presented his annual report, which showed the receipts for the year to be $1555.44; disbursements, $1305.66; balance on hand, $249.78.

The reports of Inspector Wilkinson, Mustering Officer Linehan, Medical Director Sturgis and Chaplain Roberts were then presented in the order named, all of them being of cheering import.

The council of administration submitted its report that the books, papers and accounts had been properly examined and audited, and found correct.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was then proceeded with, and resulted in the choice of the following:

Commander, Martin A. Haynes (unanimously re-elected amid great applause);

Senior Vice Comdr., Sewell Tilton of Raymond;

Junior Vice Comdr., H. G. Sherman;

Medical Director, R. J. P. Goodwin, Manchester;

Chaplain, Daniel C. Roberts, Concord;

Council of Administration, A. S. Twichell of Post 59, J. H. French of Post 31, A. P. Horne of Post 21, Adolph Nelson of Post 1, C. B. Nichols of Post 38;

Delegates to National Encampment, A. B. Thompson of Post 2, Gen. M. T. Donahoe of Post 7, A. Burleigh of Post 42, W. H. Weston of Post 23;

Alternates, G. W. Nichols of Post 3, A. J. Farrer of Post 37, A. W. Baker of Post 13, F. P. Cram of Post 26.

A short session was held in the early part of the evening, which was devoted to the exemplification of the secret work.

Then followed a complimentary banquet and camp-fire tendered by Storer Post, No. 1, of this city, the tables being laid in the upper banquet hall, at which three hundred comrades and invited guests sat down, the programme being as follows:

1. Address of Welcome.
2. "Rations."
   Response by the company.
3. "The Grand Army of the Republic."
   Fraternal, Charitable, Loyal.
4. "City of Portsmouth."
   Response by Col. Wm. H. Sise, mayor.
5. "The Army and Navy forever,
   Three cheers for the Red, White and Blue!"
6. Original Poem.
   By Comrade Robert E. Rich, of Post One.
7. "New Hampshire."
   Founded on the rock, her fame is secure.
8. "Our Unreturning Braves.
   'We swear to be true to the living,
   And eternally true to the dead.'"
9. "The Press."
   Staunch defenders of our liberties upon the untented field.
10. Volunteer Sentiments. Music. Dhudeens. Killikinick. Taps.

Among the speakers were Commander-in-chief Merrill, Generals Donahoe and Patterson, and Mayor Sise.

The Encampment will hold a session this forenoon, to complete the business.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 7; Batchelder J.

Two small boys were before the court for stealing articles from a store. The offence was admitted, and the parents of the culprits having made good the loss sustained by their depredations, they were allowed to depart.

Joseph Fabyan, a regular customer, was up on the regular charge, drunkenness, and was sent to the county farm for sixty days, costs being taxed at $6.90.

TEACHERS' MEETING.

At the regular monthly meeting of the teachers of this city, held in the common council room on Monday evening of this week, there was a full attendance. Miss Ellen M. Reed, of the State Normal school at Plymouth, was present, and read an essay upon methods of teaching, which was listened to with much interest. At the conclusion, nearly an hour was profitably spent in proposing questions which were answered by Miss Reed, to the great edification of the listeners.

Miss Reed's winter vacation has been occupied in visiting various schools in different sections of the state, and this was the last invitation she could accept previous to the resumption of her duties at Plymouth. It was one of the most profitably-spent evenings of the season. Miss Reed appeared by invitation of the Board of Instruction, several members of which were present on the occasion.

A SCRAP OF HISTORY.

Robert Page came to this country from Ormsby, Norfolk county, England, in 1639, bringing with him his son Francis, who was born in 1633, and settled in Hampton, N. H.

In 1669, Francis Page married Meribah Smith; and their third child, Susanna, born in 1674, married Benjamin Bachellor.

Benjamin Bachellor and his wife Susanna had six children; their fourth child, Susanna, born in 1702, married Ebenezer Webster; and the latter couple were the grandparents of Daniel Webster.

This evening, at Music hall, the first grand concert of the musical convention will be given; Miss Mollie F. Mack and Miss Mary McCarthy, of this city, will appear, and also Mr. Fedor Willimek, zither soloist. Evening tickets at Preston's.

We were amused on Tuesday evening to notice a two-feet-high specimen of the genus gamin, engaged in selling papers on Congress street, flourish a paper in front of two ladies of evident refinement, at the same time shouting in a voice of wonderful size to come from such a diminutive source, "Here you are, ladies! Boston Star. All about the prize fight!" The ladies didn't purchase.

Mr. James R. Connell of this city has been granted a patent for a trace-lock.

The Humbug Yachting & Fishing Association, with the Pocahontas Point Co. and invited guests, had their first excursion for this season on the 5th inst.,—down river, however, but to the hospitable quarters of the commodore of the association, where they could look out through the windows at the Humbug's nose sticking out from under a big snow-drift.

Sheriff Kent sold at auction on Tuesday the stock of hats, caps, furs, etc., in the store on Congress street recently kept by Fred G. Moses, to Geo. W. Butler, Esq. The stock was appraised at $1396.90, and the price paid by the purchaser was forty-six per cent of the appraisal.

Michael Angelo Blunt, a native of this city but for many years a resident of Milford, Mass., died in Pueblo, Colorado, of pneumonia, on the 3d inst. He was a printer by trade, and was at one time proprietor of the Milford Journal. He is spoken of as an honest, enterprising citizen and a kind-hearted and hospitable neighbor; and was president of the Milford Mutual Fire Ins. Co., and a member of Milford Commandry of Knights Templar. He leaves a widow and five children.

There will be a gospel meeting at Bow Mission hall this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. "Whosoever will may come."

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. cod&wtjan28

A Cheerful St. Valentine's Day.

A novel, but certainly interesting, form of Valentine has originated in sending a dollar or two dollars to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., before the 14th day of February next, when the 51st Grand Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery takes place under the management of Generals G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old fam ly Physician at Fault--Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most popular medical work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—London Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sent by mail, securely sealed and post-paid, to all parts of the world, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address

"The United Service," the valuable "monthly review of military and naval affairs" published by L. R. Hamersly & Co. of Philadelphia at $5 per year, keeps up the promise of the earlier issues, when it was a quarterly. Among the other articles in the February number are the following: "Our Indian Question," by a retired army officer; fourth paper on "Superstitions and legends of the sea," by Lieut. F. S. Bassett of the navy; "The internal fittings of war-ships," by Lieut. C. C. Todd of the navy; "Spotted Tail's last sun-dance," by Capt. Payne of the army; "Marriage in the navy," by a naval lieutenant—very appropriate, as a large part of the marrying in the navy is done by the lieutenants; "The battle of Mobile bay," by J. C. Kinney; "The artillery of England," and "Notes for a history of steam navigation," both continued; with editorial notes, reviews of "service literature," etc. Single numbers of this magazine can be procured at fifty cents each, by addressing L. R. Hamersly & Co., Philadelphia.

"The Eclectic Magazine" for February has the following varied and interesting table of contents: "The Scientific Evidence of Organic Evolution," by George J. Romanes; "Gossip of an Old Bookworm," by W. J. Thomas; "Of Mistakes: A Consolatory Essay," by A. K. H. B.; "Country Life in Italy." Part II.; "Dangers from Comets," by Richard A. Proctor; "Recent Phases of Judæophobia," by Dr. Hermann Adler; "Words of Wisdom from Goethe;" "George Colman, Elder and Younger," by H. Bartor Baker; "The 'Eccentricities' of the Rich;" "La Chute des Feuilles," from the French of Milleveye; "Kith and Kin," a novel, by Jessie Fothergill, author of "The First Violin," chapters xxxiv.-xxxix.; "A Day at the British Museum Reading-Room," by Percy Fitzgerald; "A Self-Help Society;" "Social Plagues Jabber," by Prof. Nichol; "Three Burdens," by H. Somerset; "The Adventures of a War Correspondent;" "Christmas Song;" literary notices, foreign literary notes, science and art, and miscellany. Published by E. R. Pelton, No. 25 Bond street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single copy, forty-five cents; trial subscription for three months, $1.

"The Art Amateur," a monthly journal devoted to the cultivation of art in the household. New York; published by Montague Marks, No. 23 Union square.

The February number of this much-prized monthly is full of decorative instruction, treating of designs, ceramics, art in dress, needlework, decoration and furniture, etc., with editorials, correspondence and other attractive reading. Not to be up in the cultivated tastes inculcated by the "Amateur," is to be, in these advanced times, sadly behind the age. Single copies are sold at the bookstores at thirty-five cents.

Thomas McLane, a nine-years-old boy of Auburn, N. Y., died on Sunday from lockjaw induced by vaccination.

No man knows what a ministering angel his wife is until he comes home one day, suffering with a dreadful cold, and she happens to have a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house.

James A. Smart, of Pittsburg, was arrested recently for breaking and entering E. Aldrich's camp on Connecticut lake, and stealing articles of considerable value. In default of bail he was committed to jail to await trial in the supreme court.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

James Barry of Hinsdale was caught in a belt on Monday, and one leg was torn off. It is thought he cannot live. He is married, and about twenty-five years old.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

The steeple of the Hampstead town house was lately demolished by wind.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

A young man named Pratt, in Walpole, while gunning on Monday, leaned against a fence, with the gun in his hand. The gun was accidentally discharged, and the whole charge passed through the right side of his neck, making a fearful wound; but it is thought he will recover.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reversey.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROZIER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. B. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LAWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—E. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. HOYT, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow my food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: YOUR PAIN KILLER during my long and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN R. WALTON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire News; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.

Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.
My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties. I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. Mrs. MARY E. BRASHEAR, 173 Prestman st.

Kidney Disease Cured.

Christiansburg, Va., 1881.
Suffering from kidney disease from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.
J. KYLE MONTAGUE.

Heart Disease.

Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa. Dec. 2, 1881.
After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised to try Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that gave me so much relief.
Mrs. JENNIE HESS.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

Be sure and get the Genuine.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

The Army Worm.

That it is possible to protect a field from a marching army of worms by ditching, is a well-known fact. Planks placed on edge and fitted end to end, smeared on the upper edge with coal tar or kerosene, is another method which has been adopted in some cases with success; placing lines of coal tar across their pathway has been tried, but they soon cover this and pass over it. Sprinkling the grass in front of them with water mixed with Paris green and London purple has, it is said, proved successful in checking their march; but the use of such poisonous substances in such places cannot be justified and should never be adopted. Where the worms have obtained possession of a field, and spread themselves over it, there is no practical way of destroying them, and at the same time saving the crop. Topical applications, such as solutions, powders, etc., are utterly useless and a waste of time and money, except so far, only, as they act as fertilizers. Running heavy rollers of stone or iron over the field has been suggested, but the objections to this plan are, that comparatively few farmers are supplied with such rollers, and that only a portion of the worms are destroyed by this means. Where it is very desirable to preserve the meadow so far as possible, this plan is worthy of adoption by all who may be prepared for it. Burning over the meadows in the winter or early spring has proved, in some instances, an effectual remedy in this latitude, probably because it destroys the old grass in which they prefer to deposit their eggs. The chief objection to this remedy is that it requires the burning to be done every year, unless some means of knowing beforehand when the insects will come can be ascertained. As we already know that they only come after a dry fall or summer, this will limit the use of this precautionary measure to the winter following such seasons.—American Agriculturist.

How an Eastport Mariner anchors his Craft.

During last Friday's gale the rudder of the ferryboat which runs between Eastport and Lubec was broken, and the skipper with two passengers had a rough time and a narrow escape from drowning. Failing in an attempt to steer his boat with an oar, the skipper ran forward, catching hold of the first piece of rope he could get hold of,—which proved to be the halyards,—made it fast to the anchor and threw it overboard, the boat then being in the strong tide that runs through the narrows. No sooner did the anchor take hold on the bottom, than the boat, being anchored from the mast head, capsized, filled and sank, the occupants clinging to the mast until they were rescued from their perilous position by a boat from the shore.—Portland Advertiser.

—The Texas Siftings tells of a card-playing clergyman who, on a recent Sunday, just before divine service began, was approached by the organist, who asked, referring to the opening hymn, "what shall I play?" "What kind of a hand have you got?" was the absent-mined response.

—A young man at Elkhart, Ind., has started a six-column weekly paper with the avowed object of "restoring to the Republic its wonted grandeur and prosperity." You can't do it, young fellow. We tried for six years to restore the Republic to its wonted grandeur and prosperity by publishing the ablest paper in this country and taking turnips and slab wood on subscription, and never had money enough to buy a dog; but of late years we have let the wonted grandeur of the Republic shirk for itself, and the 1st of January we had over $6.—Peck's Sun.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

A despatch of Feb. 7th from St. Johns, Newfoundland, says that nine fishing skiffs, with an aggregate of fifty men, left Port de Grave a week previous and were caught in a large ice drift in the middle of Conception bay. Seven of the skiffs succeeded in getting through to Villegrew's harbor. The other two skiffs were kept in the ice, and were seen on the 3d inst. from the cliffs. No signs of life could be seen, and the crews were undoubtedly frozen to death. No rescuing party could reach them.

MESSRS. WHITE & BURDICK, Druggists, Ithaca, N. Y: I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to relieve all persons suffering with rose cold and hay fever. I have been a sufferer from the same complaints; have had great relief by using the Balm. I have recommended it to many of my friends for catarrh, and in all cases where they have used the Balm freely have been cured. T. KENNEY, Dry Goods Merchant, Ithaca, N. Y. Sept. 6, 1880.

Ely's Cream Balm has cured me of catarrh, of several years standing. I have recovered my sense of taste and smell by its use, and can truthfully say that the Balm has no equal as a cure for this terrible disease. FRANK C. OGDEN, Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 14, 1879. See adv't.

Three hundred Apache Indians made a raid into Sonora, Mexico, about the middle of December, and killed eighteen persons. The governor of Sonora took the field in person, at the head of the federal forces, to drive the savages away.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

The public schools at Hopkinton, Mass., were brought to a sudden close Tuesday afternoon, the 7th inst., the appropriation having been exhausted, and the committee declined to overdraw, claiming that the appropriation never had been sufficient, and that much fault has been found because they have overdrawn in past years.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 18, 1876.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1866, my first patent, since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I will give you almost the whole of my business in future, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, and having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self-cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers, address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The Washington Post, a democratic paper which has recently shown much admiration for Mr. Blaine, recently made the following announcement: "We shall be much more likely to support Mr. Blaine for the presidency in 1884 on a platform such as he has laid down in his brief occupancy of the state department, than many democrats whom we could name on an opposing theory. Mr. Blaine's policy is the democratic policy, the policy of Monroe, of Jackson, of Douglas and of Buchanan."

In Lowell, Mass., resides Mr. P. H. Short, proprietor of the Belmont hotel, who suffered with rheumatism for seventeen years without finding relief from any of the numerous remedies employed, until he applid St. Jacobs Oil: "I never found any medicine that produced such remarkable and instantaneous effect as it did," says Mr. Short.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, FEB. 9. 1882.

News and Notes.

Twenty-seven bodies still remain in the Midlothian mine at Coalfield, Va., and may never be recovered, the shafts having been stopped up on account of the mine being on fire.

Gail Hamilton spends her winters with Mrs. Blaine at Washington. By a happy chance the two ladies found a large oil painting in an obscure shop recently. They felt sure it was valuable. Mrs. Blaine purchased it for a small sum, and had it cleaned. Connoisseurs have examined it, and found the dim initials by which their surmises are confirmed that it is the work of Sir Peter Lely. Hampton Court is plainly discernible, and the costumes and wigs recall the court beauties who lived in the days of dissolute Charles II and pretty Nell Gwynne. The ladies have traced the picture back to the possession of Lord Baltimore.

Curtis Brown of Belvidere, Vt., lately killed his fiftieth bear.

An East Hardwick, Vt., druggist has recently paid $800 for a mistake he made in compounding medicines, whereby a woman was nearly killed.

The practice of loading fire wood with powder for purposes of revenge has begun in Rutland, Vt., according to the Herald of that town, which says that a case was brought to the knowledge of the police a day or two ago. The stick in which the charge was discovered had enough powder in it to blow half a dozen stoves in pieces.

Attempts were made by unknown persons to enter the house of Mrs. Mendon, in Brattleboro, Vt., on two consecutive evenings recently. The family having discovered the first attempt, a young son decided to lay in wait for the burglar, who appeared at the door about twelve o'clock the following night, and was fired upon by the young man, but escaped, though possibly wounded, as he was seen to throw up his hands simultaneously with the shot.

Nine years ago the body of Geo. Barr of Highgate, Vt., was found in a river at Malone, N. Y., with his pockets rifled, and various evidences of murder. He was supposed to have a large amount of money in his possession, and to have been murdered on that account. No clue was ever obtained to the person who committed the foul deed. Recently one Crawford, formerly of Highgate, on his deathbed at Malone confessed the crime.

Twenty-six wives were made widows, and 109 children orphans, by the recent coal mine disaster at Coalfield, Va.

Guiteau has received a number of letters from the west containing small-pox scabs, and Warden Crocker has notified the postoffice authorities that henceforth he will receive no mail for the assassin unless properly fumigated before reaching his hands. According to jail regulations all letters addressed to prisoners are opened by officials before being delivered to their owners, and the heartless parties who send infected missives only expose the warden and staff to infection. The death watch, night and day, has been placed over Guiteau. He is not allowed either knife or fork at his meals, and the cook of the jail has been ordered not to let the food prepared for the prisoner go out of his sight. Strict orders have been issued that no strangers will be admitted to see the murderer.

Naval Affairs.

The Powhatan sailed from Norfolk, Va., Feb. 7th, for a three months' cruise in the West Indies.

Secretary Hunt of the navy on the 7th inst. received a dispatch from Mr. Hoffman at St. Petersburg, Russia, stating that Lieut. Danenhower has telegraphed from Irkutsk that five of his men have recovered health, and are desirous of remaining to take part in the search for the other members of the Jeannette expedition.

New Hampshire Items.

Mrs. Ruth Hartford of Rochester has recovered from the varioloid, and is about her work. No other member of her family shows any symptoms of the disease.

An Old Folks' concert was recently given in Rochester in aid of the G. A. R., and netted about $300.

William and Betsey Martin of Lyman commemorated their golden wedding Jan. 31st.

The Catholic church at Claremont recently closed a very successful fair, the net proceeds amounting to $1,500.

Bertie, the son of Mooney Sanborn of Lake Village, had his right leg broken above the knee while coasting, Thursday afternoon, the 2d inst.

The body of a female child, new born, was found between Franklin and Franklin Falls, Tuesday forenoon, Feb. 7th.

Telegraphic notice from Galveston, Texas, has been received of the sudden death of Mrs. Mildred Glassell Crosby of Hanover, N. H., widow of the late Prof. A. Benning Crosby of Dartmouth and Bellevue colleges. She was spending the winter in Galveston, where her father lived and died, and was accompanied by her daughter, a young girl of fifteen.

A large frame house in Salisbury, known as the Joel Eastman house, was burned on Saturday evening, 29th ult., during the absence of the family. Loss, $1700; insurance, $1000.

Willis F. Choate, formerly of Enfield but now living in Fitchburg, Mass., has lately been presented with an elegant silver medal by the Humane society of Massachusetts, in recognition of his heroic efforts in rescuing two ladies from drowning, at Templeton, Mass., May 15th, 1880.

Fire broke out in B. Mayer's dry goods store in Exeter recently, damaging property to the amount of $600. Loss covered by insurance. The blaze was caused by the explosion of a lamp.

"A Happy Boy:" by Bjornstjerne Bjornson; translated from the Norse by Professor Anderson of Madison, Wis.; author's edition. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; 16-mo, 165 pp.; price $1.00. Portsmouth, for sale by W. G. Myers.

The "Happy Boy" was written in 1859-'60; Prof. Anderson estimates it as the best story of Bjornson. The translator claims that in this story the author has succeeded in producing his characters with remarkable distinctness, preserving his simplicity of style and his sympathetic interest in the hero and his surroundings. The book has been quite popular in Scandinavia, and is regarded as a faithful portrayal of the simple life of the poor people's sons. This volume is to be followed by "The Fisher Maiden," in which the author takes a new departure, and demonstrates his powers in a different style of tale, showing the versatility of his genius. These books are read with much interest by a great class of readers.

—Farmers are barbarians; some of them shock a cornfield by their actions.

—The Oil City Derrick says a great many people don't go to church for fear they may catch the small-pox. There is danger that the disease might "mark the perfect man."—Boston Transcript.

—A Syracuse physician has been candid enough to file the following certificate: "This is to certify that I attended Mrs. Ann Moriarity in her last illness, and that she died in consequence thereof."

—Mr. Dawes has got through the senate a bill to pay the Paw Paw Indians $200 each in cash, to compensate them for the loss of their crops. The Paw Paws will look on Mr. Dawes as their Papa.

—Now then, let's go in and be æsthetic with a whoop and a hooray! Let's yank the American eagle off the dollar coinage, and substitute the sunflower. We'll get rid of that abominable misshapen eagle by this course, anyway.

—A Lowell firm sent a lot of bills west for collection. The list came back with the result noted against each name, one being marked "dead." Three months after, the same bill got into a lot that was forwarded, and when the list came back the name was marked, "still dead."

—A republican paper out west, in answer to the declaration of a democratic one that a well known politician "could not run for constable in Illinois now," says "nor be obliged to run from one, as some of the democratic editors are obliged to co sometimes after an election." These western fellows are too personal.

—On a southern railway recently a passenger stopped the conductor, and asked, "Why don't the trains go faster?" "They run fast enough to suit us. If you don't like the rate of speed, get out and walk." "I would," said the passenger, settling himself back in his seat, "but my friends won't come to meet me until the train arrives, and I don't want to be waiting about the station two hours."

—What has been unjustly gained cannot be justly kept.

—It is not death that makes the martyr, but the cause.

—The eyes of the master will do more work than both his hands.

—"Lie!" shouted old Mowers as he smashed his fist down on the table. "Lie! Why, he can lie a show bill!"

—It may be right occasionally to take a bull by the horns, but it is always well to keep in mind that the horns belong to the bull.

—A tall man having rallied a friend on the shortness of his legs, the friend replied, "My legs reach the ground; what more can yours do?"

—After all, Oscar Wilde does not look half the guy that one of our best young men, with knee-sprung legs in a pair of candle-mold trowsers does.

—The Chinese do their courting by proxy. If the proxies pay the bills, there are many young men who would like the system introduced into this country.

—"What is that, mother?" "It is the legislature, my child." "What does it do, mother?" "It repeals acts passed by the previous legislature, my child."

—Counsel for prisoner—"Did you see the prisoner at the bar knock down the deceased?" Pat—"No, yir honor; he was alive when I see him knocked down."

—A Baptist clergyman says that the man who at baptism does not go deep enough into the water to get his pocket-book under has not been dipped enough to save him.

—A Missouri judge was called upon to divorce a couple who had been married forty-nine years. He refused on the ground that it would be so bad to spoil a golden wedding.

—An old soldier was teaching his little son his elementary drill one evening last week. He was surprised a few evenings later, while watching the youngster unawares, to behold him going through the pace with a broomstick in his hands, and shouting, "Wrong about face!"

—The St. Albans, (Vt.,) Messenger says that George M. Clark, the well known minstrel, who broke his leg last summer, has since that time been made happy by a new growth of hair upon the top of his head, which had for many years previous been wholly unprotected. Bald headed men should not be beguiled by this into breaking a bone purposely.

Cuticura

STATEMENT

UNDER OATH.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessable. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. KILLED BY A BRIDGE.

On the arrival at this city, between three and four o'clock on Wednesday morning of this week, of a freight train which left Conway Junction at 2:20, a young man named Thomas J. Hurty, a resident of Revere, Mass., employed as a brakeman, did not appear, and on search being made his dead body was found on the top of a carload of bark, he having evidently been killed by coming in contact with an overhead bridge, probably in South Berwick or Eliot. The deceased's neck was broken and his right shoulder dislocated, and there was the mark of a heavy blow on the upper part of his forehead; his watch, which was found in his pocket with both cases crushed in, stopped at five minutes to three o'clock, indicating that he had not been long dead when the train arrived here. His age was about twenty years.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 8; Bufford, J.

William Randall was adjudged guilty of stealing a revolver, several knives and other small articles from Capt. Sheilds, master of the schooner James P. Barrett, and was sentenced to fifteen days in jail, and to pay $5.76 costs.

THE "SMALL-POX SCARE" IN DOVER.

A writer in the Dover Republican of Feb. 4th asserts that he has "been amused" at the way the Dover authorities "met the supposed fiend which hovers over the outer part of the city proper," and which has been called various names, from black measles to small-pox. He goes on to say:

It seems to have been the forte of certain persons to scare every one, to create as much fear as possible outside of the city, so as to prevent people coming here to barter and sell, or to purchase the necessary commodities of life. * * * Yesterday we were treated with another effusion from a worthy physician. Why his name was appended to that card we cannot tell. Its object may have been good, but it cannot but do hurt. If there is a case of any contagious disease, why certify to its existence? It can but injure our business.

If we have any knowledge at all of the meaning of language, the writer quoted above would have no official notice given of the existence of contagious diseases; on the contrary, such knowledge should be suppressed as much as possible, lest "our business" be injured.

Other men before him have had the same mistaken notion as to what was best for "our business," in case of contagious disease. The city officials of Boston, when that city was infected with small-pox about ten years ago, steadily denied that there was any such infection as to call for extraordinary measures; but they could not prevent rumor from making the case out far worse than the reality, and after the disease had been carried from Boston to fifty New England towns, and the business of Boston had suffered to the extent of many millions of dollars, a new city government was chosen which proclaimed not only that the city was in a bad way with the disease, but that the disease should be promptly stamped out—and which did stamp out the disease and restore confidence (and trade) in a few months.

In answer to the writer referred to, another correspondent of the Republican on the 6th says:

Professional men who are best acquainted with the facts, and whose opinions are, for this reason, most worthy of credence, have no doubt but that there have been eight cases of small-pox here in Dover within the past few weeks. Five of these cases have been modified, and the other three the unmodified form of small-pox.

The Dover Democrat of the 7th says:

We very much doubt the propriety of the city physician advertising eight cases of small-pox, and the danger of an epidemic, here in Dover; not that it is best to keep facts away from the authorities and the people, but because the doctors disagree. Other and more experienced physicians than he, express at least strong doubts that there has been any small-pox here at all. Not knowing anything about it ourselves, we have been inclined to look the worst in the face, and sustain the board of health in every precautionary measure they have thought best to adopt to ensure the public safety.

And the Republican of the 8th has the following:

The Frost child died of modified small-pox this morning. This ends all foundation for further alarm. The Hull child is rapidly recovering from the slight attack of varioloid, and our physicians who have been most active in the discovery and treatment of the several cases reported, now state confidently that no epidemic need be apprehended, and that all reasonable fears that other cases may develop are now with them entirely dissipated. This should at once end the small-pox scare.

The first concert of the musical convention, Wednesday night, was a success in every way, the attendance being very large and the concert pleasing. The second concert takes place this evening, and is expected to be even better than the first one.

A large school of black fish was seen to the eastward of the Shoals on Tuesday, extending as far as the eye could reach. This is an unusual sight in winter, and all kinds of weather are predicted from the circumstance.

Charles E. Burton, a freight brakeman on the Eastern railroad, had his right hand crushed on the night of the 7th inst. while coupling cars in the freight yard of the station in this city.

The arrivals of fishing schooners with their fares on Wednesday were as follows: Grace Choate, 1000 lbs.; Flora Temple, 3000 lbs.; Breeze, 1500 lbs.; Flying Cloud, 1500 lbs.; Christie Campbell, 2000 lbs.; Northern Star, 2000 lbs.; Hattie and Addie, 2800 lbs.; Northern Eagle, 7000 lbs.; Ev. Nichols, 1000 lbs.; Water Lily, 1000 lbs.; Storm King, 3,500 lbs.

The matter of having a station of the Eastern railroad at the state line will be brought up in the next town meeting in Seabrook, and a proposition made to petition the railroad managers for the establishment of such a station. It is asserted by the advocates of the proposed station that if established it would accommodate a population of 1100 persons; they will have no difficulty in securing what they ask, provided they can convince the management of the road that it would be a source of profit.

The vessels that fished off shore on Wednesday were handled rather roughly, the wind blowing a heavy gale, and making a chop which the venturesome fishermen did not care to encounter. One of the fleet of schooners was fortunate enough to haul her trawls without meeting with any unusual mishap. One or two of the other schooners' crews were not so fortunate, their gear getting badly cut by chafing on the rocky bottom, and they receiving several bruises in their efforts to secure their gear.

Schooner John Lenthall, Hoyt master, will take two loads of ice to the Shoals for the use of the hotels there.

The invitations sent out by the Printers' Association of Dover for their annual masquerade and fancy-dress ball at Dover city hall on Friday evening, Feb. 10th, bear two appropriate legends, viz., "The Pen is Mightier than the Sword," and "The Scissors are Mightier than the Pen." This shows that the boys know what they are talking about.

The schooner Marysville, of St. John, N. B., Hurder master, which got on the rocks at Newcastle some weeks ago, and has since been repaired on the marine railway at Kittery, sailed for her home port on the 8th inst.

A drinking saloon on Water street has for a sign "Live and Let Live." A rival saloon keeper has had a sign painted, "Want to Live, and Can't," but at last accounts the latter sign was still in the paint-shop, the painter desiring the completion of certain pecuniary arrangements before letting it go.

The schooner Royal Oak, formerly of Ellsworth, Me., which was towed into the lower harbor on the 8th of October last by a Gloucester fishing schooner, having been picked up at sea, waterlogged, dismasted and abandoned, was at Eastport, Me., Feb. 2d, loading frozen herring for Philadelphia. She has been thoroughly rebuilt and refitted at Calais, Me., and rated A 1 1-2.

H. M. Putney of Manchester has recently returned from Washington with the assurance that his appointment as collector of internal revenue will be shortly announced.

By request, the Old Folks' concert given at the Methodist church in South Eliot on Tuesday evening of last week, will be repeated at the same place this (Thursday) evening.

The Biddeford Journal says that G. C. Yeaton, Esq., attorney for the Boston & Maine railroad, has settled with J. B. Nealley and J. E. L. Bradeen of South Berwick for the injuries received by them at the Cole's Corner accident, paying the former ten dollars and the latter twenty-five dollars.

—Those are the most honorable who are the most useful.

T. DeWitt Talmage says in his third sermon on "Night Side of City Life," that every day in christendom $80,000,000 change hands through gambling, but he does not mention the important fact that thousands upon thousands of people die annually from coughs and colds, that might be saved to earth by the timely use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

—It is not so hard to earn money as to spend it well.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of you rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

A Foiled Book Agent.

A young man with a large book under his arm and a seven by nine smile on his mug stuck his head into the ticket window at the Union depot, and asked the clerk what was the fare to San Antonio.

"Two dollars and fifteen cents," replied the ticket slinger.

"I'm pining to leave Galveston, but I lack just $2 of the ticket money. However, that shan't part us. I'll make a partial cash payment of fifteen cents, and take the rest out in trade."

"What do you mean by taking it out in trade?"

"I am a book agent, and if you will let me have the ticket I won't try to sell you a book. I won't say book to you once. This is the most liberal and advantageous offer ever made to the public, and you ought to take advantage of it. I have been known to talk a sane man so completely out of his senses in fifteen minutes that he wasn't even fit to send to the legislature afterward."

"What book have you got?" asked the ticket agent.

A beaming smile came over the book agent's face, and in a singing voice, he began:

"I am offering in seventeen volumes, 'Dr. Whitlettree's Observations in Palestine,' a book that comprises the views of the intelligent doctor on what he saw in the Holy Land, with numerous speculations and theories on what he did not see. Although forming a complete library of deep research, pure theology and chaste imagery, I am now offering this invaluable encyclopædia for the unprecedentedly low price of $2 a volume, which is really giving it away for nothing——"

After the book agent had kept this up for about ten minutes, he began to grow discouraged, for, instead of showing signs of weakening, the ticket agent, with an ecstatic smile on his face, begged the eloquent man to keep on. The book agent stopped to rest his jaw, when the ticket man reached out his hand and said:

"Shake, old fel! Come inside and take a chair, and sing that all over again. That cheers me up like a cocktail. I used to be a book agent myself before I reformed and went into the railroad business, and that is like music to me. It soothes me all over. It calls back hallowed memories of the past, and makes me want to go out on the road again. I would rather pay $20 than have you leave Galveston. You must come around every day. I could listen to that all day, and cry for more."

The book agent shut his book and said:

"Some infernal hyena has given me away; but there is another railroad that I can get out of this one-horse town on. I'll not consent to ride on any road that don't employ gentlemen who can treat a cash customer with common politeness. You can't capture my book on any terms, and if you will come out of your cage, I'll punch your head in less time than you can punch a ticket." And he passed out like a beautiful dream.—Galveston News.

—Shakspeare asks "what's in a name?" Well, it is a good thing, sometimes. Not necessarily for publication, but merely as a guarantee of good faith.

One voice all over the land goes up from mothers, that says, "My daughters are so feeble and sad, with no strength, all out of breath and life at the least exertion. What can we do for them?" The answer is simple and full of hope. One to four weeks use of Hop Bitters will make them healthy, rosy, sprightly, and cheerful.

A special meeting of the Maine Historical society has been called at Portland Feb. 27th, in honor of the poet Henry W. Longfellow, whose 75th birthday occurs on that day.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

The Portland, (Me.) Argus says: "To a girl of eleven years, named Ferrill, belongs the credit of rescuing her friend, Mary Webster, aged thirteen, from drowning at Knightville, Cape Elizabeth a few days ago. Miss Webster had broken through some thin ice and was about sinking, when her friend crawled out to her and succeeded in getting her out in safety.

A pure strengthening tonic, free from whiskey and alcohol, cures dyspepsia, and similar diseases. It has never been equalled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this incomparable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—R. S. CHOCKLEY, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. B. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—J. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Hyattsville, Md.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTS, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, Del.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.
Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.
My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties. I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. Mrs. MARY E. BRASHEAR, 173 Prestmansst.

Kidney Disease Cured.
Christiansburg, Va., 1881.
Suffering from kidney disease, from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.
J. KYLE MONTAGUE.

Heart Disease.
Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa. Dec. 2, 1881.
After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised to try Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that gave me so much relief.
Mrs. JAMES HESS.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

Be sure and get the Genuine.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

The Manhattan (Kansas) Bank Failure.

Intelligence just received in Concord from Manhattan, Kansas, in relation to the failure of the Riley County bank, the leading managers of which are New Hampshire men, says the institution will probably not pay over ten cents on a dollar. It is believed that President Elliott and Vice President Sawyer lost everything. Elliott removed from Meredith to Kansas a few months ago. Officers have gone to Meredith to see if they can find any of Elliott's property to attach. Sawyer formerly represented Sharon several years in the legislature. New Hampshire men sent over $100,000 to the Riley County bank. The news of the arrest of President Elliott and Vice President Sawyer fell like a thunderbolt upon the numerous persons who placed implicit confidence in the financial transactions of Sawyer, and had lent him large sums of money for investment. There are a dozen or more individuals in Peterboro' and a number in Sharon and Dublin who lent from $250 to $1200 each, and hold nothing but paper endorsed by the bank. The Peterboro' savings bank, and the Monadnock bank at East Jaffrey, are heavy losers by the wreck of the Manhattan bank; and a son of the late Wm. A. Scott of Peterboro', who has been in the loan business in Kansas with Sawyer, the vice president, has lost all his property. Winship, the cashier of the ruined bank, has committed suicide. Elliott and Sawyer have been released on bail.

At Worcester, Mass., Feb. 8th, Hiram and James Adams were arrested for passing and having in their possession counterfeit money. Three hundred counterfeit silver dollars which had just been received from New York were captured.

Catarrh of the Bladder.
Stinging, smarting, irritation of the urinary passages, diseased discharges, cured by Buchupaiba. Druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

A Tombstone, Arizona territory, despatch says two men just arrived from Dragoon mountains confirms the report of straggling bands of Indians there. They found the body of a white teamster who had been evidently murdered by Indians.

Rescued from Death.
William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.
I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Mrs. Fanny Piper of Ripton, Vt., is the happy recipient of $1,825 pension for the loss of a son in the late unpleasantness. She is the widow of an 1812 veteran, had a son-in-law who lost his health in Dixie, and was the first white child born in Ripton.

The Nation's Characteristics.
Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

Sir William Palliser, C. B., inventor of the "Palliser projectile" and improvements in the construction of heavy guns, is dead. He was born in Dublin, Ireland, June 18th, 1830.

Experience the Best Guide.
The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

At the Campbell street Christian church in Louisville, Kentucky, on a recent Sunday night, Rev. Mr. Ganey called for sinners to step forward. General Abe Buford was the first to step up and be baptised. He announced that he would retire permanently from the turf.

Faded Colors Restored.
Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

Vertigo is the illness which now afflicts Mr. Longfellow, and prevents him from working.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

The memory of Chief Justice Marshall is to be honored by the erection of a monument in Washington. Shortly after his death in 1835 the lawyers of the country contributed $3,000 for this purpose. It was invested, and now amounts to $20,000—enough to secure a respectable statue.

Its Work in Strathroy.
It often happens that the opinion of an experienced man, an expert, if we so call him, conveys greater force than an aggregation of outside, uneducated testimony. And then too, personal experience or observation is so much more convincing than mere assertion. Trained to habits of analysis and keenest accuracy, and from the very nature of their daily occupation, given to the most incisive criticism of anything of a proprietary nature, chemists, as a class, hesitate very long before indorsing anything of a remedial nature whose virtues have been announced through the public press. St. Jacobs Oil, however, is so universally successful and so unvaryingly accomplishes all that it promises that the able chemist, W. J. Dyas, Esq., of Medical Hall, Strathroy, Ont., sends, with his friendly recommendation, the following from David Harrison, Esq., 9th Conc., Township of Caradoc:—Having suffered with inflammatory rheumatism since last July, and hearing of St. Jacobs Oil, I sent for a bottle of the article on the 15th of October. At that time I was confined to the house, and could not possibly get out of bed without assistance. After four applications of the Oil the pain ceased entirely, and I was able to go about Strathroy in less than a week. I cannot give too much praise to St. Jacobs Oil for what it has done for me, and I believe it to be the most reliable remedy in rheumatism. Its wonderful efficacy should be brought to the knowledge of every body.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!
LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.
A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, &c., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

A week or ten days ago Miss Minnie Hauck arrived in New York from Germany en route to Arkansas to wed a fellow countryman, who had preceded her to this country. What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, FEB. 10, 1882.

Polygamy in Utah.

The hearing of Delegate Cannon before the House judiciary committee was made use of by the members to ply him with the hardest and most direct questions about polygamy and Mormon practices that were ever asked by authority of Congress. Mr. Cannon expressed the opinion that the present attack on polygamy was solidifying all Mormonists in favor of it, and he declared his own opinion to be that the principles of the Mormon church would spread over the whole earth, because they were true. He was so hard pressed by the members of the committee that Mr. Converse, of Ohio, protested that they had met to hear Mr. Cannon on the pending bill, and not to uncover the secrets of Mormonism. Mr. Cannon was forced to admit that there was no law in Utah against sexual crimes, and that such as had existed had been repealed by the Mormon legislature. His admissions were of such a character that no reply was deemed necessary to his defence by Campbell, who is contesting Cannon's seat.

A bill introduced by Congressman Burrows, which if it becomes a law will disqualify such fellows as Cannon from being sent to Congress, and will place the execution of the laws in Utah in other hands than those of the law-breakers, passed the House on Monday, the 6th inst., under peculiar circumstances, thus described by the Providence Journal of the 7th:

The democratic members of the national House of Representatives are in trouble. They were caught, Monday, and in a manner not at all creditable to their knowledge of parliamentary law. They are wiser to-day; they have discovered the meaning of a motion to pass a bill under suspension of the rules. As is well known they are opposed to all anti-polygamy measures, and when it became known that Mr. Burrows intended to secure the passage of his anti-polygamy bill they made preparations to oppose it by loading it down with amendments or by filibustering. At the close of the call of states Mr. Burrows was recognized by the speaker, and moved the passage of the bill under suspension of the rules. Mr. Bragg, of Wisconsin, rose with an amendment, but did not offer it, waiting till the vote was taken on what he supposed to be the question of a suspension of the rules. There was no opposition to the motion of Mr. Burrows. Mr. Bragg and his democratic brethren were surprised, chagrined and humiliated to find that the bill was passed and opposition was useless. Had Messrs. Randall, Cox or Springer been present, they would of course have known what Mr. Burrows' motion meant, but they happened for the moment to be absent from their seats.

The Geneva Award Bill.

The judiciary committee of the national House on the 8th, instructed the chairman to report to the House the views of the majority on the Geneva award bill, the minority being granted leave to make a report when convenient. The majority favor the payment of claims arising from the depredations of the exculpated cruisers, and the refunding of the war-premiums, excluding the insurance companies from participation in the benefits of the award.

New Hampshire Items.

The creditors of Walter S. Standley of Rochester have attached his grocery stock and household effects; a keeper is in charge of each.

The case of Harlan Cross against Dr. James H. Grant for alienating the affections of the plaintiff's wife, was put on trial before the supreme court at Colebrook on the 8th inst., and excited much interest in the community. The plaintiff claimed $5000 damages.

The heirs of Enoch Page of Sutton are in trouble. He died a few weeks ago, leaving his safe locked. No one knows the combination of the lock. The property is estimated at $50,000 or more.

Miss Martha Robinson, aged seventy-eight years, who died Feb. 3d at Rochester, willed her property, consisting of real estate and money to the value of $4,000, to the Methodist society of Rochester.

Charles Benton, Jr., son of Judge Benton of Hanover, was injured, though not seriously, and narrowly escaped death, Feb. 8th, by the accidental discharge of a shotgun, while he was riding upon a sled, holding the gun.

A lady resides in North Barnstead, seventy-seven years of age and in excellent health, who has never eaten confectionary of any kind, never rode in the cars in her life, never was on the water, and has never taken any medicine whatever prescribed by a physician.

Leland Stickney, while engaged in logging off Kilkenny's mountain into Garland's mill at Lancaster recently, was thrown under a load of logs and dragged twenty-five or thirty rods down a steep pitch. He was terribly torn and bruised, but will probably recover.

Big Corruption Fund.

The Philadelphia Record of Feb. 9th published an article disclosing a scheme in connection with the proposed approval of the elevated railroad project by the city council, wherein it is charged that a clique of New Yorkers, through an agent in Philadelphia, made overtures for bribing the city council and the newspapers, $50,000 in cash and $1,000,000 in stocks and bonds being set aside for corruption purposes, and that the agents fell into the snares of the street car managers who drew out of him all the details of his scheme.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Alliance sailed from New York on the 7th inst., for Norfolk.

A naval court of inquiry is to meet at the Washington navy yard, to investigate certain questions affecting the status of Sailmaker Herman Hansen.

News and Notes.

William Read, M. D., (Harvard 1842), and Robert M. Read, M. D., (Harvard 1876), pay special attention to the treatment of fistula and kindred troubles, at No. 41 Somerset street, Boston.

At Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 8th, the family of August Yaeger, five in all, were found in great agony from trichinosis, caused by eating raw ham. It is not thought possible for them to recover.

Information has reached Chattanooga, Ga., of the murder of a widow lady named Tankersly, living in Cherokee county, Georgia. She was murdered and robbed, and the house burned. Her charred remains were found in the debris. Tom and Baler Moon, nephews of the lady, have been arrested.

Major Washburn, engineer and superintendent of a part of the Missouri Pacific railroad in Texas, and the wife of W. Stall, head contractor of construction, were killed in a hand-car accident near Waco, Texas, Feb. 7th. Mr. Stall was also seriously injured

Conductor George F. Hanford and brakeman George Melius, who were indicted for manslaughter in connection with the recent railroad disaster at Spuyten Duyvil, have been arraigned at New York. Melius was allowed to defer his pleading to the charge, and Hanford interposed a plea of not guilty. Both were continued on bail.

The German brig Lizette, bound from New York to St. Johns, Newfoundland, was wrecked on a reef at Petty harbor, about nine miles from St. Johns, on the night of the 5th inst., and all hands perished.

The barque Norwegian sailed from New York for Liverpool on the 6th of November, and has not since been heard from. She is supposed to have gone down with all hands, ten in number. She was partly owned in Maine, and was commanded by Capt. Lincoln of Brunswick, Me.

The barque F. L. Carney was wrecked at Hatteras Inlet on the 21st of January. The captain and ten men left in a boat, which was capsized, and ten of them were drowned, one seamen being saved. A colored man who stuck to the wreck was taken off by a pilot boat.

The graduates of Dartmouth college residing in New York, had a reunion and dinner in that city on Wednesday evening, the 8th inst. Hon. Daniel G. Rollins, surrogate, of the class of 1860, president of the association, occupied the chair. The boys resolved that Dr. Bartlett was not the man for president of the college, and called upon him to resign.

Mary Anderson commences an engagement at the Boston theatre, on the 13th inst.

Three hundred and twenty-five dollars is the amount assessed by a Boston jury as damages to be paid by a Maine carpenter for not marrying the Widow Smith, according to promise. The widow's lawyer called the damage five thousand dollars when he drew up the writ.

Olin Washburne, Mrs. Luce and George Moulton have died of small-pox at Holland, Vt. The disease is now confined to five houses, and the isolated patients are receiving the best possible care. There are many cases of varioloid in the town. The disease was carried to Holland by a young man from New York.

Edson L. Fuller, the convicted Readsboro' murderer, was taken to Bennington from Windsor, Vt., Feb. 7th, and his case was to have been passed upon next morning by the supreme court, now in session. Tuesday night he attempted suicide by cutting his throat with a jack knife, inflicting a serious wound upon both sides of his throat. He is not expected to survive.

Charles Potter, the principal in the well-remembered tragedy at Williston, Vt., nearly seventeen years ago—the murder of Mrs. Griswold—died at Chicago a few days ago. John Ward, who was hanged at Windsor in 1868, confessed that he, with a pal, did the deed, but they were hired by Charles Potter with the promise of a large sum of money. Potter was a crack burglar, but nothing could be proved against him until 1869, when he and his wife were convicted and sentenced respectively to ten and seven years in the state prison. Mrs. Potter died in prison. Potter was pardoned by Gov. Fairbanks four years ago, and immediately left for the west.

—A little girl when asked by her mother about suspicious bites in the sides of a dozen apples, answered: "Perhaps, maumma, they have been frost-bitten; it was cold last night."

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountains over 2500 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 2000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no cheaper. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Feb. 9th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

Committee on accounts reported bills for work on the streets amounting to $526.79. The mayor said some newspapers of the city had reported that certain aldermen, when asked in regard to bills ordered paid by the board, had replied that they knew nothing about them; hence he proposed to have the items read. In answer to a question by Ald. Caswell, he said the pay of laborers on the streets was $1.50 per day; fifteen men had been employed, who would otherwise have required aid from the city; next month the bills would be high, on account of the heavy snow. The bills were ordered paid. The mayor stated that the city is now hiring $2400.

A letter was read from the president of the Eastern railroad, relative to leasing the north millpond to the city at $85 per month.

Ald. Martin called up the matter of the obstruction of Russell alley by the Eastern railroad. After discussion, it was ordered that the railroad remove the obstruction, the street commissioner to see the order is carried out, and a proper crossing made.

Ald. Martin moved a reconsideration of the vote refusing permission to the Eastern & Mutual Union Telegraph Co. to put up poles on the streets.

Ald. Noyes moved an indefinite postponement, which was voted down.

Ald. Martin's motion was seconded by Ald. Hartshorn.

Ald. Slater objected that Ald. Hartshorn had no right to second the motion to reconsider, as he did not vote with the majority; but Mayor Sise promptly overruled this sapient objection, and it was voted to reconsider, as follows: Yeas—Caswell, Call, Green, Hartshorn and Martin, five; nays—Vaughan, Noyes, Slater and Stavers, four.

The telegraph company were then granted the desired permission.

Adjourned for one week.

LAW-SUITS SETTLED.

Several law-suits in which the city of Portsmouth has been concerned, and in which the tax-payers are interested, have lately been disposed of.

In 1879, the assessors, under the new tax law, "doomed" Mr. J. Horace Jenness for $5000, and assessed a tax on that amount against him in addition to his other prope ty, because he failed to return a sworn inventory as required by law. For this, Tax-collector Hadley arrested Mr. Jenness in 1880, and, rather than go to jail, Mr. Jenness paid the tax and costs of arrest under protest, and immediately commenced suit against the collector for the arrest, and also one against the assessors, claiming that the notice given by them to the tax-payers to bring in their inventories was defective, and raising the question of their right to "doom" him.

Judge Clark finds that the tax was properly assessed, and has decided in favor of the assessors, Jenness to pay costs of suit. In the case against Hadley, though Hadley had a right to arrest for the tax, Judge Clark decides that he had no right to charge in the costs of arrest $1 for the copy of the warrant left with the keeper of the jail, as the law only allows seventeen cents a page, which in this case would amount to forty-six cents; and as Hadley kept Jenness under arrest until he paid $1, he was wrong, and the judge gives Jenness one dollar damages, and costs limited to the same amount—one dollar.

At the time the assessors "doomed" Mr. Jenness, they also "doomed" two of his sisters, and the tax not being paid, Mr. Hadley seized their stock in the Rockingham national bank, of which their brother-in-law, John J. Pickering, Esq., is president, and sold this stock at auction to pay the tax. The stock was purchased by John P. Hart, Esq., but Mr. Pickering refused to sign and issue to him a new certificate for the stock, and so the sale was ineffectual, as Mr. Hart would not pay for the stock until Mr. Hadley gave him a certificate of it. Mr. Hadley, thereupon, brought a bill in equity against Pickering to compel him to sign and issue the certificate to Mr. Hart.

Judge Clark has decided that a bill in equity was not the proper remedy, and that Hart, not Hadley, should have brought the suit for the certificate, and has awarded costs to Pickering.

It is said that "doomage" to quite a large amount was due the city from Pickering, and which he intended to contest, but after these decisions all parties have come together, and the result is that all the suits are settled, and the city has received one-half of the amount of the "doomage" against the four persons above named in such settlement.

The ex-city solicitor was assisted in these suits by Gen. Marston of Exeter, and when the lawyers' bills are all paid, we venture the prediction that the treasury of the city will not receive any permanent additio n from this litigation.—Times.

Alvin Emery, drunk, fine $3, costs $6.90.

RETRENCHMENT IN THE CITY EXPENSES.

Mr. Editor: Considerable has been said and published about the enormous expenses of our city affairs. His Honor the Mayor, who is ex-officio in the manner of expending the appropriations, has called the attention of the aldermen who have appointed a committee to confer with a like committee from the common council, to take into consideration the matter of retrenchment. As a matter of course, last Thursday evening there was no quorum of the common council. Now as a member of the common council, I would like to make an explanation so that the public may understand the relation the council have to the aldermen, in the manner of expending money:

There was appropriated last year for the police and watch, $5400; spent, $7125. For street lights, $2200 appropriated, $3561 spent. For school houses, $1500 appropriated, $3067 spent. For streets, $7000 appropriated, $9471 spent. For Vaughan street, nothing legally appropriated, $3381 spent. So this Honorable Board have spent, in excess of the appropriations in these five departments, about $10,000, which according to the joint rules of the city councils they have no legal right to do, as witness the following section:

SEC. 16. After the annual appropriations shall have been passed, no subsequent expenditure shall be authorized for any object, unless provision for the same shall be made by a specific transfer from some of the annual appropriations, or by expressively creating therefor a city debt, and no city debt shall be created except by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the whole number of each branch of the city councils voting by yea and nay.

The committees of the different departments of this Honorable Boord have never consulted with the committees of the common council in regard to the expenditure of the appropriations; and now for this Honorable Board, who have spent $10,000 in excess of the appropriations, to ask the common council to appoint a committee on retrenchment, seems to me to be "too utterly utter."

COMMON COUNCILMAN.

The closing concert of the musical convention takes place this evening, when the grand oratio, "Moses in Egypt," will be given, the solo parts being sustained by eminent artists, supported by the grand chorus.

At the annual meeting of the Zeck Spark Arrestor Co., held in this city on Thursday last, Messrs. Thomas S. Nowell, Chas. F. Fairbanks, Lyman P. French and Chas. H. Waters were chosen directors for the ensuing year.

The New Hampshire Club have voted that the members who desire to order wine at the dinners of the club may do so at their option.

Willie Edouin's "Sparks" combination comes to this city Feb. 16th. The lithographs and show bills are now shown about the city.

Robert Morris, the veteran mason, is to deliver his lecture on "Mount Moriah and the Holy Land," on Thursday evening, Feb. 16th, in Masonic hall. The lecture is open only to master masons, and is given free.

The sailmakers of this city have no extensive jobs on hand at present; about all that is doing is to attend to the orders of the fishing vessels, and to overhaul the sails of the "brick fleet," now making ready for service after their winter's lie-up. Mr. John R. Holbrook is repairing the sails of the schooners Hattie Lewis and G. W. Raitt, brickers, and making a storm trysail for the Mary S. Hontvet, fisherman. T. S. Gay & Co. are repairing the sails of a Gloucester fishing schooner.

The schooner Lucy, belonging to Mr. Lemuel B. Caswell, was towed to the marine railway at Kittery on Thursday, inst., to be recalked, refastened and sheathed under the superintendence of Mr. Warren Keen.

The Social Club gave another of their popular dances in Mechanics' hall on Thursday evening last, when a large party enjoyed themselves until a late hour in dancing to the music of Harlow's quadrille band. The last assembly of the series will take place on Thursday evening, Feb. 16th.

There will be gospel meetings at Bow Mission hall on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings of this week, commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

The annual entertainment and benfit of Mr. John Smith, the bill-poster, will be held in the south wardroom on Tuesday evening of next week. The numerous friends of Mr. Smith are all invited to be present, regardless of color.

Dr. M. F. Wentworth, of Kittery, has recently purchased of Mr. Geo. Young, of Saco, a valuable colt.

At the probate court in Saco, Feb. 7th, among the wills proved was that of Hannah S. Perry of Kittery. Administration was granted on the estates of Sarah H. Emery and George W. Fernald of Eliot, James Donnell of York, and Christopher Kimball of Wells. Among the wills presented for probate were those of Gilman Junkins of Eliot and Betsey Emery of Wells. In the estate of Daniel Frisbee of Kittery a warrant of insolvency was ordered to be issue.

Hon. Nathaniel G. Marshall lies very sick, at his residence in York, with Bright's disease of the kidneys.

TO MEMBERS OF OSGOOD LODGE, NO. 48, I. O. O. F.

The members of Osgood Lodge residing in Rye, have kindly invited the brothers belonging to the Lodge, and living in this city and vicinity, to a social entertainment at the Town hall in Rye, this (Friday) evening, and the invitation has been accepted. The committee will furnish tickets, which are not transferable, to members of Osgood Lodge only, and no person will be admitted as part of the delegation from this lodge without a ticket.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a crazy or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

Books, Magazines, Etc

"The American Journal of Medical Sciences," edited by I. M. Hayes, A. M., M. D.; published by Henry C. Lea's Son & Co., of Philadelphia, and also in London and Paris, is a standard quarterly medical publication which no well read physician who keeps abreast of the progress in his profession, thinks of being without. The January number is replete with interesting communications upon cases which have been treated by able practitioners; and reviews of technical publications in this country and Europe. Its three hundred pages abound in professional information collected under the direction of competent editorship, which gives to the practitioner the benefit of the experience and observation of the physicians and surgeons of the world. The Journal is sent to subscribers, free of postage, for five dollars a year.

"American Men of Letters:" edited by Charles Dudley Warner. The second of this series of biographies of distinguished American authors, is Noah Webster, by Horace E. Scudder. In this biography we have accounts of the early life of the Connecticut lexicographer, who was born in East Hartford in 1758. We are told of his struggles in obtaining an education with the few books to be had during the Revolutionary war, and his great work of compiling a comprehensive dictionary of our language, a book to which perhaps more frequent reference is made than to any other printed in the country. Mr. Webster was engaged in the revision of his dictionary when he died in his eighty-fifth year, in 1843. The book has three hundred pages, with a well arranged index. A letter written by the Connecticut Webster to his namesake Daniel in 1826, shortly before the latter went to the U. S. Senate, concerning property in the writings of authors, and the reply thereto, are found in these pages. Boston; published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price $1.25. Sold by G. W. Myers, Congress street. Among the volumes of the series in preparation will be the biographies of Nathaniel Hawthorne, by J. R. Lowell; N. P. Willis, by Thos. Bailey Aldrich; H. D. Thoreau, by Frank B. Sanborn; J. Fenimore Cooper, by Prof. T. R. Lounsbury, and Wm. Gilmore Simms, by George W. Cable, with others to be hereafter announced.

A correspondent asks us the meaning of the phrase, "the court sitting in bane," so frequently used in the Guiteau case of late. It means the full bench of the District of Columbia court. Judge Cox tried the case at nisi prius, to determine the facts. Now comes the full bench—"bane" was the old English common-law word for bench—to review and decide the questions of law that were raised during the progress of the trial. The men who compose the full bench of the district court are Judges Wylie, Carter, MacArthur, Humphreys and Hayner.—Boston Traveller.

"I move," said a delegate in a Virginia convention, "that our chairman take a dose of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, he is so hoarse that I cannot understand him." That gentleman had no doubt tried this wonderful medicine.

Elisha Marcy of Holland, Mass., the oldest inhabitant of the town, died Tuesday, Feb. 7th, aged 100 years.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

Joseph Edwards, who shot and killed Allen Green on the street in St. Louis, Mo., on account of a woman quarrel in September, 1881, has been sentenced to imprisonment for life.

Have you Ever

Known any person to be seriously ill, without a weak stomach or inactive liver or kidneys? And when these organs are in good condition do you not find their possessor enjoying good health? Parker's Ginger Tonic regulates these slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

At Washington, D. C., Feb. 8th, two colored children were burned to death in a house where they had been locked in a room by their mother, Harriet Simms.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from these slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

A counterfeit silver dollar bearing date 1843, has been discovered in Chicago. It is the most dangerous counterfeit dollar known, and is supposed to be made in central Illinois.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this favorite remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—S. S. CROOKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. D. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—O. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Co.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LAWRIE, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago, and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Dryden, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. HOPPER, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and charged five, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. The fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. RILEY B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in local sites whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is candid to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—La den Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

STRONG FACTS!

A great many people are asking what particular troubles BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is good for.

It will cure Heart Disease, Paralysis, Dropsy, Kidney Disease, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, and all similar diseases.

Its wonderful curative power is simply because it purifies and enriches the blood, thus beginning at the foundation, and by building up the system, drives out all disease.

A Lady Cured of Rheumatism.

Baltimore, Md., May 7, 1880.
My health was much shattered by Rheumatism when I commenced taking Brown's Iron Bitters, and I scarcely had strength enough to attend to my daily household duties. I am now using the third bottle and I am regaining strength daily, and I cheerfully recommend it to all.
I cannot say too much in praise of it. MRS. MARY E. BRASHEAR, 173 Prestman st.

Kidney Disease Cured.

Christiansburg, Va., 1881.
Suffering from kidney disease, from which I could get no relief, I tried Brown's Iron Bitters, which cured me completely. A child of mine, recovering from scarlet fever, had no appetite and did not seem to be able to eat at all. I gave him Iron Bitters with the happiest results.
J. KYLE MONTAGUE.

Heart Disease.

Vine St., Harrisburg, Pa. Dec. 2, 1881.
After trying different physicians and many remedies for palpitation of the heart without receiving any benefit, I was advised to try Brown's Iron Bitters. I have used two bottles and never found anything that gave me so much relief.
MRS. JENNIE HESS.

For the peculiar troubles to which ladies are subject, BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is invaluable. Try it.

Be sure and get the Genuine.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

J. S. Schoon, a Davenport, Ia., dancing master, while on his way out of town Wednesday night, Feb. 8th, to fill an engagement, was stopped by two highwaymen who demanded his money. He said he had none. They then fired two shots, killing him instantly. The crime was witnessed by a lad from the top of a neighboring hill.

In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvelous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and operation, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its healing effects, and will always cure where cures are possible.

For sale by all druggists.

The many admirers of Madame Christine Nilsson will be grieved to hear of the great misfortune which has befallen her. Her husband, M. Auguste Rouzaud, has been so affected by the financial excitement of the past few weeks in Paris, that it has been found necessary to remove him to a private insane asylum.

Wm. E. Tibbetts, janitor of the city hall in Burlington, N. Y., was found dead in bed on the 8th inst., from apoplexy.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Judge Davis of Gloucester, Mass., has rendered a verdict in the case of John Nelson, who was found dead on the railroad track in that town on the 30th of January, as follows: "That said John Nelson came to his death by being struck by a train on the Rockport branch of the Eastern railroad, near the stone bridge, between the hours of five and 9:30 o'clock P. M. on said 30th day of January, he being intoxicated at the time, and that no blame can be attached to said Eastern railroad or any of its employes."

One of my friends from the south, said Mrs. Dr. A. A. Jordan, 51 Lincoln street, Worcester, Mass., spoke to me very highly of St. Jacobs Oil. I resolved to try it on my patients, and I must confess that I was surprised at the results. It has never failed to cure all that it claims to, and I prescribe it willingly and confidently to those of my patients who suffer with rheumatism, sprains and all bodily pains. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and I can highly recommend it.

Mrs. Benjamin Chadbourne committed suicide by taking poison in St. Albans, Me., Feb. 7th. She was the wife and mother of the convicted murderers of Alvin T. Watson, who was killed in Parkman last June. She died without revealing anything regarding the murder, though she is supposed to have been an accomplice.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

Considerable indignation is felt at Vineyard Haven at the action of the representatives of the national government in sending to that place on the 4th inst. a tent, to be used as a pest-house for small-pox patients. The people say there is manifest incompetency somewhere, and ridicule the idea of a tent in winter for sick people.

T. DeWitt Talmage says in his third sermon on "Night Side of City Life," that every day in christendom $80,000,000 change hands through gambling, but he does not mention the important fact that thousands upon thousands of people die annually from coughs and colds, that might be saved to earth by the timely use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

By a collision of freight trains at Huntington, Pa., Feb. 9th, an engineer, conductor and brakeman were killed.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

A boiler in the Kirkham mill at Doctortown, Ga., exploded last Thursday, killing David Mitchell, and badly scalding six others.

One voice all over the land goes up from mothers, that says, "My daughters are so feeble and sad, with no strength, all out of breath and life at the least exertion. What can we do for them?" The answer is simple and full of hope. One to four weeks use of Hop Bitters will make them healthy, rosy, sprightly, and cheerful.

The boring at the Jersey City end of the Hudson river tunnel has been carried 800 feet from the shaft.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

By a recent explosion of dynamite at Port Vendres, France, sixteen workmen were killed.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

SECURES PATENTS in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Copies of the claims of any Patent, furnished by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington. No agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 12, 1879.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in spite of them, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for Infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The nomination of Hon. Wm. L. Putnam by Gov. Plaisted of Maine, to fill the vacancy which will be created on April 23d by the expiration of Judge Libby's term, has been unanimously rejected by the executive council.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

Shooting Affray.

In Washington, between nine and ten o'clock in the evening on the 9th inst., there was a shooting affray in the room of the night editor of the National Republican, in which one man was fatally hurt. The editor, Clarence Barton, was called upon by A. M. Soteldo, clerk of the senate committee on railroads, and Charles Soteldo, his younger brother, relative to some personal attacks recently made upon A. M. Soteldo in the Republican; firing quickly began, and when it was over Mr. Barton was found to be slightly wounded in the neck and left breast, and A. M. Soteldo fatally shot in the neck. The accounts given by young Soteldo and Mr Barton as to the commencement of the affair are contradictory, but it appears likely that the visitors began the shooting.

A despatch from Washington, on the afternoon of the 10th, says Soteldo died at noon. The brothers had been drinking heavily on the day of the fight, and tried to shoot Barton earlier in the day, but were prevented by their friends; both were big men, and Barton's fight was a desperate one. Charles Soteldo, who is in jail, is much bruised about the head by blows from Barton's revolver; three chambers of Soteldo's revolver were empty when he was arrested.

Quick Transit.

Austin Culm, a New Hampshire man who astonishes the New Yorkers by some of his projects and can eloquently demonstrate the feasibility of any investment he seeks to have made, proposes to have a line of steamers carrying passengers only, to ply between Fort-pond bay, about ten miles west of Montauk point on the east end of Long Island, and Milford Haven on the south coast of Wales, a distance of 2,780 miles, the steamers to make a run of 500 miles each day and to achieve a passage in five days.

The harbors are deep, and no delays will be incurred on account of tide, as is the case in New York. Electric lights will glimmer through the fogs to point the way into the harbors, and a higher rate of passage money will be paid for the speedier carriage of passengers. Every attention will be paid to safety and speed.

Last year thirty-five thousand first-class passengers went over the Atlantic in steamers; the year before, twenty-nine thousand went; and the expectation is that a semi-weekly line will pay at the start, to be increased to a daily service. Passengers will be conveyed from New York to the point of embarkation by rail. In the meantime Congress will be asked to appropriate a trifle to pay for carriage of fast mails under the American flag. The ships proposed are to be built with air-tight compartments, and safe beyond everything yet floated.

Naval Affairs.

A board of naval officers, with Rear Admiral John Rodgers as president, met at the navy department in Washington on the 10th inst. to consider the question whether the government interests will be impaired by the construction of a railroad bridge across the Thames river at New London, Conn.

It was reported from Washington on the 9th that "The senate committee on naval affairs have decided to report adversely on the nomination of Pay-director Watmough to be paymaster general of the navy, unless the president upon being apprised of this determination shall prefer to withdraw the nomination."

A bill which passed the house of representatives last month has been reported by the naval committee of the senate, for the relief of Capt. William D. Whiting, U. S. N. The bill proposes to place Capt. Whiting on the retired list with the rank and pay of a commodore, the same as if he had been promoted to that grade before his retirement. There should be —and perhaps are—strong reasons for such special legislation.

In the executive session of the senate, on the 8th inst., the nomination of Naval Constructor Theodore D. Wilson to be chief of the bureau of construction of the navy department was reported favorably from the committee on naval affairs. Some opposition to confirmation was manifested on the ground that Constructor Wilson's nomination for that position promoted him over other officers who are above him in rank—a very puerile objection, if he is the man best fitted for the position. No action was taken on the nomination.

The Alliance, Comdr. Wadleigh commanding, after a delay of two months at Boston for repairs, sailed for Norfolk, Va., Feb. 9th.

New Hampshire Items.

The mayor of Dover in a published card says that there may have been one case of small-pox in that city, although it is extremely doubtful.

The operators of the granite quarry at West Concord have found it impossible to supply the manufacturers with stone as fast as needed this winter, so great has been the demand and so scarce have they found help to be.

Dr. S. P. French of Richmond was found dead in his sleigh Tuesday, Feb. 7th, while attending to the duties of his profession. Aged about fifty years.

The state normal school, for a spring term of twenty weeks, opened with an increased attendance of seventeen. Fifteen will graduate in a two years' course.

The contemplated trip of the New Hampshire club to Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va., has been postponed for a few weeks, to accommodate several members who cannot leave at present.

A woman slipped and fell on the sidewalk in Dover, Feb. 8th, and broke her right thigh. In reporting the accident the Democrat says: "Her name we have not been able to find out, but we dare say that the city authorities will not have to wait long to learn all about it."

There will be no meeting of the Reform club at the usual place, Sunday evening, the members having been invited to attend the lecture at the Freewill Baptist church.

News and Notes.

Justice Miller of the United States supreme court has granted a writ of error in the case of Charles F. Kring, sentenced to be hung Feb. 24th, by the supreme court of Missouri. The case will come up in the United States court in October. Kring was convicted of the murder of Dora Broenser in January, 1875, and this is his fifth trial.

Joseph P. Hogue of Newark, N. J., a well-known broker, was arrested Feb. 9th on two indictments found by the United States grand jury for conspiracy with Henry B. Marchbank, corresponding clerk of the Mechanics' national bank, to defraud the bank out of $15,000, and for aiding and abetting Marchbank in abstracting the funds of the bank.

A Durango despatch says: "For some time past Durango has been flooded with counterfeit standard dollars. On Tuesday evening, the 7th inst., the sheriff captured Jim Bush, a former member of the notorious Allison gang, Jack McIntosh, W. F. Everetts, a prominent merchant, and two gamblers, together with their moulds and stolen bullion, from which the bogus money was made."

Mr. Stillman, the correspondent in Turkey of the London Times, has been murdered by a party of Arnauts near Ipek, in Albania. The British foreign officer is investigating the outrage.

A warrant has been issued in London for the arrest of the Marquis of Huntley, for obtaining £2418 from Benjamin Nicholson under false pretenses. The swindling "nobleman" long ago fled from England.

How an Eastport Mariner anchors his Craft.

During last Friday's gale the rudder of the ferryboat which runs between Eastport and Lubec was broken, and the skipper with two passengers had a rough time and a narrow escape from drowning. Failing in an attempt to steer his boat with an oar, the skipper ran forward, catching hold of the first piece of rope he could get hold of,—which proved to be the halyards,—made it fast to the anchor and threw it overboard, the boat then being in the strong tide that runs through the narrows. No sooner did the anchor take hold on the bottom, than the boat, being anchored from the mast head, capsized, filled and sank, the occupants clinging to the mast until they were rescued from their perilous position by a boat from the shore.—Portland Advertiser.

—A western editor received a letter from a subscriber asking to publish a cure for apple tree worms. He replied that he could not suggest a cure until he knew what ailed the worms.

—A lady purchased a nice new door mat the other morning with the word "welcome" stamped thereon in glowing letters, and the first man that came and planted his number elevens on it was a tramp.

—"Do you pretend to have as good a judgment as I have?" exclaimed an enraged husband to his wife. "Well, no," she said, slowly, "our choice of partners for life shows that my judgment is not to be compared with yours."

—A Parisian advertised for a serving man, and next day appeared a stout person of grave air wearing enormous blue spectacles. "Have you weak eyes?" said our friend. "No, sir," said the applicant, "but I scour pots and things so thoroughly that the glitter of them hurt my sight."

—"How dare you appear before me in such a condition, sir?" she exclaimed. "It's æsthetic," he replied. "What do you mean, sir?" asked the wife. "You gave a little blow-out that you said was a very consummate affair?" "I did," she replied; "but what has that to do with your drunken orgies?" "Well," said the man, "I've been having a little toot, too."

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skilful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dishpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up, said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cure). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. WASHINGTON, D. C.
Feb. 11, 1:30 A. M.

Probabilities for New England:—

Fair weather, northwesterly winds becoming variable, stationary or lower temperature, higher pressure.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, registered 2) degrees above zero.

Sky clear.

THE RUSSELL ALLEY MATTER.

The debate on the obstruction of Russell alley by the Eastern railroad, in the board of aldermen at their last meeting, was quite interesting.

Ald. Martin moved that the street commissioner be directed to remove the obstruction created by the railroad, and to make a proper crossing.

Ald. Caswell moved that the railroad be ordered to remove the wall, and that the street commissioner be instructed to see the order obeyed.

Ald. Noyes suggested that if the street commissioner attempted to remove the obstructions, it would take all the police force to back him, and perhaps more. He instanced the putting down of tracks at the Vaughan street crossing by the railroad, in defiance of law and of the special instructions of the city councils to the mayor to prevent the tracks being laid. The tracks were put down one Sunday, and have remained down ever since.

Mayor Sise said if he was ordered to remove the obstructions by the board, he could get force enough; if the city could not furnish it, the state would. There was no trouble in that direction.

Ald. Stavers moved that the committee on streets confer with the abutters on the alley, to see what they desire should be done in the premises.

Ald. Martin said the alley does not belong to the abutters, but to the public—it is a public highway, and not an abutters' highway.

Ald. Stavers said the alley had not been used for years, and it would be better for the city to have it stopped up; it could be opened when necessary.

Ald. Noyes questioned the ability to open the street when necessary, if it was once allowed to be shut up by the railroad—once shut, it would stay shut. The Vaughan street crossing was frequently obstructed, and the city could not stop it.

The mayor said he had endeavored to do his duty in all these matters. The new street through the Raynes shipyard was forced upon the city by the Eastern railroad. They came here with paid attorneys, as he understood, and beat the city, and the road had to be built.

Ald. Martin said he cared nothing about this particular encroachment, but the Eastern railroad was continually encroaching.

Ald. Caswell enquired if the Eastern railroad asked permission to block up the alley, to which a negative answer was returned.

The mayor said it was high time that the reporters and scribblers for the papers here learned to report things correctly; that he had been greatly misrepresented by them, and very much annoyed, and it was high time it was stopped. [As it is a recognized article of faith that "present company is always excepted" from the application of general remarks, and the reporters of the Times and this paper were present, it appears that the Journal editor must be the "scribbler" whose writings have proved so distasteful to the mayor.]

An order was finally passed directing that the street commissioner remove the bank wall built by the railroad, and make a suitable plank walk.

CORPORATION MEETINGS.

The Wheeler Combination Metal company organized in this city on Thursday. The object for which the corporation was established is to make and sell, and to license others to make and sell within the United States, agricultural implements, spikes, bolts, nuts, rivets, hoops, bands, cotton ties, shafting, nails, tacks, screws, dies, cutlery, tools, etc., under the process patented by Elbridge Wheeler of Philadelphia for his combined iron and steel bar, metal bars and working malleable metals, etc., inventions which have attracted the attention of many eminent mechanical experts, and which are of acknowledged importance in iron work. The company starts with a capital of $500,000. The directors chosen were Edbridge Wheeler, Esq., of Philadelphia, (subsequently elected president of the company,) Robert H. Libby, Charles E. Parker, James E. Stone and Ware B. Gay. The company's office is at No. 30 Kilby street, Boston.

The stockholders of the Avery Lactate Co. held their annual meeting in this city on Thursday, Charles H. Waters, Esq., of Boston, president of the company, occupying the chair. The directors chosen were Messrs. C. H. Waters, Thomas S. Nowell, Charles F. Fairbanks and Gardner Prouty. Francis Tuckerman, Esq., was re-elected treasurer.

A GOOD THING.

"Notice to mariners" is given that the second class can buoy marking the location of Kitt's rock, half a mile outside of Whalesback, is to be removed, and a bell-buoy put in its place. This will be an improvement of great value to vessels making for this harbor in thick and stormy weather, when the Whalesback foghorn can be heard but a short distance to windward.

EASTERN TELEGRAPH CO.

The New Hampshire legislature last summer granted a charter to a new joint-stock company known as the Eastern Telegraph company. This company proposes to connect every town of any importance in the state with their wires. On Thursday, the 9th inst., the corporators held their first meeting, at the American house in Dover. The necessary amount of stock was subscribed, and operations are to commence at once. The following officers of the company were elected:

Directors—Fred. Robie, Gorham, Me., (chairman;) Fred. E. Richards, Rockport, Me.; A. F. Crockett, Rockland, Me.; A. H. Young, Dover; David H. Buffum, Great Falls; Dennis J. Hearn, Boston; Daniel S. Robeson, Boston.

Treasurer—E. H. Darling, Boston.

Clerk—Charles S. McLane, Dover.

General Manager—D. J. Hearn, Boston.

Hon. John H. Burns, of Wilton, has been secured by the Grand Army of the Republic to deliver the oration in this city on Memorial day.

The Boston papers of Friday said: "Hon. Frank Jones of Portsmouth, N. H., and another gentleman, were thrown from a sleigh in Congress street yesterday, and badly shaken up, but not much injured. The horse ran away, and the sleigh was considerably damaged."

The Willie Edouin "Sparks" will present the musical extravaganza "Dreams, or Fun in a Photograph Gallery," at Music hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 16th. The company is a talented one, and the piece is said to be far the most amusing one of its class.

Two Boston tugboats, the Leader and C. M. Winch, were lying at steamboat wharf on Friday, having arrived the evening before.

John E. Rider, Esq., of this city, has been appointed supply agent of the Mexican railroad, and is to assume the duties April 1st. The road has a capital of over fifty millions of dollars, and is now employing some ten thousand men in its construction.—Journal.

John Newick of Syracuse, N. Y., has taken the place of brewer for the Eldredge Brewing Co., made vacant by the resignation of Alexander Robinson.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's minstrels will appear in Music hall on Friday evening, Feb. 17th. They will have a full house, as they are confessedly the best minstrel company in existence.

Mr. S. W. Wallace has been elected second lieutenant of Co. C, New Hampshire national guard.

Mr. Editor: It is stated that by a singular coincidence the friends and admirers of a prominent candidate for the United States senate are hard at work in favor of one line of telegraph, to prevent a healthful competitive business in Portsmouth. It may be that when the caucus comes off by-and-bye it will be found that they have unwittingly placed the senatorial foot in the wrong spot.

PROGRESS.

The snowstorm of Thursday night and Friday covered up all the bare spots in the roads, and the sleighing is now very good when you once get down deep enough to find it.

The annual entertainment and benefit of Mr. John Smith, the bill-poster, will be held in the south wardroom on Monday evening next, instead of Tuesday evening as previously announced, the original date having been changed.

Revival meetings have been commenced in the Christian church at Beech ridge, York.

It may interest our readers in York county to know that Mrs. Reed, wife of their representative in Congress, "received" at the Hamilton house in Washington recently. The lady readers are informed that Mrs. Reed "wore black satin with lace and tulle at the throat."

Albert Hanscom, a native of Eliot, aged sixty years, died in New York city on the 1st inst. He was formerly assistant collector of customs in Boston, and subsequently for many years, until his death, held a responsible position in the New York custom house.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The members of Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., are hereby notified to meet at Odd Fellows hall, on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 12th, at half-past two o'clock, for the purpose of attending the funeral of our late Bro. Wallace W. Martin. Dark clothes, white gloves,

Per order of the N. G.,

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

A freight train was derailed last Thursday near Eagle Tunnel, Ky., and the engineer killed.

Castoria.

For sour stomach, constipation, and fretfulness of children. Pleasant, safe and cheap. 900 drops; 35 doses, 35 cents.

A large delegation of citizens from southeastern Dakota called on President Arthur on the 10th inst., to urge the removal of Gov. N. G. Ordway.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

In Lawrence, Mass., on the 9th inst., a case of small-pox was discovered in a tenement house.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

The report that Beckwith, the murderer of Vandenhoof, had been arrested, was false.

MESSRS. WHITE & BURDICK, Druggists, Ithaca, N. Y.: I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to relieve all persons suffering with rose cold and hay fever. I have been a sufferer from the same complaints; have had great relief by using the Balm. I have recommended it to many of my friends for catarrh, and in all cases where they have used the Balm freely have been cured. T. KENNEY, Dry Goods Merchant, Ithaca, N. Y. Sept. 6, 1880.

Ely's Cream Balm has cured me of catarrh, of several years standing. I have recovered my sense of taste and smell by its use, and can truthfully say that the Balm has no equal as a cure for this terrible disease. FRANK C. OGDEN, Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 14, 1879. See adv't.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan82

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford time and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Western Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Sci-Med Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—La Ami Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sent by mail, securely sealed and post-paid, to all parts of the world, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address

A Foiled Book Agent.

A young man with a large book under his arm and a seven by nine smile on his mug stuck his head into the ticket window at the Union depot, and asked the clerk what was the fare to San Antonio.

"Two dollars and fifteen cents," replied the ticket slinger.

"I'm pining to leave Galveston, but I lack just $2 of the ticket money. However, that shan't part us. I'll make a partial cash payment of fifteen cents, and take the rest out in trade."

"What do you mean by taking it out in trade?"

"I am a book agent, and if you will let me have the ticket I won't try to sell you a book. I won't say book to you once. This is the most liberal and advantageous offer ever made to the public, and you ought to take advantage of it. I have been known to talk a sane man so completely out of his senses in fifteen minutes that he wasn't even fit to send to the legislature afterward."

"What book have you got?" asked the ticket agent.

A beaming smile came over the book agent's face, and in a singing voice, he began:

"I am offering in seventeen volumes, 'Dr. Whiffletree's Observations in Palestine,' a book that comprises the views of the intelligent doctor on what he saw in the Holy Land, with numerous speculations and theories on what he did not see. Although forming a complete library of deep research, pure theology and chaste imagery, I am now offering this invaluable encyclopædia for the unprecedentedly low price of $2 a volume, which is really giving it away for nothing——"

After the book agent had kept this up for about ten minutes, he began to grow discouraged, for, instead of showing signs of weakening, the ticket agent, with an ecstatic smile on his face, begged the eloquent man to keep on. The book agent stopped to rest his jaw, when the ticket man reached out his hand and said:

"Shake, old fel! Come inside and take a chair and sing that all over again. That cheers me up like a cocktail. I used to be a book agent myself before I reformed and went into the railroad business, and that is like music to me. It soothes me all over. It calls back hallowed memories of the past, and makes me want to go out on the road again. I would rather pay $20 than have you leave Galveston. You must come around every day. I could listen to that all day, and cry for more."

The book agent shot his book and said: "Some infernal hyena has given me away; but there is another railroad that I can get out of this one-horse town on. I'll not consent to ride on any road that don't employ gentlemen who can treat a cash customer with common politeness. You can't capture my book on any terms, and if you will come out of your cage, I'll punch your head in less time than you can punch a ticket." And he passed out like a beautiful dream.—Galveston News.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

A pure strengthening tonic, free from whiskey and alcohol, cures dyspepsia, and similar diseases. It has never been equalled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. S. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FOSTER, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—HANNAH Lawrs, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOVER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow my food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat so amazingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. JULIA E. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his fever was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 29, 1880.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried BROWN'S IRON BITTERS as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

ADORAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by Impure blood, and can be Removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier,

SULPHUR BITTERS

Why suffer with Jaundice, Biliousness, Headache? Why suffer with that terrible Headache? Why let your life be made miserable by Dyspepsia and all its attendant ills? Why suffer with Rheumatism? Why let your blood become impure, and your system be racked with pain? Why let your Kidneys become deranged? Why let your Liver become torpid? Why let your Nerves be unstrung? Why let your Blood become thick and sluggish? Why let your Skin become covered with Pimples, Blotches and Eruptions? Why let your Bowels become costive? Why let your Stomach become disordered? A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The following paragraph is going the rounds: "William Miller, the oldest freemason in the United States, died recently at Caldwell, Ohio, aged ninety-eight. He had been a mason eight-one years." Eighty-one from ninety-eight leaves seventeen; mistake somewhere.

What is the Use!

Of buying worthless medicines, and spending money on quack doctors whose only idea is to gull the public. Is it not better to buy a reliable medicine like Sulphur Bitters? I think so, as they cured me of catarrh after suffering three years. —J. P. Clark, Manchester.

News and Notes.

John Parent, a clerk in the employ of F. M. Gove, boot and shoe dealer in Biddeford, has stepped out, after embezzling about $1,000 from his employer. Parent had been in the employ of Mr. Gove for about three years, and has been suspected for several months of pilfering, but has escaped detection until now, when he was caught by marked bills received for goods being found on his person. At first he claimed that it was his first theft, but subsequently admitted that he had taken about $1,000. After his arrest, Mr. Gove, disliking to have him remain at the police station, took him in charge on Thursday, the 9th inst., but allowed him to step out of the store for a few minutes, and nothing has since been seen of him. Parent is twenty-three years of age and claimed to have wealthy relatives in Canada.

In Huntington township, Ont., on the night of Feb. 9th, John Moreland's house was burned, and his wife, step-daughter and three children were burned to death. Two men named Rambough and Hough, stopping there, were seriously and probably fatally burned.

Three hundred Jewish refugees from Russia sailed from Liverpool for New York last Saturday, in the steamship Illinois. A pastoral of the chief rabbi points out that tens of thousands of Jews are likely to flee from Russia, and urges his coreligionists to help them to emigrate to distant and happier lands. He says enormous sums will be required for that purpose.

A man murdered his brother without hindrance at Saxeville, Wis., but immediately encountered a fierce avenger in a big dog. Made ferocious by seeing his master slain, the brute set upon the slayer, biting him, and hanging to him until he was captured.

A friend of the late George Tilton, formerly of Newburyport but who recently shot himself in Chicago, went in search of his body and found it on a student's dissecting table and about to be carved. The body was recovered, and will be interred in Newburyport.

Constable Shumway of Webster, Mass., is in trouble. He received a telegram from a man in Preston, Conn., directing him to arrest the daughter of the sender, who had eloped. He arrested the daughter and her male companion, but it appears that they were married, and they have begun actions against him for $300 each, in the central district court of Worcester.

New Hampshire Items.

Hon. Ossian Ray is one of the most industrious and painstaking member of the national house of representatives that New Hampshire has had in Congress for many years. He will often accomplish a difficult matter, while some of his colempories would be appalled at the impossibility of a similar result. He is a valuable man for the state and country to have in Congress.

The New Hampshire Club met in Boston recently, and chose officers for the coming year. After searching the roll of members, one was found who did not support the prefix of "Hon." or "Col.," and he was elected one of the vice presidents. Having never been on any staff, and having steered clear of legislative and other offices, he was plain Hervey Kent,—an excellent man, who manages the affairs of the Exeter Manufacturing Co., and who requires no titular appendage as a passport to consequence.

The woman who broke her thigh by a fall on the sidewalk in Dover on the 8th inst. was Mrs. Betsey Head, seventy-nine years old, the widow of a sea captain. From her advanced age, it is doubtful if she recovers from the effects of the accident.

In Dover, on the 9th inst., while Mr. Walter Hughes was at dinner in his mother's house on Central street, he heard a noise in the cellar, and proceeding thither found the pet cat of the house engaged in deadly combat with an enormous rat. The fight had evidently been going on for some time, as the combatants were almost exhausted, though still full of courage and determination. The rat had its teeth embedded in the cat's neck, and the cat's claws were firmly fixed in the rat. Mr. Hughes killed the rat by a blow with a stick, and the cat died in less than half an hour from its wounds.

A SLEEPY NASHUA CHAP.

From the Nashua Telegraph we clip the following somewhat confused item:

A Nashua delegate to the Grand Army encampment says the sleepy reporters of that sleepy old town of Portsmouth have a sleepy way of reporting things. They told the world that Commander Merrill, of Massachusetts, Generals Donohue and Patterson, when Merrill was not present, and the two generals did not open their mouths. The principal speeches were made by Lawyer Hackett and the Rev. D. C. Roberts, and mighty good speeches they were too.

We cannot tell from the above what it was that the "sleepy reporters" of this city "told the world" about the gentlemen named; but Commander Merrill was present, for we were introduced to and talked with him, and Generals Donohue and Patterson did "open their mouths" a good many times,—and stow away therein such a large and select assortment of good things as would have served them for a week's rations when "at the front" about twenty years ago.

MATRIMONIAL.

The following, from the Portland (Me.) Press of Friday last, will be of interest to many young ladies in this city, where the bride formerly attended school: "Mr. Lucien Snow and Miss Nellie W. Spring, daughter of Hon. S. E. Spring, were married at the residence of the bride's father, at noon yesterday, by Rev. C. W. Buck, former pastor of Park street church. The bride was in full bridal costume, and the groom in morning dress. There were no groomsmen or bridesmaids. The party of friends present, eighty in number, all signed the marriage certificate after the English fashion. The presents were rich and elegant, but the cards of the donors were not displayed. The happy couple, after the wedding breakfast, left on the 3:30 P. M. Boston & Maine train for Washington, amid a shower of old shoes and rice."

Miss Wilhelmina Schaus, daughter of William Schaus of New York, was married on Thursday, the 9th inst., in the Church of the Transformation in that city, by Rev. Dr. Houghton, the rector, to Edward Parry Kennard of Boston, son of United States Asst. Treasurer Martin Parry Kennard, formerly of this city. The bride entered with the groom, and was met at the altar by her father, who gave her away. As there were no bridesmaids, Miss Schaus, sister of the bride, stood up with her during the ceremony. The bride's costume was white satin, with the front draped with rows of point lace; the basque was brocade satin; the sleeves were of lace and crystal beads; she also were a tulle veil, diamonds and orange blossoms. After the ceremony there was a reception at the house of the bride's father, in East Thirty-eighth street.

During the two days last week that the Grand Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, Department of New Hampshire, was in session in this city, the big eagle that has for many successive winters hung around Peirce's island made his first appearance for this season, showing himself on the first day of the meeting, and disappearing about the time the second day's session was ended.

The entire family of Choate Burnham, Esq., proprietor of the beautiful Burnham farm on Gerrish's island, Kittery, with the exception of Mr. Burnham himself have for some days been seriously (and in one or two instances it was feared fatally) ill with lung disorders, at his home in South Boston; but we are glad to learn that all the patients are now doing well, and that the danger is believed to be over.

The religious journals like to have their little joke. For example, the Christian Register, one of the best of this kind of newspapers, says: "We publish an advertisement of sermon-paper at thirty-five cents a pound. It should be understood that it is a blank sermon-paper; when written upon, it is worth just two and a half cents." It follows, we suppose, that the clergyman who writes heavy sermons can get the most for his wares, in one sense.

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co., a corporation organized in this city some time since, has demonstrated the value of the inventions it possesses by the number of shoes and boots made on its machines during the past year. The company is under the direction of practical and sagacious men, who are increasing its revenue and have shown their capacity for the business they have undertaken. A large portion of the stock is held by cautious and far-seeing gentlemen in Salem, Mass. The stock ranks among the conservative, and not the "fancies," in the market.

The Boston tugs Leader and C. M. Winch, which arrived at this port Thursday evening, left again on Friday night. The Leader was from Boston, having in tow the barkentine Albert Shultz, bound to Boothbay, Me., to load ice for Baltimore; the C. M. Winch was for Boston from Portland, to which place she had taken a tow.

The summary of fish receipts at this port from off-shore grounds for the week ending February 11th, gives twenty-four arrivals, bringing 88,610 pounds of cod and haddock, against twenty-nine vessels the week previous with 83,768 pounds. The shipments to the trade by rail have been the heaviest of the year, it is said, prices generally remaining unchanged; there were no arrivals of halibut, bass or smelts, though the demands from wholesalers have been steady. Fishermen reported the weather at sea extremely boisterous during the entire week, the heavy seas causing considerable damage to fishing gear, and in some instances nearly a total loss of the same.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpan full of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half a foot in the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the cord go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

100 times more effectual than any other plaster or electric battery for pain and weakness of the lungs, liver, kidneys and urinary organs, partial paralysis, rheumatism, neuralgia, hysteria, female weakness, nervous pains and weakness, malaria and fever and ague. Price 25c. Sold everywhere.

Fortunes in Colorado.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the SIX years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

"SANITARY CONDITION OF PORTSMOUTH."

We are able to present to our readers to-day a portion of the practical and plainly spoken address by one of our leading physicians upon the sanitary condition of Portsmouth, given before the Medical society at a recent meeting. The address (which is published at the request of many who have heard of it, besides ourselves) appears just as delivered, without any pruning or retouching. It comes home to every citizen to do his share toward keeping our condition of health, as a locality, where it should be. We bespeak the candid perusal of the paper, the remainder of which will be found in our issue of to-morrow.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, Feb. 11; Batchelder, J.

George Johnson, for drunkenness, was ordered to pay $3 fine, and $6.90 costs. Instead of doing so, he went to the county farm.

John Peer, a regular customer, was ordered to pay the same amount for a like offence. He also declined paying, and though he would like to go to Brentwood, instead of which he went to jail.

DIDN'T GET THERE.

The Rye members of Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., of this city, had a social entertainment in the Rye town hall on Friday evening of last week, to which the members of the lodge residing in Portsmouth were invited. In response to this invitation quite a large number of the members started from this city in big teams early Friday evening, but after getting a short distance found the roads in such condition from the accumulation of snow that they were not likely to reach Rye much before noon on Saturday, if indeed they ever got there, so they were obliged to give up the trip and return to town.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.

A shocking accident took place on the Eastern railroad, Saturday morning shortly after eight o'clock. A number of railroad men left this city on a passenger train, to help shovel out a freight train which was stuck in Hayes' cut, and on arriving at that place one of the party, Mr. Walter L. Chesley, of No. 19 Russell street, Portsmouth, jumped from the train while it was in motion, striking upon a snow-drift which he supposed would yield somewhat to his weight, but which was so hard that he slipped back beneath the train. His right leg was broken below the knee, and the knee joint crushed; his left arm was broken, and he was considerably bruised about the head. The injured leg was amputated in the afternoon, and on Sunday it was reported that he was slowly sinking. Mr. Chesley has a wife and two children.

Saturday evening about seven o'clock, in Somerville, Mass., Fred L. Fetch, nineteen years old, employed by the Eastern railroad as a switchman at the crossing there, was run over by an engine that backed down upon him, and had his right foot cut off, his left hip dislocated, and his right hand injured; he was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital.

BELLA HORRIDA.

Disquieting rumors of probable war, Sunday evening, caused the assembling of several hundred anxious citizens at the Eastern railroad station. It was reported that a construction gang of the Mutual Union Telegraph Co. was intending to commence work at midnight, setting poles in the street; and if they did, the whole gang would be instantly arrested, — hung to their own poles, some excited people asserted. Color was given to these rumors by the appearance in the vicinity of the station of the city marshal, all the regular police and ever-so-many of the specials, all gorgeous in full uniforms and badges, while the street commissioner and his gang skirmished around on the outskirts.

On the arrival from Boston of the Pullman train, about nine o'clock, twenty men quietly disembarked on the "off side" of the cars, with all the required tools, and marched away in single file to Green street, where the tools were deposited near a freight car on which were loaded fourteen rough telegraph poles, said car having been set off from a freight train at twenty minutes past eight. Whatever may have been the intent of the invaders, they were appalled by the menacing front presented by the municipal army, and shortly went to the Gibson house to supper, soon afterward going to bed, under the protection of a stalwart policeman who carefully guarded their slumbers from the opposite side of the street.

It is asserted that the leader of the construction gang, on being interviewed by the marshal, said there was no intention to commence work before a reasonable hour in the morning; however this may have been, all was quiet at midnight, the only indication of war being the measured tramp of the municipal warriors as with stern faces they patrolled the streets in squads of two or three.

The most shocking report of the evening was that the raid was organized for the sole purpose of removing a big tea-chest post from in front of the store of an alderman who opposed granting the request of the Mutual Union company, and the substitution therefor of a telegraph pole; but this suspicion is too harrowing to gain any credence from us.

BEAUTIFUL SNOW.

A gentleman who undertook to have a sleigh-ride in the direction of Rye and Greenland, Saturday, informs us that he does not remember ever to have seen the suburban roads so encumbered with snow, the drifts in many places being higher than the walls on either side; the snow of Thursday night and Friday filled in the narrow pathways that had been cut through the previous accumulations, making ordinary travel out of the question in many places, and heavy ox-teams and men were engaged in "breaking out" at various points. Though Friday's snowfall was but a light one, compared to the big fall of Sunday, the 5th inst., it did about as much blocking up, the previous fall having taken up all the spare room there was, and some over.

On the railroads the result was similar, the snow of Friday drifting into and in many places filling the narrow cuts previously made, and causing considerable delay to trains. Two regular freight trains laid over in this city, Friday night, and one got stuck in Hayes' cut, near the Plains. The Pullman train from the eastward was about four hours late in leaving this city, Saturday morning. Later in the day the trains were running nearly on time.

THE LIFE-SAVING SERVICE.

Senator Conger, from the committee of commerce last week reported to the national senate his bill to promote the efficiency of the life-saving service. The bill provides for the establishment of a number of additional stations, one of which is to be at this harbor; authorizes the secretary of the treasury to fix the compensation of keepers of stations not exceeding $800 per annum; provides that keepers and members of crews becoming disabled in the service may be continued on the rolls for two years; and further provides that the widows and children of men who may die from injuries received in the service shall receive the pay of the husband or father for two years after his death.

If the success of a piece may be measured by the unmistakable enjoyment of an audience, "Fun in a Photograph Gallery" last night leaped at a bound into a popular favor. On the programme it is called "a two-act conceit by Nat Childs and Willie Edouin," and from beginning to end it bristles with the drollest of nonsense, that makes the people laugh in spite of themselves. —N. Y. Herald.

At Music hall Thursday evening.

Wallace Hackett, Esq., arrived at San Francisco on Saturday last, having left this city on Saturday, the 4th inst., for a short visit to California.

A prominent hotel man from Boston has been in town for several days, as the guest of the proprietor of the Rockingham and Wentworth hotels.

Mrs Stackpole, a soprano singer from Boston, sang in the choir of the Unitarian church on Sunday. Her singing was greatly admired by those in attendance.

Dr. J. F. Speck, who is connected with the Wilmington Every Evening, speaks rather enthusiastically of St. Jacobs Oil. Dr. Speck states that he uses the Oil in his family as a household remedy, a sort of universal panacea for all aches and pains, and has always found it to act most happily. His attention was called to it by the many testimonials in its favor, and he one day used it upon himself for sore throat. Two applications were sufficient to effect a cure. He also used it on his little girl for sore throat with gratifying success. The same child had scarlet fever this winter which left the tendons of one leg much contracted. The little prattler couldn't walk without assistance and suffered much inconvenience and pain. Several applications of St. Jacobs Oil restored her limb to its normal condition and she has not experienced any trouble since. Dr. Speck states that he has also seen the Oil act charmingly in toothache. He thinks St. Jacobs Oil is a sterling remedy, and does not hesitate to recommend it for rheumatism, etc.

In Chicago, Feb. 10th, George Robinson, an ice man, shot a servant girl, named Mary Bacon, inflicting a mortal wound, and then shot himself dead at her feet. The girl had refused to marry him.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Asst. Naval Constructor John L. Hanscom, attached to the Boston navy yard, has returned to duty, having fully recovered from a recent sickness.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

Commodore O. C. Badger assumes command of the Boston navy yard, Feb. 15th.

T. DeWitt Talmage says in his third sermon on "Night Side of City Life," that every day in christendom $80,000,000 change hands through gambling, but he does not mention the important fact that thousands upon thousands of people die annually from coughs and colds, that might be saved to earth by the timely use of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam.

Capt. James H. Gillis has received orders to command the training ship Minnesota, Feb. 15th, relieving Comdr. H. L. Howison, detached and ordered to special duty.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

A sentinel of the Fusi'eer guards at Berlin, Germany, who recently fired on a crowd of boys who were teasing him, killing two of them, has been declared blameless by the authorities. The liberal press is indignant.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Wells' Health Renewer. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the general functions; $1 at druggists. Depot at J. H. Thacher.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. cod&wtjan22

A GOOD DIVIDEND PAYING INVESTMENT.

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co.

CAPITAL $100,000. 1000 SHARES.
PAR VALUE $100.

Thomas J. Gifford, President;
Aug. J. Archer, Treasurer;
Wallace Hackett, Secretary.

Organized and Incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.

This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.

The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 2,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on these machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increased earnings and dividends will be realized.

Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.

We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.

A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physic an at Fault--Dr, David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Fort Kwen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

THE "LOST CAUSE" REGAINED.

Mr. Editor: The following paragraph from the CHRONICLE, and the comment thereon, I cut from the Times of January 27th, in which paper they were published under the heading "A Lost Cause:"

"Citizen," the terrible fellow of the Times, has stowed away the cowhide which he brandished so frantically during the early part of this week, and "Outsider," the Chronicle's correspondent, once more dares to breathe.—Chronicle.

He did not stow it away until he was satisfied what action the board of aldermen would take. At their meeting held on Thursday evening they refused to allow the company to set poles in the streets of our city. He gained his point, in spite of the labors of the "retained" attorney and all other influences brought to bear. What more could he ask? He did not desire to cowhide cranks, if he could do this. "Outsider" had better lay himself on the shelf for a time.—Times.

Mr. Editor, I climb down from the shelf to demand protection. "Citizen" only put away his cowhide because he had gained his point, so of course, now that his herculean labors have come to naught, (the board of aldermen having voted "to allow the company to set the poles in the streets of our city,") he will lag it out again, and once more terrify the public in general and your correspondent in particular, by the way in which he will make it "swish" through the circumambient atmosphere.

I should not feel so much alarm did I know who the appalling "Citizen" is; but I don't. He may be some seven-footer, with a ferocious moustache and a fighting weight of at least three hundred pounds; indeed, from his readiness to cowhide and destroy people, I have no doubt he is just that sort of a man, while I have no fighting weight at all, being meek and gentle in temper, and a non-resistant. I did at one time think I knew who he was; I suspected that the "Citizen" of the Times and the "attorney" who appeared before the board of aldermen in favor of telegraphic monopoly, were one and the same person, as they used the same arguments and even the same words; but this suspicion was incorrect, for I looked the "attorney" all over when he was before the board, and he had no cowhide about him that I could see, excepting on his feet.

Mr. Editor, you can see what tribulation I am in, and I wish you to urge the board of aldermen to immediately appoint some more policemen, to take care of me. If the new telegraph poles were set, I could possibly get a "shelf" built on top of one, and thereon find refuge from the wrath of "Citizen;" but this refuge is at present not available, so the police must protect me. I can't fight, and won't fight; and if "Citizen" comes after me with his cowhide, rather than have any trouble with him I'll break his neck.

OUTSIDER.

There is reported another war in Afghaniston, which had enjoyed a period of profound peace for nearly six weeks.

Do'st thou love life?—Then do not squander valuable time,—for that is the stuff life is made of;—but procure at once a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for your cough, and be cured. Your druggist keeps it.

A. M. Soteldo, shot on the night of the 9th inst. in a fight in the Republican office at Washington, died at half-past ten o'clock on the 11th.

Experience taught Me!

And my money paid for it. After having liver complaint four years, and spending money on nostrums and doctors who didn't help me, I tried Sulphur Bitters. Six bottles cured me. I shall always use them.—Millwright.

Mrs. James O'Brien of Milton, Vt., gave birth to four children on Tuesday of last week.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and bear in remembrer it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

The London Times announces "on good authority" that the British government has decided to buy up the telephone companies in Great Britain.

Permit no Substitution.

Insist upon obtaining Floreston Cologne. It is pre-eminently superior in permanence and rich delicacy of fragrance.

Lord Ruthven, inheritor of a very ancient Scotch peerage, who served all through the Crimea, is bankrupt through turf losses.

Have you Ever

Known any person to be seriously ill, without a weak stomach or inactive liver or kidneys? And when these organs are in good condition do you not find their possessor enjoying good health? Parker's Ginger Tonic regulates these important organs, makes the blood rich and pure, and strengthens every part of the system. See other column

On the night of the 9th inst., at Brown's mills, Irondale, Ill., six men, working upon some fallen smoke stacks, became senseless from gas, and were taken out nearly suffocated. Two of them are dead and two others cannot recover.

A pure strengthening tonic, free from whiskey and alcohol, cures dyspepsia, and similar diseases. It has never been equalled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. H. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FOACH, Lowndes, Co.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—JASON LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. BOYNE, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine we can procure.—JAS. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow my food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails. Diarrhœa are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

CatarrH

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear, rubbing it thoroughly.

Hay-FeveR

—A fair trial will convince the most skeptical.—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a pack age. Send for circular with full information.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire Items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1880.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried BROWN'S IRON BITTERS as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

ANDRAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST REMEDY KNOWN

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are willing and use the blood purifier.

SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils, Humors, Rheumatism? Why look like a Scarecrow? Why let your children go scrofulous? Why let your wife suffer with Whites, Irregularities, Weakness? Why let your children suffer with Scrofula, Rickets, Eruptions? Why let your children go barefoot? Why let your children go to school with Rheumatism? Why let your children go to bed with Wetting the Bed? Why let your children go to ruin with Bad Habits? Why let your children go to Drinking Places? Why let your children go to Ruin? Why let your children go to Hell? Why let your children go to Perdition? Why let your children go to Damnation? Why let your children go to the Devil? Why let your children go to Sin? Why let your children go to Shame? Why let your children go to Disgrace? Why let your children go to Misery

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very eble medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

Dr. Boynton, whose name became so well-known to the country during Garfield's sickness, is about to move to Ellsworth, Kansas, and go into the sheep business.

An effective medicine for kidney diseases, low fevers and nervous prostration, and well worthy of a trial, is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, FEB. 14. 1882.

The White Mountains.

Henry W. Ripley, of Portland, intends to publish early in June a history of the White Mountains. The work will embrace the recital by Mr. Ethan Allen Crawford, which gives a history from the first settlement of this now far-famed region of the upper Coos and Pequaket, down to 1846; thence it will be continued by Mr. Ripley, who was born in sight of the mountains, and for five and forty years has been constantly among these hills every season, traversing every known and many unknown ways, climbing summits, and plodding through untrodden paths, in dark valleys. The book will be enriched by personal collections of incidents made by the author within the period above stated, together making a volume of five hundred pages. This is not to be a guide book, but a historical recital of events of interest concerning the mountain region, and the work will doubtless be eagerly sought for by visitors to the mountains from every part of the country.

Naval Affairs.

The flag ship Tennessee arrived at Hampton roads on the 11th inst., from New York.

Secretary Hunt has rescinded his recent order providing that officers shall receive sea pay only when actually performing sea duty.

Nine cadets who have been found deficient in their studies by the academic board at Annapolis, have been recommended for dismissal.

Lieutenant Charles A. Adams has been ordered to the Michigan; Lieutenant J. L. Hunsicker, to the receiving ship Colorado; Master Frank Guertin, to the Independence; and Master J. A. Barker, to the Alarm.

Lieut. Comdr. George E. Ide has been detached from the New York navy yard, and ordered to the Independence.

Lieut. Comdr. J. B. Coghlan is detached from the Independence, and placed on waiting orders.

First Lieut. P. L. C. Murphy, U. S. M. C., has been ordered to report for duty at the marine barracks, League island, Penn., at the expiration of his present leave of absence.

News and Notes.

At the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the New England Mutual Life Insurance company, held in January, the following gentlemen were elected directors: Marshall P. Wilder, George H. Folger, Dwight Foster, Nathaniel J. Bradlee, Percival L. Everett, Charles U. Cotting, Joseph M. Gibbons, Benjamin F. Burgess, Warren Sawyer and Benjamin F. Stevens. The business of the past year has been greater than in any previous year since 1871. The funds of the company have reached $14,500,000, standing in the market at a valuation of $1,450,000 over the cost on the company's ledger. The surplus to be distributed the present year to policy-holders is $550,000.

The autopsy on the body of A. M. Soteldo was held in Washington on the 12th inst. After the bullet had been extracted its weight was ascertained to be eighty-seven grains. The bullet that wounded Mr. Barton was also weighed, and found to correspond with the other within half a grain. They are both "Minie" pattern, and evidently came from the same pistol. These facts seem to establish, beyond a doubt, that A. C. Soteldo shot his brother when firing at Mr. Barton.

On the night of Feb. 12th, as a freight train pulled up at Okean station on the Iron Mountain railroad, near Poplar Bluff, Mo., George James, the notorious outlaw, leaped off, went into the station house where a man named Botts was sitting, drew a revolver and shot him dead. James disappeared, and had not been captured at last accounts.

Old Peter Hoffman of Harrison county, Ind., on his death bed confessed to three murders. The first crime was committed in Germany, and to escape punishment Hoffman fled to America. The other two victims were residents of Harrison county. Circumstances fully confirm the story as to the last two murders.

Edward Beacon, formerly of Beaver, Pa., and son of a Methodist minister now dead, has been sentenced to death for murder in Texas. Young Beacon is a graduate of West Point, and was expelled from army service for drunkenness. He has been leader of a Texas outlaws.

AROUND HOME.

The fishing schooner Daniel C. Baker went ashore on the Seavey's island side of the narrows, Saturday afternoon, but was towed off by the steamer Mystic without damage.

It is said that the Western Union Telegraph company and the Telephone company are soon to make application to come into the city on poles. What will some of the residents on Middle street say to that? If one company is allowed to erect poles others cannot be refused.—Times.

The residents on Middle street can make their minds easy. The Western Union is a foreign corporation, and has no rights in this state such as are possessed by the Eastern Telegraph Co., which is chartered by the legislature of New Hampshire.

The fishing schooner Northern Star, Capt. Thomas Jameson, carried away her foremast head on Sunday last, when on Jaffrey's.

Mr. Walter L. Chesley, who was so terribly injured on Saturday at Hayes' cut on the Eastern railroad, was reported on Monday to be more comfortable than could reasonably have been expected, with a possible chance of recovery, though of course only a chance. He is under the care of Dr. Andrew B. Sherburne, who amputated his crushed leg.

The arrivals of fishing vessels on Tuesday, with their fares, were as follows: Schooner Ev. Nichols, 2500 lbs.; Storm King and Grace Choate, 2300 lbs. each: Addie & Hattie, 1300 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 2000 lbs. The fares brought from $4 to $4.12 1-2 per hundred, and were bought bought by Randall and Caswell and the Charter Oak Co.

The schooner Lucy is on the ways at Kittery, being sheathed over, and undergoing other repairs.

Captain Zenas Nickerson of Chatham, Mass., died on the 8th inst., aged eighty or thereabouts. He was one of the pioneer commanders in the New York and Boston line, and was also at one time engaged as captain of a vessel running from New York to this city.

Rev. Ithamar W. Beard, rector of St. Thomas' church, Dover, officiated at St. John's church in this city last Sunday.

Rev. Lot L. Harmon, formerly pastor of the Freewill Baptist church in this city, and afterward for some years settled in Hampton, was in Portsmouth last week on business, and was cordially greeted by his former parishioners and other friends. He is now settled over a flourishing parish in Philadelphia.

Mr. Augustus M. Wells is to occupy the grocery store on Christian shore recently vacated by Wm. H. Canty.

Landlord Grant, of the Gibson house, feels mightily stuck up since the city put a sentry in front of his residence. He says that's just the way the queen of England is treated.

Miss Emma Bean, sister of Mr. Henry Bean, a well known farmer of Newington, who has been paying a visit to her relatives and friends in her native town, leaves for Napa, California, where she resides, on Wednesday, the 15th inst.

Mr. George A. Perkins last week finished harvesting the first crop of ice from the pond at the foot of Peverly hill, and is now waiting for the second crop, the prospect for which is not very flattering. The first crop yielded about 2000 tons of good ice, fourteen inches thick.

Mr. John Quint, of Newington, received an ugly "hoist" on Saturday of last week while assisting in breaking out the roads, and was lucky to escape without serious injury. He was standing beside the sled, holding on to one of the forward stakes, when the team suddenly started and the stake came out of its socket, letting him fall backward. He is over six feet tall, and quite heavy, and struck upon his back and side with such force as to render him insensible for a time, though he shortly so far recovered as to be able to reach his home, a short distance away, with the assistance of his friends. He was fortunate to get off with no worse harm.

A friend on Monday handed into our office a shaved shingle, (of which none are now-a-days made, the saw having driven the shingle-shave entirely out of use,) which was laid in the year 1799 on the house of Samuel and George C. Brown in Hampton Falls, and remained there until September, 1881, when it was taken off. The shingle is of pine, was laid with six inches to the weather, and after more than a century of service is still sound, the under side being almost as bright as when laid; the exposed portion has been worn somewhat thin by the action of the elements, but even that end is sound.

The graduates of the Newmarket high school last week formed an alumni association, and appointed a committee to make arrangements for a reunion to be held in Newmarket town hall on Friday evening, March 10th.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on the scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed; some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. F. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

190 times more effectual than any other plaster or electric battery for pain and weakness of the lungs, liver, kidneys and urinary organs, partial paralysis, rheumatism, neuralgia, hysteria, female weakness, nervous pains and weaknesses, malaria and fever and ague. Price 25c. Sold everywhere.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountains over 20000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $5.00,—no—assessable. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policyholders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

PEACE, BLESSED PEACE!

Our lovely city is to be spared the ravages of ruthless war, the desperate conflict which for eighteen hours seemed imminent having been indefinitely postponed. On Monday afternoon the mayor and the aldermanic committee on streets had a conference in the mayor's room with the representatives of the Eastern Telegraph Co., which ended to the mutual satisfaction of all concerned; and the route of the line of poles was agreed upon, and the positions of the several poles located. The line was laid out from the bridge at Noble's island down Market street to Mr. J. S. James' flour and grain store, thence by way of the wharves, Ceres street and Penhallow street to the old custom-house, and thence "across lots" to the city building. The poles will be set to-day, the construction gang commencing work at seven o'clock in the morning.

It is evident that somebody played a huge (and to the city a costly) practical joke upon the city rulers, in sending them the information that the invading army of telegraph builders intended to put up the poles in the night, without consulting the authorities. The story was absurd on its face, for the company had patiently sought for weeks to gain the city's permission to put up the poles, without making any attempt to erect them surreptitiously; and to suppose that the company's managers, after the permission asked for had been granted, would undertake to put up the poles in that way, when there was no possible advantage to be gained by it and it would certainly result in rousing public prejudice against the company if nothing more, is simply to suppose the managers wholly destitute of common sense.

The men were sent here from Salem on Sunday evening in order that they might be ready to go to work at seven o'clock Monday morning, at which hour they did go to work on a job laid out for them before they started from Salem. On arriving at the station in this city they deposited their tools where they had before kept them when working near here, went quietly to the Gibson house, where they had previously stopped more than once, and went to sleep as peacefully as on the previous occasions, when their advent did not cause so much stir and when the city did not set a watch to see that they were not disturbed.

The only serious thing about the whole silly business is that the city, already sufficiently burdened with debt, is unnecessarily saddled with another big bill to pay.

BUSINESS CHANGE.

By a notice in another column it will be seen that Mr. Charles W. Gardner has disposed of his job printing office in the CHRONICLE & GAZETTE building to Mr. Richard I. Walden, late foreman and job printer in the office of the Portsmouth Journal. Mr. Walden is an industrious and worthy young man, and Mr. Brewster vouches for him as having "done his work faithfully and well" during the ten years he has been connected with the Journal office, and as meriting abundant success.

Mr. Gardner has accepted the position of secretary of the Prouty Press Co., whose office is at No. 52 Federal street, Boston. We congratulate the company on securing the services of a gentleman of marked industry, and superior intelligence and tact; yet we cannot but regret the severing of business intercourse which, extending over many years, has ever been most pleasant and satisfactory. If Mr. Gardner in his new relations but has the luck we wish him, he will be fully satisfied with it himself.

SQUARED UP.

A few days ago, a gentleman, well known in this community, related to us an incident of honesty and business honor that is worth giving to the public. A number of years ago a hard working, respectable woman with four young children, living at the south end, was suddenly widowed. With the exception of a small house in which she lived, she was penniless. She struggled on bravely, however, from year to year, earning a living for herself and children by laundry work. By and by her house needed painting to preserve it from actual decay. The work was done, and a portion of the bill paid at once; a balance of nineteen dollars was allowed to stand, the widow giving her note for the amount. Years rolled away, and in the course of time her sons and daughters, one after another, became old enough to earn a little for themselves—at least sufficient to clothe them. As they grew older, their earnings increased, and then they each began to put by a trifle every week or month for the purpose of one day being able to cancel the nineteen-dollar-note, which the holder had almost forgotten. A week or two ago one of the daughters of the widow aforesaid called upon the painter who held the bit of paper that contained the promise to pay, and told him that if he would get the note she would give him the amount due on it. The man was entirely taken aback. Here was a poor girl, whose weekly earnings would hardly suffice to keep an ordinary smoker in tobacco, who by the most careful economy on the part of herself and brother, had finally succeeded in getting together, the coveted amount, and now would consider it a favor to discharge the debt. The holder of the note, after consulting with his partner, decided to take but twelve dollars, thus giving the interest and seven dollars of the principal. It was with some degree of reluctance that this generous offer was accepted, but after being assured that a settlement could be made on no other terms, it was agreed to. It seems to us that in these times of peculations and defalcations, such an instance of business integrity is worthy of record.

ANNIVERSARY.

Wednesday evening, Feb. 8th, was one long to be remembered by the members of New Hampshire Lodge, No. 17, I. O. O. F., being their 36th anniversary. The hall was filled to overflowing; the programme of exercises consisted of supper, followed by an amateur drama, "Above the clouds," enacted by seven gentlemen and four ladies, and as amateurs we can confidently say they cannot be excelled; each one fell in to their allotted parts with equal familiarity and ease. The stage in its appointments would have done no discredit to professionals. Following the drama was dancing, the grand march being led by the gentlemen and ladies of the drama. Dancing was continued until the "wee sma'" hours of the morning. Many thanks are due the committee for their untiring efforts, and the members of the New Hampshire Lodge can congratulate themselves on having this, their 36th anniversary, a decided success. VISITOR.

"DREAMS."

Of "Dreams; or, Fun in a Photograph Gallery," which is to be presented at Music hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 16th, by Willie Edouin's Sparks, a New York paper says:

Funny, clever, witty, and, above and beyond all else, pure, it is the best, and a long way the best, of the farcical extravaganzas now all the rage. That its success, under these circumstances, was instantaneous, goes for the saying. For two hours the audience was convulsed with merriment, the flow of innocent, unadulterated fun, from the rising to the final fall of the curtain, being uninterrupted. The first act of the play, entitled "At Home," is a delicious bit of pure comedy. Here John Antonio Binks, a retired farmer aged seventy, and Ruby Binks, his wife, are receiving the congratulations of their children and grandchildren on Christmas eve. There is a suggestion of the "Chimney Corner" and the "Cricket on the Hearth" in the scene in the old couple's parlor, the comic vein being tinged with just enough of sentiment to render it highly effective. As the curtain drops upon the Christmas festivities, the old man falls asleep by the fireside. It is from this incident that the play derives its distinctive title of "Dreams," the second act being descriptive of the old man's visions; the vagaries which flit through his mind as he fancies himself young again, and indulging in fun in a photograph gallery. The rollicking humor, quaint conceit, droll situations, clever character-acting, and fun, fast and furious of this portion of the play, must be seen to be fully appreciated; they are beyond description.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 9, 1882.

To Morse & Ilsley, Agents of the Travelers' Accident Insurance Company: Gentlemen: Enclosed, please find my receipt for $150, paid me by your company for six weeks' loss of time by injury received by being burned by fire. Your company's promptness, and your kindness in settling my claims, show that you are not only willing to take pay for risks, but equally to pay losses.

My advice to all is, to take a policy in the Travelers', and be provided for the day of trouble, for accidents come like a thief in the night—without any warning. The cost is trifling, compared to the benefit in case of loss of time or death by an accident. JOSIAH H. MORRISON.

MESSRS. WHITE & BURDICK, Druggists, Ithaca, N. Y: I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to relieve all persons suffering with rose cold and hay fever. I have been a sufferer from the same complaints; have had great relief by using the Balm. I have recommended it to many of my friends for catarrh, and in all cases where they have used the Balm freely have been cured. T. KENNEY, Dry Goods Merchant, Ithaca, N. Y. Sept. 6, 1880.

Ely's Cream Balm has cured me of catarrh, of several years standing. I have recovered my sense of taste and smell by its use, and can truthfully say that the Balm has no equal as a cure for this terrible disease. FRANK C. OGDEN, Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 14, 1879. See adv't.

Business Change.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 13, 1882.

I HAVE this day disposed of my Job Printing Office, located in the Chronicle Building, to MR. RICHARD I. WALDEN, who has been for a number of years Foreman and Job Printer in the office of the Portsmouth Journal.

Mr. Walden is well known to the public as a careful and skillful printer, and I can conscientiously recommend him to my patrons and to the public generally as a good mechanic and a worthy young man.—As such, I bespeak for him the patronage that has been so generously accorded to me.

The science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thoroughly remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—La Ami Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Humanitarian Phrenologist.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sent by mail, securely sealed and post-paid, to all parts of the world, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address:

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The French Spoliation Claims.

Another bill for the payment of the French spoliation claims has been introduced, making this the thirty-fourth Congress in which this act of justice has been presented. Favorable reports have been made by the score, bills have been passed by the senate and defeated in the house, or else passed in the house to be defeated in the senate, or passed by both houses to be vetoed by democratic presidents. Meanwhile, old Mr. Causten, the agent of a large number of the claimants for half a century, has been removed by death, and probably there is not a single original claimant living, but the claims "still live," a reproach against our government, which solemnly bound itself by treaty to pay them. It may be worth while to make one more attempt to pass a bill for the payment of the French spoliation claims.

New Hampshire Items.

Wm. T. Strout of Manchester held at the time of his death a small policy in the Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York, the accumulations upon which amounted to one-fifth of the sum insured.

Elder John G. Hook of Concord observed the 62d anniversary of his birth last Sunday by conducting services in the school-house where he preached his first sermon forty-two years ago.

Boston and New Hampshire capitalists have bought the Franconia (N. H.) iron property, and will organize a company to develop it.

The Warrior Mower Co., of Little Falls, N. Y., have issued a beautiful illustrated almanac for 1882, containing many items of interest, with a full description of the New Warrior Mower and Randall Harrow, claimed to be the best two agricultural implements in use. Farmers can obtain these almanacs free by sending their names to H. T. Taplin, agent, South Newmarket, N. H.

George Sharp attempted suicide by shooting in Central park, New York, Saturday. He was taken to the Presbyterial hospital, where it is believed that he will die. Letters addressed to Mary Smith, Lynn, Mass., that were found in his possession, show that his act was brought about by desperation over a lover's quarrel with Miss Smith, to whom he was much attached.

Mrs. Lincoln's brother is authority for the statement that she is not so badly in want as has been represented, naving $65,000 in 3 1-2 per cents, in addition to pension. She has, however, long had a hallucination on the subject, and believes herself in want.

U. S. Minister Langston at Hayti advises the state department at Washington that small pox is alarmingly prevalent at Port au Prince. Hundreds have died and hundreds are now sick, and the disease is spreading. So far, it has not spread among the shipping at the port.

There is something soft and tender in the fall of a single snow-flake, but it always reminds us to look after our bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, — our old stand-by in the days of coughs and colds, —for we have always found it reliable.

Mrs. Gensier has been prosecuting Henry Hermann in New York, claiming he was her husband and deserted her. Herman has been discharged, and Mrs. Gensier and a witness are held for perjury.

Miss Lizzie Marcellus, chief equestrienne of Dan Rice's great show, met with a very severe accident at Cadiz, Ohio, on the Fourth of July last. It appears that the lady was executing a most difficult piece of ring horsemanship, when some boys exploded a fire-cracker, causing her horse to leap from the ring and throw her on her head and shoulders, inflicting very severe injuries. It was thought she would be laid up for a long time, but the use of St. Jacobs Oil for two days completely restored her to health and duty.—Chattanooga (Tenn.) Daily Times.

Nellie Tart, inmate of a bagnio in Syracuse, N. Y., was on Saturday fatally shot by her would-be lover, William Teddre. The latter also shot the woman who keeps the house, and then mortally wounded himself.

One voice all over the land goes up from mothers, that says, "My daughters are so feeble and sad, with no strength, all out of tune, no life and life at the least exertion. What can we do for them?" The answer is simple and full of hope. One to four weeks use of Hop Bitters will make them healthy, rosy, sprightly, and cheerful.

No trace has been discovered of Mayor Navin of Adrian, Mich. It is now thought he realized not far from $100,000 on his rascally transaction in bonds.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

James Andrews, who served under the duke of Wellington, is dead at Winslow Mills, Ont., aged 101 years.

A pure strengthening tonic, free from whiskey and alcohol, cures dyspepsia, and similar diseases. It has never been equalled. Brown's Iron Bitters.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—A. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARNUM SWANN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. D. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—HANSON LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in the single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails. Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md., Feb. 12, 1880.

GENTS:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried BROWN'S IRON BITTERS as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

ADORAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Pain in the Back, Headache, Weakness, Poisoned Blood, and Loss of Appetite, when SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you? Why are thousands of people so pale and sickly looking? Why have so many a hacking cough, night sweats, and are fast going to the grave? Why are so many troubled with Nervous Prostration, Sleeplessness, Nervous Headache, Dizziness, Loss of Memory, Sexual Weakness, Impotency, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Coated Tongue, Costiveness, Piles, Kidney Complaints, Gravel, Dropsy, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Tetter, Ringworm, Scaly Skin, Itching Piles, Fever and Ague, Chills and Fever, Malaria, Female Weakness, Irregularities, Leucorrhœa, Whites, Nervous Irritability, Mental Depression, Lack of Energy, Want of Appetite, Loss of Flesh, Hot Flashes, Night Sweats, Cough, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Sore Throat, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Sore Nipples, Sore Breast, Sore Limbs, Sore Back, Sore Feet, Sore Mouth

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The Commonwealth Ins. Co. of Boston has decided to go out of business, and reinsure its risks in other companies. The stockholders will realize par for shares.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

Five trackmen were killed in a tunnel on the Baltimore & Potomac railroad, on the 13th inst. They stepped aside to avoid one train, and were run down by another one.

Stop and Think

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they may do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches out and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—Boston Daily Globe.

Security in Life Insurance.

We call the attention of our readers to the official statement of the Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York for the year ending Dec. 31st, 1881, as published in our columns.

This company, whose assets are given, and a summary of whose transactions and statement of results calls forth alike the admiration and wonder of financiers all over the globe, is managed not only with signal ability in its general business operations, but with scrupulous exactness in details of every description.

What the assured seeks primarily, is the security that the accumulated payments will at some day revert to himself on his heirs, with the enhanced results of fidelity and skill in management. In this company, under the direction of F. S. Winston, Esq., who has no superior in this management in the world, the surplus increases with wonderful growth. A prominent bank examiner recently stated to us that it was not in the large concerns where defalcation and peculation can go undiscovered for a long time, but in the small affairs managed by one individual and overlooked by none. In a company like the Mutual Life of New York, where by reason of its magnitude of operations a large number of clerks are employed, it is impossible that there should be a leak, except it is at once discovered. Its reduced premium rates, its liberality as to surrendered policies, its prompt adjustments, but more than all considerations, its acknowledged stability, the certainty that, unlike the very many attempted substitutes for reliable and enduring assurance, which flourish for a while, and sooner or later perish from sheer exhaustion, its members (for this, it will be borne in mind, is a purely mutual concern, its profits accruing not to shareholders, but to policy-holders,) will receive at the stated time of their endowment policies, or their families will in case of death, the sum stipulated, with such accretions as the best financial elements in the country can aid in accumulating, is the reason why this company leads all others in its magnificent business career.

Some persons always seek the cheapest mode of insurance, as in other outlays. The exception in this case is that it costs no more to insure in this company, admitted even by the officers of competing associations to be the best, than in any other of the sound companies in the United States; while those who flatter themselves that the many hybrid substitutes for legitimate insurance are "cheaper," will sooner or later discover as has been always developed in the history of such transitory schemes, that it is safe only to "get the best."

We are induced to give our unreserved opinion of the character of this company for the reason that a membership for nearly two decades has enabled us to speak advisedly of what we affirm.

News and Notes.

The "Orange County Farmer" is a beautifully printed eight-page paper published at Port Jervis, N. Y., and is especially devoted to the agricultural and horticultural interests of the country. It is filled with valuable articles on the dairy, the field crop, the horse, the orchard and vineyard, and particular attention is devoted to small fruits and their culture. Write for specimen copy.

At Fall River, Mass., 1st Saturday evening, Jacob Fash, a grocer, was counting a pile of $633 in greenbacks, when a kerosene lamp over the desk exploded. He dropped the money to extinguish the flames, when the bills caught fire from the burning oil, and were completely destroyed.

Advices from Peru represent a terrible condition of affairs as existing there, murder and rapine running riot wherever the Chilian forces are not present to maintain order. Peace has been secured between Chili and Bolivia. A riot at Chincha, in which the foreign residents combined to protect their lives and property from plundering Peruvians, resulted in the killing of fifty or sixty foreigners, and the destruction of $8,000,000 worth of property. Chilian troops are to be sent there, and an Italian gunboat has gone there.

The coroner's inquest on the body of A. M. Soteldo, Jr., has rendered the following verdict: "That the said Antonio M. Soteldo, Jr., came to his death between ten and eleven o'clock P. M., Feb. 11th, 1882, at the Providence hospital, in the city of Washington, D. C., from a pistol shot wound in the neck, inflicted with a pistol held in the hand of Augustus C. Soteldo, on the night of Feb. 9th, 1882, at the Republican office in the said city of Washington, D. C."

The trial term of the supreme court for Strafford county began its session at Dover on Tuesday, Judge Blodgett presiding.

The Dover Reform club was organized seven years ago on the 3d of March. The original number of members was thirteen, and four of them have kept their pledge inviolate; they are John W. Place, James Tolmay, William Mellen and Dudley Perkins. The quartette will celebrate their seventh anniversary by a supper.

At an Odd Fellows' Fair recently held in Farmington, two young ladies, Misses Edith H. Jones and Nellie Glidden, competed for a handsome gold watch, the latter capturing the prize by a majority of votes. Saturday afternoon, the 11th inst., Miss Jones' friends surprised her with the present of a handsome gold watch and a twenty dollar gold piece.

At the recent meeting of the stockholders of the Farmington national bank the following were elected a board of directors: John F. Cloutman, John H. Barker, Alonzo Nute, Charles W. Wingate, Jonathan R. Hayes, John Canney, Edwin Wallace. At a subsequent meeting of the board, John F. Cloutman was elected president, John H. Barker vice president, and J. B. Edgerly cashier.

George W. Thayer, of Manchester, the oldest business man in the boot and shoe trade of that city, died on the 13th inst. of heart disease, aged sixty years. Mr. Thayer was a native of Boston, and established himself in business in Manchester in 1844; was prominently identified with all interests of the city; had served in both branches of the city government; represented his ward in the state legislature, and had served as city assessor. He was a prominent odd fellow, and an active member of all the masonic bodies. He leaves a wife, son and daughter.

AROUND HOME.

Capt. Thomas Frisbee died at his home at Kittery Point on Tuesday, Feb. 14th, in the 84th year of his age. He sailed out of this port as master mariner for many years, and several of his children are now or have been in command of vessels. One of his sons, Henry, was found dead in a dock in New York harbor a year or two since, floating beside the vessel of which he had been master; another son, Charles, is now in command of a vessel; a daughter is the wife of Capt. Thomas Hoyt, a well-known coasting captain; and we believe there are several other children, all of whom occupy respectable and responsible positions.

Dr. Rogers, of Kennebunkport, is under a cloud. Mrs. Thomas B. Pulsifer of that town died Feb. 6th, as was reported from the effects of an illegal operation. Coroner Sargent of Kennebunk sent two doctors to examine into the matter, and they reported that the woman's death resulted from a miscarriage, but whether the miscarriage resulted from natural causes or not they could not say; so the coroner has decided that he can do nothing in the matter. The Kennebunk Star says it is stated that there are now six women in Kennebunkport sick from miscarriage, and that Dr. Rogers has charge of all the cases; also that the number of births in the town has greatly decreased within the past two years, while the miscarriages have numbered nearly fifty—an astonishing number in a town of only about 2500 inhabitants—and that nearly all of the cases have been under Dr. Rogers' care.

John Southerland, belonging in Nova Scotia, was one of the persons injured by the bridge accident on the Boston & Maine railroad at Cole's Corner, Wells. It was stated at the time that he was taken to the Maine General hospital at Portland, but there is no record at the institution that such was the case, and his relatives are unable to find any trace of him.

John Drown and wife, of Kennebunk, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage on the 6th inst.

The liquor saloons of Thomas Brennan, Harry Whittaker, Thomas O'Brien and Nicholas O'Brien in Newmarket were raided by officers on Monday evening, and liquors found in each place. The searches were made at the instance of the Citizens' Prosecuting committee of the town.

The Dover Democrat of the 13th inst. says: "Lyman Hodgsdon and Oliver Sanborn observed the Sabbath by capturing two hundred and sixty-eight pounds of striped bass in the river at South Newmarket. The fish were shipped to Boston this morning, the buyers paying eighteen cents a pound."

—Tommy was a little rogue, whom his mother had hard work to manage. Their house in the country was raised a few feet from the ground, and Tommy, to escape a well-deserved whipping, ran from his mother and crept under the house. Presently too fathers came home, and hearing where the boy had taken refuge, crept under to bring him out. As he approached on his hands and knees, Tommy asked, "Is she after you, too?"—Baptist Weekly.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and by others Eczema, coming on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, half dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the sense of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

100 times more effectual than any other plaster or electric battery for pain and weakness of the lungs, liver, kidneys and urinary organs, partial paralysis, rheumatism, neuralgia, hysteria, female weakness, nervous pains and weaknesses, malaria and fever and ague. Price 25c. Sold everywhere.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $2.00,—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

PORTSMOUTH GAS-LIGHT CO.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Gas-Light company was held on Tuesday, Feb. 14th; David Kimball was chosen clerk, and other officers elected as follows:

Directors, David Kimball, Ezra H. Winchester, John Sise, Christopher C. Jackson, Ichabod Goodwin;

Treasurer, David Kimball.

A semi-annual dividend of four per cent was declared, and it was voted that the following be published in the local papers:

Since our last annual meeting Mr. Aaron Akerman, our superintendent, has passed away. For two years or more Mr. Akerman was a great and constant sufferer from a severe affection, which he endured with patience and manly fortitude, attending to the duties of his office till within a few days of his death.

On the resignation of our former superintendent, Mr. John Trundy, in 1870, Mr. Akerman was appointed his successor. Mr. Akerman had a mind well aadpted to fill the position, having great caution, rare powers of observation, good knowledge of human nature, mechanical skill, economy, sound judgment, and a valuable experience gained from many years of active business life.

Resolved, That fully appreciating Mr. Akerman's integrity, great industry, and entire devotion to his official duties, we accord to him no small share in the successful management of the business operations of the company.

Resolved, That we extend to his family our warmest sympathy and respect in this hour of their affliction.

At a meeting of the directors, held subsequently, Ichabod Goodwin was chosen president, and Thomas R. Martin was appointed superintendent.

THE TELEGRAPH POLES.

The construction gang of the Eastern Telegraph company on Tuesday morning commenced setting very neat-looking poles on the line laid out by the city authorities from the Noble's island bridge to the city building; we presume this may be regarded as the end of the long contest over the matter, and that the municipal army will not again be put on a war footing on this account.

A NEW MAN AT AN OLD STAND.

Geo. W. Butler, a gentleman well known to our citizens, has re-opened the Walker hat store on Congress street, and intends to keep an attractive stock of seasonable goods, on the spot where customers for many years have been accustomed to purchase head coverings. Mr. Butler will be found ever to be an attentive business man and a polite salesman. We trust he will build up a good business in this locality, so long known to resident and visiting patrons as a place where hats, caps, furs, furnishing goods, trunks and articles of similar nature could be found in great variety; and here we will say that we never saw the sense of a Portsmouth man who to a greater or less extent thrives by the business of his own city, or whose income is drawn indirectly if not directly from rents or other local sources of revenue, supplying himself with a hat from a Boston dealer, when the same article precisely, made by the same manufacturer (with perhaps a different name of the real or alleged maker in the crown) can be bought of our local dealers at from fifty cents to a dollar cheaper, unless it was to enjoy the peculiarly satisfactory sensation of being assessed to that extent for wearing a foreign-bought hat. A little pains taken will show that a gentleman can have a hat made to order through Butler or Dearborn with which he will be better satisfied than if he dealt with a stranger in New York or Boston. Sometimes gentlemen who sport a "Boston hat" insist that they won it on an election bet, but it should be remembered that no recent election will be an excuse for the "Easter hats" which harbinger the coming of the spring styles.

A NUMEROUS TRAP.

A few weeks ago we published an account of the capture by Mr. F. T. Pickering, of Newington, of a huge eagle with a small steel trap fast to one of its legs. Subsequent developments have convinced Mr. Pickering that that trap is the most numerous piece of mechanism he ever heard of; and he is wholly at a loss to explain how an immense flock of eagles, such as the bird he caught evidently was at the start, could be reduced to a single specimen consisting almost entirely of beak, claws and feathers. He has received letters from about twenty towns in New Hampshire and quite a number in Maine and Massachusetts, requesting him to forward the trap to all the towns mentioned, as it was set in each one by the writers of the several letters, and disappeared in each case at the same time that the eagle caught by Mr. Pickering did. Possibly the foregoing may not be very clear to the reader; but one thing is very clear to Mr. Pickering, and that is that the eagle he caught was trapped in twenty-seven different towns by as many persons, and in each case carried off the trap, each trap-owner accurately describing his property as a small steel one with about two feet of chain attached, and the plundering eagle as a huge fellow whose wings would probably spread nearly eight feet. The last communication on this subject received by Mr. Pickering requested the return of the trap, on which the claimant was willing to pay the freight, and also desired that the wings and claws of the eagle should be forwarded at the same time. As there is evidently not half enough of that trap to go around, Mr. Pickering has concluded to keep the whole of it himself.

OUR NEIGHBOR LIES.

The Times of Tuesday evening refers to our item ridiculing the absurd story circulated on Sunday evening concerning the new telegraph company, and adds:

It is all very well for the CHRONICLE to say this, having all along allowed its columns to be used by the company's paid attorney to defend and assist it in gaining its ends.

When our pious brother of the Times penned that paragraph, he willfully, purposely and deliberately lied. He is perfectly well aware as to the authorship of the articles on the telegraph matter which have appeared in this paper "all along," and knows that the author is not and never has been the "paid attorney" of any company or individual. Either he knows this, and purposely lies, or he is a reckless slanderer.

Copies of the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE, containing Dr. Parsons' paper read before the Portsmouth Medical association, can be procured at Moses Brothers' news-room on Congress street.

Storer Post, G. A. R., will hold a meeting this evening, at which a full attendance is requested.

The harassing rumor which prevailed on the street, on Monday, to the effect that two members of the municipal militia of Portsmouth were badly injured on Sunday night by falling over the wall built by the Eastern railroad across the foot of Russell alley, was entirely unfounded; the municipal forces have not been near that dangerous locality.

On Thursday evening, at Music hall, Willie Edouin's Sparks will give the musical and comic extravaganza "Fun in a Photograph Gallery," which is endorsed by the press wherever it has been presented as being the very best of the light, sketchy pieces which have been so popular for a few years past. Mr. Edouin and Miss Alice Atherton are in the front rank of burlesque artists, and they are ably supported by eight other specialists.

The bank wall constructed by the Eastern railroad across the foot of Russell alley has been extended twenty feet or so to the eastward of the alley, and a number of men were at work on the job Tuesday, completing it; when finished it will be a substantial piece of work, and likely to stand for many years without alterations or repairs.

A new locomotive, No. 101, the first of three ordered from the Burnside Locomotive Works of Rhode Island, was put on the Eastern railroad on the 13th inst., Engineer George Dorman being in charge. The new engines will be numbered 100, 101 and 102, and are of similar pattern to engine No. 65, which has been drawing the Pullman train; the forward trucks are of compressed paper, and all three of the new machines will be put to hauling passenger trains.

Gentlemen from New York have been in town examining the schooner Active, now laid up at Pier wharf, with a view to purchasing her.

On Friday evening next, at Music hall, the best minstrel troupe extant will give an entertainment. Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West are well known all over the union, and their combination this season is said to be the best one ever organized by them, which is saying a great deal. They performed in Norwich, Conn., Jan. 24th, and the Bulletin next day said: "Their programme exceeds anything ever before witnessed in the field of minstrelsy, and the result is a complete surprise to veteran show-goers. They have departed from the old regulation cast, and give an entertainment that never fails to excite the most uproarous applause. Nothing like it was ever seen before in this city."

The annual benefit of Mr. John H. Smith, the bill-poster, in the south ward-room on Monday evening last, was largely attended notwithstanding the bad walking, and a very pleasant time was had by those present. Turner's quadrille band furnished the music for dancing.

There was a select apron-and-necktie party at Congress hall on Tuesday evening.

The Social Club will have their last dance for this season on Thursday evening, Feb. 16th, in Mechanics' hall.

An elm tree said to be over two hundred years old, was cut down a few days ago on the farm of John E. Hammond at Eliot. It made nine and a half cords of wood.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 13, 1882.

I HAVE this day disposed of my Job Printing Office, located in the Chronicle Building, to MR. RICHARD I. WALDEN, who has been for a number of years Foreman and Job Printer in the office of the Portsmouth Journal.

Mr. Walden is well known to the public as a careful and skillful printer, and I can conscientiously recommend him to my patrons and to the public generally as a good mechanic and a worthy young man.—As such, I bespeak for him the patronage that has been so generously accorded to me.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physic an at Fault--Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Detroit Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—Le Bon Lescal.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sent by mail, securely sealed and post-paid, to all parts of the world, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address

Hartford's Insurance Companies.

The fame of Hartford, Conn., as an insurance centre is widely known, but comparatively few persons, we presume, have even an idea of the enormous extent of the business carried on there in the various branches of insurance—fire, life, accident and steam boiler.

From recent statistics compiled by the Evening Post of that city, it appears that there are now doing business there seven life, six fire and one accident insurance companies, and a steam boiler inspection company. The six fire companies have paid out since their organization $110,626,000, and their present assets are $22,808,000. The life companies have paid out $85,245,000 in assets. The accident company has paid $4,695,810, and the boiler inspection company $129,389 in losses.

This statement does not include three fire companies which paid to the last dollar their losses in the Chicago and Boston fires, and went out of business. In the year of 1880 the several insurance companies of Hartford paid out, in losses, $11,799,829. This was a daily average of $81,786, or $1,324.16 for every day in the year. The insurance interest of Hartford has passed through some severe trials, as for instance, the great Chicago and Boston fires, but it was as much a matter of pride as of policy with the companies to pay all losses dollar for dollar, even though in the three cases above mentioned, they had to close their doors and give up business in consequence. The present remarkable prosperity of Hartford insurance interests proves the wisdom of such a course. That it oftentimes involved considerable sacrifice on the part of stockholders need hardly be said; but it is also plain that in the end it paid. Certain communities in this country that shrink from the hardship of paying their honest debts might learn a lesson herefrom. It always pays to pay.

Two of the oldest and most substantial fire insurance companies in Hartford have had agencies in this city for a long series of years. They are regarded as among the very best companies in the country, and in many instances estates have been insured continuously by these companies, since they began to take risks here. The Ætna established an agency in Portsmouth in 1821, when the late Samuel Lord was appointed agent. The Hartford Fire Insurance Co. appointed the late Edward F. Sise its agent in 1830. Mr. John Sise succeeded his father as agent of the Hartford in 1851, and the agency of the Ætna was tendered him in 1860, since which dates he has represented both companies in this city. There may have been agencies with fewer changes than these, but we doubt if any can be shown where the business has been conducted at the same time more satisfactorily both to the assured and the companies represented, than by the above-named agents.

Companies at Hartford established later are also represented in this city and do a large business here, notably the Traveller's Accident Co., and the Phenix and other fire companies.

A man is wiser for his learning, and the sooner he learns that the only proper way to cure a cough or cold, is to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the better he is off.

Mr. Popham's eye was worth $10,500, and that amount has been paid him by the Twenty-third street (New York) railroad company, which gouged it out.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

Tax Collector Ryder, reported missing from Jamaica, L. I., is at Portsmouth, Va. Attachments to the amount of $15,000 were granted by the New York supreme court, Monday, on his property.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

It is understood that the naval board appointed to consider the question, has decided to make an adverse report upon the proposition for the construction of a railroad bridge across the Thames river at New London, Conn., on the ground that such a structure would be injurious to the navy yard at that place.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

—Charles P. Van Dienum had made all arrangements to marry pretty Alice Hogan, cashier at the Palace hotel, San Francisco, but a telegram from his former employers in Cincinnati came along just in time to save Alice from disgrace and ruin. Charles has a wife living east and he is an embezzler and fraud generally.

Rheumatism, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often cured by Brown's Iron Bitters.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. H. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—BANSON LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DYER, Drumgile, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTS, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twelve years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and charged tips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. Y.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN D. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

PERRY DAVIS & SON, Proprietors, Providence, R. I.

CatarrH

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear, rubbing in thoroughly.

Hay-FeveR

—A fair trial will convince the most skeptical.—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a pack age. Send for circular with full information.

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at the port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Business Change.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 13, 1882.

I HAVE this day disposed of my Job Printing Office, located in the Chronicle Building, to MR. RICHARD I. WALDEN, who has been for a number of years Foreman and Job Printer in the office of the Portsmouth Journal.

Mr. Walden is well known to the public as a careful and skillful printer, and I can conscientiously recommend him to my patrons and to the public generally as a good mechanic and a worthy young man.—As such, I bespeak for him the patronage that has been so generously accorded to me.

CHAS. W. GARDNER.

PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1880.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried Brown's Iron Bitters as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking Brown's Iron Bitters, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

ADORAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The Portland Packing company's building at Stroudwater, Me., has tumbled in, and $3,000 will be needed to make good the loss.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

News and Notes.

An attachment has been placed on the stand of Messrs. A. Williams & Co., at the "Old Corner Book-store" in Boston, in an action for damages to several persons mentioned in "Cape Cod Folks," a book published by Williams & Co. Thirty thousand dollars as damages is the claim. The writ is returnable at Plymouth. It is much easier to get out a writ of this high-sounding figure than to convince a jury that the firm had any sort of malice in publishing the book. The names of the characters were of course presumed to be fictitious, but it seems that the author did not take the trouble to change real for other appelations.

Henry E. Paull of Bristol, R. I., shot himself purposely on the 4th inst., and will die.

Mary Williams, (white), wife of Frank Williams (colored), of Providence, R. I., killed herself Monday night, the 13th inst.

The coroner's inquest on the boiler explosion at Fairfield, Me., has been concluded, and a verdict found to the effect that Noah Rice, John Avery and Charles Lanier were killed by the explosion of one of the boilers in the mill of the Kennebec Framing company. An examination since the explosion shows the iron to be crystalized on the inside, porous and brittle, and that at the time of the explosion the water was low in the boiler. There is no law in the state requiring an inspection of stationary engines and boilers, and the jury urges upon the legislature such action as will secure a legal enactment making it obligatory upon all owners of such engines and boilers that they be thoroughly inspected and examined at least once a year.

Senator Frye of Maine has made an able speech in behalf of a protective tariff. The senator says that such a tariff secures wages for the American laborer which enables him to live in manly independence, to educate his children, and to so inform himself as to public affairs as to worthily exercise his responsible duties as a citizen of a free republic. A half-paid, half-fed, uneducated voter cannot be a good citizen. For the stability of popular institutions and the welfare of the working classes, American labor needs to be given an advantage over the scantily-paid, poverty-stricken labor of Europe. He shew the ill effects of free trade upon the labor of this country, in a most logical manner.

A Portland butcher was dressing a turkey recently when his knife struck something which on examination proved to be quartz. An assay revealed the presence of gold, and the value of the precious stuff found in the fowl's crop is $1.50.

J. R. Hiscock, of Fitchburg, Mass., went to work for a Kennebec, Me., ice company, and the first day was so badly bitten by a vicious horse that three of his fingers had to be amputated. The company refused to aid him, so he pawned his overcoat for enough money to take him to Portland. From there he walked to Biddeford, where enough money was raised to send him to Fitchburg.

A Fifth avenue, New York, dress maker who brought several dresses from Paris last summer, all of which she had worn once, was made by a verdict of a jury in New York to pay $2000 duties. The court held that wearing apparel "in actual use" is not such as is intended to be used in the sweet by-and-bye. Tourists should be governed accordingly.

The "Granite Monthly" for February contains a sketch of Ruel Durkee, a well-known political character, by William E Chandler, accompanied by a steel engraving. Mr. Chandler pays a high tribute to Mr. Durkee's political and official integrity, and tells with a keen relish, and several hits at his deceased father-in-law, the episode of the attempt to abstract from Ruel, while messenger of the electoral college of New Hampshire in 1864, the package containing the evidence of our state's vote for President. We hope soon to be favored with a similar account of New Hampshire's "reformed dead-head" by Ruel Durkee, who perhaps knows Mr. Chandler nearly as well as the latter knows the permanent selectman of Croyden. John M. Shirley's address, made this winter at Concord upon law practice, gives the layman and student much information, and is a valuable recital. "The inspired artist" is a highly-colored love story, pretty well written. Mr. Frank West Rollins gives a succinct account of the present condition of France, showing how in ten years it has recovered from the effect of the Prussian war.

One of the latest personal Washington items reads thus:

Senator Blair is mentioned as one of the most absent-minded of men. He was invited by Senator Davis to a dinner at Welcker's the other evening, and while walking in a dreamy manner along the corridor, saw a merry party in a private dining-room and entered; Captain Eads, who was host, immediately making room for him. The senator enjoyed the little dinner, and when it was concluded moved from the room with the others. Then there fell upon his ears, the Philadelphia Press says, the talk and laughter of another dinner party in the hotel. "What party is that?" asked the senator. "Vice-President Davis', sir," was the reply. The senator from New Hampshire pulled his hat down over his eyes and went home. The next day he apologized to Judge Davis for not being present at his party.

Let us see. It is after 1900, when all the stuff that gets into the heads of the absent-minded men will be forever banished from the land of the free and the home of the brave. "Roll swiftly round, ye wheels of time, and bring the welcome day."

An Improved Machine for Dressing Fish.

Mr. Magnus J. Palson, of Elizabeth, N. J., has patented an improved machine for dressing fish—that is, to remove the head, entrails, and backbone—thus preparing the fish for salting and packing for shipment. The machine is provided with a jointed reciprocating plate, upon which the fish is placed, and is held firmly by spring clamps, which are opened automatically to receive the fish by a beveled fork, a heart plate, and two fixed converging bars, between which the head of the fish is held, so that it can be cut off by an automatically released spring knife that is drawn upward by a chain attached to a pulley on the main driving shaft of the machine, this shaft being provided with two cranks extending in directly opposite directions, one of these cranks being connected by a suitable connecting-rod with the sliding-plate for receiving the fish, and the other crank connected in a like manner with a reciprocating frame sliding above and in opposite direction to the fish-holding plate, which upper sliding frame is provided with knives and scoops that adjust themselves automatically, according to the size of the fish, and rip open its belly, tear out the entrails and backbone, and cut the latter off at half its length, and also tear out the liver and throw it into a chute. The fish is seized by a hook attached to a sliding plate connected with the upper sliding knife frame, and pulled out from between the spring clamps upon an inclined chute, down which it slides.

—They have a brand of whiskey in Kentucky known as the "Horn of Plenty," because it will corn you copiously.

—The following story is told of a distinguished Edinburgh professor: Desiring to go to church one wet Sunday he hired a cab. On reaching the church door, he tendered a shilling—the legal fare — to cabby, and was somewhat surprised to hear the cabman say, "Twa shilling, sir." The professor, fixing his eye upon the extortioner, demanded why he charged two shillings, upon which the cabman deftly answered, "We wish to discourage traveling on the Sawbath as much as possible, sir."

AROUND HOME.

Portsmouth Commandery, No. 47, United Order of the Golden Cross, will have an oyster supper at their hall on Daniel street this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Each member is allowed to invite one friend.

Arthur A. Waite, the "reverend" humbug and dyed-in-the-wool showman, gave an exhibition at Millersburg, Pa., a short time ago, and the Herald of that town says "the people detected him as one of the worst humbugs that ever exhibited here."

The practice of publishing the monthly earnings of the Eastern railroad has been discontinued by order of the directors.

The Swamscott Machine Co., of South Newmarket, pays a dividend of two per cent.

Rev. George K. Morgan of Christ Church, Exeter, will officiate at St. John's on Sunday next.

Messrs. Clarke & Dixon, formerly of this city but now of Manchester, had such customers as they do not admire on Tuesday forenoon of this week. A few minutes before nine o'clock two well-dressed fellows entered the store, and one of them asked to be shown some sleeve buttons. Mr. Dixon waited upon him, and the confederate took the opportunity to make off with a watch which was lying on the show-case, and was immediately followed by the sleeve-button man, the theft not being discovered until both the thieves had got clear. The watch was a lady's gold one, valued at about $100, and had been left for repairs.

Hon. John S. Treat has bought of Mrs. Moran a suburban residence near the Woodbury place at the Creek. The lot contains about two acres of land, on which are growing sixty apple trees, thirty pear trees and six cherry trees. We shall call upon our friend Treat next fall, at his country home.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 16; Batchelder, J.

Timothy Falvey, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs being taxed at $6.90. Mr. Falvey found it more convenient to go to Brentwood than to hand over the amount demanded.

Charles Gilbert, John Sullivan and James Sullivan, for brawl and tumult, were fined $3 each, the total costs, $8.04, bein g impartially divided among them. James Sullivan paid his share of the bill, but the other two went to Brentwood.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost; that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails come off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer! My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent, (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, and the skin cracks open once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

100 times more effectual than any other plaster or electric battery for pain and weakness of the lungs, liver, kidneys and urinary organs, partial paralysis, rheumatism, neuralgia, hysteria, female weakness, nervous pains and weaknesses, malaria and fever and ague. Price 25c. Sold everywhere.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

RUSSELL ALLEY.

Mr. Editor: I have been much amused over the action—or inaction— of the city fathers relative to Russell alley. This alley, from all the talk that has been made about it, a stranger would think was a thoroughfare which was much used; but for years it has seldom been used at all, except by the small boys living in the neighborhood, while playing. I cannot see any reason why the railroad should not have the privilege of building a wall to keep the debris from falling on their tracks. If the alley is left open, we must have an overhead bridge to span the railroad tracks, or we shall have another bill of damages to pay from some runaway horse breaking his neck down the embankment, as in the case of Dr. Dearborn's horse several years ago, when the city paid five hundred dollars. If I am not mistaken, Russell alley is a private way, no record having been found wherein it ever was accepted by the city. In closing, allow me to say that the property-owners on the alley are much pleased with the railroad company's improvements, and that the wall was to be surmounted by a railing, with a gate for the accommodation of the few boys who pass that way. I believe there will be no necessity for calling out the state militia to repress the beneficial "encroachments" of the Eastern railroad, as no doubt the railroad is ready to do whatever is right. CÆSAR.

TELEGRAPH NOTES.

Miss E. B. Thornton will have charge of the new telegraph office in the city building. Glad of it.

The new company will establish next season an office at the landing of the Shoals steamers, to accommodate the summer visitors at that resort.

The busiest business part of Market street, as well as the narrowest part of the same, is from Deer street to Noble's island bridge, through which the new company have set poles. Who complains?

Alderman Martin's knowledge of parliamentary law prevented a town meeting in the aldermanic board on the evening of the 9th inst., and blocked somebody's little game.

Those who saw the Colonel's eagles shimmer and shiver in the dim star-light of "that" Sunday evening, prayed for the peace of our city, and wondered at the temerity of the twenty pick-axe men who could calmly eat their suppers at the Gibson house while Vaughan street resounded to the tread of martial feet.

The poles of the new company are admirably situated for the call-box system. The wholesale coal business, corn and flour establishments, brewery offices, fish business,—in fact all the prominent trades of the city can (and we are told will) be connected with the main office by call-boxes. The store of Messrs. Ayers & Locke is perhaps the only one on the west side of Market street that would probably need a call-box, and we understand it will soon be connected with the central office by telephone, which will give the firm the same advantages as the other trades we have mentioned.

The telegraph contruction gang were hard at work on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week, setting poles with all the advantages of daylight and "full permission," and did not get through their job; yet there are some people who try to believe that the company intended to fringe the whole length of Market street, right up to the door of the police station and right by a part of the district patrolled every half-hour by the bank watch, in one single night, without letting anybody find out what they were doing!

Many persons who looked at the new telegraph poles, Wednesday of this week, wondered why in the world the construction gang did not set them perpendicularly. The reason is that the line of poles is not straight, and that each pole in a crooked line has to be set with special reference to the immense lateral strain brought to bear upon its upper end by the wires when stretched, so that when the work is completed the bending of the poles and the yielding of the earth in which they are set will make them as nearly upright as possible. Were they set upright in the first place, the stretching of the wires would make the line look like a political procession celebrating a victory at two o'clock in the morning.

The new telegraph company's managers know how to select competent agents, if Mr. Bartlett, who represented the company in this city during the continuance of the "pole war," is a fair sample of their men. Energetic and persistent, yet gentlemanly, courteous and never needlessly aggressive, he knows just what he wants to do and just how to do it, and is as well able as most men to present valid reasons why he should be allowed to do it. Even those who have opposed him and the measure he has successfully advocated, acknowledge that he is "as smart as a steel trap."

Hon. Frank Jones and this paper are not always in accord; but when he is fighting the cause of the public against a monopoly he will find us with him every time. And we some time ago noted the fact that he very often succeeds in carrying a point when he once sets his heart on it.

Mr. George Wm. Ballou, president of the Mutual Union Telegraph Co., gave a dinner in honor of Gov. Cornell at Delmonico's in New York on Tuesday night of this week. Among the guests were Ex-President U. S. Grant and wife.

GRAND ARMY MEETING.

At a meeting of Post 1, G. A. R., held on the evening of the 15th inst., a number of letters from citizens expressing regret at not being able to attend the banquet in honor of the Department Encampment, were read and placed on file. The following, from Department Commander Martin A. Haynes, was also read:

Headquarters Dep't of N. H,
Grand Army of the Republic,
Lake Village, N. H., Feb. 11th.

Marcus M. Collis, Commander Post 1; Comrade—I should not do justice to my own feelings if I neglected to convey to you, and to Post 1 through you, my appreciation of the glorious manner in which you entertained the Department Encampment. There is but one voice that I have heard, and that, that the Portsmouth comrades are royal good fellows to the core, and that no mistake was made in calling the Encampment at "Old Strawberry Bank." More than this, Post 1 has made a first-class mark in Grand Army circles during the year just closed. Its business with these headquarters has been conducted with business-like promptness most noticeable, and its gain in strength and spirit has been remarkable. You have every reason to be proud of your record.

A vote of thanks was passed by the Post to all those citizens who contributed of means and material toward making the banquet a success.

"DREAMS."

Willie Edouin's "Sparks," which will appear in Music hall this evening, played in Portland on Monday evening last, and the Advertiser says "lighted up many a countenance. The entertainment was one of the most laughable of the season. Mr. Edouin and Miss Atherton led the fun-making in a way peculiar to themselves, and the rest of the company were not slow to follow. The musical selections were finely rendered." Tickets for to-night can be procured at Preston's.

THE MINSTREL SHOW.

To-morrow evening, in Music hall, Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's mammoth minstrel troupe will give an entertainment. Of what may be expected the following extract from a paper published in a place where they appeared recently will give some idea:

The performance was immense, both in the number and artistic merit of the players, the fre-huess of the repartee, the newness of the selections, the richness of the costumes, and the liveliness and melody of the music. There was nothing old about it but "Old Barlow," the charm of whose songs will never wear out. The entertainment opened with a pyramid of thirty performers, of whom ten were end men. Everything was mammoth about the show, and moved by platoons. There were two files of jokers, two files of clog dancers; a full platoon of letter carriers and American jockey dancers; and a full force of jolly tars. The stage movements were graceful, effective and pleasing. The artists included not only the masters of song and the most talented instrumentalists, but the most brilliant humorists, champion acrobats and athletes.

"Mrs. Partington" at Music hall next Tuesday evening. See adv't.

The arrivals of fish on the 15th inst. were the schooners Storm King, with 2500 lbs.; the Christie Campbell, 3500 lbs.; Breeze, 3000 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 1300 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 1500 lbs.; Flying Eagle, 2000 lbs.; Nettie Adams, 1800 lbs.; Northern Eagle, 1800 lbs; Flying Cloud, 2000 lbs.; Charles Nelson, 900 lbs.

On Wednesday evening, the 15th inst., we learned on enquiring of Dr. Sherburne, the physician in charge of the case, that Mr. Walter L. Chesley was more comfortable than could reasonably have been expected considering the terrible nature of his injuries, and appeared to be improving. A considerable sum of money has been collected by some of Mr. Chesley's friends, to relieve the immediate wants of himself and family.

A referee hearing was held in this city on Wednesday of this week before Wm. Russell Foster, Esq., in a suit of C. M. Cignoux against one Sanders, wherein damages are sought to be recovered for the defendant's running a team against the plaintiff's carriage and horses upon a public highway, as is alleged with an improper intent. Messrs. Page and Batchelder appeared for plff.; E. G. Eastman of Exeter for the defendant.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. eod&wtjan28

POPCORN

just received and for sale by J. R. YEATON & Co. No. 6 Congress street.

A GOOD DIVIDEND PAYING INVESTMENT.

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co.

CAPITAL $100,000. 1000 SHARES. PAR VALUE $100.

Thomas J. Gifford, President;
Aug. J. Archer, Treasurer;
Wallace Hackett, Secretary.

Organized and Incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.

This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.

The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 2,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on these machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increased earnings and dividends will be realized.

Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.

We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.

A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault--Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Toronto Globe.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation.—Boston Herald.

It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Medical Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—La Crosse Herald.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Thousands of Copies are sent by mail, securely sealed and post-paid, to all parts of the world, every month, upon receipt of price, $1.25. Address

It is reported that Judge Allen has lost the sight of one eye during the illness from which he is now suffering, and fears are entertained for the sight of the other.

The dwelling of Charles E. Rolf in Colebrook was burned February 14th. Cause unknown. Loss $1,200; insured.

J. E. Fernald has been elected cashier of the National State Capital bank at Concord, vice H. J. Crippen, resigned.

Mrs. Margaret Milliken, wife of Seth Milliken of New York, who died recently in Paris, France, was buried at Dover on the 14th inst.

J. W. Flint, the Dartmouth student who accidentally shot young Howe a few weeks ago, has not been able to resume his college work, and has gone into business.

A company has been organized at Concord under the name of the "United States Bullion." It has a process of melting, refining and concentrating all kinds of metalic ores.

William H. Gibson, of Newmarket, leader of Gibson's orchestra, while cutting some frozen meat on the 8th inst. received a severe cut in his left hand and wrist by the slipping of the knife, which it is feared may incapacitate him for violin playing. It is a serious misfortune to him, as he had engagements ahead to play for nearly two months.

Colonel M. A. Haynes of Lake Village was elected Tuesday at Portsmouth for the second time commander of the Grand Army of the Republic of New Hampshire. It is a deserved compliment and does credit to the department in this state. They don't make any better fellows than Mart Haynes, and we are glad to note honors to men of his character.—Manchester Union.

Holland, Vt., has a paper called the "Watchman in the Barn."

The bill for the "readjusting" of the state debt of Virginia, known as the Riddleberger bill, has been signed by the governor and is now a law.

In compliance with an order recently passed by the board of aldermen of Boston, the contract for one hundred electric lights, to be placed in the streets as soon as practicable, was signed on the 14th.

Washington thieves recently got away with Abraham Lincoln's head, and General Jackson's coat tails. They were in bronze, and the property of Mr. Clark Mills, the sculptor.

A Mr. Ball has been knocking at the door of Congress as delegate from Alaska; but as no authority has been given for electing a delegate in that territory, and Ball cannot show that anyone elected him, the committee have decided that he has no claim to a seat. What he cared most about was the $50,000 which it said he was going to claim as mileage.

After all the arguments about cheapness and quality it appears that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is the best remedy for the cure of coughs and colds ever offered to the public. The price is only 25 cents a bottle and every druggist in the land sells and recommends it.

Clarence Barton, the Washington editor who figured in the Soteldo affair, is a nephew of Philip Barton Key, whom General Sickles killed many years ago.

Flies and Mosquitoes.

A 15c box of "Rough on Rats" will keep a house free from flies, mosquitoes, rats and mice, the entire season. Druggists.

You are sick; well, there is just one remedy that will cure you beyond a possibility of doubt. If it's liver or kidney trouble, consumption, dyspepsia, debility, Wells' Health Renewer is your hope. One dollar. Druggists. Depot Thacher's.

Wood Knight, a cousin of the notorious James brothers, has been arrested at Cross Plains, Illinois, and taken to Missouri, where a large reward was offered for his arrest.

Humbugged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months use of the Bitters my wife was cured, and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.—Pioneer Press.

A large number of farmers of Pottawattomie county, Iowa, have commenced their spring ploughing. Finer weather than at present was never known in that part of Iowa.

Rheumatism, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often cured by Brown's Iron Bitters.

The indictment at New Haven, Conn., of the Malleys and Blanche Douglass, charges them with killing Jennie Cramer by arsonical poisoning alone. This limits considerably the field of enquiry to be covered in the trial.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider YOUR PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—Geo. E. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—G. O. FORCE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTS, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

CatarrH

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear, rubbing in thoroughly.

Hay-FeveR

—A fair trial will convince the most skeptical—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a pack age. Send for circular with full information.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effect.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Business Change.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 13, 1882.

I HAVE this day disposed of my Job Printing Office, located in the Chronicle Building, to Mr. RICHARD I. WALDEN, who has been for a number of years Foreman and Job Printer in the office of the Portsmouth Journal.

Mr. Walden is well known to the public as a careful and skillful printer, and I can conscientiously recommend him to my patrons and to the public generally as a good mechanic and a worthy young man.—As such, I bespeak for him the patronage that has been so generously accorded to me.

CHAS. W. GARDNER.

PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. EUTAW ST., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1880.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried BROWN'S IRON BITTERS as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

ADORAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

John E. McDonough, the well known actor, died on the 15th inst. in Philadelphia.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

National Banks and Democracy.

The republican party in spite of its mistakes flourishes, to a large extent by the consummate blunders of the democracy. Just now that party seeks to array the whole business element of the country against it (as it has oftentimes succeeded in doing before) by making war upon the present National Bank system. Now and then we see some of its journals with sense enough to perceive the effect of this. The Manchester Union, for example, says:

There are three hundred and ninety-three banks whose charters expire within a little over a year, which have a circulation of $69,160,980. It is argued, and very justly, that the sudden withdrawal of this amount of currency from the circulation would be detrimental to the business interests of the country. The charters of two hundred and ninety-seven of these banks, with a circulation in round numbers of fifty-four millions, expire on one day, February 25th, 1883. If we must have the national banking system—and nothing better seems yet proposed—it will be better for the business convenience of the country that they should be continued without the delay which liquidation and re-organization would necessarily involve.

The New Scientific American Offices.

We are glad to announce that the Scientific American came out of the late fire in New York, like the fabled Phœnix, with renewed life. The subscription lists, account books, patent drawings, and correspondence were preserved in massive fire-proof safes. The printing of the Scientific American and supplement was done in another building; consequently the type, presses, etc., were unharmed, and no business interruption was occasioned. The new offices are located at 261 Broadway, corner of Warren street, a very central and excellent situation.

News and Notes.

John Machin, an employe of the Boston & Albany railroad, recovered $7000 on account of injuries received by the breaking of a round of a ladder on the side of a box freight car which he was ascending, by which his arm was broken and he was otherwise injured. Stillman B. Allen, Esq., was counsel for the plaintiff.

George Foster, fifteen years old, died of small-pox in the Adams (Mass.) pest house Monday night, the 13th inst., and was buried a few hours later, making two of the family who have died, and four deaths altogether. Four others of the Foster family are in the pest house, and are dangerously sick. Twenty-one persons are quarantined in the house where Mrs. Baker died recently.

The professors of Yale college, on the 15th inst., presented President Woolsey with a handsomely engraved gold medal, commemorative of the fifty years' service at Yale college of that distinguished professor. The presentation address was made by Prof. Thatcher.

John Delhi, an hostler at the hotel at Warehouse Point, Conn., will probably die from injuries received by being jammed against the side of a stall by a vicious horse.

Patrick Matthewson, an employe of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, was fatally injured on the 15th inst. at New Haven, Conn., while pushing a car loaded with a bucket of coal weighing a ton, which tipped over and crushed him. He lived only a short time after the accident.

John S. Ward has been arrested at Pittsburg, Pa., charged with the murder of two old ladies named Ella and Mary Means, aged respectively eighty-three and seventy-three years. He beat and abused them on the night of Nov. 11th, and they died a few days ago from the effects thereof.

Charley Wright, a negro bootblack who climbed a telegraph pole and cut a wire by which the lives of two men were saved, at the burning of the Potter building in New York, has been decorated by the Humane society, and made colonel in the life saving brigade.

Steamer Bahama, bound from Porto Rico for New York, was abandoned Feb. 10th in a sinking condition. The captain, two passengers and ten seamen were drowned; eleven seamen and two passengers were picked up by ship Glenmorag, and carried into New York.

Edward C. Marshall, the only remaining son of Chief Justice John Marshall of the United States supreme court, died at Markham, Va., on the 8th inst., in the 75th year of his age. He was a prominent citizen of Virginia, and for many years before the war president of the old Manassass Gap railroad company. He held an office in Washington under President Grant's administration.

At a dairy farm near Berlin, Ohio, where there are 100 cows, to the consternation of the owners, the whole herd got drunk. For two days the cows were wholly intractable, attempting to gore the milkers, and bellowing in concert. By some mistake the person watering the cows turned the faucet of a barrel of corn brandy which happened to be placed near the water faucet, and the trough, instead of being filled with water, received brandy. This story appears to us to be a trifle tough.

All the members of the senior class at Williston (Mass.) seminary, and many of the middlers, "cut" their recitations on the 15th inst., on account of the refusal of the faculty to reinstate several students who were previously suspended for hazing. An attempt has been made to arrange a compromise with Principal Fairbanks, but it has not succeeded.

Scarlet fever is prevailing at Cedar Rapids, Ia., in an alarming though not epidemic form. The council have organized as a board of health, and elected a health officer, and every case will be rigidly quarantined.

Jacob Gessert, lately superintendent of police of Cincinnati, committed suicide Feb. 15th by shooting himself through the head. He had complained lately of a pain in the head, and kept his bed.

In New York city there are 340 miles of paved streets, 883 miles of sewers, 512 miles of water pipes, 885 miles of gas pipes, seven miles of tubes for electric-light wires, one and one-third miles of tubes for telegraph wires, one mile of steam pipes, and three-quarters of a mile of pneumatic tubes. There are in the streets and parks 23,466 gas lamps, and fifty-five electric lamps.

"Harper's Magazine" for March is now ready for delivery to subscribers, and for sale to transient purchasers, by Moses Brothers, W. G. Myers, and Mercer Goodrich. It is a choice and specially interesting number, containing over sixty illustrations.

Orange County, N. Y., is probably the best known county in the United States. Its magnificent farms, its beautiful Holstein, Freiburg and Alderney dairies, and its famous Hambletonian horses, have made it almost as well known as the state itself. The "Orange County Farmer" is published weekly at Port Jervis for $1.50 per year, and is devoted to the special stock and agricultural interests of the county. It is, in many respects, one of the best and most useful agricultural and family journals in the country. Send for a specimen copy.

IN MEMORIAM.

Capt. Nathaniel Sherburne, whose death in San Francisco has recently been announced, was the survivor of three brothers, Charles Blunt, Nathaniel, and John Pitts Sherburne.

Charles died when a young man full of promise. John died a few months ago in San Francisco, and is recollected by his early friends as a fine-looking, good natured boy. He accompanied Lieut. (afterward general) Whipple in his survey through New Mexico; was appointed, while in California, to a position in the army by President Pierce; came across the Plains with great audacity, accompanied only by his family, and reported to Gen. Twiggs at San Antonio, Texas. He was then assigned to important military posts in Texas, and after the perfidy of Twiggs, at the commencement of the rebellion, came down through San Antonio, a hotbed of secession, with his command on his way to the coast, with colors flying and his band playing "Hail Columbia" and "Yankee Doodle." John was afterward on Gen. Lew. Wallace's staff during the war, in the District of Columbia, and was the general's favorite officer. At the time of his decease he was an officer in the custom house at San Francisco.

"Nat" was, while a boy, an inmate of Wm. G. Harris' school, where he was a good scholar, was noted for his pleasant and agreeable disposition, and was replete with "bonhomie," a favorite with all. Soon after leaving school he went to sea, and was mate on board several Portsmouth ships, sailing also to the East Indies as commander of the ship John Haven of this port, in the employ of the late Jonathan M. Tredick. He was afterward a partner in a large commercial firm at Calcutta, upon the disruption of which he removed to California.

The great reaper, Time, has cut down a large part of "Master Harris' boys;" their ranks are sadly thinned.—fine, stout fellows as they were, of best New England blood. The hearts of the survivors are pained, when they hear of the death of one of their numbers. The agreeable qualities of the Sherburne boys were well inherited. Their father, Colonel John N. Sherburne, was an unassuming, polite gentleman. At one time he carried on a large importing, wholesale and retail hardware business at the corner of Market and Ladd streets, which is now in the fourth hands continuously. He had been quite prominent as a public man, was a captain of the "Gilman Blues," colonel in the First Regiment of New Hampshire militia, whence he derived his title, navy agent, and an innumerable number of times elected a representative to the legislature of his native state. At the time of his prosperity he was noted for his great liberality. In consequence he used to mention jocosely his meeting a member from one of the small country towns, who remarked, "You have been in the General Court a good many years." "Oh, yes," said Colonel Sherburne. "You must have made a good deal of money, then," said the country member.

During a part of the career of Colonel Sherburne as a member of the House, the father of the late President Pierce was governor of New Hampshire, and used to sit swinging on the chains in front of the State House, greeting pleasantly and chatting with the members as they were going in and out. It was there that the colonel became intimate with the governor; and when Franklin Pierce visited Portsmouth as President of the United States, whence he embarked for Washington with the presidential flag flying on the "Wabash," (the first time such a flag was ever displayed on shipboard,) he did not fail, although of different politics, to call upon the old friend of his father. Mrs. Sherburne, nee Blunt, a most estimable lady, survives, as well as some of the female members of the family, and descendents; but the boys are gone, and it is not at all probable that any of their immediate posterity will ever reside in New England. Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there would be nearly a dishpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house, she wouldn't give up; said, "Will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home is just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Feb. 16th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

Bill of Anderson & Junkins, $20 43, for repairs on school-houses, and bill of a manufacturing company for kerosene street lamps, of $129.49, less $12 discount, were ordered paid.

The mayor reported that the president of the Eastern railroad had been notified of the action of the board in relation to the Russell alley blockade, but no answer had been received.

Wm. E. Walsh claimed $200 for damages received through an alleged fall on the ice on Pleasant street. Referred to committee on claims, to report.

The mayor said the new telegraph company desired to enter their office in the city building with their wires, through the marshal's room, but had been presented, to await action of the board. After discussion, in which no antagonism to the company was manifested, the matter was referred to the committee on city lands and buildings, with power. Ald. Noyes of the committee was excused from serving, at his own request, and the mayor substituted.

A message from the Common Council was received, announcing the passage of a resolution censuring the board for the large excess of expenditures above the appropriations, and asking that the finance committee of the board confer with the finance committee of the council.

In answer to an enquiry, the council reported that no action had been taken to fill the vacancies occasioned by resignations.

Ald. Green asked the reason of the employment of so many police officers on Sunday night, the 12th inst. The mayor said that he had positive information that the telegraph company were about erecting their poles; that he did not wish the Sabbath desecrated, and did wish the poles to be put where located by the committee on streets; the extra expense for police was but $15. Ald. Vaughan hoped the CHRONICLE reporter would take note of his honor's good intent, and reasonable cause for action in the matter. The mayor suggested that the pole question had developed a good deal of local poetic talent, and produced some remarkable poetry.

The city marshal's report was declared correct, and placed on file.

The north millpond question was discussed at considerable length, and was finally referred to a special committee consisting of the mayor, and Ald. Hartshorn, Stavers and Martin.

The communication from the common council, relative to financial matters, was laid over till next meeting.

Adjourned for one week.

A FRIENDLY HINT.

"Blessed are the peacemakers," no doubt, but they are not always lucky. The Newburyport Herald copies an item recently published by us under the heading of "Peace, blessed peace," referring to the telegraph-pole war in Portsmouth, prefacing the article with the following statement:

There are two dailies published in that city, and they see things through different spectacles. When one says "It is the sun!" the other is very likely to exclaim, "Gad, sir, it is the moon!"

We will tell our Newburyport brother a little story. Several years ago, when the writer of this was a good little boy, he went one Saturday by invitation to spend the afternoon in play with a schoolmate, who is now and for many years has been a prominent and successful business man of this city; a third boy, a son of one of the host's neighbors, had also been invited to spend the afternoon in "our yard," and when we arrived at the scene of anticipated pleasure we found the other two boys glaring at each other in the garden, the host being armed with a boot-jack which was probably sent from an upper window the night before as a token of regard to the leading tenor in a cat concert, while the neighbor's boy had a huge, over-ripe cucumber in each hand. Shocked at the indications of impending conflict we rushed in between the combatants, just in time to receive from the book-jack a tremendous slam at the point where our jacket and trousers were buttoned together, while at the same instant a most melancholy cucumber came "squash" against the back of our neck. Had we discreetly stood on one side nobody would have been injured, as the acutal combatants were so far apart that neither could hit the other; and we have never attempted to play the role of peacemaker since. Our Newburyport brother, who is a gentleman of sound sense and much more than ordinary penetration, will at once see the application of this little story.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Feb. 19; Batchelder, J.

Walter Abbott, James Barrett and Carmelo Goings, the latter a colored boy, were before the court on a charge of stealing a pocket-book from Mrs. Charles Chickering of Kittery, who while making some purchases in a store laid her pocket-book on the counter, whence it suddenly disappeared. The evidence shew that the Abbott boy stole the pocket-book and treated the other culprits to cornballs, peppermints and other luxuries purchased with the stolen money, the sharers in this riotous living being fully aware that the money was stolen. In consideration of their years, the elder of the three being but ten years old, the whole pack were let off on probation.

The "Sparks" gave a very amusing entertainment at Music hall last Thursday evening, to a fair audience. Willie Edouin and Alice Atherton are the principal performers, but the others are all good; the five ladies of the company are all of attractive personal appearance, and the sketch (it cannot be called a play) is the best thing of the class we have seen. There is some good singing and dancing in the piece.

There is no combination of minstrel performers now traveling that has attained the popularity of the famous company widely known as Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's, that will appear in Music hall this evening. The troupe has an established reputation here, and needs no encomiums to impress the public with its merits.

On the evening of Tuesday, the 21st inst., the Fostelle Comedy company will present the new and very amusing comedy entitled "Mrs. Partington" in Music hall.

Mr. Josiah Haley, one of the crew of the schooner Storm King, on the 15th inst. caught on a trawl a cod-fish weighing ninety pounds.

Mr. George R. Jones, formerly clerk with Paymaster Carpenter, U. S. N., at the time he was purchasing paymaster of this naval station, is now a clerk in the United States coast survey service, and attached to the United States steamer A. D. Bache, at present stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Alpha Council, No. 83, Royal Arcanum, on the 15th inst. paid to the widow of Capt. Frank W. Hilton $3000, the full amount of insurance granted by this order.

Old Oaken Bucket Division, No. 2, Sons of Temperance, held an old-fashioned sociable at their hall on Ladd street, Monday evening, Feb. 13th. Supper was served early in the evening in an excellent manner, the tables being nearly overflowed with viands; after supper, reading, singing and speaking were indulged in to a reasonably late hour, all of which was very interesting. A considerable amount of the eatables were left, and were disposed of to some of the poor of the city.

Mr. Frank Cook, one of the crew of the fishing schooner Albert Woodbury of this port, a day or two since hauled up on his trawl a beautiful specimen of sea sponge, in shape like branch coral, with about thirty pendants, half an inch in diameter and from ten to twenty inches long, drooping from it like ostrich feathers.

Naval Constructor Wilson, of this navy yard, has this week gone to Washington in response to a telegram from the secretary of the navy directing him to appear before the committee of conference on the rebuilding of the navy.

At the Nashua Iron & Steel Co.'s office recently an elegant watch was presented to Mr. Thomas Hallen, for many years clerk in the paymaster's office, who has resigned to accept a more lucrative engagement in Massachusetts. After the presentation, Mayor Fletcher and others made remarks. The concluding speech was made by John D. Swain, Esq., superintendent, formerly of this city, whose well-termed remarks wound up with an invitation to partake of a lunch (which the Telegraph tells us proved a banquet,) in his office. The affair was highly enjoyed by all who were present. The company is sending out a large amount of its work, and has orders from all parts of the country; it is one of the most important industries of our state. We are glad to note that its managers appreciate the mechanical and executive ability of our former fellow townsman in his important position of superintendent of their works.

Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden, of Springfield, Mass., makes this interesting statement: "I wish to record my own conviction, drawn from a pretty extensive knowledge of journalists and of clergymen, that the average editor is a little more fair and Christian in his dealings with truth and in his treatment of those who differ from him, than the average parish minister."

BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Feb. 15.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 1361; Sheep and Lambs 9000; Swine 12,715. Veals 45; number of western cattle 1461; eastern cattle 350; milch cows and northern cattle 19.

Prices of Beef Cattle per 100 lbs, live weight—Extra quality $8 50 to $7 12 1-2; first quality $6 00 to $6 87 1-2; second quality $5 37 1-2 to $5 87 1-2; third quality $4 50 to $5 12 1-2; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3 00 to $4 25.

Brighton Hides 9c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 8c per lb.
Country Hides 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 5c per lb.
Calf Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Sheep and Lamb Skins $1 to $1 75 each.

Western cattle not higher at the west than they did the previous week. The quality of those brought in this week was mostly of a good grade, and prices realized for them were fully 1-8c. per lb higher than those of our previous quotations. The demand for beef cattle has been very fair at prices in most instances ranging from 5 1-2 to 6 3-4c per lb live weight. There were but few lots of poor grades of beeves in market this week, and but light call for shipping cattle, most of them being bought up by butchers to slaughter.

Working Oxen—A few pairs each week is all the markets require at the present time. We quote sales of 1 pr, girth 6 ft 8 in, live weight 3600 lbs, at $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 11 in, live weight, at $145; 1 pr, three-year-old steers at $60; 1 pr, five-year-olds, live weight 3400 lbs, girth 7 ft 3 in, at 5 3-4c per lb live weight.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $10 to $15; two year olds $15 to $27; three year olds $25 to $45. Most of the small cattle that are in a fair condition are bought up by butchers to slaughter. The supply in market was light.

Milch Cows—Extra $55 to $75; ordinary $18 to $50; springers $18 to $60 per head. We note sales of 1 new milch cow at $50; 10 springers at $30 to $40 each; 5 springers at $31 each; 8 milch cows at $30 to $40 per head; 14 cows and calves at $37 to $50 per head.

Sheep and Lambs—Those from the west were all owned by butchers, who employ agents to buy and ship direct to them each week—Lambs coming from 6 1-2 to 7 1-2c, sheep 5 1-2 to 7c per lb live weight.

Veal Calves sell well at prices ranging from 4 to 7 1-2c per lb live weight.

Swine—Fat Hogs cost landed at the slaughter houses from 7 to 7 3-4c per lb live weight. Only a few store pigs in market.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. cod&wtjan82

A GOOD DIVIDEND PAYING INVESTMENT.

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co.

CAPITAL $100,000. 1000 SHARES. PAR VALUE $100.

Thomas J. Gifford, President;
Aug. J. Archer, Treasurer;
Wallace Hackett, Secretary.

Organized and Incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.

This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.

The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 5,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on these machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increase earnings and dividends will be realized.

Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.

We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.

A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physician at Fault--Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

Iron and Steel.

In the recent census table, showing the world's production of pig iron and steel, the United States appears second in the list of countries. Great Britain stands first, Germany third and France fourth. In 1880 we produced only about half as much iron as Great Britain, but we turned out more Bessemer steel than is placed to the credit of that country. To give the round figures, the British yield was 7,750,000 tons of iron, 1,044,000 of Bessemer, and 1,415,000 of all kinds of steel, while the American production reached 3,835,000 tons of iron, 1,074,000 of Bessemer, and 1,247,000 of all kinds of steel. The world's production of pig iron in 1880 is given at 17,688,000 gross tons, and of steel at 4,343,000 gross tons. Of these amounts the United States produced twenty-two per cent of iron twenty-nine per cent of steel. These are encouraging figures, and show that the time is not far distant when this country will surpass all others as a producer of iron and steel.

The Proposed New Navy.

At a meeting in Washington, on the evening of Feb. 15th, of the naval advisory board, the naval affairs committees of Congress, and several invited guest of distinction, the meeting having been called by Secretary Hunt, a general discussion of the various questions involved in rebuilding the navy was had, and Mr. Harris, chairman of the house committee, said that he favored, and believed that he represented the committee in so doing, the immediate building of seven vessels, two of the largest class recommended by the advisory board, two of the second class, one of Ammen's rams, and one each of three classes of torpedo boats, at an aggregate cost of $10,000,000. The meeting was very harmonious.

Naval Affairs.

The navy department is informed that the United States sloop Jamestown went into commission at Vallejo, Cal., Feb. 15th, and will put to sea as soon as possible. The Jamestown has been ordered to Newport, R. I., to join the training fleet.

Secretary Hunt telegraphed on the 15th inst. to Commodore Hughes, commandant of the navy yard, Norfolk, Va., in reference to the smallpox cases on board the flagship Tennessee, as follows: "Place a tug at the disposal of the Tennessee to convey when necessary the sick to the hospital; the tug to be careful in communicating with the shore and other vessels; the Tennessee to remain at Hampton Roads until further orders, reporting daily the condition of the health of the ship's company; all hands to be vaccinated, the bureau of medicine and surgery to send down at once the necessary vaccine matter."

Gov. Baldwin of Michigan says, in a letter dated Feb. 8th, that much yet remains to be done ere the fire sufferers are placed in a position to maintain themselves. Full information is being gathered for presentation to the legislature at the coming special session.

A man broke through the ice at Bay City, Mich., while his hands were in his trousers pockets, and was unable to extricate them. But he hooked his chin over the edge of the ice, and so held his head above water until rescued.

We have heard both democrats and republicans say that there is nothing better for a cough than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup; this old reliable remedy never fails to cure a cough or cold at once, and may be obtained at any drug store for 25 cents a bottle.

Miss Annie Louise Cary has generously offered to give a concert in Lewiston, Me., April 12th, for the benefit of Bates college, and President Cheney has gratefully accepted the offer.

A verdict of $14,000 has been given against Mr. Bookwalter, last year's democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, in favor of a man who was badly crippled by falling into a hole in front of the Bookwalter block in Springfield, Ohio.

Rheumatism, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often cured by Brown's Iron Bitters.

Two boiler in the flour mills of the Jewell Brothers, in Brooklyn, exploded at noon on the 16th inst., killing several persons and injuring many others. Several building in the vicinity were badly shattered.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in affecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. S. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FOWLE, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—BANSOM LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago, and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—R. W. DREW, Dunkirk, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTH, Liberty Hills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and sore throat, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: YOUR PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN B. MAY writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

CatarrH

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear, rubbing it thoroughly.

Hay-FeveR

—A fair trial will convince the most skeptical.—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal lulings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a pack age. Send for circular with full information.

POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with uncrossed rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.
Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

PLAIN TRUTHS

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood.

These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively not injurious.

Saved his Child.

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1880.

Gents:—Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried BROWN'S IRON BITTERS as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whom I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the terrible disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loth to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, she began to mend and now is quite restored to former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required;" and when informed that the elder sister was taking BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, responded "that is a good tonic, take it." ADORAM PHELPS.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

DR. BULL'S

COUGH

SYRUP

For the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of consumptive persons in advanced stages of the Disease. For Sale by all Druggists.—Price, 25 cents.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and healthy. Treat of Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty, are caused by Impure blood, and can be recovered in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier.

SULPHUR BITTERS. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Dizziness, Sick Headache, Fever and Ague, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders and Joints, are the results of Indigestion and Dyspepsia, and a few bottles are all that are required to rid the system of these troubles. Why suffer Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Kidney Complaint, when a few bottles of SULPHUR BITTERS will drive it out of the system? Nature's great remedy for all these diseases. Why suffer Blood Poison, Scrofula, Tumors, Ulcers, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Ringworm, Tetter, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, Sore Throat, Mercurial Disease, Old Sores, Nursing Sores, Scaly Skin, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Tumors, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Erysipelas

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

A recent cable dispatch says that telephone exchanges between the shore in England and a cable ship 300 miles distant, have proved successful. The human voice was distinctly transmitted by means of an instrument of American invention.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, FEB. 18, 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

Shocking Disaster.

A large building in Chester, Pa., took fire on the morning of the 17th inst., and was soon blown to pieces by the explosion of Prof. Jackson's fireworks manufactory. Fifteen or twenty persons were killed, about twenty dangerously wounded, and fifty others seriously hurt.

The Concord Fight.

John H. George, counsel for the Boston & Lowell railroad, has filed with the clerk of the court for Merrimac county a petition for the removal to the circuit court of the United States of the bill in equity Burke et als. vs. the Concord railroad et al. Judge Foster has in behalf of the Concord railroad filed another petition, for the removal of William E. Chandler's petition for a writ of mandamus to the circuit court of the United States.

Gerrymandering.

What is known as the Shepard apportionment bill is very popular with republican politicians in Wisconsin, and is likely to pass both branches of the legislature. As a specimen of fine gerrymandering it has never been excelled. It arranges the congressional districts so that the democrats will be cock sure of carrying one, and the republicans quite as sure of carrying the other seven. The democratic vote on the lake shore is consolidated in one district with an estimated democratic majority of 3370; the lowest republican majority is estimated at 1,082, and six other districts are chalked out to give republican majorities ranging from 3,000 up to 8,400 There are numerous other bills of a similar nature proposed, but this one is by all odds the handsomest. It is a great improvement upon anything of the kind that was designed during Elbridge Gerry's governorship of Massachusetts.—Boston Post.

It is possible that the Wisconsin republicans may be able to beat anything ever known in Massachusetts in the line of a gerrymander, (though the district majorities as given by the Post do not show anything very bad,) but it is certain that they can never hope to rival the democratic gerrymander of Mississippi, where a confessed republican majority of 15,000 was crowded into the "shoe-string district," five hundred miles long and nowhere more than fifteen miles wide—which district was afterward persuaded, by means of cannon, red-shirt clubs, shotguns, bull-whips, and other democratic arguments, to send to Congress the notorious Chalmers.

It is even doubtful if the Wisconsin men could possibly equal the outrageous gerrymander which the democratic legislature of Ohio was ordered to make by Sam Randall, at the time that immaculate patriot was speaker of the house in the 45th Congress, in order to secure to the democrats the control of the house in the 46th Congress—which orders the Ohio democrats obeyed, and by so doing did enable their party to control the house for two years more, and to again elect Randall as speaker.

The "North American Review" for March presents a striking array of articles, every one of which possesses contemporaneous interest. First we have a contribution from Senator George F. Edmunds on "The Conduct of the Guiteau Trial." Ex-Minister Edward F. Noyes communicates the results of his observations of political affairs in France, under the title "The Progress of the French Republic." In "Trial by Jury," Judge Edward A. Thomas describes the social conditions under which our system had its origin, and notes its defects in view of the altered relations of modern life. Mr. John Fiske makes an able and ingenious analysis of that great intellectual movement, the Reformation, educing therefrom the "True Lesson of Protestantism." In "Law for the Indians," Rev. Williams Justin Harsha endeavors to demonstrate that the one rational and effectual cure for our Indian troubles is to extend the jurisdiction of the civil and criminal courts over all the social relations of the red man. Prof. A. B. Palmer writes on the "Fallacies of Homeopathy." Finally, Hon. Neal Dow contributes an article on the "Results of Prohibitory Legislation," demonstrating the success of the efforts to suppress the liquor traffic in Maine.

"Canada First," a new Montreal journal which started out with the motto, "Canada first and Great Britain afterwards," is receiving from the tory press of the dominion just such advertising as a new journal ought to be thankful for. The publishers don't seem to look at it in this light, however, and have sued the Toronto Mail for damages, setting the same at the modest sum of $5,000. By the way, it is said that this new journalistic venture is meeting with unqualified success, and that it falls into the hands of a surprisingly large number of Canadians who believe that the dominion ought to cut loose from its mother's apron strings.

Useless Sudies for Girls.

The other day, a young girl of our acquaintance, who is pursuing a selected course of study in one of the collegiate institutions of the city, was examining the printed curriculum with reference to deciding what study she should take next term. While consulting about the matter, she read over the long list of text books on science, language, literature and mathematics, when she suddenly exclaimed, "I'll tell you what I would like to study—I would like to study medicine. I don't mean that I want to be a physician and practice, but to know what to do at home if any body is sick or anything happens. I am sure that it would be more useful to me than spherical trigonometry and navigation. But we can't run for a doctor every time anybody sneezes or coughs, and I would like to know what to do for one who is a little sick." Here is a matter concerning which young women need some simple but careful instruction. But who gives them any? As daughter in the family, they can repeat the dates of the Grecian and Roman wars, work out an intricate problem in algebra, and give the names of all the bones in the body; but if the baby brother left in their charge burns his hand or is seized with croup, how many of them know the best thing to do while waiting for the doctor? And when, as wives and mothers, the duties of life increase, how many have any practical knowledge which will help them to meet calmly and intelligently the everyday experience of accidents and illness which are inevitable in every family?—Harper's Bazaar.

A Mysterious Craft.

The steamship Alpin of the Atlas line had an experience on the voyage home to New York from the West Indies that threw the crew into a ferment of speculation, and provoked endless discussion among the officers and passengers. The discussion was and is about a vessel seen at sea that steamed at an apparent rate of eighty miles an hour, instead of sixteen or eighteen, as is customary in the West Indies. The Alpin was heading for Inagua, an island of the Bahama group, about 250 miles from Kingston, and was about eighty miles out on February 2d, when she caught her first sight of the fast steamer. The Alpin was steaming northward, and the mysterious vessel was at about two miles distance, the smoke showing very black against a light horizon. It was a clear day, and most of the passengers were on deck looking out for the other steamer of the line, which they expected to pass at that point. Just after the first discovery of the steamer she suddenly changed her course abruptly to a right angle to her line, and started toward San Domingo. She moved with amazing rapidity, and was out of sight in so short a time that all the world on the Alpin wondered. It is said that she made eighty miles an hour. She was low built and had two masts, but her colors were undistinguishable.

How to Advertise.

A Hartford (Conn.) man was denouncing newspaper advertising to a crowd of listners:

"Last week," said he, "I had an umbrella stolen from the vestibule of the church. It was a gift, and valuing it very highly, I spent double the worth in advertising, but I have not recovered it."

"How did you word the advertisement?" asked a merchant.

"Here it is," said the man, producing a slip cut from a newspaper.

The merchant took it, and read:

"Lost from the vestibule of the ——— church last Sunday evening, a black silk umbrella. The gentleman who took it will be handsomely rewarded by leaving it at No. — San Fernando street."

"Now," said the merchant, "I am a liberal advertiser, and have always found it paid me well. A great deal depends upon the manner in which an advertisement is put. Let us try for your umbrella again, and if you do not then acknowledge that advertising pays, I will purchase you a new one."

The merchant then took a slip of paper from his pocket and wrote:

"If the man who was seen to take an umbrella from the vestibule of the ——— church last Sunday does not wish to get into trouble, and have a stain cast upon the Christian character which he values so highly, he will return it at once to No. — San Fernando street. He is well known."

This duly appeared in the paper, and the following morning the man was astonished when he opened the front door of his residence. On the porch lay at least a dozen umbrellas of all shades and sizes that had been thrown in from the sidewalk, while the front yard was literally paved with umbrellas. Many of them had notes attached to them saying that they had been taken by mistake, and begging the loser to keep the little affair quiet.

Japanese Theatricals.

In a description of the theatres of Japan, in one of his Lowell Institute lectures, Professor Morse told as follows how the mock combats of the stage are conducted: "The fighting scenes are a Chinese importation. Upon being hit, the actors fall backward with great violence, and stick their legs up in the air. I saw an actor representing one of the Samurar keeping an attacking party of peasants at bay with his fan. At last, when hard pressed by a great number of assailants armed with spears, clubs, etc., he said that he must really draw his sword, and put his hand upon the hilt for the purpose; whereupon the whole attacking party, thirty or forty in number, instantly fell upon their backs and stuck their legs up in the air—which token of the prowess of their upper class gave much gratification to the audience."

—Things don't turn up in this world until somebody turns them up.

—Why is there nothing like leather? Because it is the sole support of a man.

—A few evenings ago a little boy was busily engaged at his lessons. His father, one of the leading citizens, had gone to the lodge, and his mother was busy sewing. The little boy looked up and asked, "Mamma, what does the word 'pretext' mean?" "When your father says he has to go the lodge two or three times a week, that is a 'pretext' to get away." The boy did not say anything, but next day when he read out to a whole school his definition of pretext, he created a sensation.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, comencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dishpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half an inch in diameter, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I carefully prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer!

My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap and the great skin cures. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; use of Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

THE OFFICIAL CODE.

Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., will hereafter display from the headquarters signals to indicate to the members when initiations are to take place, degrees to be conferred, and funerals to be attended, the official code being as follows: A white flag will denote when initiations are to take place; a white, blue and red flag, when degrees are to be conferred; and a black-bordered white flag, with three links in the centre, when the funeral of a brother is to be attended.

WHY THIS IS THUS.

During the discussion in the board of aldermen, at their late meeting, of the north millpond nuisance question, Alderman Caswell asked what the use was of referring so many matters to committees, when so many important subjects long since referred to committees had never been reported on.

Mayor Sise in answer gave the reasons for the failure of several of these committees to report. For instance, the committee appointed to consider the request of certain citizens for a foot-bridge from Freeman's point to Noble's island, and to gather all needed information for the use of the board, had as yet been able to get hold of nothing definite to report, though they had promptly attended to their duty; the existing bridge between the two points named, over which the foot-bridge must pass, is owned by the Portsmouth & Dover railroad, and no answer had been received from the company's managers to the committee's communication. So also the committee on the question of the purchase by the city of the Portsmouth Aqueduct Co.'s property had sent a communication to the corporation, but no answer had been received, and without it there could be no use in making up a report.

The heavy stone wall built by the Eastern railroad across the foot of Russell alley has been surmounted along its entire length with a neat board fence, the supports of which are strong iron bars set in the heavy stones of the bank wall. A fence could also be placed across the northern end of Wall street, the avenue next east of Russell alley, without doing much harm that we can see, for the street can never be used as a passage way for teams in the present condition of its northern terminus, and a runaway horse could easily break himself all up, and also anything fast to him, by plunging down the steep rock at that point. Even a foot passenger, in endeavoring to pass through the street on a dark night, would be likely enough to receive severe bodily harm, for which the city would justly be liable.

Of "Mrs. Partington," which is to be presented at Music hall on Tuesday evening next, the Boston Herald says: "Mr. Fostelle manages, during the course of a four-act comedy, to give a creditable and very laughable assumption of that garrulous, good-natured, but very ignorant old lady, known as Mrs. Partington; and if, at last, an excess of laughter rather takes some of the fun away from the ludicrous situations at the end of the piece, it is only because the audience laughed itself tired in the beginning."

The signal station in this city has been transferred from the Portland to the Boston district, and now we do not have to wait until a storm has reached Portland, after raging here for six or eight hours, before the "warning" signal is displayed.

The Journal of the 18th inst. says: "On Friday night of last week two Danes and a colored woman were given lodgings at the station house. They were travelling on foot from Providence, R. I., to St. John, N. B., and had a donkey with them carrying their earthly goods. They were fourteen days on the road from Providence to this city."

The discoverable property of "Rev." Arthur A. Waite, attached by the Odd Fellows' Hall association of Lynn, Mass., was sold at public auction in Lynn a few days ago. The property consisted of his crayon-drawing paraphernalia, and a member of the reform club in that town purchased it. It is to be hoped that the Eastern states have seen the last of this hypocritical but unquestionably "smart" dead beat.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose & West's minstrels gave a big variety entertainment to a large audience, Friday night in Music hall.

The Eastern railroad company, under the plan of selling seats in the parlor cars for the season, last summer received from that source alone an amount equal to one-fifth of the cost of the cars. The experiment has proved so successful that the company now propose to make it a permanent institution.

The aldermanic committee to whom was referred the question of abating the north millpond nuisance, held a meeting Friday evening. It was thought that a sewer should be built to deep tide water, all sewers running into the pond connecting with it. A petition will be circulated among the tax-paying citizens for signatures, praying the board of aldermen to build such a sewer.

Rev. Mr. Hall of the Advent church will take part in the Lenten services at the Episcopal church.

It was reported on Friday last that the schooners Active and Free Wind, of this port, had been sold, the former to Portsmouth buyers, and the latter to parties in Providence, R. I., the price paid being stated at $4000 for each vessel. A further report was that Capt. John Hontvet, late master of the schooner Maud B. Wetherell, will command the Active. The Active is a two-masted schooner of 264 tons register, and the Free Wind a three-master of 145 tons register. Since the foregoing was in type we learn that the Active has been bought by Messrs. Ryder & Cotton, and others, and will be continued in the coasting business.

A petition asking the secretary of the navy to place a receiving ship at this naval station, will next week be circulated among our citizens for signatures.

We learn that orders by telegraph were received at the navy yard on Friday to stop all work in the department of steam engineering upon the Omaha. This will cause the discharge of several machinists in that department.

The Biddeford Times says: "A. M. Soteldo, the man who was shot and killed by Barton in Washington, recently, was married at the Saco house, by Rev. J. T. G. Nichols of Saco, August 11th, 1881, to a Miss Clement, daughter of Hon. W. H. Clement of Ohio. It was a runaway match. The bride's parents were bitterly opposed to it, and did not know of the marriage until some time afterwards. Clement spends most of his summers at the Pool, and is the owner of the celebrated yacht 'Carrie,' which is kept at the Pool all of the time. It appears that Miss Clement was deeply in love with Soteldo, but her parents objected to the union, and for a short time it appeared as if the lovers would not be able to get married, but love cares not, etc., and while she was at the Pool, with her parents, Soteldo came down, and they were married at the Saco house as above stated. This marriage caused quite a sensation in Washington at the time."

Considerable apprehensions are felt for the safety of several of the Georges haddocking fleet, and some of the bankers are overdue. No tidings of them have been received since the gale on the 4th inst. News of their safety is looked forward to with great anxiety.

Mrs. Elizabeth T. Weston, of Peterboro, entered the fifth year of her second century of life on the 15th inst., celebrating her 104th birthday at her daughter's residence in Greenfield. Five generations were present. The old lady enjoys good health. She took a sleigh ride and was photographed in the morning, and received in the afternoon. A prayer and congratulatory address were made by Rev. Edward Green; poems by Mrs. Sand Weston and Mrs. Salinda Holt; letters, presents, etc.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. "It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $5.00,—so assessable. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. For further particulars enquire of

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co.

CAPITAL $100,000. 1000 SHARES.
PAR VALUE $100.

Thomas J. Gifford, President;
Aug. J. Archer, Treasurer;
Wallace Hackett, Secretary.

Organized and Incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.

This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.

The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 2,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on these machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increased earnings and dividends will be realized.

Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.

We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.

A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physic an at Fault--Dr, David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The National Banks.

The Manchester Union is not the only democratic paper which deprecates the senseless (and to the democratic party ruinous) fight against the national banking system. The Virginian, a "stalwart" democratic paper of Lynchburg, Va., says: "The democrats in Congress are making a foolish war upon the national banks, which, no matter where, or how originated, undoubtedly furnish as the best financial medium for conducting the business of the country we have ever had. We do not say that the system is perfect, or that it may not be improved by a larger experience, that would serve to bring out whatever defects may exist in it; but we do not say that it is far better than the old free (or state) banking systems, that filled the country with shinplasters and irredeemable paper money."

A Close Shave.

There was a narrow escape from what might easily have been a terrible accident in Dover on the 15th inst. A load of stone weighing three and a half tons got stuck on the Franklin street crossing of the Boston & Maine railroad, when the 5:20 P. M. train from Boston for Portland was approaching, and the flagman, hearing the whistle, caught his yellow flag, not having time to get the red one, and ran up the track. The Democrat says the flagman "was accompanied by several men, and the waving of the flag and the combined motions of the men's hands, gave the engineer to understand that the track was obstructed. He instantly reversed steam and applied the brakes, and although passing over the bridge at a rapid rate, he managed to bring his locomotive to a dead stand still within a very few feet of the loaded team. Everybody expected a crash and a wreck, and it was exceedingly fortunate that it fell a little short. Some of those who saw it declare that the engineer reversed the steam so quickly and forcibly that it hoisted the forward trucks of the locomotive two feet above the track. He meant business, and had he not been quick about it, perhaps there would have been a fearful slaughter, as it was a passenger train having a good many people on board. We have long been expecting some sort of a disaster there, and have frequently called attention to it, but nothing has yet been done, and nobody knows as there ever will be."

—Never strike a horse that is pulling its best, even if the progress be slow.

—A young lady ate half a wedding-cake, and then tried to dream of her future husband. Now she says she would rather die than marry the man she saw in that dream.

People who cannot spend the season of winds and cold rains in sunny Florida should keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in the house. It is the best remedy for colds and coughs and will relieve sufferers at once.

—Policeman to group of small boys: "Come now, move on! There's nothing the matter here." Sarcastic boy: "Of course there isn't. If there was you wouldn't be here."

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

—You can't deceive the elements. The last snowstorm in New York put fool-caps of snow on the heads of all the statues of distinguished citizens in the parks."

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

—While Mr. Schoeperkotter, of St. Louis, was drinking a glass of beer, somebody walked off with his gold-headed cane. This is a penetrating temperance lecture.

Be Careful!

No matter what disease you may have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink but are made of the choicest roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—Daily Argus.

—She told him that she could read his mind like an open book; and then softly added, "blank book."

Josh Billings Heard From.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11. 1880.

Dear Bitters—I am here trying to breath in all the salt air of the ocean, and having been a sufferer for more than a year with a refractory liver, I was induced to mix Hop Bitters with the sea gale, and have found the tincture a glorious result. * * I have been greatly helped by the Bitters, and am not afraid to say so. Yours without a struggle,

JOSH BILLINGS.

—"Pride goes before a fall." True enough, but a pint of corn whiskey can give pride a hundred, and beat it every time.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEAMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—Geo. H. EVERETT, Dickerson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FORD, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—Hanson Lewis, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine received.—D. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow my food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—F. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

CatarrH

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever or Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear, rubbing in thoroughly.

Hay-FeveR

—A fair trial will convince the most skeptical.—

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a pack age. Send for circular with full information.

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First,

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second,

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third,

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth,

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth,

Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth,

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire News; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The Secret

of the universal success of Brown's Iron Bitters is simply this: It is the best Iron preparation ever made; is compounded on thoroughly scientific, chemical and medicinal principles, and does just what is claimed for it—no more and no less.

By thorough and rapid assimilation with the blood, it reaches every part of the system, healing, purifying and strengthening. Commencing at the foundation it builds up and restores lost health—in no other way can lasting benefit be obtained.

77 Dearborn Ave., Chicago, Nov. 7.
I have been a great sufferer from a very weak stomach, heartburn, and dyspepsia in its worst form. Nearly everything I ate gave me distress, and I could eat but little. I have tried everything recommended, have taken the prescriptions of a dozen physicians, but got no relief until I took Brown's Iron Bitters. I feel none of the old troubles, and am a new man. I am getting much stronger, and feel first-rate. I am a railroad engineer, and now make my trips regularly. I can not say too much in praise of your wonderful medicine. D. C. MACK.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not contain whiskey or alcohol, and will not blacken the teeth, or cause headache and constipation. It will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, dizziness, nervous debility, weakness, &c.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore. Crossed red lines and trade-mark on wrapper.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP

For the Cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Croup, Asthma, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Incipient Consumption and for the relief of consumptive persons in advanced stages of the Disease. For Sale by all Druggists.—Price, 25 cents.

New Hampshire Items.

The first reunion of the First New Hampshire Battery was held in Manchester on the 17th inst., and a permanent organization formed. This organization went to the front in 1861 with a membership of 154 men, and although participating in twenty-three active engagements, it sustained a loss of but seven men, either killed in battle or who died from other causes, and of the entire number of men recruited for this command all but thirty are now alive. Seventy-eight men responded to the roll-call on the 17th.

Of the forty original corporators of the Savings Bank for the County of Strafford, at Dover, which was incorporated in 1823, only one is now alive,—Judge Nathan Crosby of Lowell, Mass. Judge Crosby is eighty-three years of age, hale and hearty, and is one of the most efficient temperance workers in Lowell.

In the Supreme court at Dover the grand jury reported twenty indictments, Friday, three for assault, one shooting with intent to kill, one rape, seven larceny, one cruelty to horse, and seven for selling liquor. In the case of Catherine Sherry vs. the town of Rochester, to recover $5,000 for injuries incurred through a defective highway, the jury rendered a verdict for $2,833.

A resident of Dover is the possessor of a very ancient eight-day clock, said to be the oldest timepiece in Strafford county. It was made in England nearly 200 years ago, and keeps correct time.

Young's hotel at Franklin Falls, just completed, was formally dedicated on Thursday evening of last week by a grand ball and supper, given by the Knights of Pythias.

Ten years ago Dover had seventeen shoe factories, whose pay roll equalled that of the Cocheco Manufacturing company. To-day but three factories are in operation, with a weekly pay roll of but $1,600.

Dr. John A. Dana died at his residence in Ashland on Tuesday, Feb 14th. He was born in New Hampton, in 1813. He has had a large medical practice in Grafton county, and was well known in musical circles, in the doings of which he took an active part throughout the state. One of his daugters is Mrs. Martha Dana Shepherd, the pianist.

Free of charge—sample bottle of Adamson's Cough Balsam at all drug stores. Owing to its perfect harmony in combination it is the very best mixture for the speedy cure and relief of croup, colds, throat or lung diseases. Large bottles, 35 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

Edwin Stone of Biddeford is the new chairman of the democratic state committee of Maine.

Terrible itching and scaly humors, ulcers, sores and scrofulous swellings cured by the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures) externally, and Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier) internally. Ask about them at your druggists.

There lives in Salem, Mass., a thrifty and good-looking Irish woman less than forty years old, who has had sixteen children, of whom thirteen are living.

Deaths to rats, mice, roaches and ants; Parsons Exterminator. Barns, granaries and households cleared in a single night. No fear of bad smells. Best and cheapest vermin killer in the world. Sold everywhere.

Ko Kun Hoa, the Chinese professor of Chinese at Harvard, died of pneumonia last week.

Stop and Think

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they may do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches out and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—Boston Daily Globe.

There was a $6000 fire in the office of the Eagle at Lawrence, Mass., Friday night. The Eagle appeared on Saturday morning as usual.

Health and Happiness.

It seems strange that anyone will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilitic disorders, weakness of the kidneys, all nervous disorders and debility. It corrects indigestion. It makes the old feel young, and the young feel gay; and will invariably drive out of the system the many ills that the human flesh is heir to. It acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system.

Father Agudi, late pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic church at Hartford, Conn., was recently married to Miss Bridget Welsh, at New Haven, and is said to be now keeping a dining saloon at Bridgeport. A Methodist clergyman married the pair.

Rheumatism, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often cured by Brown's Iron Bitters.

John W. Deering was on Friday nominated for mayor of Portland, Me., on a citizen's ticket.

An exceedingly bad attack of rheumatism afflicting Mr. J. Levett, 67 Market street, Lynn, Mass., was cured by St. Jacobs Oil. He had the disease in his right arm and shoulder, which became perfectly helpless after being affected a few hours. His pain was so great that he could not rest in comfort or attend to business with any degree of satisfaction. After enduring this sort of thing for some time, he purchased a bottle of the great German remedy and began to apply it. He did not mince matters at all, but just used the Oil for all it was worth. After pursuing this mode of treatment for three days the pain was banished and his arm was in a perfectly healthy condition. He has never since felt any rheumatic pain and trusts he never will.

At Goodman, Miss., on the night of the 17th inst., Dr. J. B. Clayton ordered a party of serenaders to stop their "music" in his yard, and because they would not, fired at them, and killed F. L. Lester, one of the serenaders.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 10, 1878.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1860, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self-cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers, address J. H. REEVES, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

D. W. Vanderhoof, bookkeeper of the First National bank of St. Paul, Minn., is a defaulter to the extent of $48,000, and is under arrest.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

MONDAY, FEB. 20, 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

Disastrous Fire.

In Haverhill, Mass., on the night of Feb. 17th, shortly before midnight fire was discovered in the leather store of E. B. Wentworth, and before the conflagration was extinguished the entire business portion of the city was destroyed. Upward of eight acres of ground were burned over, the disaster being more overwhelming than the great fires of Boston or Chicago, in proportion to the wealth and business of the several cities; about sixty buildings in the best part of Haverhill are gone; between eighty and ninety business firms, including two national banks, one savings bank and nearly every shoe manufacturer, are burned out; and between 2000 and 3000 people are thrown out of employment.

The direct pecuniary loss is estimated at from $1,500,000 to $2,500,000, the first estimate being made by but few; but in addition to the primary loss must be considered the great interruption to trade and manufacturing, and the loss of wages to so many employes. Three lives are known to have been lost, and up to Saturday night a score or more persons were missing; most of the latter, however, will probably turn up.

The fire could not have occurred at a worse time in the year, as the shoe factories were all busy turning out goods to fill orders. These orders represent sales made by sample in all parts of the country, and consequently the inability of the Haverhill manufacturers to fill them will be felt in all directions. The goods manufactured at Haverhill are not made elsewhere to any extent; they are of the lighter class, and are always in demand.

Mrs. Garfield's Answer.

J. H. Rhodes, secretary of the Garfield monument committee, reports that on the 17th inst. Mrs. Garfield read the letter of Mrs. Scoville, and that he (Mr. Rhodes) was authorized in her behalf to say that toward the slayer of her husband she cherishes no malace; he must answer only to his God and the American people; for the sister and all members of his family she feels only profound pity. Further than this she asks to be left alone with her sorrow, and to be spared being dragged into useless and torturing publicity. Mrs. Garfield will not answer the letter.

Naval Affairs.

Lieut. William I. Moore is detached from duty at the Norfolk navy yard, and ordered to the naval academy.

Lieut. Commander George E. Ide has been authorized to delay reporting on board the receiving ship Independence until March 1st next.

Passed Assistant Surgeon W. R. DuBose has been ordered to the Wachusett at Sitka, Alaska, per first steamer leaving San Francisco for that port.

The navy department is in receipt of a lengthy report, accompanied by charts, etc., from Commander Bridgman, commanding the Despatch, giving in detail the results of his survey of Samana bay as far as conducted.

Lieut. Wm. P. Randall and Gunner Wm. Chaney have been placed on the retired list.

The Grain Crop of 1881.

The cereal estimates of the department of agriculture for the crops of 1881 are completed, showing a more general reduction in the yield than for many years. In no season since the inauguration of crop reporting has there been so general a disaster involving corn, wheat, barley, buckwheat and rye,—oats alone being exempt from loss.

The aggregate of the corn estimates is 1,194,916,000 bushels; rye 20,704,950; barley, 41,161,330; oats, 416,481,000; buckwheat, 9,486,200; wheat, 360,280,090. The aggregate product of all cereals is 2,063,029,570 bushels in 1881, against 2,728,193,501 bushels in 1880, a decrease of twenty-four per cent. The aggregate value of cereals grown in 1881 is greater than the total valuation of 1880. Corn and oats being mainly consumed at home, and used interchangeably, are the most affected by the failure.

The average value of corn advanced from 39 6-10 cents in 1880, to 63 6-10 cents in 1881; oats from thirty-six to 46 4-10 cents; wheat advanced from the average of ninety-five cents, to $1.19 per bushel.

News and Notes.

The report is confirmed that George Crawford, who died recently at Brooklyn, N. Y., confessed the murder, nine years ago, of George Barr of Highgate, Vt.

George S. Sweet, picture dealer at Providence, R. I., was arrested last Friday afternoon on complaint of Anthony Comstock, on a charge of selling obscene stereoscopic pictures.

Silas W. Snow, publisher of an evening paper in New Bedford, having been detected in numerous forgeries, unsuccessfully attempted suicide with chloroform at Mattapoisett, Mass., last Thursday night or Friday morning. His father has paid the forged notes.

"The world" in Wheeling, West Virginia, is excited because A. W. Campbell, editor of the Weekly Intelligencer, has begun proceedings for divorce from his wife, he having caught George K. Wheat in his wife's chamber. Mr. Wheat is one of the wealthiest merchants in Wheeling, is married, and Mrs. Campbell is a very beautiful woman, a second wife of Campbell's. All circulate in "the best society."

John W. Daniel, the late democratic candidate for governor of Virginia, has been made a bank president in Lynchburg, Va.

At Guadalajara, Mexico, Feb. 16th, two editors fought a duel, and both were killed. At the city of Mexico, Feb. 14th, Senors Rabago and Queveto fought a duel, and the former had an arm shot off. Those Mexicans should study the Virginia plan of duelling without danger—ten shots apiece and nobody hurt.

Paddy Ryan, the rough who had the recent prize fight with Sullivan of Boston, in which unfortunately neither of the ruffians was killed, was robbed of his watch and $800 in a vile den in New York, one night last week.

There has been a pleasant romance in the life of Mr. John J. Flynn, of the Chicago News, recently appointed consul to Chemnitz. When very young he married a Maryland school-girl, but the couple soon wearied of wedded life, and the wife went back to school and procured a divorce, the husband assenting. Four years afterward a correspondence sprang up between them, and the discovery w s made that they had a mutual esteem and love. The result was a second marriage, and there is nowhere a happier family than theirs. They seem to have been made for each other, but the first time they came together too soon.

"James Abram Garfield," a eulogy by Hon. George F. Horr, will be published immediately by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. "Magyarland," an interesting book of travel in two volumes, well illustrated, is soon to be republished in this country by the same firm.

The March "Atlantic" contains poems by Whittier, Holmes, Stedman, Charlotte Fiske Bates, and Edith Thomas.

Portraits of Dickens, James, Stedman, and Bret Harte will be added to the next edition of Houghton, Mifflin & Co.'s portrait catalogue.

The "Century Magazine" will, in the next and succeeding numbers, be largely occupied with the Jewish question. In March, James Bryce, M. P., the historian, writes about Beaconsfield, and incidentally about the Jews in general. In April, Miss Lazarus will answer the question, "Was Lord Beaconsfield a representative Jew?" In the same number, Madame Ragozin will describe the present situation in Russia, from a Russian point of view. A reply to Madame Ragozin, by a Jewish writer, will appear in the May number, and other papers will appear in which the relations between the Israelites and Christians in America will be discussed.

The Eastern Railroad company has under contemplation a plan for avoiding its grade-crossings between Causeway street, Boston, and the Mystic river. It is proposed to have electric signals at the know-nothing crossings of the Grand Junction road and the Mystic branch of the Lowell road; to go over the Fitchburg road tracks, and to enter its depot on a slightly higher elevation than at present. The scheme is regarded as practicable, and can, it is said, be carried out at a comparatively small expense.

A barn on the Grover place, so-called, near the head of York river, in York, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 16th inst. There is no house on the place, and the fire was no doubt incendiary. The Grover place is owned by Mr. Leonard C. Cook, of Kittery, who held insurance of $50 on the barn, and $100 on the hay and the other contents of the building.

The Boston & Northern Telephone Co. are setting poles in Kittery, for a line to the navy yard. Several sub-lines will be connected, one of them entering the residence of Dr. M. F. Wentworth, for the convenience of his many patients in Portsmouth.

Mr. Charles Grant, landlord of the Sea Cottage at York beach, has the name of driving as nice teams as are to be seen on the York roads. He last season had a harness, richly mounted with silver and costing $160, made in Dover for his five-years-old "Langton" horse. He proposes to drive a span not to be beaten in this section, the coming summer.

Limerick has a brass band of twenty-seven pieces.

—That laughter costs too much which is purchased by the sacrifice of decency.

—A snowball stopped an elopement in Louisville. It was thrown by a boy in the street, knocking off the hat of the driver of the carriage in which the runaway couple were riding to a railroad station, thus causing just enough delay to make them miss the train. Thus hindered, they were caught and separated by the girl's father.

—"Well," said Mr. Fleming, a prominent citizen of Fort Wayne, Ind., "I don't know what to make of it." Mr. Fleming referred to the elopement of his young and beautiful daughter, finely educated, sweet and gentle in disposition, and quite domestic in her tastes, with Tony Trentman, a notorious gambler and tough crowd generally. And all the good people echo the old gentleman's words.

—A Boston tramp appealed to a man of generous instincts the other day for ten cents to save him from starving. He had not had a mouthful to eat since before the war, and the memory of the man did not run back to the time when he last enjoyed a night's sleep. "My friend, I am sorry," said the person accosted, taking from his pocket a silver dollar, "but this is the smallest piece I have." "Oh never mind," said the tramp, nonchalantly possessing himself of the coin, "I'll change it," and he counted out ninety cents from a handful of silver which he took from his pocket, and went on his way rejoicing.

Cuticura
STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half as large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 13th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer! My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, "We will try Cuticura." Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap, the great skin cures. I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

100 times more effectual than any other plaster or battery for pain and weakness of the lungs, liver, kidneys and urinary organs, partial paralysis, rheumatism, neuralgia, hysteria, female weakness, nervous pains and weaknesses, malaria and fever and ague. Price 25c. Sold everywhere.

THE
Mutual Life Insurance Co.
of New York,
F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

WEEKLY FISH REPORT.

The summary of fish receipts at this port for the week ending Feb. 19th shows unusually light results, there having been only fifteen arrivals from the off-shore grounds, with 36,507 pounds of cod and haddock, against twenty-four arrivals the week previous, with 88,610 lbs. All kinds of fish have been in steady demand, bringing high prices, fares in some instances realizing $4 to $4.12 per hundred pounds; and dealers have been unable to fill their orders even at these prices. Some of the cod brought in during the week were quite large, one caught on a trawl weighing ninety pounds,—the largest one reported as having been brought into this port this season, though last winter there were many that weighed over a hundred pounds, several tipping the scales at one hundred and twelve.

"MRS. PARTINGTON."

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, the Fostelle dramatic company will present "Mrs. Partington," of which the Boston Globe says:

Charles Fostelle's impersonation of Mrs. Partington is comical in the extreme and the bills truly describe the audiences as being convulsed with one interminable roar of mirth. His comical face is indescribable, and his natural presentation of the famous old blunderess is in strict keeping with the mind's ideal, which has been in household veneration since earliest childhood. That omnipresent imp of mischief, the irrepressible Ike, has a worthy representative, being enacted by Master Dunn, whose funny characterization of Nadia, in the burlesque of "Mike Strogoff," did much to the latter's success. Joseph H. Keane, who has been a sectional star for many years, has been secured for the egotistical and pompous but deaf old judge, and James Power stutters as the tongue-tied deacon. The remaining characters are well rendered.

NATHANIEL GRANT MARSHALL.

Hon. Nathaniel G. Marshall died at his residence in York, Me., Friday afternoon, Feb. 17th, of Bright's disease of the kidney's.

Mr. Marshall was well known throughout York county as a man of wonderful energy and efficient business traits. He was born with but one hand, and it was perhaps to this peculiar circumstance, as he often maintained, that he was largely indebted for his success in life. His mother died when he was but two years old, leaving him and a sister dependant upon a relative, and his early life was far from being an easy one; but his undaunted courage and perseverence enabled him to surmount all obstacles. Fully aware, as he often said, that if he was ever to make a living he must do it with his brains, the boy bent his energies to getting an education in his leisure moments from toil, and he was frequently to be seen, evenings, at Mr. Alexander McIntire's at "the village," earnestly studying by the light of a pine knot. At a later date he spent one term at Andover (Mass.) academy, paying his expenses by working mornings and evenings, and Saturdays.

At the age of twenty Mr. Marshall took charge of a school in his native town, and at a later date went into business at York Corner with a Mr. Clark, under the firm name of Marshall & Clark. He still continued his habits of industry; did probate business and conveyancing, and was subsequently admitted to the bar of York county; he also expended much time in collecting the materials for a history of the town of York, a work into which he entered with much enthusiasm.

At the commencement of the war of secession he was appointed assessor of internal revenue for the first district of Maine, with headquarters at Portland, in which position he proved a most competent and faithful official. After filling this office for several years he resigned, and returned to York; and soon after, in company with several others he built the Marshall house at York harbor, upon a site possessing more attractions than almost any other upon our coast, but which hitherto had been wholly neglected as a summer resort, though now a favorite and widely-famed watering place.

For forty years or more Mr. Marshall was prominent in the political affairs of the town and county of York, having acceptably filled many offices of responsibility and consequence, including those of town representative to the legislature, state senator from the district, and deputy sheriff and high sheriff of the county.

He was born in York on the 2d of May, 1812, his father being John Marshall, who learned his trade with George Williams, and married Eunice Grant, daughter of John Grant.

On the 2d of April, 1841, the subject of this sketch married Sophia B. Bragdon, daughter of James Bragdon 3d, who was for a long time deputy sheriff and jailer at York, representative for many years, and at the time of his death, Nov. 6th, 1830, was a member-elect of the legislature. By this marriage, Mr. Marshall had born to him eight children, four sons and four daughters, of whom six survive, the eldest, Edward S. Marshall, being well known as the proprietor of the Marshall house. Of the other sons, George is in business in York, Bradford is an extensive farmer in Massachusetts, and Francis Bacon (the seventh child) was killed in 1865 by falling from a scaffold in a barn. Of the four daughters, two are unmarried and live in York; Mary Ann, who married Hervey A. Lord, died in 1872; and Juliette is the wife of Hon. E. C. Moody of York, who is a grandson of Capt. Charles Moody, and lives upon the Moody estate where his ancestors once resided.

Mr. Marshall's first wife died several years ago, and at the time of his death he was living with his second wife.

Mr. Howe, one of the pedestal clog dancers and back-somersault-turners of the minstrel company which performed in Music hall on Friday evening of last week, received while performing so severe a cut in one leg that six stitches had to be taken to close it, and he was obliged to remain at the Gibson house next day while the company went on. He had been standing on his hands, and coming down on his feet upon the pedestal a hair off his balance had to jump to the floor, in doing which he struck his leg against a projection from the pedestal, receiving the injury referred to.

Mr. Augustus Hauscom of Eliot drove into this city on Saturday a pair of very handsome six-years-old cattle, weighing 3450 pounds, live weight. They were bought by a Portsmouth provision dealer, for beef.

There was a brilliant display of the northern light, Friday night.

The glare of a large fire, apparently a long way off, was visible in the southwestern sky to persons who were on the streets of this city between twelve and four o'clock Saturday morning. The light was from the great fire in Haverhill, Mass.

There will be a gospel temperance meeting in the Court street Christian church this (Monday) evening at 7:30 o'clock; the service will consist of singing, speaking and recitations. All are invited.

A. C. Hoyt, of Alpha Council, No. 83, Royal Arcanum, has been appointed District Deputy Supreme Regent, in place of Morris C. Foye, resigned.

At the meeting of the Rockingham County Temperance association, at Greenland on Thursday, Feb. 23d, Chaplain William H. Stewart, U. S. N., is to give an address on "Our Work, and Incentives to that Work."

Friday morning, at four o'clock, the thermometer at this office stood at forty degrees above zero; on Saturday morning at the same hour it was at ten above.

The schooner John Lenthall came in from the Shoals on Saturday last, having landed there about two hundred and fifty tons of ice cut by C. L. Brown from the pond on Seavey's island, Kittery, for the use of the Shoals hotels next summer. About one hundred and fifty tons more will be cut at the same place this week, and carried out by the same vessel.

Six of the twenty new passenger cars which the Eastern railroad proposes to construct at its car works in Salem, Mass., before summer travel commences this season, have been completed. The three new locomotives from the Burnside works at Providence, R. I., have been received; they have 58-inch drivers, and 28-inch stroke.

Adam Forepaugh, who as a showman merits the title "great," will probably make the eastern circuit the coming season with his immense circus and menagerie, in which case Portsmouth will be set down for one date. Mr. Forepaugh began active life as a butcher boy at four dollars a week, and by his own energy, industry and foresight has placed himself in the front rank of successful and wealthy exhibitors. His advertising agent has recently been sending around to the papers large likenesses (colored lithographs) of the great showman, and one of them hangs on our office wall.

A large sheet of ice came down Spruce creek on Saturday afternoon, and striking the Kittery Point bridge knocked one section of the piling out of place, letting the bridge floor and supporting timbers settle several feet at that point.

J. W. Mason & Son, of Limerick, have just opened a new store in their building erected on the site of one burned a few years ago. The building is claimed to be the finest wooden edifice in York county.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 25000 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent,—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00,—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. For further particulars enquire of

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co.

CAPITAL $100,000. 1000 SHARES.
PAR VALUE $100.

Thomas J. Gifford, President;
Aug. J. Archer, Treasurer;
Wallace Hackett, Secretary.

Organized and Incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.

This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.

The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 2,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on those machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increased earnings and dividends will be realized.

Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.

We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.

A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old fam y Physic an at Fault--Dr, David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

Early Spring Chicks.

In breeding poultry, no matter whether they are the high-priced thoroughbred stock or not, the main idea with all is usually one of profit, and the proper way to commence as well as carry it out, is to try to make a fair profit, even if all the surplus stock is sold in the open market at ordinary fowl-meat prices, and not at the usual advanced prices obtained for fine, pure-bred stock. Where this is done, there is rarely, if ever, any reasonable cause for dissatisfaction. Where a person has the conveniences, there is no way in which as much profit can be made from poultry as by breeding extra early spring chicks,—those which are ready to market with early asparagus, and weigh from two to four pounds per pair or more. There is always a large demand for these young "broilers," and at prices which are not merely entirely satisfactory to the breeder, but astonishing to those who are new to the business. As they are marketed when about three months old, they cost but little for food, and by double and treble the profit they would if kept until full and then sold in the market at a dollar apiece, which price is much above the average. Aside from this, the loss from accidents and sickness, which is no inconsiderable item, between the ages of three months and eight or nine months, is avoided.—American Agriculturist.

Anecdote of Dr. Mather Byles

During the division preceding the Revolution, Rev. Dr. Byles, who was favorable to the mother country, was sentenced to be confined to his own house in Boston, with a guard placed over him. On one occasion he exhibited his love of ridicule by persuading his sentinel to go on an errand for him, promising to take his place. This he did very faithfully; and to the great amusement of all who passed, the doctor was seen very gravely marching before his door, the musket on his shoulder, keeping guard over himself. A short time after, it was thought best to relieve him from the presence of a sentinel. On some further complaint, a guard was again placed over him; but he was soon freed, and no further noticed. Speaking of these transactions, he said "he had been guarded, regarded, and disregarded."

Houghton, Mifflin & Co., are to publish the first volume of Bret Harte's complete works, in a few days, containing all his poems and "The Two Men of Sandy Bar." This volume will also contain a steel engraved portrait of the author, and an introduction written by him. The edition will comprise five crown octavo volumes.

The schools all over the country are making extensive preparations to celebrate Longfellow's birthday, Feb. 27th, and in order to meet the demand for assistance and information the publishers of his works have prepared a brief biography of the poet to which are added his portrait, a picture of his residence, and one of his poems illustrated. These biographies are given away to teachers who apply personally or by mail to Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Boston.

Having used Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup in my family for the last three years, I find it is the best preparation I have ever used for coughs and colds, giving almost immediate relief. B. WALKER, Gen'l Com. Merchant, 118 Light st., Baltimore, Md.

Not to be Sneezed at.

That pure, sweet, safe and effective American distillation of witch hazel, American pine, Canada fir, marigold and clover blossom, called Sanford's Radical Cure for catarrh. A few doses instantly relieve the most violent sneezing or head cold, stop all watery discharges from the nose and eyes, cure headache and nervousness, and banish all danger of fever. Complete treatment for one dollar.

At Walpole, Mass., Feb. 17th, J. David Morse was instantly killed by being thrown upon a circular saw in a mill where he was at work. A slab he was removing caught the saw.

Be Careful!

No matter what disease you may have. Be sure that the medicine you take is reliable. Such a medicine you will always find Sulphur Bitters. They are not a cheap rum drink but are made of the choicest roots and herbs to be found in the vegetable kingdom.—Daily Argus.

At Cartersville, Ga., Feb. 17th, five men were instantly killed and many wounded by the explosion of a boiler in the Georgia Car Works. Two of the wounded died in a few hours.

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man. In his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—E. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BARTON SEXMAN.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. B. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. FOSTER, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—RANSOM LEWIS, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago, and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Wingdale, Dutchess, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation within. We would not be without it.—A. P. ROUTH, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and charped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed, I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALDOW writes from Coshocton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For chills and fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a concentrated summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire News carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

The Secret

of the universal success of Brown's Iron Bitters is simply this: It is the best Iron preparation ever made; is compounded on thoroughly scientific, chemical and medicinal principles, and does just what is claimed for it—no more and no less.

By thorough and rapid assimilation with the blood, it reaches every part of the system, healing, purifying and strengthening. Commencing at the foundation it builds up and restores lost health—in no other way can lasting benefit be obtained.

77 Dearborn Ave., Chicago, Nov. 7.

I have been a great sufferer from a very weak stomach, heartburn, and dyspepsia in its worst form. Nearly everything I ate gave me distress, and I could eat but little. I have tried everything recommended, have taken the prescriptions of a dozen physicians, but got no relief until I took Brown's Iron Bitters. I feel none of the old troubles, and am a new man. I am getting much stronger, and feel first-rate. I am a railroad engineer, and now make my trips regularly. I can not say too much in praise of your wonderful medicine. D. C. MACK.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not contain whiskey or alcohol, and will not blacken the teeth, or cause headache and constipation. It will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, dizziness, nervous debility, weakness, &c.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore. Crossed red lines and trade-mark on wrapper.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

An Oyster War.

Advices from Fredericksburg, Va., say "the oyster pirates, who have for so many years been a terror to the shores of the Rappahannock, have been surrounded and captured. The fleet of well-armed vessels, which has been defying the law officers and citizens for a month, has been having everything much its own way. The owners of oyster beds dared not molest them, nor make any attempt to preserve their own rights, for a shower of slugs from a swivel gun was the only answer they received. Saturday the governor of Virginia, with a large armed force, captured seven vessels and twenty-one men. Under the law of Virginia, these vessels and their cargoes are the property of the captors."

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.

Nearly the entire contents of Abraham Almy's store in Newport, R. I., were stolen last Friday night. There is no clue to the thieves. The stock comprised paints and other goods used in the painting business, to the value of about $300.

Faded Colors Restored.

Faded or gray hair gradually recovers its youthful color and lustre by the use of Parker's Hair Balsam, an elegant dressing, admired for its purity and rich perfume.

James Johnstone's house in East Halifax, N. S., was burned last Saturday night, and his father and mother perished; the former was over 100 years old. Mr. Johnstone was badly burned, and his hands and feet were frozen before he could reach the next house.

Josh Billings Heard From.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 11, 1880.

Dear Bitters—I am here trying to breath in all the salt air of the ocean, and having been a sufferer for more than a year with a refractory liver, I was induced to mix Hop Bitters with the sea gale, and have found the tincture a glorious result. I have been greatly helped by the Bitters, and am not afraid to say so. Yours without a struggle,

JOSH BILLINGS.

The Allan steamer Peruvian, recently quarantined at Halifax on her arrival from Boston with smallpox on board, sent the cases to the quarantine hospital, and sailed on Sunday with the mails.

A conspicuous illustration of the St. Jacobs Oil as a remedy for rheumatism is found in J. A. Bonham, the well-known lawyer of Philadelphia, Pa., who thus tells his experience: "About two weeks ago I was seized with what the doctor called muscular rheumatism in my right leg. The leg below the knee was swollen until I could hardly stand upon it. I had seen St. Jacobs Oil advertised, and I sent to the drug store near my house, on the corner of Nineteenth and Master streets, for a bottle of it. I rubbed my leg with it that night, and in a short time the pain seemed to go away. Next morning the swelling had shifted from under the ankle to the upper part of the knee. Well, I applied the Oil again, and the swelling in a short time went away, leaving a very slight pain. I didn't use any more of the Oil, thinking that the attack was all over. About a week later it appeared again in the same place. The leg swelled so badly that, after coming down and walking several squares, I gave completely out. Well, I went home intending to try some French medicine, but I forgot to get it, and having a part of this bottle of St. Jacobs Oil in the house yet, I tried it again, bathing the limb thoroughly. Well, sir, when I got up in the morning the pain and swelling were both almost gone, and after one more application I was as well as ever, and from that time to this I haven't been troubled."

For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Orange county, New York, for generations so famous for its dairy products, has achieved its wonderful reputation by the quality of its productions, but until recently has had no journal distinctively devoted to its agricultural interests. The "Orange County Farmer," published weekly at Port Jervis, N. Y., for $1.50 per annum, is a beautiful paper devoted to the farm and garden, apiary, and garden, dairy and kindred topics. MESSRS. WHITE & BURDICK, Druggists, Ithaca, N. Y.: I can recommend Ely's Cream Balm to relieve all persons suffering with rose cold and hay fever. I have been a sufferer from the same complaints; have had great relief by using the Balm. I have recommended it to many of my friends for catarrh, and in all cases where they have used the Balm freely have been cured. T. KENNEY, Dry Goods Merchant, Ithaca, N. Y. Sept. 6, 1880.

Ely's Cream Balm has cured me of catarrh, of several years standing. I have recovered my sense of taste and smell by its use, and can truthfully say that the Balm has no equal as a cure for this terrible disease. FRANK C. OGDEN, Elizabeth, N. J., Aug. 14, 1879. See adv't.

Rheumatism, disordered blood, general debility, and many chronic diseases pronounced incurable, are often cured by Brown's Iron Bitters.

Three prominent firms in New York were summoned to court on Saturday, to answer for a violation of the law in refusing to provide seats for their saleswomen.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it all the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire Items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be in introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The high school building in Bangor, Me., was burned Saturday night.

Overworked men and women, persons of sedentary habits, and others whose system needs recuperation, nerves toned, and muscles strengthened, should use Brown's Iron Bitters.

There are now on file in the department of justice at Washington twelve applications for appointment on the United States supreme bench, and forty-seven applications for appointment to the vacancy on the bench of the court of claims.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

TUESDAY, FEB. 21. 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

The Haverhill Fire.

On Monday a list of the losses by the fire, as taken from the assessors' books, was published, and footed up $1,058,450; but the assessors' valuation was no doubt far short of the real value of the properties assessed, and in addition large stocks of raw material and manufactured goods were burned, so that the total loss was probably several hundred thousands of dollars more than the amount named. The total insurance is from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000.

Only one life was known to have been lost, up to Monday morning, though one or two other persons were reported to be missing. James St. Germaine, a Haverhill fireman, was killed by a falling wall; he had been married but three weeks, and was a reputable young man.

In looking over the mercantile directory, for the burnt-out Haverhill firms, it is noticeable that the shoe manufacturing business was very much divided there, and not as in many places monopolized by two or three great concerns. The average Haverhill manufacturer appears to have been a capitalist only to the moderate extent of from $5000 to $15,000, there being very few firms with $50,000 invested, and still fewer that were interested to the extent of $100,000. The credit of the firms is stated in the mercantile lists to be for the most part excellent. Comparatively few have a record of failure in the past. The majority were doing a prosperous though not extensive business, and it is considered likely, though many will naturally be crippled by the fire, that the greater proportion of their liabilities will be promptly met.

A despatch from the stricken city, dated Sunday evening, says: "Most of the manufacturers will fill their orders, having made arrangements to start business to-morrow morning. The workmen will not stampede to outside cities or towns, but they will continue with their employers here. The burnt district will be rebuilt in the immediate future, more substantial and better than before, and although our chief industry has received a severe check, Haverhill is not ruined."

A Feminine War.

A revolt among nearly 500 female prisoners took place in the prison near Montreal, Saturday afternoon, which was only suppressed after a vigorous fight with a posse of police. The jail where these Amazons are confined is presided over by nuns, with only three male guards in attendance. The virago broke up the furniture, and defended themselves like Spartans against the officers onslaught. The policemen were all severely handled, and some of them dangerously wounded.

Tweedledum and Tweedledee.

The Boston Post of Monday, referring to the Shipherd documents in relation to a projected Peruvian company, now before a committee of Congress, says:

It seems to be agreed all around that this Jake Shipherd is a man of monumental cheek. More evidence than has yet been produced will be needed before many people will believe that such men as Abram S. Hewitt and William E. Dodge were interested in the South American scheme.

In the same issue, and in the very next column, the Post prints a letter from its Washington correspondent in which he tries to make out that Mr. Boutwell, General Grant, Senators Dawes, Sherman and Blair, and other gentlemen whose reputations are quite as high as those of Hewitt and Dodge, should be adjudged guilty of improper connection with Shipherd's scheme until they prove themselves innocent—Shipherd's statements being the only evidence against them. This view the Post artfully supports by a little judicious "editing by headlines," the correspondent's letter being headed "The republicans caught in Shipherd's trap. Blaine, Blair and others badly involved." From this we gather that just half of Shipherd's statements are to be accepted as true; what he says about reputable republicans is worthy of full credence, but what he says about prominent democrats is to be instantly and wholly rejected. The Post would scorn to throw mud for partisan reasons.

A South American War.

A despatch from Buenos Ayres, dated Jan. 24th, says the particulars have been received there of a massacre of the inhabitants of Pisco by Peruvian soldiery. "Col. Mas, with 600 troops from Ica, attacked Villaviocencio, routed him, and with the aid of his men, proceeded to sack Pisco. A thousand pipes of wine were distributed among the men, who burned the houses and murdered the inhabitants. Four hundred foreigners, who attempted to resist, were cut to pieces, 300 being killed, including the French consul. The total number of victims was over 1,000. It is said that Col. Mas has since been shot by Garcia Calderan's troops." That 300 men should die out of 400 that were "cut to pieces," is not so astonishing as that 600 troops should be able to dispose of 1000 pipes of wine—nearly two pipes to a man.

An Enterprising Trio.

Three young thieves, named Aylesbury, O'Donnell and Custalaw, the latter colored, were arrested in Chelsea, Mass., on Saturday, having been operating extensively in and around Chelsea, Revere and East Boston. The headquarters for the storage of articles stolen were at a small unoccupied house on Dudley street, near Revere. Among the stolen articles found were twenty-three door-mats, a string of sleigh-bells, tub of butter and a tub of lard, a lot of carpenters' tools, milk cans, brushes, slippers, kerosene lamp reflectors, etc.

News and Notes.

A disease among hogs, known as "black plague," has made its appearance at Roslyn, Sea Cliff and Glen Cove, L. I.

The national board of health has received advices from Port au Prince, Hayti, that during the week ending Jan. 31st there were fifty-five new cases of smallpox and 238 deaths; and during the week ending Feb. 6th, seventy-nine new cases and 226 deaths. The minister resident states that, without doubt, these figures are greatly under the facts, and that the disease prevails among all classes indiscriminately.

Mr. Edward Stern, the Russian vice consul at New York, had a fight last Saturday on Broadway with his father-in-law, Mr. Jules Druilhet, in the course of which the parties belabored each other with sticks. The quarrel arose out of divorce proceedings now pending in the supreme court between Mr. Stern and his wife, who sues him for divorce on the ground of infidelity. Mr. Druilhet was arrested, and was held for trial in $300 bail.

A panic was raised in Harry Miner's theatre in New York, Saturday evening, by the cry of fire. Many men and women were hurt during the confusion, but no lives were lost.

Five masked burglars broke into the farm house of Michael Ulrich, five miles from Harrisburg, Pa., on the night of the 18th inst., over-powered Mr. Ulrich and his wife, and with drawn pistols compelled the old couple to divulge where their money was concealed. The robbers secured over $1,000 in cash. Nothing else was taken.

The steamer Eureka has arrived at Port Townsend, Washington territory, from Sitka, Alaska. The United States hospital, occupied as an industrial school and missionary house for Indian boys, was burned on the 21st ult. Since the departure of the U. S. S. Wachusett, dance houses and grog houses have been opened at Sitka, and hoochenoo is again being manufactured.

The telegram sent from Pittsburg, Pa., and widely copied by newspapers throughout the country, alleging undue intimacy between the wife of Hon. A. W. Campbell and Geo. K. Wheat, a prominent merchant of Wheeling, West Virginia, is characterized by those gentlemen as a falsehood of the most atrocious kind, and without any foundation whatever. The lady involved was absent visiting her sister in Weston, West Virginia, for over a week prior to the date of the alleged occurrence.

The ice-cutters on the Penobscot river, Maine, have suspended operations for the present.

Freeman Blanchard, doorkeeper at the Providence, R. I., skating rink, was on Saturday held in $300 for trial for refusing admission to a colored man who had bought a ticket.

Claude McCaslin, eighteen years old, was killed by a falling tree at Medway, Me., a few days ago, while lumbering in the woods.

On Monday morning last Mr. J. L. Marden, of Kittery Point, picked up off Clark's island a lead-colored skiff, floating bottom up.

John Welch, the Great Falls spinner who some time ago stole a horse, harness and sleigh belonging to William F. Harmon from in front of a store, and was captured near Bass Cove, York, by the owner of the team and another man, after receiving a pistol-shot wound in one arm, has been set at liberty. He was indicted by the grand jury at Dover, and pleaded nolo contendere, but as sufficient proof was produced that he is at times insane on the subject of horses, he was given in charge of his friends, who will take care of him.

Hannah Wilkins died in South Berwick a few days ago, leaving two brothers and one sister. The united ages of the four amounted to three hundred and fifty-three years, the deceased being aged eighty-nine years, while the survivors are aged respectively ninety-six, eighty-five and eighty-three years.

The house and stable of Joel Roberts in Biddeford were burned on Saturday night, together with a large part of the contents, including a horse and two cows. Loss $2500. Insured.

—On the contrary—A disputing wife.

—Amelia (looking at Laocoon group) "Ah, yes! firemen, I see. But how did they become so intricately entangled in the hose?"

—Narrow escape: "Stole any chickens dis week, Brudder Jones?" said a searching class leader to a member of suspiciously thieving proclivities. "No sah—tank de Lor'" "You'se done well," said the leader, and passed on, while Brudder Jones turns to Brudder Brown and whispers: "Lucky he said chickens; if he'd a said ducks he'd a had me suah!"

We believe we can record something that cannot find its equal in New England. Mrs. Betsey Chandler, widow of Hazen Chandler, who was a native of Concord, N. H., is the daughter of Joseph Lary, who was born in Exeter, N. H., in 1745. Mrs. Chandler lives in Berlin with Mr. Rueben Wheeler, and is eighty-seven years old. Now where can another instance be found of a man born as early as 1745 who has children living to-day, making 137 years with only two generations? —Gorham Mountaineer.

A Pleasant St. Valentine's Day.

The pleasant memories of St. Valentine's day are generel kept by the y unger portion of society but Feb. 14th, this year, was made memorable in New Orleans by its being the occasion of the 141st Grand Monthly Drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery, under the sole management of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard and Jubal A. Early, when over $110,000 was given away to the favorites of fortune. The next drawing will take place on the 14th of March, and any information relative to it will be cheerfully forwarded on addressing M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., and if $2 or $1 is sent he will forward you a whole or half ticket.

THE
Mutual Life Insurance Co.
of New York,
F. S. WINSTON, President.
The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.
It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.
It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.
It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.
Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.
No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.
Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.
Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)
It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.
It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.
Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

THE NEW COAL POCKETS.

Workmen have for several days been engaged in finishing the wood work of the roof of C. E. Walker & Co.'s new coal-pockets situated at the foot of State street, and after they are through the roof will be gravelled. The structure has taken 170,000 feet of timber and lumber to build, and will hold 2500 tons of coal; it will be ready for use early in the spring. The Pier Co., from which Mr. Walker purchased the wharf on which the coal-pocket has been erected, was chartered in 1798, with power to build a hotel and to engage in the whaling business—two branches of industry which at the present day seem to have but little connection; the company did do some whaling, but did not build any hotel. There was a hotel once on the corner of Water and State streets, where Walker & Co.'s office building now stands, but it was burned in the great fire of 1813, and was never rebuilt; a portion of the foundations was found in clearing away for the new structure, and utilized to build on. The new coal-pockets will no doubt prove a great convenience to the proprietor in the conduct of his extensive coal business, but persons going down State street will regret to miss the beautiful river view which formerly greeted them, and which the building shuts off.

LET YOUR LIGHT SHINE.

Mr. Editor: I am informed that some of the city fathers have discovered a new lamp to light up their path; the citizens who pass out Middle street have for some time thought some new invention had been studied out, as the light on the corner of Middle and Cass streets has often gone out a short time after being lighted. Perhaps the committee on retrenchment and reform are experimenting on this lamp before they report on the suggestion presented to the city councils by the chief magistrate. PASSER BY.

CONTRACTORS OR COMMITTEES.

Ed. Chronicle: I see by your paper of Saturday, that the committee on the north mill pond has held a session, and that a paper to be presented to the tax payers for signatures is proposed. I am in favor of abating the nuisance in the most practical and economical manner. If the plan of constructing a sewer is adopted as the best way, I hope that the job may be done by contract to the lowest responsible bidder who is a citizen, and not be given out to persons who have permanent positions at the navy yard and get a vacation to boss the job. The extensive sewerage now being done by the city of Boston was properly advertised and let out by contract; no doubt the work, if it had been done under the direction of a committee of the city government, would have bankrupted the city. TAX PAYER.

REGISTRATION OF DEATHS, ETC.

Mr. Editor: I was very much surprised to learn by reading the very interesting paper of Dr. Parsons, read before the Medical Society, and published in your columns, that the record of deaths, etc., in Portsmouth, is imperfect, and useless in many respects. Is it possible that in these days of advanced ideas, when everything in the nature of records is so carefully preserved and cherished, that our municipal authorities are amiss in this respect? For what do we pay a mayor five hundred dollars a year—more than is paid a like official in Newburyport, a city with several thousand more inhabitants than ours, except to see the laws properly executed? The statute of the state, I am told, compels physicians in attendance during the last sickness or at the death of a person to fill a blank, which is intended to be recorded in the city records. Perhaps the members of the society themselves may be at fault; possibly doctors outside the circle may be to blame; at any rate, our worthy mayor could see that Portsmouth is not behind other places in the state in this respect. By all means let the executive of our city, or the committee on burying grounds, or some one, see to this important observance of the law. As time passes by, the need of proper records of events now transpiring will soon be felt. A want of proper records of marriages and deaths, to afford proof in behalf of widows and children of soldiers in the late war who were married or died while residents of Portsmouth, has quite frequently been the source of much trouble and expense to claimants.

INDEX.

"MRS. PARTINGTON."

Of "Mrs. Partington," which is to be given at Music hall this evening, the New Bedford News says "its construction is such as to aid the peculiar mannerism and mispronunciations of the redoutable widow, and the situations throughout are eminently ridiculous. The climax at the end of the first act ends in a collapse so ridiculous as to send the curtain down amid the shouts of the entire audience. The old fashioned dance participated in by most of the company is the best performance of its kind ever given here. Mr. Fostelle, who played the widow, is one of the best actors in his peculiar line of business known to the American stage. Ike Partington, the mischievous imp, respecting no one luckless enough to come in contact with him while practicing his endless jokes, is capitally played. The judge and the deacon were inimitable; and when these worthies quarrelled in Mrs. Partington's front yard about their pretensions for the widow's hand, the scene was indescribably ludicrous, the entire audience being convulsed with laughter."

New Hampshire Lodge, I. O. O. F., will celebrate the 150th anniversary of George Washington's birth by a picnic supper (coffee furnished by the committee) and dance at Odd Fellows' hall on Wednesday evening, Feb. 22d, the dance commencing at eight o'clock, and supper being had at an early intermission.

The schooner Ambrose, of Newport, R. I., arrived at this port on Monday from Eastport, Me., with 90,000 frozen herring. The cargo was bought by Geo. Herbert & Co., and the schooner hauled in to their wharf.

The keel of the new schooner to be built at Fernald's shipyard on Freeman's point was laid on Saturday. Two-thirds of the frame is on the ground, and work will go rapidly on until the launching.

Mr. Thomas Lee is building for his own use, at the foot of Salter street, one of the staunch and serviceable crafts known as "Irish fishing boats." She is to be twenty-one feet long, and ten and a half feet beam, and will carry two jibs and a rousing mainsail.

The tug Ida M. Dolby, from Boston for the Kennebec with the barque Wheatland in tow; the tug Sprague, having in tow the British brig Wapiti, bound from Boston to Portland; and the tug L. A. Belknap, having in tow the brig H. B. Cleaves, from Boston for a Maine port, all put into the lower harbor on Monday. The Ida M. Dolby came up to the city, but the others remained in the lower harbor; in the afternoon she started out with her tow, but returned after getting as far as Boon island, finding the wind northeast.

The fishing schooner Northern Eagle is laid up for the present, waiting the arrival of a new foremast.

The arrivals of fishing vessels on Monday, with their fares, were as follows: the Grace Choate, with 2500 lbs.; Eva Lendall, 198 lbs.; Addie & Hattie, 1500 lbs.; E. A. Williams, 1400 lbs.; Mary E. Smith, 1600 lbs.; Water Lily, 1500 lbs.; Christie Campbell, 2900 lbs.; Breeze, 4000 lbs.; Albert Woodbury, 2500 lbs.; Flying Eagle, 1000 lbs.; Rover's Bride, 3500 lbs.; Norma, 1000 lbs.; Sylph, 1200 lbs.; Storm King, 1200 lbs.

Mr. Charles S. Drown, sailmaker, was on Monday finishing a jib, the last sail of a new suit made by him for a Cape Ann fishing vessel; he is making a staysail for another, and has in the loft an old suit of sails to put in thorough repair. He is also making two awnings for Portsmouth storekeepers.

An elderly lady named Moulton slipped on the ice in Water street, Monday, and was badly jarred and had one leg considerably lamed by the fall, though it is said no bones were broken.

Rev. Mr. Hall, of the Church of the Advent, will take part in the Lenten services at the Episcopal church.

The Biddeford Journal says: "Samuel Johnson and Patrick McDermot, members of the Saco Boat club, have purchased a sloop yacht with twenty-five feet beam and twelve feet keel, of Mr. Snow of Fine Point, which is to be repaired and painted and brought to this city as soon as the ice goes out of the river." This yacht must be built something after the model of the board stolen by a negro a number of years ago, which was described in the writ as being eighteen feet wide and twenty inches long.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup." It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. Twenty-five cents a bottle. cod&wtjan23

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2500 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 ki own silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends after than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $3.00.—no assessments. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. Cuticura
STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of all I could do, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half a large as the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so lame I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer! My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the worst go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

CATARRH

Sanford's Radical Cure.

A single dose instantly relieves the most violent sneezing or head colds, clears the head as by magic, stops watery discharges from the nose and eyes, prevents ringing noises in the head, cures nervous headache and subdues chills and fever. In chronic catarrh it cleanses the nasal passages of foul mucus, restores the senses of smell, taste and hearing when affected, frees the head, throat and bronchial tubes of offensive matter, sweetens and purifies the breath, stops the cough and arrests the progress of catarrh towards consumption.

One bottle Radical Cure, one box Catarrhal Solvent and one Dr. Sanford's Inhaler, in one package, of all druggists, for $1. Ask for Sanford's Radical Cure. WEEKS & POTTER, Boston.

The Gifford Compo Shoe Machine Co.

CAPITAL $100,000. 1000 SHARES.
PAR VALUE $100.

Thomas J. Gifford, President;
Aug. J. Archer, Treasurer;
Wallace Hackett, Secretary.

Organized and Incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.

This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.

The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 2,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on these machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increased earnings and dividends will be realized.

Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.

We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.

A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old fam y Physic an at Fault--Dr, David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

The net balance of the Concord waterworks over all expenses and interest on bonds, was $406.99 last year.

The Masconia gold, silver and copper mining property at Lebanon was sold to a syndicate at Concord, Friday. The company was organized with Sylvester Marsh of Concord as president, and George E. Jenks of Concord as clerk.

Maj. George L. Wentworth has been indicted for attempting to shoot E. S Nowell at Salmon Falls on Thanksgiving day. Nowell was not hurt, and Wentworth was shot and seriously wounded by Nowell's son. Wentworth was on a drunk at the time of the row. Trial early in March.

In answer to an inquiry as to the origin of the word "spondulics," the Dover Democrat says: "Once on a time at a Barrington, N. H., muster under our old militia laws, there was a gaming table where anybody could take the chances for a specified sum first paid to the owner as rent or tribute. A couple of fellows pretty full of cider came up, and wanted a chance. 'O yes,' said the proprietor, 'spawn yer ducats,' which interpreted meant, 'Down with the cash.' That phrase became a by-word all 'round about, and for short was perverted to 'spondulics.' From spawn-ducats to spondulics the transition was not great."

Deputy sheriffs and police officers raided the Newmarket hotel, Davis' oyster house and Brennan's saloon in Newmarket last Friday evening, but only malt liquors were found.

The steam fire engine Cocheco was sent from Dover to Haverhill, Mass., Saturday morning, in response to a call for help. The run to Haverhill, thirty-six miles, was made in forty minutes. The train arrived in Haverhill at four o'clock, but the fire was then under control.

Dearborn Glines of Boscawen is seventy-two years of age, and one of the best farmers in town. It is said that he never rode on a railroad, although one passes within a few rods of his house; never traveled below Concord, ten miles from home; never owned a watch or a gun, and never used tobacco in any form except to kill vermin on his cattle and sheep.

Public questions of current interest receive attention in the "Century Magazine" for March. Arthur G. Sedgwick contributes a pungent review of "The Copyright Negotiation;" and Allen G. Campbell, the contesting delegate from Utah, makes, from the anti-Mormon point of view, the pertinent query, "Has Utah a Republican Form of Government?" The foreign policy of the government, authors' rights, and Oscar Wilde as a social phenomenon, are discussed in "Topics of the Time."

Lewiston, Me., is to have a new paper, the Candid Observer, edited by G. A. Perrigo.

One of the drawbacks of married life is sickness of the little ones. For a cold or cough you cannot find a better remedy than Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Nearly all physicians prescribe it, and no family should be without it.

Humbugged Again.

I saw so much said about the merits of Hop Bitters, and my wife who was always doctoring, and never well, teased me so urgently to get her some, I concluded to be humbugged again; and I am glad I did, for in less than two months use of the Bitters my wife was cured, and she has remained so for eighteen months since. I like such humbugging.—H. T., St. Paul.—Pioneer Press.

Marshal Noyes of Lowell, Mass., arrested at Graniteville, Saturday, James Welsh, who went there about six weeks ago from Boston. In his house was found property believed to have been stolen from six or eight different stores.

Have you Ever

Known any person to be seriously ill, without a weak stomach or inactive liver or kidneys? And when these organs are in good condition do you not find their possessor enjoying good health? "What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and if will only try it you will have a cure.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

PAIN KILLER has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. CROCKER, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used PAIN KILLER, and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—BINYON STEARNS.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider PAIN KILLER an invaluable remedy.—GEO. B. EVERETT, Dickinson, N. Y.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your PAIN KILLER, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—J. O. FORD, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used PAIN KILLER in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—Rev. J. Lewis, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using PAIN KILLER in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. DYER, Druggist, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. ROYCE, Liberty Hills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used PAIN KILLER for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine offered.—GEO. HOOPER, Washington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow my food. I was advised to try your PAIN KILLER, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. WILKINSON.

Dr. WALTON writes from Cochecton: Your PAIN KILLER cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

MRS. ELLEN B. MASON writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your PAIN KILLER. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equ l. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of PAIN KILLER in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable consolidant which now with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 1500 physicians and druggists have voluntarily certified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

FANCY DRESS PRINTS

The EDDYSTONE PRINT WORKS is one of the largest and most complete establishments in the country.

THE EXPERIENCE OF HALF A CENTURY

has enabled them to attain such perfection that they can with confidence ask you to test the quality of their work. They carefully avoid all poisonous drugs, make only fast colors, which are thoroughly washed in hot water and soap, thereby removing anything which would stain underclothing.

Those who buy and wear their prints will, they feel confident, find them superior in durability, artistic style and finish. Be sure and ask for their goods, and see that their marks and tickets are on them.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Wonderful Surgical Operation—Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder—Successful.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been troubled for seven years by various physicians for what they called stricture of the urethra, with out benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseperable from the constitution of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and it costs only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. tmch21 of the universal success of Brown's Iron Bitters is simply this: It is the best Iron preparation ever made; is compounded on thoroughly scientific, chemical and medicinal principles, and does just what is claimed for it—no more and no less.

By thorough and rapid assimilation with the blood, it reaches every part of the system, healing, purifying and strengthening. Commencing at the foundation it builds up and restores lost health—in no other way can lasting benefit be obtained.

79 Dearborn Ave., Chicago, Nov. 7.

I have been a great sufferer from a very weak stomach, heartburn, and dyspepsia in its worst form. Nearly everything I ate gave me distress, and I could eat but little. I have tried everything recommended, have taken the prescriptions of a dozen physicians, but got no relief until I took Brown's Iron Bitters. I feel none of the old troubles, and am a new man. I am getting much stronger, and feel first-rate. I am a railroad engineer, and now make my trips regularly. I can not say too much in praise of your wonderful medicine. D. C. MACK.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not contain whiskey or alcohol, and will not blacken the teeth, or cause headache and constipation. It will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, dizziness, nervous debility, weakness, &c.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore. Crossed red lines and trade-mark on wrapper.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

Daily Chronicle.

The War Premiums.

The following communication to the New York Tribune from Mr. John Hayden, a shipowner of Bath, Me., states the case succinctly:

Sir: You say: "To refund war premiums—a proposition of doubtful equity from the fact that as a rule those who paid the extra insurance got it back in the shape of higher freight rates." Allow me to say that supply and demand, as in all other cases, determined the "freight rates." British ships and American ships got the same rates, but British ships paid no war premiums, and the war premiums paid by and for American ships were so much direct loss to the owners, without any equivalent whatever.

Stop and Think

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they may do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches out and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—Boston Daily Globe.

Warren S. Perrigo, a member of the bar of Knox county, Me., was convicted of adultery at the last term of the superior court. The case was continued for sentence to the next term, his wife being bail. At the same term his wife was divorced, and Perrigo married a woman with whom he had lived some years. Saturday, Feb. 19th, his first wife withdrew the bail, and Perrigo was taken to Wiscasset jail.

At Lafayette, Ind., early in the morning on Feb. 20th, an engine on the Toledo, Peoria & Wabash railroad exploded in the Wabash round-house. The round-house and the engine were completely demolished, and fifteen locomotives buried in the ruins. Had the explosion occurred ten minutes later twenty men would also have been buried; as it was seven were, of whom one was dangerously injured, three slightly hurt, and three escaped unharmed.

Before going abroad just study the climate and the season, and your system as well; such forethought will pay if you are subject to rheumatism. If you are inclined to traverse the damp and marshy districts, don't do it unless you are well supplied with St. Jacobs Oil, which is far more efficacious in curing rheumatism than all the tours that may be undertaken. In proof of this we will give the words of our well-known railroad man, and member of city council from the sixth ward, Mr. D. J. Dalton, of Cincinnati. Meeting that gentleman on 'change yesterday, and speaking on this subject, he said: "You remember when my shoulder and arm was so bad with the rheumatism, last summer, and for the spring and winter preceeding? Well, I had tried several remedies and derived no benefit from their use. I thought I would try a change of climate, and did so, going to Point Burnside, on the Cincinnati Southern railroad. The beauty of the scenery and the foolish hope of relief used to tempt me to take early morning strolls. The entire valley at that time of day (just before sunrise) is covered with mist arising from the Cumberland river. That mist settled my rheumatism. I was not there two weeks until I was three times as bad as when I started. I came home, and gave up the study of climatology. Time and again I remarked the wonderful cures performed by St. Jacobs Oil. I tried it. Five bottles of St. Jacobs Oil effected a complete cure, and I am proud to say to you, or to any one else, that the great German remedy will always meet with my hearty indorsement.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

On Feb. 18th two young daughters of Mr. Freeport, of Portland, Me., were sliding, when they ran into a tree. The youngest child's head was crushed in a terrible manner, and the face of the other torn and mangled badly. There are no hopes of the recovery of either.

Debilitated persons, and sufferers from wasting diseases as consumption, scrofula, kidney affections, will be greatly benefited by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

John Southard of Williamstown, Mass., is under arrest on the charge of aiding in the clandestine marriage of Justin Walden, a woodchopper of Williamstown, and Nellie Horton, a young girl of twelve summers, whose wedding trousseau included a round comb, pieces of wire for earrings, and short skirts. Walden and Southard will be tried for abduction at the July term of the superior court.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed; but the people tried the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

At the inquest into the cause of the Chester, Pa., explosion, it was testified that three hundred brass cartridges, stolen from the military academy near by, were probably in the factory which blew up, as their shells were found there after the explosion. Seventeen deaths had resulted from the explosion up to Feb. 20th, and it was thought others of the wounded would die.

BOSTON, Jan. 3d, 1879.

F. W. KINSMAN, ESQ.—Dear Sir: Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam seems to give universal satisfaction, both as to quality and price. We sell more of it than of all other cough medicines put together, and have yet to hear of the first intimation in which it has failed to give satisfaction. Yours truly,

RUST BROS. & BIRD.

The Granite State Ice company at Milton has been busily engaged with thirty men storing ice, and the Lynn company are making preparations with fifty men to fill their eight houses, and build two more. The ice is of splendid quality, and from twelve to fifteen inches thick.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.,—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have, occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

STARTLING DISCOVERY!

LOST MANHOOD RESTORED.

A victim of youthful imprudence, causing Premature Decay, Nervous Debility, Lost Manhood, etc., having tried in vain every known remedy, has discovered a simple self cure, which he will send FREE to his fellow-sufferers. Address J. M. HERVEY, 43 Chatham St., N. Y.

A Great Blessing to Mothers and Nurses.

"Swayne's Teething Cure" for infants. This new theory and infallible remedy has saved the lives of thousands of children. When the child is in pain, or restless with its teeth shooting in its gums, simply rub the gums for two or three minutes with the "Cure." What little it may swallow will relieve colic, pain and flatulence, prevent fever, and avoid that painful operation of lancing the gums, which always makes the next tooth harder to come through and sometimes causes death. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves and immediate relief and health to your infants. A very able medical writer, who enjoys a large and lucrative practice, says: "Rubbing the gums with a soothing lotion, is the only true method for children teething; poisonous drugs should never be introduced into their delicate stomachs." "Swayne's Teething Cure" is prepared only by Dr. Swayne & Son, Philadelphia, and sold by all leading apothecaries at 25 cents a bottle.

The biggest girl in the school at Hammond's Corners, Ohio, was whipped by the teacher with great severity. Her father had the young man arrested, and a few days ago the case was called for trial. But the prosecuting attorney said the matter had been amicably arranged; the girl not only was convinced that the punishment was deserved, but accepted the teacher's discipline for life, as his wife.

Terrible itching and scaly humors, blotches, sores and scrofulous swellings cured by the Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures) externally, and Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier) internally. Ask about them at your druggists.

The dwelling of Joseph Desrivieres, near the village of Fort Covington, N. Y., was burned Sunday, Feb. 19th, and the mother of Mr. Desrivieres, aged eighty years, perished in the flames.

Deaths to rats, mice, roaches and ants; Parsons Exterminator. Barns, granaries and households cleared in a single night. No trace of bad smells. Best and cheapest vermin killer in the world. Sold everywhere.

Mrs. Evans, mother of the postmaster at North Lovell, Me., was horribly burned Feb. 19th by her clothes taking fire while she was smoking. She died in a few hours.

Revitalizing the blood is absolutely necessary for the cure of general debility, weakness, lassitude, &c. The best enricher of the blood is Brown's Iron Bitters.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, FEB. 22, 1882.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N. H., as second-class matter.]

"He Means Well, But He Don't Know."

A Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune undertakes to decide the status of republicanism of some of President Arthur's appointees. He says:

The collectorship of customs at Portsmouth, N. H., is a small office, but still considered of some importance in that state, where the Federal offices are neither many nor large. A. F. Howard, who has been re-appointed, was recommended by the whole Congressional delegation, and is known as an admirer of Mr. Blaine. New Hampshire republicans say that H. M. Putney, who is believed to be assured of the appointment as collector of internal revenue—the whole state taking one district—is a pronounced Grant man.

The placing of Mr. Howard among the Blaine admirers will, as Mr. Chandler would remark, "amaze and alarm" our esteemed contemporary of the Journal, whose paper, by the aid of its political editor, now placed in the wrong column, has been loud and valiant for Mr. Conkling even from the beginning.

Is it possible that the exchange editor of the Tribune has not noticed the weekly scolding the Journal has inflicted upon it for opposing Conkling and machine dictation?

Mr. Howard, as a Conkling man, has been more pronounced than any representative man in New Hampshire; while Mr. Putney reflects in the Mirror the views of Col. Clarke, its proprietor, who admires Conkling because he hates Blaine! But the orthodoxy of the customs appointee is none the less patent than that of the internal revenue expectant; nay, it antedates it.

Mr. Howard's appointment, however, was made not upon any such issue as the Tribune correspondent would have us believe, but because he was a very competent man for the place, and as far as we have ever heard no one thought it worth while to compete for the place when his former term expired.

Sumac and Free Trade.

Democratic devotion to one of their fundamental principles, "a tariff for revenue only," has an interesting illustration in the effort of the democratic members of the House from Virginia and North Carolina to have the duty on sumac increased from $2 to $10 per ton. The tannin so largely used in New England tanneries for tanning morocco leather, is the product of sumac leaves, which have heretofore been imported in large quantities from Sicily and other points in the Mediterranean, where the cultivation of the tree is an important branch of industry, and where, by reason of cheap labor, it is sold at a very low price. It has been recently found that the leaves of the wild sumac, which so abound in Virginia and North Carolina, are quite as good for all purposes for which the sumac is used, as the foreign article, except that of tanning white morocco. The sumac industry of Virginia last year amounted to $250,000, and it is a little singular that the sumac "tariff for revenue only" which these Virginia and North Carolina democrats so vigorously advocate, is just about the price that is paid for the labor of collecting and drying the leaves. Even Mr. Randolph Tucker, one of the most democratic freetraders in Congress, turns up now as an advocate of the ten-dollars-a-ton duty on sumac, and in this he is joined by Mr. Jorgensen and Senator Mahone. Sumac evidently is a harmonizer as well as a valuable article of commerce. Great is sumac, and great is democratic consistency.

Naval Affairs.

The Alliance sailed from Norfolk Feb. 21st, for the West Indies.

The Enterprise sailed from Norfolk, Va., Feb. 20th, for the West Indies via Port Royal, S. C.

Lieut. Charles A. Clark is detached from the Adams, and ordered to return home.

Secretary Hunt of the navy has advices from St. Petersburg, Russia, containing the details of the measures taken for the relief of the Jeannette survivors, and stating that the only reason why Melville was given command of the relief party instead of Danenhower was that the latter was disabled. Danenhower was, at last accounts, recovering his health.

The naval affairs committee of the national house of representatives, in reporting favorably a bill for the reinstatement of Lieut. Comdr. Charles W. Tracy on the active list of the navy, say: "By reference to Tracy's record, it appears that at the time of his retirement he had been in the service nineteen years, and that he was found upon two examinations to be mentally and professionally qualified for promotion. This fact suggests whether sound policy does not render it proper to restore him to active duty, if it can be done with every probability of his not relapsing into his former weakness, and by this means retain in the service the advantages of his experience and knowledge, all of which have been acquired at the expense of the government. Your committee think it does, and, under all the circumstances, are of the opinion that Lieut. Comdr. Tracy should be restored to the active list of the navy, but not to the position he would have occupied had he not been retired. Justice to those officers who have maintained their standing without interruption, requires that Lieut. Comdr. Tracy should take his place at the foot of the active list of lieutenant-commanders."

The American sealing barque Trinity was wrecked on Hurd's island in the Indian ocean last October, and two seamen, named Kelly and Watson, were drowned. The survivors are announced to have arrived at Cape Town, Cape of Good Hope. The U. S. S. Marion was ordered to Hurd's island some months ago, to search for the Trinity, with the above result.

News and Notes.

The entire French coast is about to be lighted by electricity, which as far back as 1875 was employed in the lighthouse near Havre. It is now thought that the development of the new system warrants its general use on the French coast. Forty-two lighthouses are to be provided with electric lights and with steam trumpets for fog signals, at a first cost of about $1,500,000, and an annual expenditure of about $60,000 for maintenance.

Sophie Turner has been arrested at St. Albans, Vt., charged with the murder of her nephew, a two-years-old son of Peter Gerry. It is said that some time ago, while the parents were away, she became angry at the boy and seated him on a hot stove, causing injuries from which the little fellow died on Friday evening, Feb. 17th.

A stock company of New York and Boston capitalists, with $100,000 capital, $50,000 of which is paid in, has been organized, with George B. Goodwin as president, to operate the marble quarries near the natural bridge, North Adams, Mass.

The Catholic bishop of Cork, in his Lenten pastoral, refers to the immense benefit conferred on Ireland and its people by the land act, and says the violation of the just laws of personal property, individual rights and personal safety afford a dark cover for the introduction of a sy-tem of brigandage by wild and unprincipled p rsons.

Disastrous floods occurred in the west, Feb. 19th and 20th. At Cincinnati the river was fifty-one feet above low-water mark. From St. Louis and St. Charles, Mo., Madison, Ind., Chicago and other places, the reports were all alike—railroad travel greatly impeded or wholly stopped, bridges carried away and telegraph wires down, and vast damage occasioned inland by the overflow of the rivers in all directions.

Car No. 32, just completed at the Eastern railroad car shops in Salem, Mass., has made its appearance on the road. It is elegantly fitted, and contains a model fire extinguisher, worked by an air cylinder beneath the car. A hose connected with the tank enables the operator to direct a stream to any part of the interior of the car. No. 32 completes the first six of the twenty new cars to be built by the company this winter. They have all been finished in California redwood. The next half dozen will be finished in cherry.

Forcing Rhubarb.

Outside of places where there are professional gardeners, the forcing of vegetables is very little known in this country. People in general are content with "things in their season," and do not trouble themselves to force or retard. Perhaps the easiest vegetable to force is rhubarb; and by taking a little trouble, material for pies and sauce may be had some weeks in advance of the supply from the open ground. The things needed are clumps of rhubarb roots, soil, and a dark warm place. The roots should be dug before the ground freezes, but in most places there is usually an "open spell" this month when it may be done. As fine rhubarb as we ever saw was forced in a barrel or cask; the roots packed in on a layer of soil and surrounded by it, the cask covered tight, and set near the furnace in the cellar. A box to hold the roots, and set in a cupboard or closet in the kitchen will answer; or a box or barrel may be placed in the kitchen. Keep moderately warm, and see that the roots are sufficiently moist. A few roots will give an astonishingly abudant supply, much more tender and crisp and less violently sour than the outdoor crop.—American Agriculturist.

—A baby in Ohio that was fed on elephant's milk gained twenty pounds in one week. It was the baby elephant.

—When a good friend called upon Mr. Lincoln and expressed regret at his worn and anxious appearance, bidding him bear up, that we would conquer the rebellion yet, Old Abe answered in his quaint way, "It's not the rebellion, Bill; its the post-office at Postown that's troubling me."—Inter-Ocean.

The Fruit Garden.

We trust many fruit gardens will be started this spring. Select a warm piece of ground conveniently near the house for gathering the fruits and protection from trespassers. The soil should be rich, deep, and mellow; in short, a fruit garden should have the best soil that can be found. The planting is to be done so soon as the ground is settled. Blackberries and raspberries start very early, and it is best to set them in the fall, but very early in spring will do. The canes that grow this year will produce the fruit next season. Every farmer should grow all the grapes the family requires, and for this it is not necessary to have a large vineyard. A few vines well kept in some out-of-the-way place will bring large returns for care bestowed upon them. Grapes need a good soil, and attention in pruning. If one has no grape vines we should advise him to get a few this spring, and then take care of them. Regarding the care of the vines we intend to give full information as the season progresses.—American Agriculturist.

Cuticura

STATEMENT UNDER OATH.

I have been afflicted for twenty years with an obstinate skin disease, called by some M. D.'s Psoriasis, and others Leprosy, commencing on my scalp, and, in spite of the best medical skill, with the help of the most skillful doctors, it slowly but surely extended until a year ago this winter it covered my entire person in a form of dry scales. For the last three years I have been unable to do any labor, and suffering intensely all the time. Every morning there could be nearly a dustpanful of scales taken from the sheet on my bed, some of them half a foot in the envelope containing this letter. In the latter part of the winter my skin commenced cracking open. I tried everything, almost, that could be thought of, without any relief. The 12th of June I started West, in hopes I could reach the Hot Spring. I reached Detroit, and was so low I thought I should have to go to the hospital, but finally got as far as Lansing, Mich., where I had a sister living. One doctor treated me about two weeks, but did me no good. All thought I had but a short time to live. I earnestly prayed to die. Cracked through the skin all over my back, across my ribs, arms, hands, limbs, feet badly swollen, toe nails came off, finger nails dead and hard as bone, hair dead, dry and lifeless as old straw. Oh, my God! how I did suffer! My sister, Mrs. E. H. Davis, had a small part of a box of Cuticura in the house. She wouldn't give up; said, 'We will try Cuticura.' Some was applied on one hand and arm. Eureka! there was relief; stopped the terrible burning sensation from the word go. They immediately got the Cuticura Resolvent (blood purifier), Cuticura and Cuticura Soap (the great skin cures). I commenced by taking one tablespoonful of Resolvent three times a day, after meals; had a bath once a day, water about blood heat; used Cuticura Soap freely; applied Cuticura morning and evening. Result, returned to my home in just six weeks from the time I left, and my skin as smooth as this sheet of paper.

THE

Mutual Life Insurance Co.

of New York,

F. S. WINSTON, President.

The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York is THE OLDEST Company, with thirty-seven years of experience.

It is the largest Company by many millons of Assets in the World.

It is purely Mutual—without Capital or Stockholders to share in profits, and no bonuses allowed to Officers, Trustees, or Employees.

It confines its business to regular Life and Endowment Policies, and the granting of Annuities. No new or experimental plans.

Its premium rates are lower than any other regular Life Insurance Company, and Policy-holders participate in current earnings annually.

No Policy-holder need forfeit his Policy, provided three full annual premiums have been paid, and application is immediately made for a paid-up Policy, when necessity arises to do so.

Assets have more than doubled during the past ten years, notwithstanding the six years of financial panic.

Its Interest and Rent Receipts alone have exceeded its Death Claims TEN MILLIONS of Dollars ($10,000,000.)

It has issued over 220,000 Policies; insured over $700,000,000; received over $276,000,000 in premiums; and returned to Policy-holders over $162,000,000.

It can and does afford the cheapest, safest, and most satisfactory insurance investment of any Company in the world.

Is not this well styled a marvel in Finance? No more beneficent institution exists upon the face of the earth than this greatest of financial organizations, combining the greatest possible good for the greatest number with an expertness in financiering that is paralleled only by the sturdy integrity of its managers and the proud pre-eminence of its commercial, patriotic, and scientific record.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[Dist. of New Hampshire—Lowell, J.]

TUESDAY, Feb. 21st.

A hearing was had upon the application to dissolve an injunction issued in case Bickford vs. Davis and al., restraining defendants from making peg-wood, as alleged in violation of a contract made, with the complainant. Barrows & House for complt.; Wallingh & Fisk for deft.

In the case Russell vs. Russell and others, heard at the session in October, the court has ordered the defendants' demurrer to the whole bill to be overruled, defendants to have thirty days to answer further. Demurrer as to so much of the bill as seeks to have probate of the will set aside, is sustained.

Mercantile Trust Co., of New York, vs. Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad Co.; suit in equity relative to $80,000 of the mortgage bonds of the railroad company upon which interest is in arrears. The case was heard upon demurrer at the session in October, before Judge Lowell, who now decides that the case for demurrer which states that the trustees of the mortgage bonds are not parties to this suit, is well assigned, and the demurrer is sustained. The plaintiffs have leave to amend within sixty days. Fellows for complainant; J. H. Haskell, of Maine, for deft.

REGISTRATION OF DEATHS, ETC.

It is surprising that a person so intelligent as "Index," who had a communication on this subject in a late issue of your paper, should have first learned from Dr. Parsons' paper on the local health that the city registration of births, marriages and deaths is very defective and unreliable. The public are certainly under obligations to Dr. Parsons for his statement in relation to the subject, but no one who has been in the habit of reading the CHRONICLE should have been ignorant of the facts. Two or three years ago you called the public attention to the registration, and in several very vigorous articles explained some of the defects and suggested modes of improvement. These suggestions, however, met with no response from the city authorities, and the flimsy, shipshod system, if system it can be called, is I believe still adhered to. Perhaps these records may be some ines better than nothing, though we have no doubt that in many cases they are in consequence of their errors much worse than nothing; and Dr. Parsons well says of them, substantially, that no one can know until he has looked them over "how imperfect and utterly useless in some respects these records are, in comparison with what they should be."

Yet imperfect as they are, the cost of them to the city is very considerable. In the first place every doctor is entitled to a fee of twenty-five cents for every birth and death returned to the city clerk's office. And then agents of the city every year in April are directed to call at each house, and obtain from householders answers to questions proposed by them. The annual cost to the city of this last-named duty is seventy-five dollars. But some of the doctors have failed entirely to make the returns; and it is plain enough that even were the collecting agents suitable persons, which is not always the case, the changes of residence of citizens in some cases, and their ignorance in others, would make it impossible to collect full returns in this way. Clergymen, and others solemnize marriages, sometimes neglect entirely to return them, and even to make any private record of their own transactions.

There is law enough, but no one in authority sees fit to enforce it. All this has been said before, repeatedly, and much more, but without any good results. I am happy, however, to say that this evil, which is not peculiar to this city, has become so great that the attention of the legislature has been called to it, and a law passed at the last session which it is hoped may have the effect of improving the registration. It gives to town and city clerks for receiving, recording and returning to the secretary of state, for each marriage fifteen cents, and for each birth and death twenty-five cents; and in all cases where no returns have been made to him, it gives him for obtaining, recording and returning the facts in each case fifty cents, provided that any city may limit the aggregate of such compensation. This law appears to give to the city clerks sufficient jurisdiction, and he should be held responsible for the registration in future. P. E. N.

To-day is the 22d of February. No CHRONICLE to-morrow.

Quite a number of fishermen from this city were smelting on Great bay on Sunday, the 19th inst. One party of three men caught two hundred pounds of the coveted little fishes; another party of six persons caught just sixty-two fish in number, one man catching the whole lot, the other five not getting one.

The section of piling which was knocked from under the Kittery Point bridge by a sheet of ice on Saturday, Feb. 18th, was hauled back in place by a steamboat next day, and the bridge made passable temporarily. Carpenters were set at work on the bridge on the 21st, providing against the recurrence of such an accident.

Mr. David Spinney, of Eliot, was very aggreably surprised by a visit from a large number of the young people of the town on Friday evening, Feb. 17th, and was still further surprised on the next evening by a call from many of the elder residents. Both evenings were very pleasantly spent by the participants in the gatherings, who by their presence and in other ways testified their good will toward Mr. Spinney.

The office of the Eastern & Mutual Union Telegraph Co., in the city building, was opened for the transaction of business on Tuesday of this week, in charge of Miss Helen M. Howe, a young lady from South Boston, Mass. The office occupies the rear portion of the premises leased by the city to Mr. Henry H. Ham, and by him sub-leased, with the city's consent, to the telegraph company; the wires enter the building through the same window as the telephone company's wires do, the telegraph wires being insulated in a cable, which will prevent any "taking off" of messages from one set of wires to the other. The fittings of the office were not all in place on the opening day, as it was not thought advisable to transport through the driving snowstorm a very handsome counter, surmounted with an ornamental brass screen, made to extend entirely across the room.

Mr. Thomas Haywood, a native of this city but at present a resident of Boston, has purchased the old Trefethen homestead in Newcastle, and a cottage adjoining, and is improving them with a view to their being occupied as summer residences. He has also recently bought the field fronting the beach west of the Fort Point lighthouse.

Mr. E. C. Spinney, of Kittery, on Monday of this week took away from the store of Mr. Henry A. Yeaton in this city two tons of corn meal and fine feed, for the use of his teams engaged at logging in Kittery, Eliot and York. The logs gotten out by Mr. Spinney's gangs are hauled to Portsmouth, to be sawed into lumber at Mason's steam saw and planing mill.

Congressman Ray has introduced a bill in the house of representatives to grant a pension to Sally Hall of South Newmarket, widow of Andrew Hall, who was a private in Capt. Hersey's company of New Hampshire militia in the war of 1812.

Lovers of genuine La Normandi cigars are requested to read Estabrook & Eaton's caution notice in another column.

The ship Ivanhoe, of which Mr. W. J. L. Dodge of this city is mate, before reported as having put in at St. Helena in a disabled condition, arrived at Dunkirk, France, Feb. 16th. The barque Adolph Engler, which was commanded until his death by the late Capt. Benj. F. Williams of this city, arrived at Dunkirk on the same date.

Five passengers on the Pullman train which passed through this city on Sunday evening, the 19th inst., for Bangor, found on arriving at that city that some expert pick-pocket had relieved them of their money and valuables. M. L. Johnson, a commercial traveller of Boston, lost about $90, and another man lost about the same amount. All the gentlemen were lying back in their seats, sleeping, at the time they were robbed.

Capt. Dolby, of the tug Ida M. Dolby, at this port on Monday, 20th inst., from Boston, on the previous Saturday picked up off Eastern point, and towed into Cape Ann, the Norwegian barque Nemo, salt laden, from Cadiz, with bulwarks stove and otherwise damaged. The captain of the barque was suffering from a broken arm, and some of the crew were nearly disabled by frost-bitten hands and feet; they had also been without water for several days.

The schooner Sarah struck on Stone's rock, off York harbor, some time during the night of Monday, Feb. 20th, but came off at high tide, apparently unharmed.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat

Should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Cough, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles to which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and have always given perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts a box everywhere. eod&wtuneo

CAUTION.

LA NORMANDI CIGARS

Are being imitated by many manufacturers, and put up in a manner likely to deceive consumers. Many dealers are also selling a spurious and inferior Cigar, putting on a La Normandi card and selling them as such. To those who wish to buy Estabrook & Eaton's genuine "La Normandi" we would say, the only genuine goods have our signature on the end of each box, and the words "La Normandi" on the ribbon round each bench; no others are genuine.

We hereby notify all parties making or selling imitation Cigars under the La Normandi brand, that we shall prosecute them to the full extent of the law.

Fortunes in Colorado.

ONE of the greatest mining enterprises in that famous mineral state is the Atlantic-Pacific Tunnel, which was started a little more than one year ago to tunnel through a range of mountain over 2500 feet, cutting at right angles more than 200 known silver and gold bearing veins of ore at the great depth of 4000 feet, to make fortunes for those interested. A safe and permanent investment for large or small sums, and a good prospect for large dividends. Safer than savings banks. More durable than bonds. The first year's tunneling of 1200 feet, crossed six or eight veins, which produced a dividend of ten per cent.—probably the smallest that will ever be declared, as new veins of known great value will be cut within a year, which the management have good reason to believe will necessitate the sale of no more stock. Shares are now selling for a short time only, at $5.00,—so certainly. This is no stock jobbing concern, but a legitimate working enterprise; every dollar received is invested in opening the tunnel. PAR VALUE $100.
Thomas J. Gifford, President;

Wallace Hackett, Secretary.
Organized and incorporated for the purpose of manufacturing and leasing their Patent Hydraulic Compo Shoe Press.
This is the most perfect machine yet invented for attaching soles to Boots and Shoes by the Compo process. The shoes made on them are as easy and pliable as a glove, inasmuch as they have a perfectly smooth and flexible sole of solid leather, having no nails, pegs or objectionable fastenings, attached by a process which renders it strong and durable, and impervious to dampness.
The capacity of the machine is fifteen cases per day. More than 2,000,000 pairs Misses' and Children's Shoes were made on these machines the past year, and we are now supplying machines for making Men's and Women's Boots and Shoes, which pay larger royalties. Its success is assured; and as the machines multiply, largely increased earnings and dividends will be realized.
Dividends are paid quarterly from Royalties collected on every pair of Boots or Shoes made on the machine.
We confidently offer the stock as not only a safe, but profitable investment, promising larger returns in the near future.
A few shares paying 8 per cent. per annum are offered for sale at par.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, is the most extraordinary work on Physiology ever published. There is nothing whatever that the married or single of either sex can either require or wish to know, but what is fully explained. In short, the Book is invaluable to all who wish for good health.—Pacific Gleb.

The book for young and middle aged men to read just now is the Science of Life, or Self-Preservation. It is worth many times its weight in gold.—Sci-dic. Times.

The author of the Science of Life is a noble benefactor. He reaches the very roots and vitals of disease, and is enabled to apply thorough remedies. The book already is read upon both continents by millions.—La den Lancet.

The Gold and Jewelled Medal awarded the author of the Science of Life was fairly won and worthily bestowed.—Massachusetts Ploughman.

Thousands of extracts similar to the above could be taken from the leading journals—literary, political, religious and scientific—throughout the land.

The Book is guaranteed to be a better medical work, in every sense, than can be obtained elsewhere for double the price, or the money will be refunded in every instance.

Amputation of the Leg.

The old family Physic an at Fault—Dr. David Kennedy the Successful Surgeon.

Money is the universal necessity, and none but a cynic or a fool will affect to despise it. Mr. Abram Ellsworth, of Port Ewen, Ulster county, N. Y., had realized this truth. His disease involved the whole of his thigh-bone, and the suffering man looked forward, not without apparent reason, to death as his only deliverer. His family physician refused to amputate the limb—asserting that the operation would kill the patient on the spot. Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who was consulted, held a different opinion, and amputated the limb. The Doctor then administered freely his great blood specific Favorite Remedy to afford tone and strength to the system, prevent the return of the disease, and Mr. Ellsworth remains to this day in the bloom of health. This gentleman's disease was the offspring of foul blood, and Kennedy's Favorite Remedy purified the blood and restored to him the power once more to enjoy his life. Are you suffering from any disease traceable to the same cause? Try Favorite Remedy. Your Druggist has it. One Dollar a bottle. Bear in mind the proprietor's name and address: Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y.

Winter Exposure of Live Stock.

The importance of giving proper shelter to all farm animals can not be too strongly urged. Looked at simply in the view of dollars and cents, it does not pay to have the sheep, pigs, cattle, or horses, left out of doors in the piercing winter winds. The animal heat must be kept up so long as life lasts, and to do this, either a larger amount of fuel must be consumed, or the fire will be fed by accumulated or stored up fuel in the form of flesh, and the animal grows poorer. It is cheaper, as far as it can be, to keep up the animal heat by shelter than by food. A shivering, suffering animal is not in a profitable condition. There is also an appeal to the humane side of our nature in this lack of comfort. Provide good shelter from the weather for all farm animals, for it pays in more ways than one.

A Second Marriage at Fourteen.

A wedding recently took place in Somerset county, Maryland, under circumstances which have probably never found a parallel in this country. Hr. E. Whyte, aged seventeen years, and of excellent character, married a pretty little brunette named Ella Shores, aged fourteen, thus giving to the girl a second husband within a period of two years. Feb. 5th, 1880, precisely two years before the date of the last marriage, the residents of Dame's Quarter were greatly excited on learning that Sydney Shores, a farmer aged sixty-five years, had married Ella Shores, the twelve-years-old daughter of his deceased wife by a former husband.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Zacharias Bowen, a Methodist Episcopal clergyman, who, as shown afterward, was deceived by Shores as to the girl's age, and did not know that she was the step-daughter of her prospective husband. At that time there were numerous threats of lynching the bridegroom, and a mob visited his house one night to hang him. Shores, however, who was an old soldier, showed fight, and they desisted.

After the man had lived with the girl as his wife for four days the county authorities arrested him and Rev. Mr. Bowen and committed them to jail, and the girl was taken charge of by friends and removed from Shores' house. The feeling against Shores was further aggravated by the fact that his wife, who was the widow of his uncle, had been dead only one month—when he wedded the girl. Some months later Shores was tried by the county court, convicted of misdemeanor, and sentenced to pay a fine of $500, and stand committed to jail until it was paid. The clergyman was acquitted on the ground that he had not known the facts of the case. Shores, being a poor man, could not pay his fine, and doubtless would have been in jail at the present time had he not succeeded in escaping last year, since which time he has not been heard of.

Meanwhile the girl wife, through her friends, applied for a divorce, which was granted. Throughout all her trouble, Whyte, her second husband, displayed the utmost solicitude for her, and finally induced her to marry him. Mrs. Whyte, despite her youth, is well grown for her age, and an unusually pretty girl, well educated and intelligent. Several prominent residents of the county have taken an interest in the welfare of the young couple, and will assist in establishing the groom in business.

"'Tis more brave to live than to die." Therefore don't wait till a slight cough developes itself into consumption but secure a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup at the small outlay of 25 cents, cure your cough and live on happily.

Not to be Sneezed at.

That pure, sweet, safe and effective American distillation of witch hazel, American pine, Canada fir, marigold and clover blossom, called Sanford's Radical Cure for catarrh. A few doses instantly relieve the most violent sneezing or head cold, clog all watery discharges from the nose and eyes, cure headache and nervousness, and banish all danger of fever. Complete treatment for one dollar.

Wm. F. Lunt was on Feb. 20th confirmed as United States attorney for Maine.

Only two Bottles.

Messrs. Johnson, Holloway & Co., wholesale druggists of Philadelphia, Pa., report that some time ago a gentleman handed them a dollar, with a request to send a good catarrh cure to two army officers in Arizona. Recently the same gentleman told them that both the officers and the wife of Gen. John C. Fremont, governor of Arizona, had been cured of catarrh by the two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm.

Messrs. Ely Bros., Druggists, Owego, N. Y.—You have struck a bonanza in your Cream Balm, for the cure of catarrh, hay fever, etc., and it justly merits it. The sales are constantly increasing. Yours truly, M. A. Lyon & Bro., Druggists, Montrose, Pa.

Be Careful!

"What Alexander Might Have Done."

The late czar of Russia was eminently a great man, as his action in liberating thirty-six million serfs from slavery qualified him to be. Yet with all his greatness, Alexander left it to Dr. Swayne, to liberate the world from the annoyance and pain of scores of skin diseases, by producing Swayne's Ointment. Think of the tens, hundreds, thousands, it has cured, and then remember it is economical, effective, reliable, and pure, and will only try it you will have a cure.

Diphtheria.

A cold or sore throat may not seem to amount to much, and if promptly attended, to can easily be cured; but neglect is often followed by consumption or diphtheria. No medicine has ever been discovered which acts so quickly and surely in such cases as PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER. The prompt use of this invaluable remedy has saved thousands of lives.

PERRY DAVIS' PAIN KILLER is not an experiment. It has been before the public for forty years, and is most valued where it is best known.

A few extracts from voluntary testimonials read as follows:

Pain Killer has been my household remedy for colds for the past twenty-seven years, and have never known it to fail in effecting a cure.—L. S. Crocker, Williamsville, N. Y.

For thirty years I have used Pain Killer and found it a never-failing remedy for colds and sore throat.—Barton Seaman.

Have received immediate relief from colds and sore throat, and consider your Pain Killer an invaluable remedy.—Geo. B. Everett, Boston, Mass.

I have just recovered from a very severe cold, which I have had for some time. I could get no relief until I tried your Pain Killer, which relieved me immediately. I will never again be without it.—C. O. Force, Lowndes, Ga.

Have used Pain Killer in my family for forty years, and have never known it to fail.—Benson Lewis, Waynesboro, Ga.

I began using Pain Killer in my family twenty-five years ago and have used it ever since, and have found no medicine to take its place.—B. W. Dyer, Dresden, Oneida, N. Y.

For whooping-cough and croup it is the best preparation made. We would not be without it.—A. F. Roper, Liberty Mills, Va.

For twenty-five years I have used Pain Killer for colds and chapped lips, and consider it the best medicine ever offered.—Geo. Rogers, Wilmington, N. C.

I was suffering severely with bronchitis, and my throat was so inflamed I could scarcely swallow any food. I was advised to try your Pain Killer, and after taking a few doses was completely cured.—T. Wilkinson.

Dr. Walton writes from Coshocton: Your Pain Killer cures diphtheria and sore throat, so alarmingly prevalent here, and has not been known to fail in a single instance. This fact you should make known to the world.

Mrs. Ellen B. Mason writes: My son was taken violently sick with diphtheria, high fever, and cold chills. So many children have died here, I was afraid to call a physician, and tried your Pain Killer. He was taken on Sunday, and on Wednesday his throat was clear. It was a wonderful cure, and I wish it could be known to the poor mothers who are losing so many children.

For Chills and Fever PAIN KILLER has no equal. It cures when everything else fails.

Delays are often dangerous. A bottle of Pain Killer in the house is a safeguard that no family should be without.

All druggists sell it at 25c., 50c., and $1.00 per bottle.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Wonderful Surgical Operation—Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder—Successful.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saurgerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physician for what they called stricture of the urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseperable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and it obeys only one dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery. tmch81 of the universal success of Brown's Iron Bitters is simply this: It is the best Iron preparation ever made; is compounded on thoroughly scientific, chemical and medicinal principles, and does just what is claimed for it—no more and no less.

By thorough and rapid assimilation with the blood, it reaches every part of the system, healing, purifying and strengthening. Commencing at the foundation it builds up and restores lost health—in no other way can lasting benefit be obtained.

79 Dearborn Ave., Chicago, Nov. 7.

I have been a great sufferer from a very weak stomach, heartburn, and dyspepsia in its worst form. Nearly everything I ate gave me distress, and I could eat but little. I have tried everything recommended, have taken the prescriptions of a dozen physicians, but got no relief until I took Brown's Iron Bitters. I feel none of the old troubles, and am a new man. I am getting much stronger, and feel first-rate. I am a railroad engineer, and now make my trips regularly. I can not say too much in praise of your wonderful medicine. D. C. MACK.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS does not contain whiskey or alcohol, and will not blacken the teeth, or cause headache and constipation. It will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, sleeplessness, dizziness, nervous debility, weakness, &c.

Use only Brown's Iron Bitters made by Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore. Crossed red lines and trade-mark on wrapper.

The great superiority of DR. BULL'S COUGH SYRUP over all other cough remedies is attested by the immense popular demand for that old established remedy.

Out of his Element.

A funny affair happened in a Rochester family last week. The wife had a headache, and the husband attempted to get breakfast. She had given him directions about broiling the steak, and putting a plate of biscuit in the steamer to warm. He got along nicely with the steak, and only broiled three fingers on one hand, and though he forgot to put any water in the steamer, yet did not forgot the biscuit. Unfortunately he broke the lamp chimney, but groping his way to the closet, he took a plate supposed to contain half a dozen cakes, which he put in the kettle. He soon knew something was wrong. Hitching up his pants and spitting on his hands he commenced to prepare for grim and ghastly war. Pretty quick his wife made her appearance to know what was burning, and what all that sputtering, hissing noise was about. He had steamed half a dozen nice balls of butter instead of so many cakes. The wife did not sputter as much as the butter did. He says that if he ever again attempts the art of cooking he hopes some one will invegle him down into the cellar, kill him, and bury him darkly at dead of night.

After the opening of the district court at Pittsfield, Mass., Feb. 20th, Judge Tucker stated that Robert Murray of West Stockbridge, indicted on several complaints for liquor selling, handed him a letter that morning containing $20, and in which was written a request that he might be let off easy, as he had been compelled to pay out much money lately. When Murray took the stand, Judge Tucker notified him that this attempt at bribery he should put into the hands of the district attorney, and said that it was the first time in his ten years of service on the bench that any one had attempted to bribe him.

Arthur Lucas, a Dartmouth freshman, was kidnapped on the evening of Feb. 21st by a gang of masked sophomores, and carried to White River Junction, to prevent him from taking part in the class celebration of the 22d. It is to be hoped that the "high-toned" scoundrels will be detected, and punished as they deserve.

☞ Stop and Think

How much money you have thrown away buying worthless medicines, prepared by unprincipled parties, who care not what harm they may do to your system. You can depend on every bottle of Sulphur Bitters as being a reliable medicine. It searches out and cleanses from the blood all impure matter, and makes you feel like a new person.—Boston Daily Globe.

Ned Bowler, a bright young man about twenty-one, living at Brattleboro, Vt, died of consumption Feb. 20th, the results of an internal injury received in playing ball at Keene, N. H., last season.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

There is now no doubt of the loss of the British steamship City of London, which left London for New York on the 13th of November. Wreckage recognized as part of the steamer has been washed ashore on the coast of Ireland.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Eighteen deaths had occurred from the explosion of the fireworks factory in Chester, Pa., up to the morning of Feb. 22d, and another victim was at the point of death.

Debilitated persons, and suffers from wasting diseases as consumption, scrofula, kidney affections, will be greatly benefited by using Brown a Iron Bitters.

An old soldier named Edward Kennan died a week or two ago in Pittsburg, Pa., and five days after his death a long-delayed pension, dating from March 18th, 1863, was granted to him. He left no heirs, and this accumulation of nineteen years will remain in the United States treasury.

The Nation's Characteristics.

Shrewdness and incredulity are the predominant characteristics of the American people. They will take no stock in an article unless it is meritorious. When Dr. Swayne launched his Ointment for the piles, that itch so intensely at night, on a sea of human suffering, the physicians laughed, but the people tried it and the same and manifested their approbation in a national endorsement. Now the allopaths and homeopaths are laughing the other way. This world is full of reverses.

War between Mexico and Guatemala is announced as among the probabilities.

Fishing schooners Edith M. Pew and Paul Revere, of Gloucester, have been out nearly six weeks without being heard from, and are supposed to be lost with all hands. They carried crews of about fourteen men each.

It has done more for the rheumatic sufferers throughout the land than any remedy ever known. We refer to the Great German Remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. I. L. Tobias, the well known and popular cigar manufacturer of 447 Third avenue, New York, informs the writer that both himself and wife have been great sufferers from rheumatism, and that St. Jacobs Oil is the only thing that did either of them any good.

"The fact is," said Mr. Tobias, "It has cured us entirely and in a very short time, and we used only a couple of bottles—the whole cost two dollars. Much less expensive than a long doctor's bill, with the apothecary's charge for putting up his prescription added. You can tell the world what I know of St. Jacobs Oil, and what my wife knows about it. I want everybody with rheumatism to know as much of it as we do, and to feel as good as we did when we found ourselves as well as ever."

Steamer Titania, a British iron vessel of 1273 tons, built in 1880, is long overdue at Newcastle from New York, and is probably lost. Her cargo was insured $100,000.

Experience the Best Guide.

The reason why women everywhere use Parker's Ginger Tonic is, because they have learned by experience—the best guide—that this excellent medicine overcomes despondency, periodical headache, indigestion, pain in the back and kidneys, and other troubles of the sex.—Home Journal.
